1. Information of a secret or confidential nature will only be given to the French if it is necessary for them to have it in order to carry out planning and operations. It is the responsibility of the originating headquarters to determine whether or not information or documents are to be transmitted to the French, considering each case on its own merits. If there is any doubt as to whether the information should be transmitted or not, this headquarters should be consulted.

2. In all cases where documents are given to the French, the originating headquarters transmitting such documents will be responsible for the careful scrutiny of the material contained in them, and for assuring that no more information of a secret or confidential nature than is necessary is transmitted. The greatest possible care will be taken in the case of Top Secret material.

3. No particulars whatsoever, having any bearing on projected operations from the United Kingdom, will be conveyed to the French.

4. All documents given to the French will carry the following warning clearly printed or stamped on them:

"No information contained in this document is to be divulged to any person except in the course of duty. No reproduction, either whole or in part, will be made without permission from the chief of the *_____ Section, _____."

5. The foregoing instructions have equal application to information given or transmitted to personnel or headquarters of other nations.

By command of General WILSON:

* Insert designation of originating section.

1. AFHQ letter of 28 April, file 380.01-3 (MI-O, subject, same as above, has laid down instructions concerning the transmission or giving of secret or confidential information to personnel or headquarters of other nations. In view of the amount of traffic with personnel of other Governments by the Allied Control Commission, a digest of these instructions is published for the information and guidance of all concerned:

a. Secret or Confidential information will be given to other Governments only if it is necessary in order to carry out planning and operations. In general, the most careful consideration, minute scrutiny and exacting attention should be given to any such information before being passed to other governments. Those responsible should see that no more secret or confidential information than absolutely necessary is transmitted.

b. NO PARTICULARS WHATSOEVER, HAVING ANY BEARING ON PROJECTED OPERATIONS FROM THE UNITED KINGDOM, WILL BE CONVEYED TO THOSE NAMED IN PAR 1 ABOVE.

c. If there is any doubt as to whether the information should be transmitted or not, Allied Force Headquarters should be consulted.

d. Rubber stamps, bearing the following warning, are being made and will be given to Heads of Sections and Directors of Independent Sub-Commissions at this Headquarters, and will appear on all documents transmitted to other Governments.

"No information contained in this documents is to be divulged to any person except in the course of duty. No reproduction, either whole or in part, will be made without permission from the _____ **.

(1) Pending receipt of these stamps, the above warning will be typed on all classified material turned over to other Governments.
