Sir:

Please allow us to make an informal report on progress in search for Italian statistical materials.

The list of materials submitted herewith, by hand, by 1st/Sgt Miller of the library staff will supplement the report submitted to you in Naples Saturday 22 January. The list shows materials we have been able so far to gather identical with those in the mimeographed document, Principal Italian Statistical Sources, or covering the same area.

Meanwhile the search is continuing and contacts made, with new matter coming in almost daily, and information added as to location of materials. Such activity follows the directions of Lt.-Col. Clough and your kind suggestion. I plan to visit such places as the Biblioteca Nazionale, the Archivio di Stato, and the Bank of Naples, in Naples, Monday next.

It would be ideal if we could find one of the National libraries or other depositories of official and semi-official publications intact. Meanwhile, we shall do the utmost possible under the unfavorable circumstances, to locate usable material here, in Naples, and in Salerno.

Det Hq ACC Salerno

21 January 1944

SUBJECT : Report on Central Reference Library ACC Since 2 Jan. 1944

TO : AG Section, Hq ACC Naples (Attention: Lt.-Col. E. L. CLOUGH, AG).

1. Accessions.--Since establishment in Salerno after removal to Det Hq there 2 January, the Central Reference Library has acquired 177 additional books, documents, and numbers of periodicals mainly of statistical nature, divided as follows: DB, 39; WD, 63; RM (Reading Material), 75. Others have been arranged for here, and several requests have been made for material through channels as directed.

Of these accessions, some have been received through regular channels; but the greater number have come from a search of sources in Salerno and vicinity. This search is continuing, as well as a study of Italian bibliography through such materials as are here available. In this connection, acknowledgment deserves to be made of the effective cooperation given by Sig. R. D. Grillo, of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, Italian Government, and especially by Prof. Cav. Leopoldo Cassese, Direttore dell' Archivio di Stato, Salerno. In the process, and largely through them, advantageous contacts have been made with local officials and leading intellectuals. Their appreciation of a few friendly returns of favors indicates that a bit has been accomplished toward cooperative relations useful to military government.

2. Loans of Material.--The Library has filled five requests for material from officers in ACC and AAG. Several officers of Detachment Headquarters have visited and made use of the collections. Usefulness of the Library will increase with enlargement of its holdings and concentration of personnel at its location for visiting at will.

3. Disposal of Non-Library Material.--The Library staff has now fulfilled its commission in connection with the move from North Africa by placing in charge of designated sections and sub-commissions all non-library materials of which they were given charge. Receipts were obtained.

4. Catalogs.--It is planned to publish, as before, new catalogs of holdings as often as needful, to integrate supplementary lists of new accessions. A sufficient number will be provided for wider distribution.

5. Request for Directive for Future Development.--For guidance in continued work, a clarification of the status and of the desired nature of the Library would be of advantage. This is especially the case since at least temporary separation from the Archives section.

Is the Library to be, as formerly, under Military Intelligence or to continue as at present under the Adjutant General?

Should the collections be limited to officially furnished or approved documents, or expanded by addition of all procurable statistical or other useful material as it has been our main effort in the initial stage here to accomplish? Should there be included also more or less popular material for occasional leisure reading especially in the fields of current events and of backgrounds of our area?

The first question on which direction is requested bears upon the official channel through which requests by the library for material should be made. The second affects not only any future moving of the Library, but also arrangements for additional space and equipment in the present location. During the brief time here, work has continued in that portion (adequate so far) of the large room assigned, which the staff itself cleared. This because of hesitation to dislocate and further confuse extensive pencil archives there stored, and the difficulty of obtaining furniture and lighting equipment.
