SIGNAL INSTRUCTIONS)

NUMBER 9)

SUBJECT: DISPATCH LETTER SERVICE

1. a. At present, differences exist in the methods of handling dispatches sent by Dispatch Letter Service. These differences cause confusion, considerable delays and in some cases loss of security.

b. Many dispatches are registered whose security classification or other intrinsic value do NOT demand registration. The handling of all dispatches is thereby needlessly delayed.

2. The following procedure for REGISTERED and UNREGISTERED Dispatch Letter Service (DLS) will be complied with:

3. REGISTERED DLS

a. Responsibilities of Originators.

(1) They will make, to be sent by REGISTERED DLS, ONLY those dispatches the contents of which are of sufficient importance to be given special handling.

(2) They will indorse dispatches for REGISTERED DLS with the following, in addition to the address:

(a) A colored pencilled cross made over the entire face of the dispatch.

(b) A reference (file) number.

(c) The signature and organization of an officer.

b. Responsibilities of Dispatch Agencies.

(1) They will sign receipts (prepared by the originator) for each dispatch handed in, if properly indorsed. If the indorsement is incomplete, the packet will be treated as UNREGISTERED and the originator informed that the indorsement is incomplete.

(2) They will register receipts to, and obtain receipts from, the addressees for the Dispatch Agency for each dispatch. REGISTERED dispatches may be bagged and registered for receipt by intermediate agencies as numbered bags.

(3) The final agencies will obtain receipts from addressees for each dispatch.

4. UNREGISTERED DLS

a. Responsibilities of originators.

(1) They will hand in the dispatch with NO enclosure other than the address.

b. Responsibilities of Dispatch Agencies.

(1) They will give NO receipt to the originators.

(2) They will NOT register dispatches, but they will show on a delivery list, the total number of unregistered bags or bundles sent to a final dispatch agency at one time.

(3) Final Dispatch Agencies will NOT obtain receipts of delivery from addressees for unregistered packets or letters.

(S.I. No. 84, AFHQ, 25 Sept. 1943)
