II --- DISPOSAL OF PROPERTY RECEIVED BY THE U. S. UNDER RECIPROCAL AID

i. Published herein, as a supplement to War Department Circular Number 283, 1944, are the present views of the War Department regarding the disposal of property received under Reciprocal Aid which is excess to the needs of the U. S. Army Forces in this theater. Such Reciprocal Aid property may be:

a. Shipped to another U. S. theater without obtaining the consent of the supplying government.

b. Retransferred to a third government with the consent of the supplying government. 5809

c. Returned to the supplying government with its consent.

d. Otherwise disposed of with the consent of the supplying government.

2. Inasmuch as it is maintained that title to Lend-Lease property remains with the United States, the War Department considers that title to property received under Reciprocal Aid is retained by the supplying government. Therefore, property received under Reciprocal Aid will not be disposed of without obtaining the prior consent of the supplying government.

3. Hereafter, when usable property received under Reciprocal Aid which is suitable for shipment to another theater in substantial amounts becomes excess to the needs of the U. S. Army Forces in this theater, prior approval of the War Department will be obtained before seeking the consent of the supplying government to retransfer, return, or otherwise dispose of such Reciprocal Aid items.

4. The Theater Commander is required to submit a report to the Commanding General, Army Service Forces, Washington, or to the Commanding General, Army Air Forces, Washington, as the case may be, covering all substantial excess of items of Reciprocal Aid origin which are suitable for shipment to another theater. This report will include a brief description of each item, including the condition thereof, the name of the supplying government, and the quantity available. The Commanding General, SOS NATOUS, will make this report on Army Ground Force items and items common to Ground and Air, in the same manner and under the same terms of reference as he now reports other surplus material in the theater. The Commanding General, AAF, will likewise report on items peculiar to the Air Forces.

5. Prior approval of the War Department is not required before disposing of all other items procured under Reciprocal Aid, but it is necessary that prior consent of the supplying government be obtained.

6. The Theater Commander may make emergency retransfers to a third government, but in each case, approval of the supplying government will be obtained as expeditiously as possible.

7. All retransfers by the U. S. to third governments of British munitions received from U. K. sources under Reciprocal Aid will be made in accordance with policies established by the Munitions Assignment Board, Washington, in MEB 67/8 and 67/10, regarding which War Department instructions are now being prepared. As soon as such instructions are received, they will be published.

8. When property procured under Reciprocal Aid is "otherwise disposed of with the consent of the supplying government", as indicated in paragraph 1d above, the proceeds from such sales should be deposited with U. S. Army Finance Officer, and held in suspense account pending agreement between the U. S. and the foreign government concerned as to the entire question of division of proceeds from disposition of surplus Lend Lease and Reciprocal Aid property.

9. The term "substantial amounts", as used herein, is a matter for the judgment and discretion of the Theater Commander, and determinations thereof will be made for the Theater Commander by the Assistant Chief of Staff, G-4, this headquarters.
