My dear Sir Noel:

The attached letters from my Civil Affairs Section regarding the new Constituent Assembly and its effect on the right of the Italian Government to have a referendum of the people of Italy to determine the constitutional question are forwarded for your information.

Very truly yours,

HENRY W. SPURGEON
Commodore, USN
Acting Chief Commissioner

The Acting Chief Commissioner desires to be advised whether D.L.L. No.151 of the 25th June, '44, creating a new Constituent Assembly precludes or in any way prejudices the right of the Government to have a referendum of Italy to determine the constitutional question.

TO : Deputy Chief of Staff, Civil Affairs Section

1. We have considered the question raised by your 9/16.1/Ca of 5 Oct 44.

2. Article 1 of D.L. No. 151 of 25 June 1944 provides, that the new constitution of the Italian state shall be determined by the Constituent Assembly to be elected by the Italian people for that purpose. We are advised and we are of opinion that this provision precludes the Government from determining the constitutional question by referendum. The effect of D.L. is to take the direct determination of the issue out of the hands of the Italian people for that purpose. It would be contrary to the terms of the D.L. to solve the problem by a direct vote of the people.

3. It is of course possible that the Constituent Assembly, which is a sovereign body with power to adopt any decision, may decide itself to determine the issue by referendum, but in this case both the holding of the referendum and subsequent constitutional decision based thereon will be the responsibility of the Constituent Assembly and not of the Government.

4. D.L. No. 151 can be abrogated at any time by a subsequent D.L.

1. We have considered the question raised by your [redacted]/CA of 5 Oct 44.

2. Article 1 of DIL No. 151 of 25 June 1944 provides, that the new constitution of the Italian State shall be determined by the Constituent Assembly to be elected by the Italian people for that purpose. We are advised and we are of opinion that this provision precludes the Government from determining the constitutional question by referendum. The effect of DIL is to take the direct determination of the issue out of the hands of the Italian people and to entrust it to a body which shall represent the Italian people for that purpose. It would be contrary to the terms of the DIL to solve the problem by a direct vote of the people.

3. It is of course possible that the Constituent Assembly, which is a sovereign body with power to adopt any decision, may decide itself to determine the issue by referendum, but in this case both the holding of the referendum and subsequent constitutional decision based thereon will be the responsibility of the Constituent Assembly and not of the Government.

4. DIL No. 151 can be abrogated at any time by a subsequent DIL.
