To see folios 41 and 42, re Italian Ministry's additional request concerning travel permission to the North.

While this entire subject may appear most desirable from the standpoint of the Italian Government, I believe that if any of these are approved the Allied Commission will be flooded by a great number of additional requests each meritorious in its own individual case. However, if approved such action serious complaints would undoubtedly come from the Army Commanders.

Ref : 20905/N/V/121A

1st April 1946

My dear Mr. Prime Minister:

Forwarded to you herewith is a copy of the Final Report on Italian Archives, prepared by the Monumenta Fine Arts and Archives Sub-Commission of this Headquarters.

In the period on which we are now entering, the Italian Archives Service, like so many other branches of the national administration, will face urgent problems of post-war reconstruction. This being so, it is possible that you may like to consider the following suggestions, based on the experience of Officers of this Commission who have been concerned with the protection of Italian archives during, and subsequent to, the war.

(1) General. It is felt that the provisions of the Nuovo Ordinamento degli Archivi of 1939 are in general highly useful and that, potentially, they place Italy well to the fore amongst European states in the practice and technique of archive administration. In fact, however, you will be aware that there had scarcely been time before the war to implement some of the most important of these provisions - especially those relating to private archives. You may, therefore, feel that the target to be aimed at now is the effective implementation of this law.

(2) Central Archive Authority. In this connection it is clear that the central archive authority of the Kingdom will have great importance, since it will have the responsibility of initiating administrative procedures to render the law effective.

It also seems clear that the decrees of 21st September and 19th October 1944, which substituted a single responsible official, the Commissary of State Archives, for the former Consiglio, were thoroughly justified by the circumstances of the period. The necessity for rapid, day-to-day decisions and constant co-operation with this Commission rendered highly desirable the temporary concentration of authority in one man; and the success of the measure was assured by the special qualities of Commendatore de, who was chosen for the position of Commissary.

With the return to normal conditions, it may be that consideration should be given to the restoration of the Consiglio. A carefully selected body of that sort could no doubt have great value, in an advisory capacity and for the determination of broad questions of policy. Even if the Consiglio were reconstituted, however, it would appear that the need would still remain for a permanent administrative head of the Archives Service - whether called Commissary or by some other name. You may think it desirable that this position should continue to be held by a professional archivist, and that Commendatore Re's appointment as Commissary should be regarded as establishing a precedent that might very well be followed.

As to the government department to which the Commissary is responsible, and of which his office forms part, the present arrangement which brings him within the Ministry of the Interior has always appeared to this Commission to work very satisfactorily. It is worth adding, however, that from its nature the Commissary's office stands a little apart from any single ministry. It might perhaps be desirable, therefore, that, though within the Ministry of the Interior, he should continue to enjoy a measure of independence and, in particular, should be allowed and encouraged to maintain close contact with the Presidenta del Consiglio.

(3) The Superintendencies. The bulk of the work of post-war reconstruction will necessarily fall on the nine regional Superintendencies, set up by the Law of 1939. This being so, you may wish to consider the possibility of strengthening the position of these recently constituted offices. In particular, it seems to be asking a good deal of one man that he should hold the position of Superintendent and Director of an Archivio di Stato at the same time; and you may feel that a solution to the problem could best be found by separating the two offices.

In the event of this separation of functions not being immediately possible, as an interim measure, Secretaries of Superintendencies might perhaps be appointed from among the younger members of the archivists' profession. You would no doubt expect these men to take a great deal of the work of inspection of local and private archives off the Superintendents' shoulders. That would necessitate their being mobile, and it would therefore be most advantageous that each Superintendency should have a motor car at its disposal, as in the case of the Superintendencies of Monuments.

You may think that a greater delegation of authority to the Superintendents would be in keeping with general governmental policy. The practicability of increasing the Superintendents' powers in this way would depend, however, on the effective reorganization of their position, as described above.

(4) Staff. It is desired to compliment the Italian Government on its Archives Service, which has deeply impressed Officers of this Commission by the efficient way it has functioned in circumstances of great difficulty. At the same time, the fact must be faced that the decentralization of Italian archives makes necessary a relatively large number of archivists, and that those at present available are in fact a bare minimum. The possibility is therefore mentioned of a full inquiry into methods of recruitment and training, and a consideration of whether salaries can be raised to a higher level. Some action of this kind may perhaps be thought necessary if the profession is to continue to obtain the right sort of men in sufficient numbers.

(5) Modern Administrative Archives It would not be appropriate to attempt to deal in the present letter with any of the many detailed problems of reconstruction—like of premises and of actual archives—that will arise during the coming months. One matter is of sufficient general significance, however, to justify mention. As you are aware, the responsibility for the return to Rome of the mass of ministerial archives, carried North by the Republican Government, was shared between the Commissary of State Archives and Archives Officers of this Commission. The satisfactory nature of this large-scale transfer seems certainly to have been due to its having been carried out under the guidance of professional archivists, whose training and technique is applicable to accumulations of modern documents no less than to repositories of historical archives. Though individual ministries will no doubt continue to administer their own archives of this category, war-time experience would seem to show that the Archives Service can do much, in a supervisory and advisory capacity, to make sure that these important records are as well kept as the more ancient archives of Italy.

Very truly yours,

It is expected that these representatives will proceed to MILAN within the next week.

It is noted that, as proposed by ADD, PFB, the most suitable arrangement for the disposal of Italian government archives, seized for intelligence purposes, would be the return of all those to the Italian government on the express condition that Allied agencies are permitted full rights of access and search.

3. As for an archives of Ministries still functioning are involved, it should be pointed out that the early return of these to the offices concerned is urgently necessary in the interests of efficient administration; arrangements for Allied access and search would, at the time of the transfer, be made the clear responsibility of each separate ministry.

4. For the archives of defunct ministries, viz. the Ministry of Popular Culture, the best solution would appear to be transfer to a single Italian authority, the Commissary for State Archives. This transfer could be conditional upon the Italian Government's agreeing to instruct the Commissary to organize all necessary facilities for Allied examination.

5. In view of the pending dissolution of PFB, the present is a matter of considerable urgency and it is therefore important to know further you are prepared to accept the solution of the problem suggested by PFB and outlined in paras. 3 and 4 above.

Report on the Mission in the North

The mission in the North of two observers, who were to ascertain, in a general way, the repercussions brought by the latest events on the life of the population, took place between May 15th and June 7th, at least for what concerns the undersigned. The journey had been planned in agreement with the Allied Commission which kindly put at his disposal for three weeks a car with an Italian driver; the instructions given in writing by the Commission included the prohibition of going to Trieste, Val d'Aoste, and any place at less than 20 km. from the frontier; and the obligation of presenting himself to the representatives of the Allied Government in Padova and to the Headquarters of the 9th Army. Having paid these visits and having left in Padova Prof. Melito who will make his own report on the regions he was to visit (Veneto, Emilia and part of Lombardia), the undersigned went to the following centres, without mentioning minor localities: Cremona, Camp, Varese, Bergamo, Parma, Piacenza, Verucelli, Biella, Ivrea, Cuneo, Asti, Alessandria, Genoa, Savona, Spezia, sometimes going back to Milan and Turin for gasoline supplies.

Though a trip of 5,000 kms in three weeks can give but a glimpse of the numerous problems of the present moment, it is nevertheless possible to make a synthetic judgement. As this journey chiefly aimed at ascertaining how these problems, which are in themselves of an economic and political nature at the same time, were understood and judged in their most immediate aspects - working possibilities, work of the various Committees for liberation, relations with the Allies, strength of the parties - observations and the sounding of public opinion were made by listening to workmen and professional workers, peasants and small tradespeople, participating in manufacturers and local C.L.N.s meetings, speaking and discussing with them to obtain well defined opinions through exchange of ideas. Broader and more precise views which completed the previous ones were obtained by means of interviews with the Prefects, Prefecture officials, questori and other authorities. If the man in the street had his large share, yet not such as to turn him into a dull and meaningless symbol, all those who exercise any form of authority whatever have had theirs. Thus, comparing and adding the various impressions obtained, it is possible to make a few observations which have a common character for the three Regions visited.

For what concerns the problems of a normal resumption of life first, and then those of reconstruction, the population is still in good form, with its traditional spirit of activity and passif remarkable force of adaptation; however, the hard months of German and fascist domination have left them shaken and tired. The need most-felt by everybody is to stand on solid ground, now that the war is over. The moral lesson of the defeat which is weighing on our shoulders is understood as in perhaps no other part of Italy, thanks to the systems which the fascists have been able to use for too long. For honest people who form the majority, prevarication about fascism is no longer possible. The summary judgments and imprecisions which took place at the time of the liberation, even in some of their extreme forms, have contributed to clear up the air, and for this reason, they have had the support of public opinion, which on the other hand, is most glad that lawfulness should going out to Milan and Turin for gasoline supplies.

Though a trip of 5,000 kms in three weeks can give but a glimpse of the numerous problems of the present moment, it is nevertheless possible to make a syncretical judgement. As this journey chiefly aimed at ascertaining how these problems, which are in themselves of an economic and political nature at the same time, were understood and judged in their most immediate aspects - working possibilities, work of the various Committees for liberation, relations with the Allies, strength of the parties - observations and the sounding of public opinion were made by listening to workers and professional workers, peasants and small tradespeople, participating in manufacturers and local C.I.S. meetings, speaking and discussing with them to obtain well defined opinions through exchange of ideas. Broader and more precise views which completed the previous ones were obtained by means of interviews with the Prefects, Prefecture officials, questori and of an authorities. If the man in the street had his large share, yet not such as to turn him into a dull and meaningless symbol, all those who exercise any form of authority whatever have had theirs. Thus, comparing and adding the various impressions obtained, it is possible to make a few observations which have a common character for the three Regions visited.

For what concerns the problems of a normal resumption of life first, and then those of reconstruction, the population is still in good form, with its traditional spirit of activity and spat remarkable force of adaptation; however, the hard months of German and fascist domination have left them shaken and tired. The moral lesson of the defeat which is weighing on our shoulders is understood as in perhaps no other part of Italy, thanks to the systems which the fascists have been able to use for too long. The summary judgments and imprisonments which took place at the time of the liberation, even in some of their extreme forms, have contributed to clear up the air, and for this reason, they have had the support of public opinion, which on the other hand, is most glad that lawfulness should more and more decidedly resume its powers. The acts of violence which keep on happening sporadically more or less all over the place, though less and less frequently are considered as acts of banditism, without any political aspect.

Everyone is anxious to find out the working possibilities in the near future. This is the fundamental point; work to give them means of subsistence, supply the Centre and the South and maybe also foreign countries, to be a pledge of union and good understanding. The industries are waiting for raw materials; most of the workers are anxious to resume their work, naturally with salaries adapted to the cost of living and with guarantees quite different from the ones they had in the past. But the main problem remains always that of work. In comparison, the current of the workers satisfied with enforced idleness and the salaries they get simply for coming to the plant, who get more excited than necessary, is small in proportion and has few followers, for most of them understand that this is not the way to reach a solution, which it will be easier to reach, at least in part, if it is possible to overcome without delay the threat of a great unemployment. The fact that the stocks are very small when there are any, and that raw materials and coal can only come from abroad, is too obvious for anybody to ignore it. The consequence is that only a country which proves to be socially capable of working - and in the case of a country which finds itself in our present international relations, the question is even more delicate - may claim to be taken in consideration in the allotment of supplies, if it is fully understood by the industrial world finds an ever increasing comprehension among the workers. Therefore, if it is true that the attitude of the workers in the industrial centres appeared and still appears to be extreme left, this is rather fortuitous, for the working class has its claims to make, for which it shows great decision and which it will not give up, however, it always considers the real aspect of things and is far from ready to try new experiments of any kind whatever.

The owners of the small and middle size industries are usually willing to make many concessions, but they do not agree to be turned out of their plants, keeping only the responsibility of the management. Not only they, but also the bourgeoisie, professional workers, small farmer, and an important part of the workers themselves, hope for a Government which will take in great consideration the results obtained by the Committees for National Liberation, which will not be stifled by the weight of a bureaucratic and centralizing mentality like the fascist one, which will make the most of the possibilities for rehabilitation within order and lawfulness.

All the various classes of the population have great esteem for the Committee for National Liberation of the larger centres. Respect for the sea of which they are exempted, for the work they did, especially at the time of the insurrection; the C.L.N. of small or middle sized villages are often strongly criticised, for their very composition is not satisfactory from the democratic point of view, and the orders of the C.L.N.S.I. have not always been obeyed: this caused arbitrary acts which everyone regrets, and which are, fortunately, greatly decreasing. Much more criticized was the expropriation work of the C.L.N. of the plants; though also in this field there is a tendency towards a greater sense of measure, the phenomenon which took place was that of a 'technical' rather than political expropriation, if it is possible to call it so.

In this way, many people who were not compromised, or only very slightly compromised were arbitrarily dismissed from their post of work. Public opinion remained upset by these abuses, and many people openly fear the danger of a 'neo-fascism' also because of the problem made by the party and of the eleventh hour.

For what concerns expropriation, common opinion says it should be rapid, clear and definitive, to be ready to start working also from this point of view. The tribunals of the people which are now in full swing fulfil their duty with efficiency and energy. It must be observed that among the large number of the people who have been arrested, imprisonment would be too much for the supposed offenses of many of them, from a purely legal point of view, even if they are unshakable in some way after examination; instead of that, because of the great number of cases and their inevitable slowness, they remain in jail for a duration of time which is beginning to be too long.

Much more criticized was the operation work of the C.L.N. of the plants; though also in this field there is a tendency towards a greater sense of measure, the phenomenon which took place was that of a 'technicist' rather than political operation, if it is possible to call it so.

In this way, many people who were not compromised, or only very slightly compromised were arbitrarily dismissed from their post of work. Public opinion remained upset by these abuses, and many people openly fear the danger of a 'neo-squadrist' also because of the problems made by the partisans of the eleventh hour.

For what concerns operation, common opinion says it should be rapid, clear and definitive, to be ready to start working also from this point of view. The Tribunals of the people which are now in full swing fulfil their duty with efficiency and energy. It must be observed that among the large number of the people who have been arrested, imprisonment would be too much for the supposed offences of many of them, from a purely legal point of view, even if they are punishable in some way after examination; instead of that, because of the great number of cases and their inevitable slowness, they remain in jail for a duration of time which is beginning to be too long.

As for the partisans, the people that saw them coming from among them, that knew them to be brave soldiers during so many hard months, saw many of them out to death, saw them victorious at the time of the insurrection, feels a great solidarity towards them; but those who pretend to be artisans and who simply made the most of the easily understandable confusion of so many emotional situations, and (664) certain whom no one might swear that they have laid down their arms, are a cause of worry. For what concerns this question also, hope lies in a greater request for work and in a greater authority of the law: as always, those who gave most are now asking less, and especially when they are peasants, they have already gone back to their houses or have enlisted in the formations of the police of the people. Those who will go on living as outlaws represent one of the many disastrous inheritances of fascism.

The feelings of the average man are very favourable to the allies; he has appreciated their first relief, he is now appreciating their work of government, often very difficult, their moralizing tendencies, and their spirit of justice; he enjoys the cordiality of the relations wherever there are any. Greater than the necessity for collaboration enforced by the present situation, is the traditional sympathy of the North for the Anglo-Saxon world, and, as a rule, the attitude of the Allied representatives contributed to increase popular consideration and respect.

Almost everywhere, the transformation of the Committees for national liberation in advisory 'Giunte' took place in a satisfactory way, with the obvious approval of public opinion which thinks its interests will be better safeguarded by the prefect, emanation of the C.L.N. and appointed by the Allies, also because it no longer fears the heaping up of orders from various authorities, often in contradiction with each other. Relations with the Allies were understood in a rather narrow minded way by some C.L.N.s of secondary importance, especially by the representatives of the Corps of the Volunteers for Liberty, as if our country was not to answer for its past, and with it, also those who, thanks to their personal effort, fortunately managed to give back some dignity to the country, but these were only isolated and youthful opinions which could easily be reasoned away.

The activities of the political parties are followed with great interest, but only a minority participates directly in their life, especially for what concerns listed members. As it is well known, the communists and socialists seem to be the strongest in industrial centres, though Christian Democracy, well organized in the country, has also important forces among the workers, whose more moderate elements it collects. For the rest, considering that there are the only parties which can count on a mass of followers, there is great solidarity among the representatives of all the parties which form the Committees for national liberation. In Liguria, the Italian Republican Party is making most successful propaganda.

Politically speaking, the people of Lombardy, Liguria, and also of Piedmont, without class distinction, and including a great part of the aristocracy, have lost their faith in the House of Savoy, and at present at least, they all firmly agree in considering the republic.

Political

But above these and similar problems, the immediate attention of all is turned, as I said above, towards those which are more definitely considered as political problems. Everybody fears an increase of the cost of living, though up to now, in small centres, the average level of prices has not increased enough to cause preoccupation; it rose far less than in the big centres, where the rise of prices has had and is having very noticeable results. In relation with this, the question of the value of the lira, and of the stabilization of the currency is followed everywhere with great apprehension. The blocks, whenever they may come from, after those of the fascists and Germans, are seen disfavouredly by the producers as well as by the consumers, who consider them to be the main cause of black market.

To conclude, the serious and consequential man in the street, typical of the North, sincerely wishes for the exceptional situation created by the last events to go back to normal as soon as possible; work and exchanges to start again without falling back into the gigantic and inefficient bureaucracy of fascism; the character of the citizens to be made strong of the political ideas they are the strongest in industrial centres, though Christian Democracy, well organized in the country, has also important forces among the workers, whose more moderate elements it collects. We add a few details concerning special situations in the various places we visited, which will help to render more definite what we have exposed above.

In Genoa, one of the most typical examples of what I have said: 200-300 young men, formerly imprisoned for common offenses, have formed an armed band called 'the fascist pimp', which is infesting the neighboring countryside and even tried to take the prefect and the questore. The scarcity of the available regular police forces, prevented from taking any strong action against them about a month after the liberation of the town.

In Como took place the final concentration of many republican fascists, and reaction was very strong. Now, the situation is normalized, and the tribunals of the people work with energy, and calls has returned and many arbitrary acts have been set right in various villages where chaos was reigning, this thanks to the moderation of the socialist and communist authorities.

In Varese, the plants have remained entirely closed for three weeks, and are now waiting for C.L.N. before anything else. The direct intervention of the Prefect of the town, at a time when there was some unrest among the workers because of some operations as usual more 'technical' than political, succeeded in convincing the members of the C.L.N. of the plants that a greater moderation was necessary.

In Udine, all textile industries are intact and have stocks for two or three months. Udine was a great centre of partisan activity and now extreme left elements are very strong. The local C.L.N. expressed the wish of not depending from Verocelli for alimentation and showed a strong spirit of autonomy. There are no carabinieri for they have all been deported to Germany, and the police of the people is functioning to the obvious satisfaction of the population. There also, any attempt at depriving the C.L.N. of its authority would meet with strong resistance.

In Ivrea, a great manufacturer confirmed the general opinion, in responsible milieu, on the Committee for National Liberation, they represent such a new impulse, and so to speak, a conquest of national life of such importance, that to think of replacing them with the usual bureaucratic machine would be a very great mistake. It would be better to increase their democratic spirit and frame them in the normal organizations of the central Government; thus, what good there is in them will go on bearing fruit, while the superstructures of a period of expropriation disappear little by little.

The province of Cuneo gave the largest number of partisans, and suffered therefore strong reprisals and damages. 2500 were blown up and the crops will be 30% inferior to what it usually is because of the frost and drought; there is a cause of great preoccupation for next winter. The Communes of Briga Maritime and Tenda have been occupied by the French Authorities, and it seems, immediately annexed to France, by means of a plebiscite which took place while food tickets and what salt had been found on the spot were being distributed. The new mayors are French, the currency in circulation is French; it seems that the Allied Authorities intervene only to control the timber allotment for the timber of this zone supplies the requirements of half the province, and also large electric power plants which supplied Cuneo with electric power; it appears that this electric power has now been diverted for Toulan and Marsailles. No Italian is allowed to go in the above mentioned communes; the Allied authorities advised the Italian authorities of Cuneo to get precise documents, and direct evidence proving the action taken by the French; this is what the Prefect of the chief town is now doing.

In Turin, during a manufacturers meeting, most of them pronounced themselves in favour of the C.L.N., to have them carry on their work till the Constituent, but they were unanimous in asking legality to be respected; they want to be able to rely on an atmosphere of confidence encouraging the private initiative of the manufacturer and guaranteeing work; they wish the value of the currency and the possibility of exchanges to be promptly cleared up. There as in other milieux, any act which, in spite of the sense of responsibility of the party leaders, may impulse, and so to speak, a conquest of national life of such importance, that to think of replacing them with the usual bureaucratic machine could be a very great mistake. It would be better to increase their democratic spirit and frame them in the normal organisms of the central Government; thus, what good there is in them will go on bearing fruit, while the superstructure of a period of emergency disappear little by little.

The province of Cuneo gave the largest number of partisans, and suffered therefore strong reprisals and damages. 2600 were blown up and the crops will be 50% inferior to what it usually is because of the frost and drought; there is a cause of great preoccupation for next winter. The companies of arisan partisans and bands have been occupied by the French Authorities, and it seems, immediately annexed to France, by means of a plebiscite which took place while food tickets and what salt had been found on the spot were being distributed. The new mayors are French, the currency in circulation is French; it seems that the Allied Authorities intend only to control the timber allotment for the timber of this zone supplies the requirements of half the province, and also three large electric power plants which supplied Venice with electric power; it appears that this electric power has now been deviated for Toulon and Marseilles. No Italian is allowed to go in the above mentioned companies; the Allied authorities advised the Italian authorities of Cuneo to get precise documents, and direct evidence proving the action taken by the French; this is what the prefect of the chief town is now doing.

In Turin, during a manufacturers meeting, most of them pronounced themselves in favour of the C.I.L.S., to have them carry on their work till the Constituent, but they were unanimous in asking legality to be respected; they want to be able to rely on an atmosphere of confidence encouraging the private initiative of the manufacturer and guaranteeing work; they wish the value of the currency and the possibility of exchanges to be promptly cleared up. There as in other salient, any act which, in spite of the sense of responsibility of the party leaders, may remind of fascist abuses, met end is meeting with strong disapproval. In this sense the Allied Authorities intervened with more energy than anywhere else, and this increased the respect of the population for them.

In Piedmont, Turin and Ivrea chiefly, the situation in Val d'Aosta, followed with eager interest. From informations obtained from attendable elements which had attended political meetings in Aosta, it appears that the people hoped that the Central Government, taking as a basis the points expressed by the Aosta C.I.L.S., would study the question and issue without delay orders to calm the population and check French propaganda. At present, this propaganda has an easy success for it is making the most of the resentment felt by the inhabitants of the Val d'Aosta, in a rather confused way, after the many wrongs and vexations of the past regime, but it would collapse in front of concrete concessions in the field of autonomy, the fiscal burden, the making use of the waters, the parity of language, and the granting of a free zone. The fact that the Government sent a communiqué on this subject without delay seems to have made a good impression; the situation keeps however all its character of extreme urgency. In the Val d'Aosta, the Allied Authorities show a great comprehension of the legitimate interests of the population.

In Asti, while the greatest part of the partisans of the autonomous frontisti are being laid down their arms and gone back home, a certain number of them, not exceeding 200, is remaining through the countryside and doing a most profitable trade in horses. There are only few elements of the former police forces, and the new ones have still got to be framed. The C.I.N. is doing very well as Advisory Committee; it includes a representative of the P.I.E. and one of the trades-people.

In Alessandria; the fact of giving the ridiculous sum of L. 1.000 as a bonus to every partisan is considered as a mistake. On the other hand, the new Administration of the province is in difficult circumstances because it lacks funds. The population is still under the impression of ferocious personal vengeance on the part of extremist elements, which escape all control from the responsible political authorities.

In Genoa, The food situation begins to improve little by little. Sympathy and confidence towards the Allies are felt by everyone, and people expect that things to come, the harbour will be able to resume its work. The political situation is not very clear, for while the Genoa C.I.N., composed of greatly esteemed people, goes on acting with intelligence, some local C.I.N.s and manufacture C.I.N. act on their own initiative. Public opinion agrees to ask that something be done to promote rehabilitation with the help of the Allies.

In Savona, the harbour is blocked and the albissola tunnel has collapsed, so that the town is almost isolated; it is only possible to communicate with Genoa only through the hinterland. Alimentation is the problem which comes first. Among all the localities which showed they didn't appreciate the royal carabinieri, Savona showed the greatest hostility. The whole zone is extremely republican. During the last few days, the situation of the M.R.S., which at one time was unbearable, has improved because of the intervention of the local secretaries of the communist, socialist and Christian Democrat parties in collaboration with the Allies.

In Spezia, as it is well known, suffered a great deal, because of the bombardments as well as because it was near the front line, and also because of the retreat of the Germans who blew up even the small industries. Next winter the food situation will be serious. The inhabitants have the impression that they are abandoned to themselves, without anyone taking any kind of initiative.

In Piacenza, it was pointed out that a few trucks might be taken from the allied motor pools which are full of Italian and German vehicles, belonging to the war booty of the region, and lent to the province for four or five months. They would be used for timber transport, most important because the town has no gas, and for foodstuffs transport.

A widely spread trade unions movement and the great success of communist propaganda must be reported from Piacenza. The situation is quiet; people are only complaining because the questura is rather disorganized and the special Council is slow.

A widely spread trade unions movement and the great success of communist propaganda must be reported from Piacenza. The situation is quiet; people are only complaining because the questura is rather disorganized and the special Court too slow to start functioning.

In the Bergamo Province, we must also report acts of violence from so called patriots; in Monte di Lamberia, for instance, some of them made the mindago prisoners, had two ex fascist gerarchi who were in jail delivered to them by force and killed them on the spot.

In this Province, the companies are setting funds aside to fight unemployment by means of work.

Prices are increasing and the situation of the employees is critical.

R PORTO SULLA MISSIONE AL N° 3

La missione al Nord di due osservatori che si rendessero conto, in linea generale, dei riflessi che i più recenti avvenimenti hanno apportato alla vita di quelle popolazioni, ha avuto luogo, almeno per quanto riguarda il sottoscritto, dal 16 maggio al 7 giugno. Concordato il viaggio con la Commissione alleata, che gentilmente ha messo a disposizione per la durata di tre settimane un suo autoveicolo con conducente italiano, le istruzioni date per iscritto dalla Commissione stessa comprendevano il divieto di andare a Trieste, in Val d'Aosta ed in ogni altro luogo che distasse meno di 25 Km. dalla frontiera; e l'obbligo di presentarsi a rappresentanti del Governo Alleato di Padova e al Quartieri Generali della V<sup>a</sup> Armata. Compilate queste visite, lasciato a Padova il Prof. Molite che riferirà per suo conto della parte che egli s'era riservato di visitare con un suo mezzo (Veneto, Emilia, una parte della Lombardia), il sottoscritto ha toccato, per tacere dei minori, i seguenti centri: Cremona, Como, Varese, Bergamo, Parma, Piacenza, Vercelli, Biella, Ivrea, Cuneo, Asti, Alessandria, Genova, Savona, Spezia, facendo capo di volta in volta, per i rifornimenti di benzina, a Milano e Torino.

Per quanto un percorso complessivo di 5.000 Km. in tre settimane, non possa dare altre che una visione fugace dei molteplici problemi che oggi sono sul tappeto, pure è possibile ricavarne un giudizio sintetico. Poiché lo scopo del viaggio era soprattutto di vedere come quei problemi, che sono di per se stessi di natura economica e politica insieme, negli ambienti diversi che compongono le popolazioni, fossero intesi e giudicati nei loro aspetti più immediati - possibilità di Compinte queste visite, lasciato a Padova il Prof. Melito che riferirà per suo conto della parte che egli s'era riservato di visitare con un suo mezzo (Veneto, Emilia, una parte della Lombardia), il sottoscritto ha toccato, per tacere dei minori, i seguenti centri: Cremona, Como, Varese, Bergamo, Parma, Piacenza, Vercelli, Biella, Ivrea, Cuneo, Asti, Alessandria, Genova, Savona, Spezia, facendo capo di volta in volta, per i rifornimenti di benzina, a Milano e Torino.

Per quanto un percorso complessivo di 5.000 Km. in tre settimane, non possa dare altro che una visione fugace dei molteplici problemi che oggi sono sul tappeto, pure è possibile ricavarne un giudizio sintetico. Poichè lo scopo del viaggio era soprattutto di vedersi come quei problemi, che sono di per se stessi di natura economica e politica insieme, negli ambienti diversi che compongono le popolazioni, fossero intesi e giudicati nei loro aspetti più immediati - possibilità di lavoro, opere dei vari Comitati di liberazione, rapporti con gli alleati, forze dei Partiti -, per questa ragione le osservazioni, il sondaggio dell'opinione pubblica s'è fatto sentendo operai e professionisti, contadini e piccoli commercianti, partecipando a riunioni di industriali e di C.L.N. periferici, e parlando e discutendo con loro in modo che dello scambio di idee si arrivasse alla formulazione di opinioni ben definite. S'è fatto altresì attraverso colloqui con

Prefetti e funzionari di Prefettura con questori ed altre autorità, per avere visioni più ampie e precise, tali da permettere di inquadrare tutte le altre. E se l'uomo della strada ha avuto la sua gran parte, ma non sino a renderlo un simbolo stucchevole vuoto di contenuto, quanti esercitano una qualsiasi autorità hanno avuto la loro. Così, rian- dando alle impressioni che via via si sono trattate, comparandole e con- parandole fra loro, si possono fare alcune considerazioni a carattere comune per le tre Regioni vicinate.

Di fronte ai problemi di una ripresa normale e civile della vita in primo luogo, e a quelli della ricostruzione poi, le popolazioni sono veramente in piedi, con il loro tradizionale spirito di attività e la loro notevole forza di adattamento; ma esse escono scosse a affa- ticate dai duri mesi della dominazione tedesca e fascista. La neces- sità più avvertita da tutti è quella di poggiare i piedi su un terre- no solido, almeno ora che la guerra è finita. La lezione morale della sconfitta che grave sulle nostre spalle è intesa come forse in nes- sun'altra parte d'Italia, grazie anche ai sistemi che i fascisti han- no avuto modo di adoperare per troppo tempo. Per le persone oneste, e sono la maggior parte, equivoci sul fascismo non sono più possibili. I giudizi comuni, le incarcerazioni seguite al momento della libera- zione, pur in talune loro forme estreme, han contribuito a purificare l'aria, e per questo hanno avuto ed hanno l'appoggio dell'opinione pubblica, la quale peraltro è però ben lieta che la legalità ripren- da sempre più decisamente i suoi poteri. Gli atti di violenze che sporadicamente, un po' dappertutto, continuano ad accadere, e tatta- via in modo sempre più decreescente, non considerati atti di bandi- tismo, si di fuori di ogni aspetto politico.

Questo è il punto fondamentale: lavoro che dia a se stessi i mezzi di sussistenza, che rifornisca il Centro o il Sud e magari paesi stranieri, che sia pegno di unione e di concordia. mie di quelle che hanno avuto per il passato. Ma il problema primo rimane sempre il lavoro. - La corrente, piccola in proporzione, di quegli operai che s'adagiano all'ozio forzato e, paghi per le indennità percepite per la sola presenza in fabbrica, s'agitano più del necessario, non è per ora molto agitata, perché i più capiscono che in quel modo non si arriva ad una soluzione, ed essa comunque potrà tanto più facilmente essere eliminata, almeno in parte, quanto più rapidamente si potrà scongiurare il pericolo d'una grande disoccupazione. Il fatto che le scorte, ove esistono, sono minime o che le materie prime ed il carbone ci possono solo venire da fuori, è d'una evidenza che non sfugge a nessuno. - La conseguenza che ne deriva, che solo un paese che nostri di essere socialmente capace di lavorare - e quando si tratti poi di un paese che si trovi nei nostri presenti rapporti internazionali, la cosa è ancora più delicata - può aspirare ad essere considerato nella distribuzione dei rifornimenti, se è capita in pieno dal mondo industriale, trova una compressione sempre più larga in quello operaio. Per cui, se è vero che l'atteggiamento degli operai nei centri industriali è appeso e appare di estrema durezza, esso è di un valore piuttosto contingente: perché di durezza c'è/la classe operaia ha le sue rivendicazioni da fare, per le quali mostra grande decisione ed alle quali non rinuncia, e tuttavia, guardando sempre all'aspetto più reale delle cose, è molto lontana dal lasciarsi andare a nuovi esperimenti di qualsiasi sorta.

I proprietari delle piccole e medie industrie sono generalmente pronti a fare molte concessioni, ma non sino al punto di venire ad essere estromessi dalle loro fabbriche, conservandone soltanto la responsabilità di gestione. Tanto loro, quanto la borghesia, i pro-

I proprietari delle piccole e medie industrie sono generalmente pronti a fare molte concessioni, se non sino al punto di venire ad essere estromessi dalle loro fabbriche, conservandone solamente la responsabilità di gestione. Tanto loro, quanto in Germania, i professionisti in genere, i contadini piccoli proprietari, una notevole corrente degli operai stessi, o'augura l'avvento di un governo che tenga gran conto dei risultati raggiunti dai comitati di liberazione nazionale, che non si faccia soffocare dal peso d'una mentalità burocratica accentratrice di tipo fascista, che promuova le possibilità di ripresa nell'ordine e nelle legalità.

La stima per i Comitati di Liberazione Nazionale dei centri maggiori è diffusa in ogni strato della popolazione. Stima per gli uomini che li compongono, per l'opera loro svolta soprattutto al momento dell'insurrezione; critiche spesso vivaci invece sono rivolte verso certi C.L.N. di piccoli o medi paesi ove la loro stessa composizione lascia a desiderare da un punto di vista democratico, ed ove le direttive del C.L.N.A.I. non sono state sempre osservate, con quasi conseguenti arbitri che tutti lamentano e che, per fortuna, sono nettamente in diminuzione. Critiche ben più vivaci riacute il lavoro di epurazione fatto dai C.L.N. di fabbrica: se era anche in questo campo si avverte ora una tendenza ad un migliore senso della misura, il fenomeno che s'è manifestato è stato quello dell'epurazione, se così si può chiamare, "tecniche" piuttosto che politica.

In questo modo molti che non erano compromessi, o che erano compromessi molto leggermente, non stati arbitrariamente allontanati dai loro posti di lavoro. L'opinione pubblica è rimasta turbata da questi accanimenti, e molti paventano apertamente il pericolo d'un "neo-squadrismo", anche in relazione al problema che costituiscono i partigiani dell'ultima ora.

Per l'epurazione è giudizio comune che essa debba essere rapida, netta e definitiva, in modo che anche per quell'aspetto, si possa essere pronti per incardinare e lavorare. I Tribunali del popolo, che evolvono ormai in pieno la loro attività, assolvono con efficacia ed energia il loro compito. C'è solo da osservare che tra il gran numero degli arrestati ve ne sono molti che, da un punto di vista strettamente legale, anche se in sede di istruttoria risultassero punibili in qualche modo, la coercizione andrebbe al di là delle loro presun-

Per i Partigiani, la popolazione che li ha visti uccidere da ogni rango delle proprie file, che li ha capiti fieri combattenti durante tanti durissimi mesi, che ne ha visti molti uccisi nelle piazze, che li ha ammirati vittoriosi al momento dell'incorrusione, ha una grande solidarietà; ma quelli che si dicono partigiani, e che hanno sempre ceante approfittato della comprensibile confusione di tante situa-zioni eccezionali, e per i quali nessuno giurerebbe che hanno deposto le armi, destano qualche preoccupazione. Anche per questa questione, le migliori speranze sono in una larga richiesta di lavoro e in una più grande autorità della legge: come sempre, coloro che pihanno dato, meno chiedono ora, e specie se contadini, sono già ritor-nati alle loro case, o ci sono inghiottiti nelle fiamme della polizia del popolo. Quanti continuano invece a vivere ai margini della legalità, rappresentano ancora una delle tante tristi eredità del fascismo.

Il sentimento dell'uomo medio è molto favorevole agli Alleati;
 ne ha apprezzato i primi aiuti, ne apprezza l'opera di governo, spesso veramente difficile, la tendenza moderatrice o lo spirito d'equità che l'informa; sente della cordialità dei rapporti formali ovunque esistenti. Al di sopra delle necessità di collaborazione imposta dalla situazione attuale, c'è nel Nord la tradizionale simpatia per il mondo anglosassone, ed in generale l'atteggiamento dei rappresentanti alleati è stato da fare aumentare la considerazione e la stima popo-lare nei loro riguardi.

La trasformazione dei Comitati di liberazione nazionale in giunte consultive, è avvenuta quasi dappertutto in modo soddisfacente, con l'evidente plauso dell'opinione pubblica che nel prefetto, emanazione del C.L.N. e nominato dagli Alleati, vede più sicuramente e più serplicemente tutelati i propri interessi, anche perché niente essa teme di più che l'occultarsi di disposizioni d'autorità diverse, talvolta l'una contraddicente l'altra. Solamente in qualche C.L.N. si rino-la più grande autorità della legge; come sempre, coloro che pi hanno dato, meno chiedono ora; e specie se contadini, sono già ritor nati alle loro case, o si sono inquadrate nelle formazioni della po- lizia del popolo. Quanti continuano invece a vivere ai margini della realtà, rappresentano ancora una delle tante traie i crediti del fa- scismo.

La trasformazione dei Comitati di liberazione nazionale in giunte consultive, è avvenuta quasi dappertutto in modo soddisfacente, con l'evidente plauso dell'opinione pubblica che nel prefetto, Amansone del C.L.N. e nominato degli Alleati, vede più sicuramente e più non- plicemente tutelati i propri interessi, anche perché niente esse teme di più che l'accovallarsi di disposizioni d'autorità diverse, talvol- te l'una contraddicente l'altra. Solamente in qualche C.L.N. si mino- re importanza i rapporti con gli Alleati erano intesi con qualche li- mitatezza di vedute, particolarmente da parte dei rappresentanti del Corpo Volontario della Libertà, come se il nostro Paese non dovesse rispondere del proprio pensiero, e con lui anche chi, con azione per- sonale al Paese ha contribuito e ridare, per fortuna, un po' di dignità.

Ma eran voci, come e' detto, isolate e giovanili che facilmente tacevano dopo un ragionamento più serrato.

Le attività dei partiti politici sono seguite con molte interesse, ma la partecipazione diretta allo lo e vite, per pari che riguarda soprattutto il numero degli iscritti, è data ancora da una minoranza. Come è noto, nei centri industriali come i comitati ed i soci politici che si costituiscono più forti, subisce la burocrazia cristiana, molto organizzata nelle campagne, anche nel campo sociale della lotta forse notevole, raccogliendo gli elementi più maturati di essi. Per il resto, considerato che complessivamente non questi i soli partiti che possono contare su un seguito di senso, è da notare che la solidarietà che unisce i rappresentanti di tutti i partiti comunisti e comitati di liberazione nazionale. In Liguria, il Partito Repubblicano Italiano non svolge con particolare successo una sua propaganda.

Politicamente parlando, le zone della Lombardia della Liguria, anche del Piemonte, senza distinzione di classa, pur compresa buona parte della aristocrazia, ha perso ogni fiducia in Carlo Savio e, almeno in questo momento è d'ora e compatta nel considerare la Repubblica.

Ma al di sopra di questi e simili problemi politici, l'attenzione immediata di tutti è rivolta, come si diceva più sopra, a quelli che sono considerati più direttamente problemi politici. Tutti temono un rincaro del costo della vita, sebbene finora nei piccoli centri, del momento della liberazione, il livello delle dei prezzi sia aumentato non in maniera preoccupante, e molto meno invece di quello che è avvenuto nei grandi centri, ove la corsa al rialzo ha avuto a che avendo dei risultati molto sensibili. In relazione a ciò, la questione ati che al nostro più forti, per me la Dalmazia arisiano, molto organizzata nella esistenza, anche nel campo operaio abbia delle forze notevoli, raccogliendo gli elementi più maturati di essi. Per il re-ato, considero che complessivamente con questi i soli partiti che possono contare su un seguito di massa. È da notare che la solidarietà che unisce i rappresentanti di tutti i partiti socialisti e comunisti di liberazione italiana. In sintesi, il Partito Popolare Italiano non evolve con particolare successo un suo programma.

Politicamente parlando, la parte della Lombardia della Liguria, anche del Piemonte, senza distinzione di classi, per comprese buona parte della aristocrazia, ha perso ogni fiducia in Casa Savoia e, almeno in questo momento è ferma e compatta nel considerare la repubblica.

Ma al di sopra di questi e simili problemi politici, l'attenzione immediata di tutti è rivolta, come si diceva più sopra, a quella che sono considerati più dichiaratamente problemi politici. Tutti temono un rincaro del costo della vita, sebbene fino a nei piccoli centri, dal momento della liberazione, il livello delle loro prezzi sia essen-tato non in maniera preoccupante, e molto meno invece di quello che è avvenuto nei grandi centri, ove la corsa al rialzo ha avuto a sua avendo dei risultati molto sensibili. In relazione a ciò, la questione del valore della lira, della stabilizzazione della moneta è <sup>difficile</sup> dappertutto con grande apprensione. I blocchi, in qualsiasi parte vengano, dopo quelli fascisti e tedeschi, non sono visti sotto di buon occhio, né dai produttori né dai consumatori, che li considerano la prima fonte del mercato nero.

In conclusione, l'uomo della strada serio e cosenzioso, tipico del Nord, vorrebbe sinceramente che la situazione eccezionale creata dagli ultimi avvenimenti si normalizzasse al più presto; che il lavoro e gli scambi dipendessero, senza ritardare nella manutenzione ~~tra~~ l'inefficienza della burocrazia del fascismo; che gli animi dei cittadini fossero farti dell'idea politica che non sono ognuno di loro va attraverso ciando, ma unirsi verso un reale progresso democratico sulla difficile via della ricostruzione.

Si aggiungono qui alcuni esempi a situazioni particolari nei vari luoghi visitati, che vorremmo a rendere meno generico quanto è stato sopra esposto:

A Cremona, uno dei più tipici esempi di felai partigiani: 200-300 giovani ex detenuti per reati comuni hanno formato una banda armata che si chiama "La Primale Rossini" e che infesta le campagne vicine e che ha tentato anche di catturare il Prefetto e il Questore. La poca disponibilità di forze di polizia regolari aveva indotto, a circolo un mese della liberazione della città, che contro di essa si potessero prendere provvedimenti risolutivi.

A Como c'era stato il concentramento finale di molti fascisti repubblicani e la reazione è stata molto forte. Adesso la situazione è normalizzata, i titolari del popolo lavorano sinceramente, ed in alcuni Paesi ove la situazione era pessima, grazie anche alla moderazione delle autorità socialiste e comuniste, la calma è tornata, e molti arbitri sono stati riparati.

A Varese le fabbriche sono rimaste del tutto chiuse per tre settimane.

COMO, ma uniti verso un reale progresso democratico sulla difficile via della ricostruzione.

Si noti ancora qui alcuni elementi e situazioni particolari nei vari luoghi visitati, che verranno a rendere meno generico quanto è stato sopra esposto:

A Cremona, uno dei più tipici centri di folci partigiani: 200-300 giovani ex detenuti per reati comuni hanno formato una banda armata che si chiama "Le Primula Rossa" e che infesta le campagne vicine e che ha tentato anche di catturare il prefetto e il questore. La poca disponibilità di forze di polizia regolari aveva impedito, a circa un mese dalla liberazione della città, che contro di essa si potesse prendere provvedimenti risolutivi.

A Como c'era stato il concentramento finale di molti fascisti repubblicani e la reazione è stata molto forte. Anche la situazione è normalizzata, i tribunali del popolo lavorano discretamente, ed in alcuni paesi ove la situazione era caotica, grazie anche alla moderazione delle autorità sovietiche e comuniste, la calma è tornata, e molti arbitri sono stati riparati.

A Varese le fabbriche sono rimaste del tutto chiuse per tre settimane, ed era aspettato per prima cosa il carbone. L'intervento diretto del Prefetto del luogo, appartenente alla Democrazia Cristiana, in un momento di una certa confusione nel mondo operaio in seguito ad alcune espressioni al solito più "tecniche" che politiche, è valso a convincere i membri del C.L.M. di fabbrica della necessità di un maggior senso della misura.

A Biella, tutte le industrie tessili sono intatte e si hanno scorte per due o tre mesi. Biella è stata un gran centro di attività partigiana ed ora gli elementi di estrema sinistra sono molto forti. Il C.L.M. locale ha espresso il desiderio di non dipendere da Verucchi per l'alimentazione e mostra un ardente spirito di autonomia. La polizia del popolo, in mancanza dei carabinieri che furono tutti deportati in Germania, funziona con evidente soddisfazione della popolazione. Anche qui, come altrove il tentativo di esautorare i C.L.M., troverebbe forti resistenze.

A Ivrea, un grande industriale ha confermato l'opinione più diffusa, negli ambienti responsabili, sui Comitati di liberazione nazionale; che essi rappresentano un impulso così nuovo e, in un certo senso, una conquista della vita nazionale di tale portata, che pensare di sostituirli con la normale macchina burocratica, sarebbe un errore gravissimo. Bisognerebbe piuttosto che essi siano inquadrati, potenziando lo spirito democratico, nei normali organi del Governo centrale, in modo che quanto c'è di buono continui a fruttificare e lo sostituisca di un periodo di accensione a poco a poco possano cadere.

La provincia di Cuneo ha dato il maggior numero di partigiani, con conseguenti forti rappresaglie e razzie. 250 partigiani saliti, le prospettive di un raccolto inferiore al 50% di quello normale a causa del gelo e della siccità, rendono preoccupante il prossimo inverno. I Comuni di Briga Marittima e Turis sono stati occupati da Autorità francesi e, a quanto pare, con un plebiscito che si è svolto contemporaneamente alla distribuzione di carte annonarie e di altre trovate sul luogo, annesso senz'altro alle francesi. I sinistri nuovi sono

...del popolo, in occasione del carabiniere che furono tutti depor-tati in Germania, l'Unione con evidente soddisfazione della popolazione. Anche qui, come altrove il tentativo di smantellare i C.I.A., tro-varebbe forti resistenze.

La provincia di Cuneo ha dato il miglior numero di partigiani, con conseguenti forti rappresentanze e ramificazioni. 200 ponti esistenti, le prospettive di un raccolto inferiore al 60% di quelle normali a causa

 I Comuni di Briga Marittima e Tanaro sono stati occupati da Autorità francesi e, a quanto pare, con un placimento che si è svolto contempo-raneamente alla distribuzione di carte ausiliarie e di sole trovate sul luogo, successivamente alla fine della guerra. I sinistri nuovi sono francesi, la tonata d'uso è francese, le Autorità alleate sembra il che interverranno solo per regolare la distribuzione (nel lontano di quella zona che da solo serve al bisogno di mezzo provincia, e per la tutela di tre grandi centrali elettriche che forniscono l'energia a Genova, energia che sarebbe stata ora devolta per Tolone e Marsiglia.
 Nessun italiano può andare nei prefetti comuni; la le autorità alleate hanno invitato quelle italiane di Cuneo a fornire i documenti precisi, di testimonianze dirette che comprovino l'operato del franco, ed a ciò sta ora provvedendo il Prefetto del capoluogo.

A Torino, in una riunione di industriali, la grande maggioranza di essi si e' pronunciata a favore del C.I.N. perché essi continuino la loro opera dino alla Costituzione, ed e' stato unanime nel richiedere il rispetto delle leggi; nel voler contare su un'atmosfera di fiducia che incora a l'industria del singolo industriale e ne garantisca il lavoro; nel desiderare una pronta esagerazione sul valore della moneta e sulla possibilità del lavoro. Il come in altri ambienti, o- gni atto che purtroppo possa ricordare, a salvato del senso di respon- sabilità dei dirigenti i partiti, le soppressioni facciate, ha tro- vato e trova le più nette riprovazioni. In questo senso, la autorità alleate sono intervenute con maggiore ener- gia che non altrove, e ciò ha aumentato la stima delle popolazioni verso di loro.

Particolarmente nel Piemonte, e Torino e ad Ivrea, la situazione in Val d'Aosta e seguita con appassionato interesse. De informazioni accurate ed elementi riconoscibili che avevano partecipato anche a riu- nioni politiche ad Aosta, ci si augurava che il governo centrale, in base ai punti enunciati dal C.I.N. sostano, studiasse la questione e prendesse con grande urgenza del provvedimento che tranquillassero quelle popolazioni e arginassero la propugna francese. La quale, se per il momento ha facile successo giacendo sul naturale risentimento che gli esposti provano, in maniera cogere piuttosto confusa, dopo tanti torti e vessazioni del passato recente, non raggiungere di fronte a concessioni concrete nel campo dell'autonomia, dello sgravio fisco- le, dello sfruttamento delle acque, della parità di lingua, delle

Il caso in altri ambienti, o ogni atto che purtroppo possa ricordare, e malgrado del senso di responsabilità dei dirigenti e partiti, le sopraffazioni fasciste, ha trovato e trova la più giusta riprovazione. In questo senso, le autorità alleate sono intervenute con maggiore energia che non altrove, e ciò ha annunciato la stima della popolazione verso di loro.

Particolarmente nel Fiesento, a Torino e ad Ivrea, la situazione in Val d'Aosta è degna con appassionato interesse. Le informazioni accurate ed elementi responsabili che avevano partecipato anche a riunioni politiche ad Aosta, ci si augurava che il Governo centrale, in base ai punti enunciati dal G.L.P. bosiano, studiasse la questione e prendesse con grande urgenza dei provvedimenti che tranquillassero quelle popolazioni e arginassero la propaganda fascista. In quale, se per il momento ha facile successo giacendo sul naturale risentimento che gli ostioni provano, in maniera magari piuttosto confusa, dopo tanti torti e vessazioni del passato recente, non raggiungerebbe di fronte a concessioni concrete nel campo dell'autonomia, dello agrario fiscole, dello sfruttamento delle acque, della parità di lingua, della concessione di una zona franca. Il pronto comunicato del Governo in merito avrà fatto senz'altro una buona impressione; ma la questione conserva per intero il suo carattere di estrema urgenza. E' da rilevare che nella Valle le autorità alleate sono molto comprensive dei legittimi interessi italiani.

Ad Asti, mentre la maggior parte dei partigiani delle formazioni autonome ha deposto le armi ed è tornata a casa, un certo numero, non più di 200, vaga nelle campagne e si dà ad un proficuo commercio di cavalli. Gli elementi delle vecchie forze di polizia sono pochi, quelli nuovi devono essere ancora inquadrati. Il C.L.N. ora sta molto bene come Giunta Consultiva, con in seno un rappresentante del Clero ed uno dei commercianti.

Ad Alessandria, si reputa un errore l'aver prediletta l'irrisoria somma di L. 1.200.000 come premio per ogni partigiano. D'altra parte la nuova Amministrazione della provincia è in difficoltà per mancanza di fondi. La popolazione è ancora sotto l'impressione di efferate vendette personali da parte di elementi estremisti che purtroppo sfuggono ad ogni controllo delle autorità politiche responsabili.

A Genova, la situazione alimentare incombente gradatamente a migliorare. La simpatia e la fiducia verso gli Alleati è unanime e da loro si attende che il porto possa riprendere il lavoro. La situazione politica non è del tutto chiara perché, mentre il C.L.N. di Genova, composto di persone molto stimate, continua ad agire con intelligenza, alcuni C.L.N. periferici o di fabbrica operano di propria iniziativa e separatamente. L'opinione pubblica il concorso nei richieste che si arrivi ad una verdissima degli animi per promuovere la ripresa con l'aiuto e la collaborazione degli alleati.

A Savona, il porto ostruito, la Galleria di S. Ambrogio franata rendono questa città quasi isolata, restano le sole del retroterra per comunicazioni con Genova. L'alleantato è il problema che si impone per primo. Savona, fra le tante località che ha mostrato di non gradire i carabinieri, è quella che ha fatto il viso più ostentato.

Ad Alessandria, si ripete un errore l'aver predicato l'irrisoria somma di L. 1.500.000.000 come premio per ogni partigiano. D'altra parte la nuova Amministrazione della provincia è in difficoltà per mancanza di fondi. La popolazione è ancora sotto l'impressione di efferate vendette personali da parte di elementi estremisti che purtroppo sfuggono ad ogni controllo delle autorità politiche responsabili.

M. periferici o di fabbrica operano di proprie iniziative e tendono a tenersi isolati. L'opinione pubblica è concorde nel richiedere che si arrivi ad una verdissima conciliazione degli animi per promuovere la ripresa con l'aiuto e la collaborazione degli alleati.

A Savona, il porto ostruito, la Galleria di Albisola Tronata rendono questa città quasi isolata, rendendo la sola del retroscorta per comunicazione con Genova. L'illuminazione è il problema che si impone per primo. Savona, fra le tante località che ha mostrato di non gradire i carabinieri ruffiani, è quella che ha fatto il viso più ostile. Tuttavia la zona è fortemente repubblicana. In questi ultimi giorni, la situazione del C.C. N. N., che per qualche momento è stata inaccettabile, è migliorata per l'intervento dei comitati locali dei partiti comunisti e socialista democratico cristiano, in collaborazione con gli alleati.

Spazio, come è noto, ha molto sofferto, sia per i bombardamenti sia per la vicinanza della linea del fronte, sia ancora per la ritirata dei tedeschi che hanno fatto saltare anche le piccole industrie. La situazione alimentare sarà grave per il prossimo inverno. Gli abitanti hanno l'impressione di essere abbandonati a loro stessi, senza che da alcuna parte si prendano iniziative di qualsiasi genere.

A Parma, è stato fatto presente che dagli autoparchi allestiti pieni di automezzi italiani e tedeschi facenti parte del bottino di guerra, esistenti nella zona, potrebbero essere presi alcuni autocarri da imprestare alla provincia almeno per quattro o cinque mesi. Nessi servirebbero al trasporto delle legna, particolarmente importante perché la città è priva di gas, e a quello delle derrate.

Si dà segnalare a Piacenza un movimento sindacalista molto esteso, ed un grande successo della propaganda comunista. La situazione è tranquilla, ed sono solamente in giro delle lamentole perché la Questura appare piuttosto disorganizzata, e l'azione straordinaria troppo lenta a mettersi in moto.

Anche nella provincia di Beramo sono da segnalare atti di violenza da parte di pseudo patriotti: a Romano di Lombardia per esempio alcuni di essi catturati il sindaco, a forza di son fatti rilasciare due ex gerarchi fascisti detenuti in quelle prigioni e li hanno uccisi sul posto.

In queste provincie i comuni stanno già stando come per prevenire con dei piani di lavori la disoccupazione.

I precari sono in aumento e la situazione della classe impiegatizia è critica.

MR. ANIMAL STONE said that arrangements had been made with the Armies to allow travel of certain numbers of civilians who would be provided with a Gestapo pass. These arrangements would be effective 28 May 1945. The economic boundary line between Northern and Southern ITALY was also being abolished on that date.

4. CIVILIAN TRAVEL IN NORTHERN ITALY

(Previous reference SAC (P) (45) 10th Meeting - minute 6)

REAR ADMIRAL STONE reported that the feasibility of allowing increased civilian travel into Northern ITALY was at present complicated by the existence of the economic boundary line between North and South. He would report again in due course.

THE SUPREME ALLIED COMMANDER:

Took note of the above.

Air Force Department

Rome, 21 May 1945

Dear Marshal,

I refer to my note of May 4th, explaining that it was necessary for me to proceed to Milan.

The situation of the Air Force in the North, which has grown considerably worse during the last few days, according to the information which I received today, makes my visit quite indispensable; I therefore renew my request, adding that I would like to leave by plane on the 20th.

I want to tell you that my visit will take place for technical motives only.

M. S. Bonomi who already knows about this has given his consent and has asked Admiral Stone personally to support my request.

Waiting for your answer, I remain,

Yours very truly,

Camera dei Deputati

378

Rome, 17 May 1945

Excellency,

because of the transfer north of the central offices of the Italian Government, ordered in the autumn of 1943 by the so-called republican fascist Government, many things were taken from the Camera dei deputati. Some of them have an important value: cars, typewriters, wireless sets, silver, etc.. But even more serious was the taking away of most valuable political, documentary and bibliographic material of a national interest.

From the evidence of an official, who adhered to the Committee for national liberation of North Italy, and has just come back, this material is at present safe in Venice and the Presidency of the Camera is most anxious that the said things be brought to Rome without delay.

because of the consideration you always showed to this Parliamentary Institution, I ask you to take the necessary action to facilitate this operation.

I would like to send to Venice adv. Roberto Collanari, Director of the Ufficio dei Questori della Camera, in one of our cars, together with Mag. Giacomo Mattei, who is to recover for the other branch of the parliament, such sets and documents as belong to the Senate, among which the official documents of the House of Savoy, and the sets of the High Court of Justice; both of them supplied with the necessary credentials for the allied Authorities in Venice, to facilitate their task in every possible way.

Thanking you, I remain,

Truly yours,

e. v. e. Orlando

6. CIVILIAN TRAVEL IN NORTHERN ITALY

SEAN ADMIRAL STONE reported that the Italian Prime Minister had recently requested approval for various members of the Italian government to proceed on business to Northern ITALY. The purpose of these visits would be solely political, and it was the Admiral's opinion that approval should be granted in view of the directive in SAN 487. He further recommended that the entire question of civilian travel to and from Northern ITALY should be examined.

THE SUPREME ALLIED COMMANDER:

Directed that the Chief Commissioner, Allied Commission;

- (a) Arrange for the visit of the members of the Italian government to Northern ITALY.
- (b) Investigate, in conjunction with the military authorities concerned, the feasibility of allowing increased civilian travel into Northern ITALY and report to him accordingly.

The President of the Council of Ministers

Rome, 16 May 1949

Dear Admiral,

the interministerial Committee for Reconstruction points out that the liberation of the provinces of North Italy, where most of the Italian industrial system is concentrated, makes it necessary to proceed to verifications (which, to be correct have to be made on the spot) to ascertain the real urgent requirements of these regions for the economic rehabilitation. It is necessary to ascertain without delay the requirements of the North, as it has already been done for Central and South Italy, to complete the 'first aid plan' drafted with A.C., and which is already being applied in Washington; this also to avoid an unforeseen, even if only partial inactivity of the industries of the North from causing a state of trouble or misery, which is always dangerous.

I am therefore most grateful, my dear Admiral, if you will allow the following persons to go North. They are particularly able for making the above mentioned ascertainsments.

2. With reference to the name of the driver for the Ministry for Foreign Affairs vehicle, has it escaped your notice that GIULIANO Mario originally appeared as one of the officials it was intended to send? You will recall that it was decided to reduce the size of the party to three only and no alteration to this can be made. A regular driver should therefore be substituted and his name, address and identity card number forwarded. Upon receipt of this information the necessary permit will be issued.

The President of the Council of Ministers

Rome, 19 May 1945

My dear Admiral,

In a letter of last September 18th, I happened to draw your attention on the necessity of taking an immediate and efficacious action to hasten the resumption of industrial activity in the provinces of North Italy which are so important for the economy of the country, this as soon as North Italy would be liberated.

For this reason, I asked for State Counsellor Piccardi, Commissioner of the I.R.I. to be allowed to proceed to Milan as soon as possible. In the above mentioned letter, I pointed out the economic and also the political and financial reasons - the protection of great interests which the State invested in North Italy through I.R.I. - which advise and demand the presence of Counsellor Piccardi in this town.

Waiting for your answer, I remain,

Yours sincerely,

My dear Dr. De Gasperi:

I am in receipt of your letter of 7 May 1945 and fully appreciate the desire of certain of the officials of your Department to re-assure themselves on the safety of their families and property which they left in the North.

I think the time is near when restrictions placed on visits to the North will not be so arduous and I suggest that you renew this application, say in ten to fourteen days time.

Dear Admiral,

as you are certainly aware, after the initiative a large number of officials and employees of this Department, owing to their attitude of loyalty to the legitimate Government, were confined into concentration camps by the German and fascist authorities or subjected to various police security measures.

Some of them - on whom I want specially to draw your kind attention - have left in Northern Italy their wives and their children, their interests and their properties, disregarding all personal inconveniences, in order to join the legitimate Italian Government. For many months they have been working in a particularly painful position, being often without news of their families, which were exposed to the risks of possible retaliations.

Now that the war is over, these officials are anxious to reach Northern Italy, even if for a short time, at the earliest possible occasion. They are moved principally by a sense of moral and material responsibility, which I find only too natural given the circumstances.

My dear Mr. Prime Minister,

I have before me your three letters of 29 April, 2 May and 6 May on the question of officials going to the North to locate the Government archives and other documents.

I am glad to be able to tell you that the Commanding General has agreed to a limited number of officials going into Fifth Army area on or after 17 May. He stipulates that the officials must be accompanied by an Allied Officer.

No similar permission has yet been received from G.O.C. Eighth Army, but the agreement already received will allow entry to Piemonte, Liguria, Lombardia and Verona where, I understand, important documents have been located.

It has been suggested to me that the first visit should be made by a smaller number of officials than was proposed in your first letter. It would, perhaps, be better to send Dott. Bulio de and not more than two companions on this first visit. If you will arrange for me to have the names of those whom you finally select, and also the numbers on their Identity Cards, I will arrange for the necessary permits to be issued.

Yours very truly,

Dear Admiral,

In my letter of the 2nd, I mentioned a restricted number of officials to be sent without delay to the provinces of the North to recover the archives taken away by the so called republican government.

I pointed out that the work of the said personnel would be most useful to save the valuable material taken from the various administrations.

In case superior military requirements would not make it possible to organize at present the transfer of the people mentioned in the said letter, I ask you, my dear Admiral, to examine the possibility of sending North, at least, Prof. Emilio Re, Commissioner for the State Archives, who, being most competent in all matters concerning archives, gives the best guarantee that he will fulfill an efficacious work for the end we mean to reach.

I remain,

1. Referring to letter 35995/10100.5/1.1.2 dated 2 May 1945 from the Presidency of the Council of Ministers passed to you for action, you should know that the Chief Commissioner's Office is being pressed very hard for permission for the persons named in the above-mentioned letter to proceed North. Considerable importance is attached to the recovery of records of Italian archives moved North and therefore this application is recommended. Formal approval will be given by this office as soon as permission is received from the Army.
2. Received today is the attached letter dated 4 May, reference 34202/10100.5/1.1.2, from the Presidency of the Council of Ministers substituting the name of Prof. Mario GIULIANO for Francesco CAVALLETTI. For your information it is believed that Professor GIULIANO is Signor REALE's private secretary and if the party already named is to be regarded as a selection of technical experts it would seem that possibly Professor GIULIANO does not fall within this category. On these grounds it might be considered advisable to retain CAVALLETTI in the party.

Dear Admiral,

after receiving your letter of September 27th 1944 4/00 091.1 mentioning the possibility of sending, at the right time, expert functionaries to the provinces of North Italy, to locate and save the archives of the Public Administrations, which were transferred there by the so-called republican government, the Presidency of the Council contacted the various Ministries to meet this important requirement.

Capt. Brooke, archivist of the Monuments, Fine Arts and Archives
Sub-Commission of the A.C. was always kept informed about the results of the action that was being taken.

With the liberation of North Italy from Nazi-fascist occupation, the initiative about which you showed such concern has become possible.

It is the interest of the various Ministries that the archives, to which such an important part of the administrative activity is linked, should not get lost.

I realize nevertheless that superior reasons do not make it possible at present to send a large number of officials to the provinces of the North, and I will only say that it would be advisable to send at least a few officials of the Presidency of the Council of Ministers, of the State Department and of the Ministry of the Interior.

Here are the names of the officials chosen for each of the above-mentioned Administrations:

Following upon the liberation of Northern Italy I should deem advisable and interesting to ascertain as soon as possible both from the technical and administrative point of view of the general situation of the services in these regions, coming within the sphere of my ministry, also with the aim to be able to examine numerous and complicated problems which are to be confronted when the northern administration will pass under the jurisdiction of the Italian Government.

As I cannot go personally, I should like to send a functionary who enjoys my complete confidence, my private Secretary, Dr. MARIO PETRONIO, to carry out a complete survey of the whole situation of the services in all their aspects.

The President of the Council of Ministers

n. 53421/10100.5/1.1.2

Rome, 29 April 1945

Dear Admiral,

ADD TO BOOK

The liberation of North Italy from Nazi-fascist occupation has brought up a problem which greatly concerns the Administration of the State and of the other public organizations.

As you well know, between the 8th of September 1943 and the 4th of June 1944, the unlawful Italian Government taking advantage of the German force transferred to the North an important part of the bureaucratic organization of the State and of the public organizations, and an even more important part of their patrimony.

As you will admit, to recuperate this property as well as all the administrative acts and documents is of great importance for the reorganization and resumption of national life.

The Ministers and the chiefs of the public Administrations have expressed this wish to me, suggesting to send North without delay expert functionaries of a sound democratic faith, to collect and save, in agreement with the Allied Authorities, the documents and property of the various organizations.

This work of recuperation can only correspond to the intention of the Allied Authorities to meet the requirements of our Country, to make less difficult, in the middle of so many ruins, a serious attempt at reconstruction.

Trusting in your great comprehension, I hope, my dear Admiral, that you will kindly examine this proposal without delay, and I feel sure of getting your friendly support.

I am waiting for your answer which will enable me to tell the various Ministers to contact the competent organs of A.C. about the modalities of the initiative.

I remain,

Truly yours,

My dear Mr. Prime Minister :

With further references to your letter of 30 September and mine of 1 October on the subject of early visits of high Italian Officials to Northern Areas promptly after their liberation, I should like to reaffirm my statement that early preparation for such visits on the part of the Italian Government, is a foresighted act.

However, I must also repeat that the decision as to how soon such officials can be admitted into Milan or other similar areas, is a military one and must be guided by the circumstances prevailing at the time visits are contemplated. The opinion of the Allied Command is in agreement with this point of view and it is felt that present action can best be limited to the preparation of information which will be useful when the military situation permits. The visit of commissioners, and the establishment of any definite schedule of time for their movement is not possible at this time.

Very truly yours,

Rome, 26 September 1944

Dear Admiral Stone,

The liberation of North Italy being imminent and considering the grave problems that the authorities of occupation will have to solve, the Italian Government would like the Allied Control Commission to designate a representative to take part in an exchange of views with a Committee of Italian Ministers, exchange of views which will be particularly reasonable at the time of the reunion of North Italy with Central and South Italy.

I remain,

Yours very truly,

THE PRESIDENT OF THE COUNCIL OF MINISTERS
2209/3.1.10

Rome, September 1944

TO ADMIRAL WILHELM W. STROSS
Chief Commissioner of the Allied Control Commission

R O M E

Dear Admiral,

Foreseeing that the provinces of North Italy could be rapidly liberated, because of the favourable development of the military operations, I deem it necessary to think of the state of the industrial plants of these regions.

The way in which the important plants of the central regions have been devastated, unfortunately leaves no doubt about the terrible state in which we will find the northern ones, which are the greatest industrial resources of the country.

We are therefore extremely preoccupied, because of their economic importance as well as because of the political and social repercussion they have through the large number of the workers.

It is obviously necessary to take from the beginning effective measures to limit and circumscribe the extent of possible damages.

Most useful will be the work of the people that the Allied Military Authorities will probably have to appoint, in some industries, to substitute the managers if these were Nazi-fascist or if they were to be away or unable to fulfill their post.

I suggest that my Government could give valuable information to the Allies, about the appointment of the commissioners; in this way, only people with real ability and technical competence, and above all, with a real knowledge of the problems in question would be appointed.

The necessity of getting information from my Government is still greater in the case of the enterprises related to the industrial reconstruction - I.R.I. - in this case, abundant information could be given by the present commissioner of the I.R.I., Counsellor of State Piccardi.

Considering the large sums invested by the Government in the industries of the north through the I.R.I., especially in Lombardy, I deem it absolutely necessary that Counsellor Piccardi should be allowed to go to Milan immediately after the liberation of the city.

If, as I hope, you agree with what I have expounded to you, would you take the necessary steps to come to an agreement with the A.M.G. for a previous consultation about the appointment of commissioners, and also give the Counsellor Piccardi the authorization to go to Milan.

I remain,

Yours very truly,

W. I. Bonomi
