My dear Marchese Vercosta:

With reference to your letter of August 15th I have to say that in view of the necessity to safeguard the bases and lines of communication of Allied troops in Central Europe, it is the present intention of the Supreme Allied Commander on the liberation of Northern Italy to maintain under Allied Military Government the provinces of Bolzano, Trento, Fiume, Pola, Trieste and Gorizia.

The final disposition of these territories and the drawing of frontiers will naturally be a matter for post-war settlement.

Yours very truly,

Dear Admiral,

The military events which are taking place and are so glorious for the nations which are fighting together against Germany show that the day in which the invaded territories will finally be liberated is getting near.

The Italian Government is greatly worried by the possibility that when Italia Libera will be liberated, contests between armed bands and peace-loving citizens may bring about bloodshed in the cities and villages of a region which has already suffered so much.

To avoid the possibility of violence and massacres, we think it is our duty to draw the attention of the Allied Governments on this painful possibility, for whatever action they may deem advisable to take.

This, out of human solidarity and to avoid violence and trouble, as well as new reasons for discord and new causes of rancour among the populations, which in future, in their interest as well as in the interest of European peace, will have to forget old strifes and get linked by bonds of fruitful collaboration.

I remain,

Yours very truly,
