7. TESTIMONIAL RELEASE:

1. In spite of detailed instructions published from time to time in CMOs, soldiers are still arriving from this theater for release in UK with inadequate testimonials or, in many cases, without testimonials. Specific instances of this are being forwarded.

2. The way in which a soldier is described in his testimonial may have a considerable effect on his return to civil employment and a badly or carelessly written testimonial may indirectly cause him financial loss. It is [illegible]ce that officers when writing these testimonials should describe the qualities in the soldier which may interest a civilian employer, bearing in mind the employment which the man wishes to take up on his release.

3. A man's efficiency in a purely military employment must therefore be described in terms which will be understandable to a civilian employer. Officers who may be called upon to write testimonials should read ACI 1165/45, this gives guidance on the writing of these.

4. All officers will no doubt realise their responsibility for giving the men who have served under them as full and satisfactory testimonials as they merit and will give to their writing all possible care. (G-1 (P))

All Italian wives of United States personnel desiring transportation to the United States should submit their names, total number of dependents, and home address to FAMILY SERVICE, CASELLA POSTALE NUMERO 150, NAPOLI, by telegraph or mail.

A portion of war brides will commence movement from Italy to the United States in the near future and movement will continue until all brides are returned.

All wives should remain in the vicinity of their residence pending individual notification that shipping is available.

The return of all such personnel is contingent on Military necessity and will not interfere with or retard the return of Military personnel.

Husbands in this theater may not return to the United States with their wives due to the number involved and complexities arising from shipments of this nature, but NO officer or enlisted man eligible for return being held due to his wife's presence in this theater will be retained after her departure.

2. TELEPHONE SERVICE:

The following instructions from Allied Force Headquarters are published for information and compliance:

1. During recent weeks a considerable number of "clear the line" and/or "urgent" telephone calls have been recorded.

2. "Clear the line" and/or "urgent" calls cause dislocation of the telephone service in that a demand for such a call constitutes authority to an operator to break down an existing connection and in that their setting up in any case interrupts the order of waiting calls and thereby causes additional delay to waiting subscribers. Further, the operator handling such a call has to devote his or her whole attention to it until the call is right through and can deal with no other calls while engaged in this manner, this again causes delay in answering subscribers and consequently in dealing with their calls.

3. Such calls will be placed only for most urgent and immediate

2. TELEPHONE SERVICE:

The following instructions from Allied Force Headquarters are published for information and compliance:

3. Such calls will be placed only for most urgent and immediate operational reasons. Every officer placing these calls must carefully weigh the necessity for immediate action against inconvenience and delay which is imposed on other important messages. Mere seniority of an officer is no justification for placing "clear the line" and/or "urgent" calls. However, officers other than General Officers will rarely have a justification for placing such calls unless specifically so directed by those holding General Officer rank.

4. In the future when "clear the line" and/or "urgent" calls, except those made in person by officers of the grade of Major General or above, are made, the reasons for the urgency will be stated in general terms when the call is booked, to the officer in charge of the switchboard concerned.

5. It is pointed out that the "priority" and "operational priority" degrees of urgency will nearly always ensure the rapid connection of a call.

4. LONG DISTANCE TELEPHONE SERVICE - MILAN:

For information of all concerned Allied Commission has a private telephone line to Lombardia Region Headquarters in Milan.

Service on this line is available daily between 0830-1930 hours. Calls can be made and received at this Headquarters from any telephone but it is requested that whenever possible the internal unrestricted numbers from 200-299 be used. Calls can now be placed to any number in Milan. Conversations must be on official matters only and will be limited to 6 minutes. Operators have orders to disconnect after 6 minutes if other calls are waiting.

To book calls, dial operator on 227 or 228, quote number or officer required, give your number and replace receiver. Operator will call back when circuit is available. Calls will be handled in strict rotation of booking order except for Priority calls. The placing of priority calls is limited to the Chief Commissioner, Executive Commissioner, Vice Presidents of Establishments Section, Civil Affairs Section and Economic Section.

Traffic checks on this line disclose that present use of this circuit does not warrant its continuance. At the same time Normal Rome Long Distance to Milan is overloaded. It is urged therefore that more use be made of this direct line in preference to using Rome Long Distance. (Sig Sec)

These testimonials are required by O.C. British Detachment and are essential for completion of Release Books.

9. TELEPHONE SERVICE:

The following instructions from Allied Force Headquarters are published for information and compliance:

1. During recent weeks a considerable number of "clear the line" and/or "urgent" telephone calls have been recorded.

2. "Clear the line" and/or "urgent" calls cause dislocation of the telephone service in that a demand for such a call constitutes authority to an operator to break down an existing connection and in that their setting up in any case interrupts the order of waiting calls and thereby causes additional delay to waiting subscribers. Further, the operator handling such a call has to devote his or her whole attention to it until the call is right through and can deal with no other calls while engaged in this manner; this again causes delay in answering subscribers and consequently in dealing with their calls.

3. Such calls will be placed only for most urgent and immediate operational reasons. Every officer placing these calls must carefully weigh the necessity for immediate action against inconvenience and delay which is imposed on other important messages. More seniority of an officer is no justification for placing "clear the line" and/or "urgent" calls. However, officers other than General Officers will rarely have a justification for placing such calls unless specifically so directed by those holding General Officer rank.

4. In the future when "clear the line" and/or "urgent" calls, except those made in person by officers of the grade of Major General or above, are made, the reasons for the urgency will be stated in general terms when the call is booked, to the officer in charge of the switchboard concerned.

5. It is pointed out that the "priority" and "operational priority" degrees of urgency will nearly always ensure the rapid connection of a call."

Calls can be made and received at this Headquarters from any telephone but it is requested that whenever possible the internal unrestricted numbers from 200-599 be used. 4. TELEPHONE SERVICE:

The following instructions from Allied Force Headquarters are published for information and compliance:

1. During recent weeks a considerable number of "clear the line" and/or "urgent" telephone calls have been recorded.

2. "Clear the line" and/or "urgent" calls cause dislocation of the telephone service in that a demand for such a call constitutes authority to an operator to break down an existing connection and in that their setting up in any case interrupts the order of waiting calls and thereby causes additional delay to waiting subscribers. Further, the operator handling such a call has to devote his or her whole attention to it until the call is right through and can deal with no other calls while engaged in this manner; this again causes delay in answering subscribers and consequently in dealing with their calls.

3. Such calls will be placed only for most urgent and immediate operational reasons. Every officer placing these calls must carefully weigh the necessity for immediate action against inconvenience and delay which is imposed on other important messages. Mere seniority of an officer is no justification for placing "clear the line" and/or "urgent" calls. However, officers other than General Officers will rarely have a justification for placing such calls unless specifically so directed by those holding General Officer rank.

4. In the future when "clear the line" and/or "urgent" calls, except those made in person by officers of the grade of Major General or above are made, the reasons for the urgency will be stated in general terms when the call is booked, to the officer in charge of the switchboard concerned.

9. TELEPHONE SERVICE: The following instructions from Allied Force Headquarters are published for information and compliance:

1. During recent weeks a considerable number of "clear the line" and/or "urgent" telephone calls have been recorded.

2. "Clear the line" and/or "urgent" calls cause dislocation of the telephone service in that a demand for such a call constitutes authority to an operator to break down an existing connection and in that their setting up in any case interrupts the order of waiting calls and thereby causes additional delay to waiting subscribers. Further, the operator handling such a call has to devote his or her whole attention to it until the call is right through and can deal with no other calls while engaged in this manner; this again causes delay in answering subscribers and consequently in dealing with their calls.

3. Such calls will be placed only for most urgent and immediate operational reasons. Every officer placing these calls must carefully weigh the necessity for immediate action against inconvenience and delay which is imposed on other important messages. More seniority of an officer is no justification for placing "clear the line" and/or "urgent" calls. However, officers other than General Officers will rarely have a justification for placing such calls unless specifically so directed by those holding General Officer rank.

4. In the future when "clear the line" and/or "urgent" calls, except those made in person by officers of the grade of Major General or above, are made, the reasons for the urgency will be stated in general terms when the call is booked, to the officer in charge of the switchboard concerned.

5. It is pointed out that the "priority" and "operational priority" degrees of urgency will nearly always ensure the rapid connection of a call." (Hq Sig O)

2. MILITARY COURTESY AND DISCIPLINE:

The following is extracted from MTOUSA letter AG 420/918 CG-O, Subject: Military Courtesy and Discipline", dated 29 November 1945:

"There is a marked laxity on the part of U.S. officers and enlisted personnel throughout MTOUSA in observing the basic principles of military courtesy and discipline. Saluting is far from the standards prescribed, and discrepancies range from careless and improper execution to complete failure to render the salute. Improper wearing of the uniform is common. Unbuttoned jackets, wearing of torn and dirty articles of uniform, improper wearing of or failure to wear the proper headgear, dirty and tarnished insignia, unpolished boots and shoes, and unbuttoned pockets are frequently observed offences.

"Such derelictions are inexusable and are a reflection upon the Army of the United States. The appearance and behaviour of our officers and enlisted men in foreign lands make an impression upon the inhabitants by which they will judge our nation. Vigorous action will immediately be taken to correct present conditions, and the proper standards of military courtesy and discipline will be maintained. Laxity will not be tolerated. (Est Sec)

2. DISCHARGE OF US PERSONNEL TO ACCEPT WAR DEPARTMENT EMPLOYMENT:

In view of the shortage of trained military personnel consequent to redeployment, the Mediterranean Theater of Operations has found it desirable to employ a number of discharged officers and soldiers in a civilian status. The positions include all types of clerical work and selected administrative and technical positions with the same pay as for comparable positions under the classified civil service, with an overseas allowance of 25% of basic pay, plus overtime. From $8 to $13 a month will be deducted for billets and a charge of 75 cents a day, plus any mess service charges, will be made for food. Employment will be for a minimum period of one (1) year. Application forms have been requisitioned by the 2675th Regiment, and will be made available as soon as received. Applications are desired as early as possible, but individuals cannot be hired as civilians until finally separated from the military service under appropriate existing regulations, and applicants will not be discharged from the military service at a date earlier than otherwise eligible, for the purpose of accepting such civilian employment with the War Department. Applicants will fully state their work experience attained prior to military service. In the case of enlisted personnel particular care will be taken to describe duties and abilities involving responsibilities above those usually associated with enlisted grades. Applications will be made to individual's immediate commanding officer, who will forward applications according to instructions contained in MTOUSA letter AG 220.8/622 P-O, dated 3 December 1945. (Hq 2675th Regt)

Unit commanders will urge and assist members of their commands to make adequate plans for care of their dependents at their present residence."

It is required in the same letter, however, that no further marriage applications be processed unless the applicants agree to remain in the theater until such time as transportation for their dependents is available.

3. MESSAGE WRITING:

The following is an extract from a memorandum dated 3 December 1945 received from GHQ CMF, subject 'Message Writing':

"The standard of message writing by British originators has deteriorated considerably during the last few months. "With a view to effecting an improvement, G30 CMF is being instructed to provide scrutineers who will examine messages originated in GHQ CMF or the British elements of integrated sections of AFHQ and also those originated in other HQs and passed to GHQ CMF for retransmission. All such messages which are challenged by the scrutineers will be recorded and bad cases will be referred to heads of departments for necessary action. In the case of incoming messages a report on messages which merit comment will be forwarded periodically through Signals channels to the originating HQ. The scrutineers will be given strict instructions on no account to delay the transmission of important messages.

6. MESSAGE WRITING: The following is an extract from a memorandum dated 3 December 1945, received from GHQ CMF, subject "Message Writing":

. "The standard of message writing by British originators has deteriorated considerably during the last few months. The main faults are verbosity, unjustifie high priorities and incorrect security classification. The over-all result of the above practises is to reduce the efficiency of the service for all users, including those who originate messages in the correct manner.

"With a view to effecting an improvement, CSO CMF is being instructed to provide scrutineers who will examine messages originated in GHQ CMF or the British elements of integrated sections of AFHQ and also those originated in other HQs and passed to GHQ CMF for retransmission. All such messages which are challenged by the scrutineers will be recorded and bad cases will be referred to heads of departments for necessary action. In the case of incoming messages a report on... messages which merit comment will be forwarded periodically through Signals channel to the originating HQ. The scrutineers will be given strict instructions on no account to delay the transmission of important messages." (Office of the Ex Com

A GREAT AMERICAN

General of the Army George C. Marshall, Chief of Staff of the United States Army, has relinquished the post of trust and responsibility which the American nation confided to him more than six years ago.

The United States during those six years, experienced momentous events; faced perils as grave as any in its history; and by the united efforts of its people emerged victorious.

The extent of those perils, the margin by which they were surmounted, the wisdom of vital decisions reached during those days, and their future influence on the destiny of the American people are yet to be evaluated.

Neither can we yet measure the full stature of the men to whom America entrusted the direction of its affairs during these critical years. But in the small group which has comprised our collective leadership, the great eminence of General Marshall is conspicuous.

Upon the occasion of his own retirement from a varied public service unsurpassed in our history, Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson with a simple and generous subordination of self found only in the truly great, said of General Marshall:

"I cannot leave the War Department without giving some account, more personal than official, of my association with the Chief of Staff, General Marshall, during the five years we have worked together. Our day-to-day, almost hour-to-hour consideration of plans and policies on which the safety of the Nation depended has given me an unparalleled opportunity to measure the stature of this great and modest man.

In spite of the great prestige which General Marshall justly holds among his countrymen, I doubt that many fully realize how his leadership has counted. I know, because we could talk freely of it in private, how clearly he saw the inevitable involvement of this nation in the war and tried by every means at his disposal to prepare us for it.

A man in high office cannot always make public the things that are in his heart. Yet in his Biennial Report in July 1941, General Marshall uttered as strong a warning to the Nation as he appropriately could. His recommendation that the Selective Service men, the National Guardsmen and Reserve officers taken into the Army for a year of service be retained beyond that period touched off a violent debate in the Congress. General Marshall fought to make clear the pressing need to hold these men in the service. To release them would have

In spite of the great prestige which General Marshall justly holds among his countrymen, I doubt that many fully realize how his leadership has counted. I know, because we could talk freely of it in private, how clearly he saw the inevitable involvement of this nation in the war and tried by every means at his disposal to prepare us for it.

A man in high office cannot always make public the things that are in his heart. Yet in his Biennial Report in July 1941, General Marshall uttered as strong a warning to the Nation as he appropriately could. His recommendation that the Selective Service men, the National Guardsmen and Reserve officers taken into the Army for a year of service be retained beyond that period touched off a violent debate in the Congress. General Marshall fought to make clear the pressing need to hold these men in the service. To release them would have destroyed the Army which later we required so urgently. He won his battle by a single vote in the House of Representatives.

When Japan attacked, General Marshall's visions was displayed in the 1014 global view which he immediately took of our situation. From the beginning his concept of proper strategy was that we must defeat Germany first in order to gain victory in the shortest possible time. In spite of the far distance between the European and Pacific theaters of war, he saw them as separate battlefields of a single conflict. The major, the more menacing force, was Germany. How sound that strategy proved was shown when the Japanese collapsed four months after the German surrender.

From the very beginning, he insisted on unity between the services and among our Allies. He realized that only by this means could our combined resources be employed to the fullest advantage against the enemy. To achieve whole-hearted cooperation, he was always willing to sacrifice his own personal prestige. To him agreement was more important than any consideration of where the credit belonged. His firm belief that unity could be preserved in the face of divergent opinions was a decisive factor in planning throughout the war.

In all the military councils, General Marshall's leadership constantly pressed for adoption of the most direct means of defeating Germany. From the outset, he held to the plan that this must be accomplished by a cross-Channel invasion of Northern France. Other plans were proposed and considered. Marshall never swerved from his bold insistence of a frontal attack on the coast which would bring us quickly into contact with the mass of Germany's military forces on terrain favorable for their defeat.

There have been times when General Marshall's swift decisions have averted possible disaster. In the summer of 1942 when in a single battle Field Marshal Rommel has destroyed a large proportion of Britain's tanks in Lybia, General Marshall unhesitatingly stipped our training forces of medium tanks and shipped them to Egypt as the only means of meeting this crisis. One of our armored divisions was at that time in a port of embarkation, ready to sail for further training in North Ireland. That division, too, was divested of its armor and its shipment delayed until the tanks could be replaced. But the important thing was that Rommel had been stopped. The dangerous crisis was met. We know now that Marshall's estimate of this situation was correct. We know that Hitler intended to break through Egypt to the Near East. Had he succeded, the entire course of the war would have been changed.

The man has a sure approach to every problem he studies. When we were determining the number of units of all sorts which would be required for victory, the combat divisions were fixed at an even hundred. General Marshall questioned that estimate. After going over our planned operations for all theaters and the timetable of the war, he decided that 90 divisions should be sufficient, and in the end that figure was cut to 89. How accurate was his judgement can be gauged by the fact that at the close of the war, all but two of those 89 divions had been committed to action in the field.

General Marshall's leadership takes its authority from his great strength of character. I have never known a man who seemed so surely to breathe the democratic American spirit. He is a soldier, and yet he has a profound distaste for anything that savors of militarism. He believes that every able-bodied citizen has a personal responsibility for the Nation's security and should be prepared to assume that responsibility whenever an emergency arises. But he is opposed to a large standing Army as un-American.

His trust in his commanders is almost legendary. During the critical period of the Ardennes breakthrough no messages went from the War Department to General Eisenhower which could require his personal decision and reply. This is standard practice with General Marshall. When one of his commanders is in a tight spot, he does everything possible to back him up. But he leaves the man free to accomplish his purpose unhampered.

He is likewise the most g e n e r o u s of men, keeping himself in the background so that his subordinates may receive all credit for duties well done.

His c o u r t s e y and c o n s i d e r a t i o n for his associates, of whatever rank, are remarked by all who know him. His d e v o t i o n to the nation he serves as a vital quality which infuses everything he does. During the course of a long lifetime, much of it spent in positions of public trust, I have had considerable experience with men in Government. General Marshall has given me a new gauge of what such service should be. The destiny of America at the most critical time of its national existence has been in the hands of a great and good citizen. Let no man forget it."

The thoughtful attention of every American in this Theater should be directed not only to General Marshall's achievements, great as these have been, but much more to those traits of character by which alone has it been possible for one individual to rise to the heights he has attained.

A careful reading of the tribute of Secretary Stimson, himself a great American, to General Marshall will bring out into clear relief such words and phrases as "personal responsibility", "devotion to the nation", "strength of character", "the democratic American spirit", "courtesy and consideration of his associates", "trust in his commanders", and a"keeping of self in the background in order that deserving subordinates might receive their proper credit".

These are the manifestations of American character at its best. They provide reassuring faith that the unshakable character by which, through God, Washington and others were enabled to build our nation, have grown in strength on American soil through the intervening years.

2. ELECTRICAL ACCESSORIES, BULBS, MAINTENANCE:

It is becoming impossible to comply with the ever-increasing demands for bulbs, electrical accessories, and requests for services of an electrician. During this month, up to and including November 19th, there have been 331 written requests for an electrician's services. This does not include oral requests. Those requests involved the replacement or supplying of 177 bulbs and 62 fuses. There have also been literally hundreds of requests for desk lamps, although 235 of them were supplied last year, and uncounted requests for the repair or installation of electric heaters, although the use of electric heaters in the building is prohibited.

The result of this increase in lighting fixtures and electrical appliances is a terrific burden on the already over-burdened power plant. As a consequence we have burned-out bulbs and fuses, and the power plant which should deliver 120-130 volts is barely able to produce 110 volts.

The main difficulty seems to be that the occupants of the building expect the same standards of lighting, heating and comforts that they were accustomed to in office buildings back home. Unfortunately neither the buildings nor the installations here are up to USA and British standards, and because of the physical limitations of the existing plant and unavailability of supplies (which must now come for the most part from civilian sources), we should not expect the same lighting, heating, and comforts which we were accustomed to back home.

Occupants are urged, therefore to consider the above factors before making any requests, and above all to comply with the following existing regulations:

1. No heaters or electric stoves will be used without permission of the HQ Commandant. Any heater or electric stove used without authority will be impounded.

6. CIVILIAN PAYROLLS:

Civilian payrolls for the first half of November 1945 and for recent previous periods which were checked by the G-1 Civilian Personnel Office were found to contain an excessive number of errors. The amount of work which must be performed in the few days between the submission of payrolls and the actual paying of employees is tremendous in quantity and is being handled by a very small staff. If the present practise of careless payroll preparation is continued, the employees of the offending departments will suffer needless delay in being paid. Every effort must therefore be made by the responsible administrative chiefs of all sections to see that accurate payrolls are submitted promptly as required. (G-1 Civ Pers Office)

By authority of Cable C 36977, Hq MTOUSA, dated 19 November 1945, it is announced that Thursday 22 November is declared a Theater holiday for the observance of Thanksgiving Day. Insofar as operational necessity permits, all duty may be suspended. Allied skeleton staffs required for duty on this American National Holiday will consist of British personnel. (Estab Sec)

3. ELECTRICAL ACCESSORIES, BULBS, MAINTENANCE:

It is becoming impossible to comply with the ever-increasing demands for bulbs, electrical accessories, and requests for services of an electrician. During this month, to and including November 19th, there have been 331 written requests for an eletrician's services. This does not include oral requests. These requests involved the replacement or supplying of 177 bulbs and 62 fuses. There have also been literally hundreds of requests for desk lamps, although 235 of them were supplied last year, and uncounted requests for the repair or installation of electric heaters, although the use of electric heaters in the building is prohibited.

The result of this increase in lighting fixtures and electrical appliances is a terrific burden on the already over-burdened power plant. As a consequence we have burned-out bulbs and fuses, and the power plant which should deliver 120 - 130 volts is barely able to produce 110 volts.

The main difficulty seems to be that the occupants of the building expect the same standards of lighting, heating and comforts that they were accustomed, neither the buildings nor the installations here are up to US and British standards, and because of the physical limitations of the existing plant and unavailability of supplies (which must now come for the most part from civilian sources), we should not expect the same lighting, heating, and comforts

Occupants are urged, therefore, to consider the above factors before making any requests, and above all to comply with the following existing regulations:

1. No heaters or electric stoves will be used without permission of the Headquarters Commandant. Any heater or electric steve used without authority will be impounded.

2. Hereafter no light bulbs will be furnished unless a burned-out bulb is turned in.

3. All requests for services or supplies will be made in every case (except in extreme emergencies) through the Administrative Officer of the Sub-Section concerned, who will satisfy himself that the request is a necessary one before forwarding same to this office. (Hq Comit Sec)

6. CIVILIANS PASSES TO ENTER HEADQUARTERS ALLIED COMMISSION:

In order to restrict the number of civilians entering Headquarters Allied Commission, and with a view to reducing the risk of pilferage from offices, passes in possession of drivers, mechanics etc. employed by the Super Garage are to be withdrawn and returned to the security office, ground floor, room 1, as soon as possible.

The drivers will be allowed access to the despatch (taxi) office without a pass.

On the few occasions when it is necessary for them to go to offices in the building the drivers will apply at the information desk and the routine which applies to other civilians will be adopted.

Exceptional cases will be reviewed if brought to the notice of the Headquarters Commandant. (Hq Comdt Sec)

7. PRECAUTIONS AGAINST PILFERING:

Pilfering from offices in the building occupied by Headquarters Allied Commission has developed. A number of typewriters, calculating machines and an infinite variety of personal property have been stolen during the past few months.

To assist in checking the thefts a strict control of parcels or packages taken out of the building by individuals will be exercised.

At the exits a register will be kept in which civilians who leave the building carrying parcels etc. will be required to enter the following particulars: Name, Address, Date, Section in which employed, contents of package. The entries will be countersigned by the MP or carabiniere on duty.

The cooperation of all concerned is requested. (Hq Comdt Sec)

8. CIVILIAN PAYROLLS:

Civilian payrolls for the first half of November 1945 and for recent previous periods which were checked by the G-1 Civilian Personnel Office were found to contain an excessive number of errors. The amount of work which must be performed in the few days between the submission of payrolls and the actual paying of employees is tremendous in quantity and is being handled by a very small staff. If the present practise of careless payroll preparation is continued, the employees of the offending departments will suffer needless delay in being paid. Every effort must therefore be made by the responsible administrative chiefs of all sections to see that accurate payrolls are submitted promptly as required. (G-1 Civ Pers)

9. RELEASE - DEFERRED VOLUNTEERS:

Reference PB #313, par 7.

The dates given therein for the commencement of deferment of release will NOT apply to officers in Age/Service Groups 22, 23 and 24 who applied for deferment on or after 17 October 1945.

The dates of commencement for these officers will be notified later. (G-1 (S))

Invariably such invitations cause confusion within the War Department because it is difficult to ascertain whether the invitation results from a request on the part of the foreign national concerned or is the idea of the United States official and is substantiated by valid reasons. The Assistant Chief of Staff, G-2 will continue to be the War Department agency for clearance of all such visits or requests before approval. 3. ISSUE OF OFFICERS' PAY AND ALLOWANCES (BRITISH):

1. The following details regarding the procedure for the issue of pay and allowances to officers serving in this command are published for information and as a guide for officers when making enquiries on their pay and/or allowance, in accordance with GHQ 1129/45.

2. Ordinary pay may be issued, according to the officer's individual choice, by either:-

(a) The Officer i/c Army Pay Office (Officers' Accounts), Stockport Road, Manchester, 13; or

(b) The Army Agents, viz:-

(i) Lloyds Bank Ltd (Cox's and King's Branch) Avon Court, Bournemouth.

(ii) Glyn Mills & Co. (Holts Branch). Kirkland House, Whitehall, LONDON, SW1.

NOTE - Certain Regiments and Corps deal only with one Agent. The Regimental Agents for each Regiment or Corps are shown in the Quarterly Army List.

Whichever of the above departments issues an officer's pay also issues Engineer, Corps or Signal pay and Staff Pay, if these are admissible. These extra elements of pay are issued automatically and therefore do not require any form of application to be submitted by the officer. In the case of Staff Pay, the issue is commenced from the particulars promulgated in the list of Staff Appointments in the Appendix to General Routine Orders. War Service Increments are also issued by the department responsible for the issue of the officer's ordinary pay.

3. Outfit allowance and all questions on Income Tax are dealt with the Agent or Paymaster who issues the officer's ordinary pay.

4. The Army Pay Office (Officers' Accounts), Manchester, is alone responsible for the issue of the following forms of pay:-

Command Pay	Additional Pay
Charge Pay	Specialist Pay

The above forms of pay if admissible under existing regulations, or specially authorized by duly delegated officers, must be claimed when the emolument first becomes admissible by the submission to GHQ 2nd Echelon of an appropriate casualty on AF W3010A. The issue will then be continued by the Army Pay Office, Manchester, without further claims until a further casualty is reported on AF W3010A showing cessation of entitlement. To prevent overissues and avoid possible hardship to the individual officer it is important that all casualties affecting the issues of Command, Additional, Pay, etc particularly cessation of entitlement, be reported on AF W3010A to GHQ 2nd Echelon, as and the Agent of Paymaster who issues the officer's ordinary pay.

Certain personal property of this officer has come astray after being left in the care of Temple Count G. Boschetti at Macerata (PA) hospital for eventual transmission to ENGLAND on cessation of hostilities.

Count Boschetti was subsequently employed by AMG MACERATA and obtained a receipt for the property from their Headquarters on 9 May 1945.

From that time trace of the property is not apparent.

A statement is therefore required from any personnel, American or British, able to give any information regarding subsequent disposal.

Statements will be forwarded to G-1 (E) HQ Allied Commission through normal channels.
