Land Forces Sub Comm.
A.C. (M.M.I.A.). ROME.

1. 601 Italian Vet Hospital works directly under Maj. EDMUNDS, D.A.D.V. and R's from AFHQ. Good reports are received on its work and keenness.

2. The unit is located in the Duca dell'Puglie Barracks, BARI. This barracks is shared also by a BRITI Pnr Regt, 103 Italian Vet Hospital and a Farrier school run by the Ministry of War.

3. (a) The Farrier School.
The Farrier students, about 50, are collected from all Italian Units. They are taught Italian and old fashioned methods. They have few animals on which to practice, and few materials with which to work. Their disposal after the finish of the course is not known, but it is believed that they return to their units. The course lasts 2 months.

(b) 103 Italian Vet Hospital.
This unit looks after animals of this Territorial HQ, and has at its disposal an equipped infirmary and accommodation for say 300 animals. At present there are some 50 animals being tended, of which the majority should be shot, as their deseases are highly infectious, and the time required to cure them does not warrant the attention given them.

4. In discussion with Major EDMUNDS the following proposals were suggested for consideration :-
(a) The Farrier School should become a BRITI Unit, and be attached to the "Mule Camp" in BARI, and assist in the shoeing of mules, prior to their despatch to forward areas. The present staff and suitable students should be retained to form this unit. In addition the unit could continue its functions as a school, and be assisted by British NCO instructors, which Major EDMUNDS has available. Right methods would be taught, and the Farriers, so trained, would be available for Allied requirements. Furthermore the administration of the school which hitherto was under Presidio BARI, would be regularised.
(c) 103 Italian Vet Hospital is doctoring animals with highly infectious deseases. With the advent of spring and flies it will be necessary to decide which is to move 601 or 103 Vet

(c) 103 Italian Vet Hospital is doctoring animals with highly infectious deseases. With the advent of spring and flies, it will be necessary to decide which is to move 601 or 103 Vet Hospital. The larger undertaking would be to move 601 Vet Hospital, owing to the far larger number of animals. If 103 Vet Hospital moved, it might be difficult to find alternative accommodation in BARI.

The additional space and the equipped infirmary would be of great value to 601 Vet Hospital, and it would appear that their need is greater.

5. May I please have instructions both for the Farriers School, and the 103 Italian Vet Hospital.

AFHQ - G.1 (Br).

Reference CR/2430/G.1(Br) dated 13 Dec 44.

1. It is confirmed that the suggested amendments in WEs of the above-named units were compiled and submitted by this HQ.

2. In view of the information given in your above-quoted letter, further reports were called for from the units concerned.

3. Report of HQ 1 Field Remount Depot is as follows:-

(a) An increment of 250 private soldiers is entirely inadequate for the efficient operation of a depot holding 1500 animals. The basis of calculation being 1 man for every 3 animals - to enable the animals to be kept on lines and properly groomed, exercised and fed.

(b) When the WE was first made out it must be presumed that civilian labour was expected to meet the demand for labour in excess of 250. This, however, has not proved correct, and until recently civilian labour has been impossible to procure in adequate numbers.

(c) Civilian labour is, in any case, a most unsatisfactory substitute, and quite unreliable. At the moment the numbers working in the Depot vary widely, and not infrequently as many as 50 or 60 fail to turn up. It is clearly impossible to look after animals under such circumstances.

(d) Civilian labour must be fetched in HQ transport from neighbouring villages - in some cases as much as one hour's distance over extremely bad roads. Lack of transport would, in any case, prevent any great increase in the number which could be employed.

(e) An increase of 100 in the Italian Increment was therefore requested as it was thought to be the minimum necessity, and that the Depot could be operated efficiently if the supply of civilians was maintained.

(f) There /

Declassified E.O. 12356 Section 3.3/NND No. 785020

(f) There has been a recent improvement in the supply of local labour. This, however, is purely a seasonal variation. Quality and reliability remain unchanged and difficulties of transport remain acute.

(g) The horse ambulance has since been evacuated. Retention was asked for as it was a specialised vehicle only useful to a unit such as this.

4. OC 4 Veterinary Hospital reports:-

(a) The proposed War Establishment was originally submitted under instructions that this unit would have to accommodate 1,000 animals.

(b) Owing to the formation of new V & R Units, the present War Establishment of this unit will remain (i.e. 500 animals).

(c) In view of the above, it is now considered that the proposed War Establishment for the Italian Increment is unnecessary, adequate civilian labour is available.

5. V & RS will presumably give due consideration to the contention of OC 1 Field Remount Depot. This HQ, unless otherwise instructed, does not propose taking any further action in the matter.

3. REASONS FOR THE PROPOSAL.

When the Establishment for Base Remount Depot and Field Remount Depot ncrements was drawn up, the amount of time and personnel now being used in ransit, conducting animals and returning after delivery of same was not isualised. Furthermore the present expansion of pack companies from a total of 0 to 45 companies makes a considerable increase in the work of conducting animals y rail. It also adds 50% to the reserves to be held by Remount Depots.

The present staff has been found inadequate. Local Civil Labour is ery scarce and unsatisfactory, and cannot be used away from its own location.

It is considered that an addition of 150 other ranks is required for ach Remount Depot. It is recommended that 12 be Farriers and 2 Saddlers.

1. Your proposals have been submitted to V. & R.S. this HQ.

2. It would be appreciated if you will state whether these suggested amendments were compiled in conjunction with the Os.C. Units concerned.

3. For information, the W.Es. of both units were only recently revised, in accordance with recommendations made by the Os.C. Coys, therefore the reason for further alterations is not understood.

4. It is realised that the number of Italian personnel is not up to authorised W.E. strength. This matter is being dealt with by V. & R.S.

5. It is agreed that both units are at present holding a large number of animals, but the existing W.Es. are considered adequate, as they are designed to cover the commitment, i.e. 1500 for the Remount Depot and 500 for the Veterinary Hospital.

6. Ambulances, horse, are not used in this theatre, as they are only capable of transporting 2 animals, whereas the lorries 3 ton, for animal carrying, are able to carry 6 animals at a time. This is the reason for their deletion from the present W.E.

1. Experience has shown that the adm, stable management and horse mastership of the Italian units are far below the standard required for the assured maintenance of the fighting troops.

2. It is not intended to remove from the Italian Officers the comd of their own troops, but rather to direct their efforts into what, for many years, has been accepted as the British system of stable management and horse mastership and which has stood the test of the present tactical operations.

3. To this end it is essential that the orders of the Force Comd as expressed through the Pack Gp Comd and the affiliated British cadres are scrupulously obeyed by the Italian Officers. This includes the direct instructions of the British cadres to Italian units in the fwd areas which ensures that correct maintenance loads are carried.

4. Where the instructions of the Pack Gp Comd are not being obeyed, the matter will be reported by the British cadre. If the Pack Gp Comd feels that he cannot deal with the matter himself and decides to submit an adverse report, a copy of such report will be furnished to the unit concerned.

2. The original request received by this division was for a Regiment station complete which amounts to over 600 men, but it was planned to form half of it first and the remainder later. This plan had to be changed owing to the urgent need for Amount personnel and the meeting with Gen Badoglio's representatives was arranged to find out what could be done in Sardinia. The two Companies that can be made available are therefore required in addition to those already asked to form.

3. Would you please accept this as the official request for the formation of these two coys in Sardinia and give Gen Badoglio any assistance that he may require from resources in Sardinia.

1. I have just seen your signal No. 115/MMB of 27 Dec, and I notice that you are only asking Gen. BASSO of the possibilities of forming the Remount Sta. Pm.

2. In view of the urgency of this matter (our warning order was passed to you on 22 Dec. SD/3/4) and the fact that Major. LAWTON understood from Gen. MARIOTTI that orders would be given for the necessary personnel to be made available by 31 Dec, I must ask that some definite action now be taken.

3. At Appx. 'A' is shown the organisation required. — Original on SD/7

4. If the unit or part of it cannot be organised in APULIA, Gen. BASSO should be ordered to raise it. A representative should contact Capt. MORICO, my Liaison Officer at Gen. ROBERTSON's H.Q. in NAPLES and make the necessary arrangements with Peninsular Base Section as soon as possible.

5. The formation of the unit must not be held up for lack of certain specialists and equipment. PBS may be able to supply the latter. The important thing is to collect the necessary personnel and form the nucleus of the unit with the minimum delay.

6. Please inform me when this unit may be expected to be constituted.

N° 165 di prot

SUBJECT: Transport of Casualties by Stretcher Bearer

Military Mission to ITALIAN ARMY

The evacuation of wounded from the line, In the Italian Army is organised thus:

From the firing line to Dressing Stations of the Coy (in ALPINE units) bn or regt, and from these Dressing Stations to the Div Dressing Station, it is done by stretcher bearers with stretchers or any make=shift means found to hand.

From the Div Dressing Stations to Field Hospitals, and it is normally done by motor Ambulance or some other means of transport, mechanised or animal.

In mountainous country overhead cable ways are also used as also are skis and, when the wounded men can be transported in a sitting posn, they are taken away on animals fitted with special gear (SOMARELLI); of this special gear we have at present no supplies; we have only got stretcher bearers and a few motor ambulances. These stretcher bearers are found in the Coy, Bn or Regt, but in the Div they form part of a "SEZIONE DI SANITA". "Animal transported field ambulance Coys" do not exist in the Italian Army.

The SEZIONE DI SANITA which is our most advanced Med formation, is composed of a "CART Section", two "Pack Animal Sections" and one "Stretcher Bearer section".

The CART Section is so called because when moving from place to place, it transports its own material on carts; similarly the Pack Animal Section is so called because it transports its own material on a pack saddle. In other words these Sections owe their name to the special equipment they have for transporting their own materials, and not to the way they carry casualties, who in both cases are carried in the way described above.

SMIS therefore are sorry that it cannot comply with the request of the Allied HQ.

La "Sezione di Sanità", che é la nostra formazione sanitaria più avanzata, é composta da un"reparto carreggiato", da due "reparti someggiati" e da "un reparto portaferiti".

Il"reparto carreggiato" é così chiamato perché, negli spostamenti trasporta il proprio materiale su carri o carrette ed il "reparto someggiato" deve il suo nome al fatto che trasporta a soma il proprio materiale. La diversa denominazione dei due reparti é dovuta perciò alla diversa loro attrezzatura per il trasporto del proprio materiale e non al mezzo di trasporto dei feriti, che nell'un caso e nell'altro, vengono trasportati come sopra é stato specificato.

Questo Stato Maggiore é perciò spiacente di non poter aderire alla richiesta del Comando Alleato.-
