SUBJECT: Shipment of equipment to the mainland

TO : M.M.I.A. - Colonel SIMMONS' Office CAGLIARI

FOR INFO: Imbarkation & Debarkation Office CAGLIARI

1. As your Commission is certainly aware, the Captain of the SS BRIGHTON which departed from Cagliari on the morning of the 22 Jan 45, ordered at the last moment, that is when the vessel was ready to leave, that the escort personnel for the materiel loaded be cut down to a total of 20 men.

2. This fact, already experienced in the past, is causing noteworthy inconveniences, the most serious of which is the failure to permit an adequate escort personnel travel with the materials.

On the SS BRIGHTON for instance, the escort for 1,170 tons of engineer material loaded was limited to two men; in that way, upon arrival at Naples, it certainly will not be possible to ensure the minimum vigilance needed to prevent the stealing or the damage of materials as has already happened before.

3. It would be, therefore, necessary that the escort personnel established by this Headquarters in accordance with the quantity, importance and destination of materials, be not reduced by the Captains of the Allied vessels; if this is not practicable, it will be at least necessary that this Headquarters be informed at once (that is at the start of loading operations) of how many men can be embarked in order to enable us to issue proper orders for the carrying out of operations.

4. Your interest is kindly requested in the matter.

1.- Come sarà certamente già a conoscenza di codesta Commissione, il Comandante della S.S. "Brigton", partita da Cagliari il mattino del giorno 22 c.m., ha disposto, all'ultimo momento, quando cioè la nave stava staccando gli ormeggi , che il personale comandato di scorta ai materiali imbarcati venisse ridotto a venti uomini complessivamente.-

2.- La cosa, che già si è verificata anche in passato- dà origine a notevoli inconvenienti, il più grave dei quali è quello di non consentire di far viaggiare insieme coi materiali un adeguato numero di uomini di scorta.

Sulla S.S. "Brigton", ad esempio, si è dovuto limitare a due il numero degli uomini comandati di scorta alle 1170 tonnellate di materiali del Genio ivi imbarcati; in tal modo non sarà certamente possibile, all'atto dello sbarco a Napoli, esercitare sui materiali stessi quel minimo di sorveglianza necessaria ad impedire che - come altre volte è avvenuto - si verifichino sottrazioni o manomissioni.-

3.- Sarebbe, pertanto, opportuno che i Comandanti delle navi alleate non riducessero il numero dei militari di scorta che codesto Comando fissa in relazione alla quantità, all'importanza ed alla destinazione dei materiali; ove ciò non fosse assolutamente possibile, sarebbe perlomeno necessario che questo Comando conoscesse subito (al momento, cioè, dell'inizio del carico) quanti uomini complessivamente possono essere imbarcati, in modo che sia possibile provvedere alle relative operazioni con la necessaria tempestività.-

4.- Si prega codesta Commissione di voler cortesemente spiegare 3519 merito il proprio interessamento.-

1. With reference to your letter 3h0/O.A.I. dated 8 January 1945 (copy to me) and in confirmation of telephone conversation with your liaison officer this date, you are assured that this office has never expressed any dissatisfaction because of delay of cruiser departures. It is fully realised that weather conditions are of extreme importance in establishing dates of departure and the promptness with which your liaison officers have notified us of changes in schedules have been very helpful.

The bad weather conditions of these days is bringing evidence that it is not possible to comply strictly with the cruiser schedules set forth in advance, during the winter season just started. On the other hand, as a result of the difficulties which we have to face to repair the damages of the war ships caused by various reasons not excluding, consequently, damages caused by the bad weather conditions during the trip, it was determined by the Naval Ministry that cruisers must operate only in fair weather.

It is, therefore, a matter of necessity that the authorities concerned must realize that it is necessary to resign oneself to eventual delays, sometimes of several days, that could happen in the case of the scheduled cruiser departures, and in view of the above, it is recommended that arrangement be made for the organization of a provisional cantonment for troops and civilians pending shipment, who have to wait some days before leaving.

OGGETTO: Partenza Incrociatori.-

I cattivi tempi di questi giorni stanno a dimostrare che durante la stagione invernale, da poco iniziata, non è possibile osservare scrupolosamente i programmi viaggi degli Incrociatori che vengono elaborati in precedenza.- D'altra parte le difficoltà che oggi si incontrano per riparare le avarie alle quali vanno soggette le unità da guerra per ragioni varie non esclusi quindi i danni causati in navigazione da cattive condizioni di mare, sono tali che hanno indotto il Ministero della Marina ad ordinare che le navigazioni degli Incrociatori debbono essere effettuate solo con tempo assicurato.-

E' pertanto giusto forse che le Autorità interessate si rendano conto della necessità di rassegnarsi ad eventuali ritardi, talvolta anche di diversi giorni, che si potranno verificare nelle previste partenze degli Incrociatori ed in vista di ciò si prospetta l'opportunità che siano predisposti provvisori alloggiamenti per truppe e civili, che radunati a Cagliari per la partenza, debbano eventualmente sostarvi alcuni giorni prima di imbarcarsi.-

SUBJECT: Transport, Special Personnel

TO : Commanding Officer, U.S. Naval Detachment, Cagliari

1. Under the provisions of Allied Garrison Sardinia letter dated 17 September 1944, it is specified that all requests for transportation of non-Italian army personnel to Naples on vessels allotted to MMIA for troop movements will reach this office forty-eight hours in advance of sailing time of ship concerned.

2. Under dates of 29 and 30 September, three requests for transport of U.S. Navy personnel (one Red Cross employee) have reached this office less than twenty-four hours before sailing time. From: The Commanding Officer.
To : Major D.W. MITCHELL, U.S. Army, Transportation Officer, Allied Garrison Command, Cagliari, Sardinia.

Subject: Cargo on R.I.N. Cruisers.

1. The Royal Italian Navy has requested that total amount of cargo loaded on R.I.N. Cruisers be kept to a maximum of 10 tons in order to permit proper stowage.

2. Space for proper stowage on board these cruisers is limited and the constant threat of bad weather during this season of the year, makes it impossible to secure cargo on the deck or to protect it from damage by water.

U.S. NAVAL DETACHMENT
Cagliari, Sardinia

FEL/web

11 August, 1944

From: The Commarding Officer.
To : Comandante, Comando Marina L. BORGHI, R.I.N.

Subject: Unloading and Disembarkation of Italian Cruisers at Naples.

Reference: (a) Your letter No. 1473 of 8 August, 1944.

1. This commend has received the several reports from Royal Italian Navy Cruisers relative to delays and lack of assistance pertaining to the subject of this letter. These reports have been interpreted as constructive criticism and have been forwarded to the proper Allied authorities.

2. This command realizes that a temporary condition exists in Naples which makes difficult the servicing of all ships. Not only are the Royal Italian Navy Cruisers effected, but all Allied Navy and merchant ships as well. We are temporarily faced with a situation where a job must be done regardless of obstacles.

3. There is nothing this command can do to solve the problems of the cruiser ferry service in Naples. I do feel, however, that the problem is not so great that it cannot be solved by means at the disposal of the various naval activities in Naples. To be constructive, I suggest that you request your naval establishment in Naples to contact the British and American command, explain the situation, and work out an arrangement whereby an Italian corvette or British or American craft of some type available, be used to do the job. It has been done in the past, as shown in cruisers reports, and it can be done as often as need be until the port of Naples is able to provide the degree of service indicated in the report from the various commanding officers of the Royal Italian Cruisers.

4. Regarding the suggestion that unless more assistance can be given to Royal Italian Cruisers the program be temporarily discontinued, it is not my intention to present it to higher command because I know the importance of getting the job done and it would not even be given consideration. 3404

20 April, 1944

From: Officer-in-Charge.
To : Major J. C. CONINE, U. S. Army, Transportation Officer, Allied Garrison of Sardinia.

Subject: Italian Cruisers - information on.

1. We have been informed by the Commander-in-Chief, Mediterranean, that the cruiser GARIBALDI shall be used for the transfer of Royal Italian seamen from Sardinia to Naples, and that the POMPEO MAGNO shall continue in the present ferry service until otherwise notified.

2. The POMPEO MAGNO shall continue to carry out the schedule given in my letter of 14 April, 1944 to Colonel Simmons, copy to you. This cruiser will not be used for the transfer of Royal Italian seamen.

3. The cruiser GARIBALDI arrived this morning and is scheduled to leave tomorrow evening. We have started action with the Royal Italian Navy in preparation for the movement of the Italian seamen on this next scheduled trip. As there are approximately 600 of these personnel involved, and the capacity of this cruiser is 1,000, there is a possibility that a small unit of the Italian army be added, so that the cruiser will sail with a full load. We shall inform you verbally just as soon as the information becomes available as to the action the Royal Italian Navy expects to take, and the exact number of personnel they intend to sail.

4. In regard to the questions contained in your memo number 101, dated April 19, on the latitude in the loading of the cruisers used in the Cagliari-Naples ferry service, it will be satisfactory to load 1,042 personnel on the MONTECUCCOLI for sailing today. As a matter of general policy, it will be satisfactory to load these cruisers with a latitude of 50 over the maximum capacity.

C-E-C-R-E-T
Reference: Your letter N. 161 dated 2,20,1944 to Maristat and for information to U.S. Naval Detachment, Cagliari, Sardinia. -

1. According to instructions from Navy Ministry, please inform U.S.N.D. Cagliari that capacity of cruisers and destroyers in troop ferrying has been rectified as follows:

(a) Except for emergency cases and for short trips (24 hours missions), following figures must be considered maximum for troop transferring:

Cruisers
MONTECUCCOLI Class	1000 men	(with equipment & personal weapons)
SCIPIONE A. "	500 "	" " " " "
Destroyers	300 "	" " " " "

(b) Except for emergency cases, no heavy or encumbring gear shall be loaded aboard ships built with light structures as cruisers of the SCIPIONE class, and destroyers. -

(c) Commandant of ship shall be informed of embarkation of cases, in order to provide for their security and storage when containing explosives. -

(d) Personnel to be embarked shall be equipped if possible with individual life preservers, and if Italians shall be surveyed by their Commandants or by Carabinieri, and if Allied by agents of M.P.

2. Make very clear to Authorities which request embarkation of troops that deficiency of life preserving equipment reduces safety chances of personnel embarked, in case of incidents. -

Please confirm.

Subject: Transportation of Personnel from Cagliari to Naples.

Enclosure: (A) Proposed Schedule for Transportation of Personnel from Cagliari to Naples.

1. At our request the Royal Italian Navy has prepared a schedule until March 12, indicating proposed movements between Cagliari and Naples of the Italian cruisers MONTECUCCOLI and POMPEO MAGNO, and the destroyer ORIANI, to transport personnel to Naples. The schedule is based on the reported maximum capacity of the staging area at Naples at 2500 per week. This schedule is attached as enclosure (A).

2. The capacity of the vessels under different classes of personnel is noted in enclosure (A). When materiel is to be moved with troops, the troop capacity must be modified accordingly and can only be decided on when full information is available. Each cruiser can accomodate four (4) small vehicles on deck and still insure full use of guns. In general, the MONTECUCCOLI can be loaded with from fourty (40) to fifty (50) tons of cargo and the POMPEO MAGNO with twenty (20) tons.

3. The schedule outlined will be maintained as closely as possible and may be used as a guide in planning movements. It must be remembered, however, that factors beyond the control of the Port of Cagliari, such as weather, mechanical breakdown, and sailings from Naples, may cause modifications from time to time. Every effort will be made to maintain the schedule as closely as possible.

1. The Allied Naval Commander-in-Chief, Mediterranean has approved the transfer of 250 officers and men from Cagliari to Taranto. This request was originated in the Italian Ministry of Marine and so it is assumed that the personnel involved is of the Italian Navy.

2. We have unofficial information which indicates that the Italian cruiser SCIPIONE AFRICANO will arrive here at 1300 today, 14 February 1944, from La Maddalena to pick up subject personnel for Taranto.

3. The Royal Italian Naval Commandant, Cagliari, informs this command that only 135 officers and men are here awaiting passage to Taranto.

4. The forwarding of any information you may have of this transfer will be very much appreciated.

5. Unless we receive other information or instructions, we propose to load the 135 officers and men awaiting passage and sail the SCIPIONE AFRICANO at the very earliest opportunity.

Subject: Civilians, transfer of.

1. The Royal Italian Naval Commandant, Cagliari, has informed us that there are five hundred and thirteen (513) civilians in Sardinia who are here from the mainland and from Sicily and are now without work or means of support.

2. The Commandant feels that it would be to the best interests of all concerned if arrangements were made to transfer these civilians back to their native provinces. Below is a total of the number of personnel by provinces:

(a) Calabria		7
(b) Campania		232
(c) Lucania		4
(d) Puglia		9
	Total	252
(e) Northern Italy		261
	Grand Total	513

It is noted that 261 of these civilians come from sections of the Italian mainland that are still in enemy hands.

3. The SCIPIONE AFRICANO leaves for Taranto tonight, 14 February 1944. Therefore, it would be desirable, if you approve this transfer, to make arrangements so that the twenty (20) civilians to be returned to Calabria, Cucania, and Puglia are cleared in time to board the SCIPIONE AFRICANO before she sails this date.

4. In accordance with a discussion with you yesterday, 19 civilians, of a similar status, were returned to Sicily last evening on the last scheduled trip of the RAIMONDO MONTECUCCOLI.

5. This proposed transfer is herewith forwarded to you for whatever action you may care to take.

From: Officer-in-Charge.
To : Colonel F.L. Simmons, U.S. Army,
Allied Control Commission,
Land Forces Sub-Commission.

Subject: Transfer of Vehicles aboard Italian Cruiser.

Reference: (a) Your secret ltr. dated 26 January 1944.

1. It is noted in reference (a) above that an estimated total of one hundred and twenty-eight (128) vehicles are included in the lifts of Italian personnel to be transferred from Sardinia.

2. Available shipping space aboard a cruiser does not permit carrying large vehicles, and greatly limits the number of small vehicles that can be handled per trip.

3. It is therefore suggested that additional shipping arrangements be made to carry proposed vehicles.
