QUOTE Following overseas branch statement here may be useful to you: one of the purpose of the Presidents executive order obviously was to see that certain phases of the US overseas information work reduced and adjusted to war conditions should be carried on without any unnecessary interruption in this period which is critical in many areas

Key executives in the international information field have been requested to stick to their posts at least during the brief transition period until the state department plans are further clarified

A large number of the overseas branch employees concerned have long planned to return to private pursuits as soon as they can be spared by the government. Many of these have been released during recent months. The others are being requested to stay on either until a decision is made, until their functions can be merged or eliminated, or until they can make arrangements to have their work taken over by others

you. One of the purpose of the President's executive order obviously was to see that certain phases of the US overseas information work reduced and adjusted to war conditions should be carried on without any unnecessary interruption in this period which iscritical in many areas

A large number of the overseas branch employees concerned have long planned to return to private pursuits as soon as they can be spared by the government. Many of these have been released during recent months. The others are being requested to stay on either until a decision is made, until their functions can be merged or eliminated, or until they can make arrangements to have their work taken over by others

Others of OWI's experienced overseas branch workers are willing to continue in government service in the information field if they are needed. Naturally no long term commitments can be made to these employees at this time. It is suggested, however, that each stick to his post until the planning is far enough advanced to permit each to be told whether his services will be needed on a long term basis

We have received personal assurance from responsible officers in the department that the determination of activities and personnel for the continuing program will be made with all possible speed and.
