Note 1.

On the basis of present strength 2 officers, 4 N.C.O.'s and 122 men it is contemplated that 3 N.C.O.'s will actually be assigned to squads and act as squad leaders and specialists in the field. Comparison of this strength with the T/O appearing in inclosure to letter 2550/B/Ord. 5 March 1944 shows a discrepancy of one officer over and one E.M. (orderly) short.

The company commander points out that under the T/O the company will not be a self contained unit because of insufficient personnel in the headquarter's group. He has requested thru channels that an overall increase of ten men be assigned, which request has apparently been approved. The proposed T/O follows:
Officers-2, N.C.O.s 4 (including 3 squad leaders and specialists), Five Forester's squads-122, Company clerk-1, orderly-1, cooks-2, attendant for horse and cart-2, medical aide-1, mechanic for keeping tools in repair-1, shoemaker-1, supply-2.

Obviously the necessity for a large overhead group is largely dependent on the expected utilization of the unit. It may well be that the plans contemplate attachment of the company in whole or in part to other units having the necessary supply and administrative facilities. If so there is little or no need for a large headquarters group, if not, then it appears that the question may well be reconsidered and a decision made by the initiating authority as to the desirability and composition thereof.

The matter of increase in officer personnel has been discussed by me with Lieut. Colonel Mirelli, chief of staff VII Corps and with other Italian officers of field grade. They are unanimous in the belief that at least two officers are needed.

Note 2.

Blouses are old and worn but serviceable. Trousers (wool) are old, threadbare, torn and patched and are generally unserviceable. Some men have only cotton trousers. Extra clothing and underwear is for all practicable purposes non-existent. A request has been made by the company commander for new clothes but he has not yet received word as to when and if they will be shipped.

Shoes are badly worn generally.

56 men have no shoes at all. 48 men have shoes that are just about falling off.

This company formed from a number of different cadres from other units. Very little semblance of discipline, orders given by officers not understood by the men. The men were dressed improperly, equipment on backside to. No uniformity of packs: some big, some small: rifles were very dirty, looked as if they had never been cleaned. When the men were questioned, they did not seem to know whether they were infantry or artillery. Officers did not seem to be very much concerned about these things when I called them to their attention.

The status of this company was called to the attention of Capt Mirabella who said that the commanding officer would be immediately summoned to Col Pedraza's office for discipline.

This company is not ready for shipment. I told them I would inspect them at a later date.

Remarks: Company organized 18th July 43 and has been working as a port unit ever since. Right now it is only being used on odd jobs.

Date: Feb 27 '44 Inspecting Officer: Stephen D Martin
Major C.H.P.

A civilian company does the stevedoring work at the Port of Cagliari.

There is no opportunity to watch these men working. From conversation with them and the company commander the following facts were gleaned:

- 4 Winch Operators (profession in civilian life)
- 1 Donkey engine operator
- 1 Tractor operator (either gasoline or benzine)
- 1 Rigger (professional worked at it for 7 years)
- 2 Stevedores (profession in civilian life)
- 1 Signalman (profession in civilian life)

Not accounted for in the present strength of the company are 16 Sardinians who are on indefinite leaves among whom are the following specialists:-

- 3 Winch operators
- 1 Donkey engine operator
- 2 Stevedores (professionals)
- 1 Mechanic

These men range from 5 ft to 5 ft 10 inches in height and weigh from 110 lbs to 190 lbs. For the most part they are small but very wiry.

about 200 picks and 200 shovels for use of supported units. The main item of equipment lacking is the workshop which was left in Corsica.
Date: 31 March 44 Inspecting Officer: Jerome Kessner

The company is organized into five platoons as follows:
Headquarters platoon- 2 officers and 30 men approximately Platoon operai (specialists)- 1 officer and 49 men
Three platoons Artieri ea- 1 officer and 51 men.

Artieri platoon has 3 squads capable of acting as independent groups in demolition work, building of bridges, fortifications, mine laying and lifting. They have no mine detectors.

The company was organized at Florence in 1939. The personnel has remained practically constant. After receiving basic, unit and specialized training they were sent to Bordighera in the Alps in 1940. They constructed roads and fortifications under fire. They returned to the mainland of Italy and continued training and in 1941 were sent to Sardinia where they worked on Malaria control for 18 months. In 1942 they went to Corsica where they mined the bridges and ports. In September 1943 they opposed the Germans and were actually engaged in combat against them.

The men all were residents of that part of Italy north of Rome. About 90 men have Malaria but the company commander claims that no one has been disabled by this disease or otherwise for over five months.

Note 1. Individuals are equipped with 2 sets of woolen underwear, 2 sets cotton underwear, 2 shirts, sweater and cotton uniform in addition to the blouse and trousers worn. Shoes are in comparatively good condition. I estimate that about one pair of shoes in six require replacement.
