NOTICE BOARD INFORMATIO.

IT IS IMPORTANT THAT YOU SHOULD READ THIS

107. Retention of Acting Rank or Lance Appointments by soldiers who are wounded in action or sustain injuries due to Army service.

1. From 1st July, 1944, soldiers holding paid acting rank or paid lance appointments who become absent from duty as a result of wounds or injuries due to army service may retain such acting rank or lance appointments for a period of four months from the date of being wounded in action or sustaining injury due to army service or until posted to a unit or formation to fill an authorized vacancy in a War Establishment, whichever is the shorter period. Acting rank so retained will reckon towards the qualifying period for war substantive rank. A lance-serjeant will reckon the period of retention of his appointment towards the war substantive rank of corporal.

2. Soldiers who on 1st July, 1944, were already retaining an acting rank or lance appointment under the terms of Army Order 70 of 1941 (which allowed retention of paid acting rank or lance appointment by soldiers wounded in action for a maximum period of three months) will now be entitled to claim one further month, i.e., a total of four months from the date of being wounded, or the period until posted to a specific vacancy in the War Establishment of a unit or formation, whichever is the earlier.

3. Previously acting rank retained under Army Order 70 of 1941 by soldiers wounded in action did not count towards conversion to war substantive rank, but it has been decided that any periods during which acting rank (or the paid appointment of lance-serjeant) was retained under Army Order 70 of 1941, will now be allowed to count for the purpose of converting an acting rank held on or after 1st July, 1944, into war substantive rank. Therefore, if by reckoning any period or periods before 1st July, 1944, during which you retained acting rank or the paid appointment of lance-serjeant you qualify to convert an acting rank held on or after 1st July, 1944, to war substantive rank you should inform your present C.O. stating the period or periods of retention of acting rank or appointment of paid lance-serjeant which you claim will give you sufficient qualifying service to convert an acting rank held after 1st July, 1944, into war substantive rank. No case will be considered unless you make a claim.

4. A soldier who had already relinquished or should have relinquished acting rank or lance appointment before 1st July, 1944, will not be allowed to make a claim for reinstatement.

(Summary of A.C.I. 1385 of 1944 issued 14th October, 1944.)

108. Fuel Saving.

You all know from reading the papers that coal will be very short again this winter.

There is a largely increased demand for coal for operations.

The Army is asked to do its best to save fuel and light of all kinds.

Stop waste wherever you see it.

You may not get all the warmth you would like this winter; your physical fitness will help you to do with less.

There will always be enough fuel for cooking, and for drying your wet clothes.

Use all the coal dust you can once the fire is going. Add it to the fire carefully —don't chuck it on in heaps and put the fire out.

N.B.I. No. 58 is hereby cancelled.
