1. ENTRY AND RE-ENTRY INTO BUSINESS AS A PROPRIETOR.

Welfare and Information Officers should give the following general advice to members of the Services who contemplate entering or re-entering business as a proprietor.

(a) General.

Entry or re-entry into many types of business enterprise is at present controlled by a number of Government Departments. Prospective proprietors should not enter into binding commitments with regard to their proposed venture until they are certain that they will obtain from the Government Department concerned any licence or other permission required to set up in that business, and that they are also not only able to obtain permission to acquire from the suppliers any machinery, plant, machine tools, raw materials or stocks of goods which may be needed, but that they can, in fact, acquire them. Particulars of all the controls in force at any given time can be obtained from Resettlement Advice Offices by members of the Services on release or during periods of leave in Great Britain.

(b) Retail Trade.

As retail businesses are likely to be the most numerous projects amongst members of the Services, some details are given below of present controls affecting retail traders. They may, however, be subject to change, and members of the Services wishing to embark on retail trade should be advised to ascertain from the Resettlement Advice Office the controls which are in operation at the time of their release.

As retail businesses are likely to be the most numerous projects amongst members of the Services, some details are given below of present controls affecting retail traders. They may, however, be subject to change, and members of the Services wishing to embark on retail trade should be advised to ascertain from the Resettlement Advice Office the controls which are in operation at the time of their release.

(c) Board of Trade Licences to set up in Retail Trade (other than Food and Coal).

(i) Ex-Traders.

Any Ex-Trader, whether or not he is serving in H.M. Forces, who is eligible for inclusion in the Register of Withdrawn Traders will be granted a licence as a matter of course to resume his former business (attention is drawn to S.C.I. 283/45 as regards this register); ex-traders who wish to re-open in some area or line of business other than that in which they formerly traded will be allowed to do so, provided this will not prejudice the interests of others on the Register.

(ii) Disabled Persons.

Licences will be granted to war disabled persons, who were not formerly retailers. In these cases the Licensing Committees will take account of any advice by the Ministry of Labour as to whether the applicant should be allowed to enter retail trade on his own account.

(iii)/

Declassified E.O. 13065 Section 3-402/NNDC No. 785020

(iii) New Entrants.

Licences may be obtained by persons who have not previously been engaged in the retail food trade for certain occupational and family reasons.

No resettlement Grant, will, however, be available.

(iv) Purchasers of existing businesses.

Licences will be granted to persons who acquire the goodwill of an existing business or who remove to other premises in the same shopping area, provided there is no change in the size or character of the business.

(d) LICENCES FROM THE MINISTRY OF FOOD FOR THE RETAIL FOOD TRADE AND CATERING TRADE.

(i) Ex-Traders.

Licences will normally be granted to any ex-trader who desires to re-open in his original shopping or business area a retail food business or catering business which he closed as a result of circumstances attributable to the war, provided that he can satisfy the Local Food Control Committee that he is in a position to establish the business under proper control. Special considerations apply to ex-traders desiring to re-open retail milk business in areas which are subject to rationalisation schemes, to ex-Traders desiring to sell tomatoes or imported fruit and vegetables, and to ex-manufacturers/retailers of flour, confectionery, and biscuits. An ex-trader desiring to open in a new area a business similar to that which he formerly carried on, or to establish himself in a new line of business will have to satisfy the Food Control Committee that there is "consumer need" for his business.

(ii) Disabled Persons.

Licences will not be granted unless there is "consumer need" for the business which it is proposed to carry on; where there is "consumer need" however, preference in the grant of licences will be given to suitable disabled persons (provided that the Ministry of Labour and National Service is able to advise that [illegible] own account offers the best prospects of [illegible]

(iv) Purchasers of existing businesses.

Licences will be granted to persons who acquire the goodwill of an existing business or who remove to other premises in the same shopping area, provided there is no change in the size or character of the business.

(d) LICENCES FROM THE MINISTRY OF FOOD FOR THE RETAIL FOOD TRADE AND CATERING TRADE.

(i) Ex-Traders.

Licences will normally be granted to any ex-trader who desires to re-open in his original shopping or business area a retail food business or catering business which he closed as a result of circumstances attributable to the war, provided that he can satisfy the Local Food Control Committee that he is in a position to establish the business under proper control. (ii) Disabled Persons.

Licences will not be granted unless there is "consumer need" for the business which it is proposed to carry on; where there is "consumer need" however, preference in the grant of licences will be given to suitable disabled persons (provided that the Ministry of Labour and National Service is able to advise that business on their own account offers the best prospects of their satisfactory resettlement)

(iii) New Entrants.

For the time being no licence will be granted to a person who is not an Ex-Food Trader (other than a disabled person) to establish a new food business unless the refusal of a licence would involve a high degree of public hardship.

(iv) Purchasers of existing businesses.

Persons, whether novices or otherwise, who buy existing retail businesses will normally have a licence granted to them; in fact this will merely be a transfer of a licence from one person to another.

LICENCES FROM LOCAL FUEL OFFICERS FOR COAL MERCHANTS.

; is the general policy to assist the return to the trade of ex-coal rchants who have been engaged on work of national importance during e war, whether in the Services or elsewhere. Applications from ex-

Where the inquirer is thought to need training, either initial or as a refresher, the benefit of the advice and experience of the Association's Education Sub-Committee is placed at his or her disposal.

For ex-servicemen and women wishing to enter the Industry as workers, the Advisory Bureau again advise as to any necessary further training and brings the names, addresses and qualifications of the applicants to the notice of the entire membership of the Association, together with an indication of the sort of jobs likely to be suitable.

Training in Business Administration and Salesmanship.

(i) The question of training young men and women released from war service in business administration and salesmanship is being considered by a Ministry of Labour and National Service Committee.

This Committee is to make recommendations respecting suitable courses for training, and to advise on the best methods of securing recognition of such training.

(ii) Applicants for vacancies on courses will be required to have suitable educational qualifications and record of character, but need not have had previous business experience to enable them to show that they are qualified for employment likely to lead to administrative and executive posts. Such a course would, in the opinion of the Committee, give ex-servicemen and women a chance to make good, although it could not be relied upon to fit them for immediate appointment to executive and administrative positions.

(iii) The Committee recommends that training should be given at technical and commercial colleges and that financial assistance should be provided in appropriate cases.

2. (R) MINISTRY OF FOOD RETAIL LICENSES.

(a) The Ministry of Food continue to receive reports of cases in which applications for licenses have had to be rejected under our licensing rules, and the applicants have felt very aggrieved because they had been led to expect that they would obtain licenses without difficulty. Steps, therefore, should be taken to draw the attention of all officers, who

2. (b) MINISTRY OF FOOD RETAIL LICENSES. 6683

(a) The Ministry of Food continue to receive reports of cases in which applications for licenses have had to be rejected under our licensing rules, and the applicants have felt very aggrieved because they had been led to expect that they would obtain licenses without difficulty. Steps, therefore, should be taken to draw the attention of all officers, who may be called upon to advise servicemen on civilian occupations or resettlement questions, to the policy in regard to the granting of retail or catering licenses. The policy administered by the Ministry of Food is based on a Government announcement of 14th December, 1943, to the effect that, during the transition period, the licensing system of the Ministry of Food would be operated so as to facilitate the return of ex-traders to their former businesses. It was also announced that licenses would be granted to suitable disabled persons who were not ex-traders to enable them to enter the food trades, but that the number of openings for such persons would be few, so long as the rationing system had to be maintained. As a result of this announcement, persons are considered on grounds of "consumer need".

(f) RESETTLEMENT ADVICE SERVICE FOR PROSPECTIVE PROPRIETORS.

Resettlement Advice Officers are in a position to give The Most Recent Information regarding:-

(i) The controls in force, rationing arrangements, price regulations, and business training facilities for which certain licence holders are eligible.

(ii) Guidance on how to apply for a licence to trade or a permit to obtain machinery, raw material or other controlled commodities.

(iii) An introduction to professional and other expert advisers (including accountants, solicitors and "valuers") who have offered to give guidance to ex-servicemen and women who wish to set up in business or commerce as proprietors. This advice will be free of charge to those who are not in a financial position to pay for professional advice.

2.(A) Amendment to "LOOK BEFORE YOU LEAP" (A.B.C.A. pamphlet No. 7b) page 7.

It should be noted that Board of Trade licenses are not automatically transferable on change of ownership, neither are they now only granted if there is a real and urgent consumer's need. The conditions under which licenses are granted by the Ministry of Food are summarised in para 2(B).

Trade Associations.

NOTE: Before approaching Trade Associations applicants are advised to consult Resettlement Advice Offices.

(i) The Wholesale Textile Association, 75, Cannon Street, London, E.C.4. has published a pamphlet entitled "So You Want To Be A Draper" copies of which can be obtained direct from this Association. This pamphlet indicates the pit-falls which beset the path of the ex-serviceman who wishes to become a trader, and offers advice based on practical experience on such points as obtaining supplies, clothing coupons, price regulation, purchase tax, trade restrictions, costing terms and trade publications.

All potential drapers and outfitters are advised in this

(ii) Incorporated Association of Purveyors of Light Refreshment, 185, Piccadilly, London, W.1. This Association gives advice to those who wish to open a cafe or restaurant, as to advantages and disadvantages of taking over an existing business and starting a new one. It instructs applicants in the/two classes have been established - the priority classes and the preferred classes. Applicants for licenses who fall in these classes receive special consideration.

The priority classes consist of ex-traders who closed their businesses because of circumstances attributable to the war and who now desire to re-open those businesses either in the original premises or in nearby premises, in the same shopping area. Such persons are normally granted licenses even though the needs of consumers are already fully met by existing shops or establishments. There are, however, certain other factors that have to be taken into account, and for certain classes of trade (in particular the retail milk trade in an area in which milk deliveries are rationalised) a license cannot be granted on application. In general, however, it may be taken that a man who closed his business and joined the Forces will obtain a license to re-open that business.

The preferred classes consist of -

(i) ex-traders who closed their businesses as a result of circumstances attributable to the war, and who now want to open businesses similar to those which they formerly carried on, but in a new area.

(ii) suitable disabled persons who are not ex-traders.

Licenses are only granted to persons in the preferred classes where there is some degree of consumer need for the business which it is proposed to set up, but if there is consumer need, a preferred applicant will receive a license in preference to any applicant who has no priority or preferred claim.

Applications for licenses from all other persons are refused unless the refusal would involve a high degree of public hardship.

From the above, it will be seen that the Ministry of Food have never undertaken to grant a license automatically to ex-servicemen. The ex-serviceman who was previously in a food business on his own account will generally receive a license to re-open that business. Any other non-disabled ex-serviceman will not receive a license unless the lack of shopping facilities constitutes a high degree of public hardship. The disabled ex-serviceman does not have to pass such a severe consumer need test, but even in his case, there must be some consumer need for the business.

It will be appreciated that these rules are not only necessitated by the very large number of applications which are received, but are also in the best interests of the applicants themselves, and a great deal of disappointment to applicants might be avoided if the position were made perfectly clear to them.

3. Agricultural Resettlement.

(a) Capital.

Many Servicemen ask how much capital is needed to start farming. They should be warned that this is not a suitable time for starting a farming enterprise as values of land and equipment are high and are likely to fall. The following figures give some idea of the capital required:-

Purchasing/

Declassified E.O. 12065 Section 3.402/NNBD No. 785020

Purchasing of Livestock and implements	£20 an acre, for 60-100 acre farms
Working capital on large farms	£15 an acre.
To run a 200 acre mixed farm	£3,000
To run a small market garden holding of 4-5 acres with some pigs and poultry.	£50-£100 an acre

(b) Material.

Building material and labour cannot be obtained for creating new small holdings.

(c) Food for Livestock.

Food is severely rationed. Details can be obtained from County War Agricultural Executive Committees.

(d) General Advice.

Agricultural Departments strongly advise ex-servicemen and women, especially those without previous experience, not to go in for pig or poultry keeping as a sole means of livelihood.

Executive Officers of the County War Agricultural Committees can give information as to the suitability of any particular area for a particular type of farming e.g. arable, dairying or market gardening.

The best opportunities are in employment rather than as small farmers. Milkers, tractor drivers and other skilled workers are particularly wanted.

(e) Resettlement Grants.

Rural craftsmen working on their own account e.g. Blacksmiths, saddlers, etc., come within the scope of the Ministry of Labour and National Service Scheme. The question of giving grants to small holders, market gardeners, pig, poultry or rabbit farmers is still under consideration by Ministry of Agriculture and Fisheries.

Disabled persons who wish to restart their former business will be considered as restarters and will not have to satisfy these conditions.

(d) Partnerships and limited liability companies - As the object of the scheme is to assist former one-man business owners to restart their former businesses and in certain circumstances to assist disabled persons to start one-man businesses, applications from persons wishing to set up or resume partnership are not normally within the scope of the Scheme, but if the partnership falls into

(3) A pre-war Service partnership, which consisted of not more than three persons in which an applicant needs assistance to resume his previous position as a partner.

Applications from members of limited liability companies, or persons wishing to form a limited liability company, cannot be considered under the scheme.

(e) Tool Kits - grants may also be made to persons otherwise eligible, who need a kit of tools, which they are unable to purchase wholly from their own resources, to enable them to accept an offer of work or to keep employment in a trade where it is the custom for employees to possess their own tools.

2. RE-INSTATEMENT IN CIVIL EMPLOYMENT.

It was stated by the Minister of Labour and National Service in reply to a question in the House of Commons on 22nd November that the number of cases dealt with by Re-instatement Committees in the fifteen months up to 31st October, 1945 was 298. In 168 cases the decision of the Committee was in favour of the applicant.

3. HOUSING.

(a) Legal advice on tenancy problems.

Many problems are caused, or aggravated, by hasty action by servicemen or their wives which may prejudice the legal rights of the persons concerned. The law governing these problems is complex and no layman should endeavour to advise on such matters.

Before becoming involved in problems affecting the leases of houses, both landlords and prospective tenants are advised to consult either a solicitor, or if eligible for free legal aid, an Army Legal Aid Section or Bureau.

(b) Housing Legislation./

Declassified E.O. 12065 Section 3-402/NNDC No. 785020

(b) Housing Legislation.

The Ministry of Works, in conjunction with other Government Departments is arranging for the dorequisition of accomodation. Arrangements are being made for vacant houses to be requisitioned by Local Authorities if suitable for housing persons in need of accomodation.

In addition, local authorities have been asked to appeal to householders in their areas to let persons in need use any spare rooms during the emergency.

4. RESETTLEMENT GRANTS.

(i) A number of applications for grants to cover the expense of tools have been received from craftsmen wishing to set up on their own account, or to enter an industry in which it is the custom for craftsmen to provide their own tools. Applicants should, on release, apply in the first instance, for a Resettlement Grant as described in Ministry of Labour leaflet R.C.L.1.

If their application is unsuccessful they are advised to consult their local representative of the Incorporated Soldiers', Sailors, and Airmen's Help Society, or the British Legion.

(ii) Since 30 Sep 1945, 3,652 applications for resettlement grants have been received from ex-servicemen. Of these 992 have been authorised, 1,617 cases are under consideration and 983 have been rejected. Of the grants authorized 469 were for grants of between £101-£150; 351 amounted to £51-£100 each; and 171 were for under £50.

5. AGRICULTURAL RESETTLEMENT.

(a) Agricultural Employment and Training Scheme.

(b) The Scheme will be operated by the Ministry of Agriculture and Fisheries through County War Agricultural Committees in conjunction with the Ministry of Labour and National Service. They will be State trainees, not paid workers, and will receive standard maintenance allowances. Employers providing training contribute to the State for the value of the trainees services in accordance with a scale agreed with the County War Agricultural Committee. The employer will generally be required to undertake to employ the trainee for twelve months after the end of the training period.

Courses will last for one year.

6. NATIONAL HEALTH and PENSIONS INSURANCE SCHEME.

(i) Persons insured during their service become "civilians" for all health and pensions purposes immediately they go on their final paid leave prior to release or discharge, and not at the end of their leave.

(ii) If a person becomes employed in an insurable occupation during the leave period, civilian health and pensions contributions are payable in the ordinary way.

(iii) Ministry of Health pamphlet D and explanatory addendum (Cmd. 6548) which came into force on 18 June can be obtained through any Post Office.

7. RESETTLEMENT IN BUSINESS.

(a) Location of Retail Business Order, 1942 - Licences to Trade.

(i) Cases have occurred of Welfare Officers giving erroneous advice owing to their ignorance of the regulations regarding the necessity for obtaining a license to trade before ex-servicemen can resettle themselves in retail business. This has resulted in ex-servicemen becoming financially involved and disappointed when they discover that they should have obtained a licence before purchasing a retail business.

(ii) Attention is therefore drawn to the warnings given in the A.B.C.A. pamphlet No. 7B "LOOK BEFORE YOU LEAP" and to the information given below and to the next issue of Resettlement Points.

Commercial Resettlement.

(a) Setting up in Business.

A former trader who is eligible for inclusion in the Register of Withdrawn Traders (see A.C.I. 283/45) will be granted a licence to resume his former business.

(b) Licences for Traders using private Premises.

A licence to trade is required even if shop premises are not being used. Watch repairers need no licence if working at home.

8. OFFICERS' WELFARE and RESETTLEMENT.

(a) Possible openings are being investigated for officers and others who feel that they are too old to enter industry and commerce, but who wish to supplement their pensions by organising social and recreational activities. There are indications that, although there are at present only limited prospects of full or part time employment in the societies and associations that meet this type of need, there may be a growing demand for active men and women over 40 who are interested in developing the Youth Service and in schemes for expanding the adult educational services, and for providing community centres, or for improving holiday and other recreational facilities. The Appointments Department of the Ministry of Labour should be consulted by applicants as to future prospects in this type of employment.

The following/

Declassified E.O. 12065 Section 3-402/NARS, NO. 785020

The following societies may be of interest to officers with administrative experience in organising camps and recreational welfare activities. It is emphasised that these societies can only offer comparatively low salaries, and in some cases, free accommodation, but they may give energetic officers with initiative and administrative capacity considerable scope to use their talents.

National Service Hostels Corporation Ltd.
Public Trustee Office Building, Kingsway, London, W.C.2.
National Camps Corporation Ltd., 72, Victoria Street, S.W.1.
The Holiday Fellowship,
142, Great North Way, London, N.W.4.
The Workers Travel Association,
The Travel Centre, 49, Canon Street, London, E.C.4.
The Youth Hostels Association,
16, Meadow Green, Welwyn Garden.
The Boy Scouts Association,
15, Buckingham Palace Road, London, S.W.1.
The National Association of Boys Club,
17, Bedford Square, London, W.C.1.
The National Association of Local Government Officers,
14, Abingdon Street, London, S.W.1.
The British Association of Residential Settlements,
32, Gordon Square, London, W.C.1.

(b) Before being released officers are advised to consult their education officers as to the local opportunities for using their experience as Mess Secretary, Messing Officer, Sports or Entertainments Officer etc, as a basis for entering civilian careers, and to compare their recreational interests and military qualifications with those described in the pamphlet "Careers for Men and Women". By studying such subjects as languages, sales management, catering, dietetics, accounting etc. during his spare time an officer can partly prepare himself for a new civilian occupation.

(c) Cases have occurred of officers who have not been able to save sufficient funds to cover the difficult period after release when they may find that their income has been considerably reduced. They are often not aware of the many free services available to help them in resettling themselves, and are therefore advised to get in touch with local education authorities, Citizens Advice Bureaux or Resettlement Advice Officers who can often give applicants personal introductions to local residents who can advise and help them to study their new careers as cheaply as possible.

(d) The Consultative Committee of Voluntary Services Association, 117, Sloane Street, London, S.W.1. can give information about the work of the societies and funds that help ex-servicemen. Ex-officers who wish to keep in contact with the Services and continue to do welfare work may be able to join these societies as salaried officers, for whom there are a limited number of vacancies.

(b) All units who hold a medical officer posted or attached, will arrange directly with the M.O. for the examination of their own personnel.

3. For units which have not a medical officer attached or posted, the following procedure will be adopted:-

(a) AFs W3149 of all personnel in Age/Service Group 29, with Part 1 completed and signed and Age/Service Group No inserted at the head of the form, will be submitted to the Office of the Surgeon, this HQ, as soon as possible and in any event not later than 15 Mar 46.
