1. In order to obtain the best Training Value from the 35 mm library now available at this Centre, the following recommendations, made up from past experience and directives, should be followed.

(a) Straightforward showing of films, where the class sit down, see the film, and leave immediately, that is without any introduction or final explanation, are a waste of time - their Training Value is low.

(b) To obtain the best Training Value - first give a short verbal introduction lasting not more than five minutes. At intervals throughout the film (possibly at the end of each part) "test by questions" - ask a few simple questions relevant to what has just been shown. This will stimulate interest and ensure attention. At the conclusion of the film, again "test by questions" and finally close with a few minutes discussion or short closing remarks, emphasising the main points.

2. In order to achieve this standard the present Films Officer will have to be briefed carefully in all the films he is showing, also encouraged to improve his general Military knowledge in order to be in a position to answer questions and deal with the subjects of each film. As an alternative, and this is considered preferable, a short written precis should be issued with each film, simple and explicit enough for any

As an alternative, and this is considered preferable, a short written precis should be issued with each film, simple and explicit enough for any Instructor to study it before showing the film, and enable him both to introduce the film, test by set questions, and finally bring out the main points.

3. In order to save time in running through all the films in the library, we have asked D M T to obtain for us a written account for each title. It is not yet known if these are available but you will be informed on receipt of their reply.

4. For information, MMIA Training Branch are enquiring into the possibilities of obtaining British Films with Italian sound track as this has been continually stressed as important.

1. Attached is list of 16mm trg films now available at CMFHQ.

2. Troops at CMFHQ will be shown the film in the theatre now being completed.

3. Officers concerned with showing the films elsewhere should arrange with this office for the operator to recce suitable accomodation.

4. Since the projectors are not mobile, arrangements will be made for the School at CASERTA to have the projector for a complete week at a time.

5. All films are in English and it is therefore suggested that they be previewed with an Italian officer who should prepare a suitable script.
