Re: 5892/Ord.II
Date: 30/11/46

Subject: Designations of Engr units. -

Reply to letter SD/112 dated 18/11/46.

1. - The new denomination of Engineer Coys given to the Engr. Services Coys of the Military Territorial Commands has been discussed and agreed with your representative during the meeting of the W/E Committee. Admitting that said companies have been unable to carry out, for various reasons, the Engr duties, it is intention of this S.M. to detail these units for duties similar to those laid down for the Engr Coys not included in divisions. Said duties will be carried out on behalf of the troops and services under the command of the respective Military Territorial Commands.

In view of the above, a reorganisation programme of the Engrs is being studied together with the Engrs Inspectorate. Said programme will be submitted to you for your approval as soon as completed.

2. - Regarding the points stressed in paras 4 and 5 of the letter referred to above - as the Engr Coys are included in the Engr Battalions and come under the command of said battalions for all purposes and with which they have direct contact for services and employment, it does not seem possible that they may be confused with the Territorial Engineer Companies, which are independent units. However your point of view will be borne in mind during the reorganisation of the Engr units in order to eliminate any possibility of confusion. -

MINISTRY OF WARSubject: Designation - Regt Units

Ref Order of Battle and Location statement dated 1 Nov 46.

1. It is noticed that the designation of the Regt Coy of the Territorial Commands has been altered on their new 21st Terr Service Coy to 21st Regt Coy (Compagnia Artieri).
2. It is considered that confusion may arise if no distinction is made in the title between these Terr Regt Coys and 21st Regt Coys with Inf Divs.
3. The Establishment of the Div Field Regt Coy is seven Officers and 250 Cts and its role is the same as the Field Coy in Br Divs. The Establishment of the new styled 21st Regt Coy of the Terr Commands is 4 Officers and 150 Cts and its role is certainly very different from that of the Div 21st Coy at present.
4. Further more it is seen that the 102nd Div has a No 3 21st Regt Coy and there is also a No 3 21st Regt Coy at the Milan Terr. Command. Similarly there are the Nos 4, 5 and 10 Field Regt Coys.
5. It is suggested that these units are redesignated in such a way as to avoid this confusion.

Subject:- Designations - Engr Units

Ref. order of Battle and Location Statement 1st October 1946.

With the new War Establishment for the Engr Coy of the Territorial Commands, I notice that the name of the Coy has been changed from Service Coy to Field Engr Coy (Compagnia Artieri).

I think there will be confusion if no distinction is made in the title between these Coys and the Field Engr Coys with Divs. 931

*x The Establishment of the Div. Field Engr Coy is seven Officers and 230 ORs and its role is the same as the Field Coy in Br Divs. The Establishment of the new styled Fd Engr Coy of the Terr Commands is 4 Officers and 130 ORs and its Role is certainly very different from that of the Div Fd Coy at present.

*y Further more ~~you will find~~ ^{it is known} that the LEGNANO Div has a No 3 Fd Engr Coy and there is also a No 3 Fd Engr Coy at the Milan Terr. Command. Similarly there are two Nos 4 5 and 10 Field Engr Coys.

In English it might be an easy remedy to drop the "Field" from the designation of the Terr Coy to make the necessary distinction but I regret I cannot make a suggestion for the respective Italian titles unless to have "Div" and "Terr" in brackets after Compagnia Artieri.

LIST 'B'

1. In view of the changed conditions now existing this Headquarters has proposed to the Italian War Ministry that the term "ITI-ITI" should be dropped and that "Italian Army" should be used instead. The terms "US-ITI" and "BR-ITI" should continue to be used for as long as these forces remain in being.

The War Ministry have welcomed this proposal.

2. The term "ITI-ITI" should therefore no longer be used.

Subject:- Designations - ITI-ITI = US-ITI = BR-ITI.

The designation of ITI-ITI, by which units under the command of Italian Authorities were designated, has no longer reason to exist and is therefore abolished forthwith.

All troops form part of the Italian Army, however the designations of US-ITI and BR-ITI will continue to be used in order to indicate which units are still temporarily under the command of American and British Authorities for employment.

20 REMARKS ON THE

1. The term "Anti-Sub" was used to indicate that part of the "Anti-Sub" was working under the control of the "Anti-Sub" as a time when this term was used of three "Anti-Sub" were all of a kind, "Anti-Sub".

2. It is suggested that, owing to the change of "Anti-Sub" now making good, the term "Anti-Sub" should be dropped and the "Anti-Sub" be used instead. The term "Anti-Sub" and "Anti-Sub" would appear to be used for as long as "Anti-Sub" would appear to be used. If you agree, we will notify "Anti-Sub" to this effect.

3. It is also suggested that to indicate the order of "Anti-Sub" and "Anti-Sub" should be used. The "Anti-Sub" of "Anti-Sub" is the "Anti-Sub" of "Anti-Sub" and the "Anti-Sub" of "Anti-Sub".
