1. With further reference to the provisional CC.RR School at Bari, I have to inform you that in view of the fact that there is little prospect of alternative accommodation being found for General Brunetti and his staff, this school will continue for an indefinite period to take in the surplus recruits for whom accommodation cannot be found in the Rome School.

2. At the present time training is being given to 300 recruits and it was anticipated that the majority of these would be absorbed in the Central School in Rome, as soon as other accommodation was provided for the G.H.Q.

3. In view of the uncertainty of this an effort is now being made to obtain further equipment badly needed at the school in Bari, which may be required for a further 2 yrs.

4. At a recent inspection of this school I found that the buildings at present occupied are the best available in the district and are suitable, providing they are properly equipped.

5. The training programme is the same as that given at the schools in Rome and Turin and although great difficulty has been experienced through the lack of equipment, I was impressed by the efforts made to maintain the standard of efficiency reached at the other schools. The Legion Commander and School Commandant are officers with progressive ideas and are getting results.

6. Considerable improvement could be made if sufficient funds were made available to properly equip class rooms, dining rooms and kitchens etc and application will be made in due course to the War Ministry by G.H.Q. for the necessary expenditure. Unless there is an improvement in the school accommodation in Rome in the near future, this I consider is an urgent necessity.

I was particularly impressed by the work of the 'staghound' minor repairs to electrical equipment, the remainder are in excellent condition and/there have been no serious accidents.

1. The number of students at present receiving training in the CC.RR Schools is as follows:-

Central School, Florence....	710	N.C.O.s
Central School, Rome.....I300		Cadets
Turin School.....	380	"
Bari School.....	115	"
Cagliari School.....	110	"

2. The school at Moncalieri, Turin has been cleared of refugees and is being renovated. It will be possible in the near future to increase the intake to 800 students for each course.

3. During the past 2 mths there has been a marked improvement in training, especially on the practical police side. In some instances it is still difficult to convince certain senior officers that as soon as Carabinieri are put into service in the field, their work is primary that of a policeman. However, chiefly as the result of personal contact with School Commandants and Instructors a livelier interest is being taken on the police side.

4. The release of a number of 'autoblinders' and automatic arms for instructional purposes has greatly assisted the instructors in weapons training and already added interest in being taken in this section of the training.

5. Accommodation and equipment is still very scarce, chiefly as a result of the lack of funds and improvisation remains the 'key note' but this does not entirely prevent progress when the men at the top show initiative.

6. For example at the school in Turin, a course in typewriting and shorthand has been started, chiefly due to the tenacity of the Brigade Commander and the School Commandant who have devised a way of finding the necessary typewriters and instructors. At this school also, they have arranged for a professor in Medicine from the University to lecture on Forensic Science.

7. It is the aim of each school to teach every student to drive a motor vehicle efficiently and as soon as the promised transport

8. The general appearance and discipline of the recruits has improved noticeably, chiefly as the result of new boots and clothing and this should be maintained.

9. In some Legions 'refresher' courses are still being given at Group level and this is to be encouraged. It is considered better to have an organised class at Group level, of approx 20 men, rather than to have Maresciallo's giving instruction to 2 or 3 Carabinieri at each station. It will be appreciated that there is a severe call on man power at the moment, but it is proposed to re-organise refresher courses in each Group as soon as possible, after the elections.

5. The arrangements for squads and classes varies. In the case of the Central Cadet School in Rome, approx; 500 recruits are taken in at one time, but an approx; total of I500 is always maintained for one complete course. As one 500 leaves the school another 500 is admitted. The recuits are then broken down in to Coy strength of about I50 and they continue in this way throughout the course. At the schools in Turin, Bari and Cagliari, the total number of recruits is admitted at the same time and they complete the course altogether. Classes are arranged at Coy strength, in a similar way as those in the school in Rome.

With regard to the N.C.Os schhol in Florence, a complete course for 700 men is arranged. They are admitted and leave the school at the same time.

The estimate for numbers to be catered for annually is as follows:-

Cadets.

6. In addition to the above mentioned schools there is a police school at Cesana where specialised M.P; training is given. The course is based on the British M.P; course and lasts a month. There are facilities for approx; I20 officers and men.

7. A course of training for Mobile Battalions has already been given to 45 officers and N.C.O s of the CC.RR at the Italian Army School, Cesana and further courses have been arranged.

To..... Lt. Col. Mighall.

I. Further to my report dated the 20 March 46, I now submit to you further information and recommendations concerning CC.RR Schools and Training.

2. RECRUITMENT. - (Cadets)

As previously reported Cadets are recruited into the service for a period of 3 yrs. At the end of this they have the option of volunteering for three further periods of 3 yrs and on completion of I2 yrs service are taken on annually. The records show that only a small percentage of the recruits come from the other armed forces and consequently are without military training. Whilst it is important that the Carabinieri should be fully trained in the use of arms, the amount of time given to this and foot drill greatly interferes with the practical side of the police training and a solution may be found in the method of recruitment. What is highly desirable is to find recruits who have completed their military training before entering the CC.RR service.

The following are two suggestions I put forward for your consideration:-

(a) that the recruits are retricted to men who have completed their term of compulsory military training in the other armed services, or who have served at least 9 mths and have acquired sufficient military knowledge for CC.RR purposes. The time served in the other service, should count for seniority and pension.

(b) that all recruits should be taken from civilian life following an entrance examination, at a minimum age of 20 yrs and maximum of 26 yrs and given a course of Infantry training with the Italian Army. At the completion of this they could enter the CC.RR schools for training in police work. With the existing accommodation and equipment it is difficult to give both phases efficiently and the training should be entirely separated.

At the completion of this they could enter the CC.RR schools for training in police work. With the existing accommodation and equipment it is difficult to give both phases efficiently and the training should be separated.

With regard to both schemes it would be the means of getting a fully trained soldier, which the present CC.RR training does not provide, and a more mature man better trained on the police subjects would enter the service.

N.C.O s.

Up to the present time all N.C.O s have been taken from the ranks of the CC.RR and are given a special 9 mths course at the Central School in Florence. The students are either Junior N.C.O s or Carabinieri who have passed the entrance examination or possess a Secondary School Certificate and have shown ability. There has been no difficulty in finding these men from the ranks of the Carabinieri and as a rule the average N.C.O is a sound and efficient type.

With the view to increasing the standard of efficiency and attracting a better type of recruit, a proposal was made some time ago to the War Ministry that approx: two thirds of the vacancies for N.C.O s should be kept open for men recruited direct from civilian life. The plan is for these men to go direct to the N.C.O s School at Florence for I2 mths training with the rank of Carabinieri. If found suitable they would then be posted to a Station to gain practical experience and at the end of the second year would be given a further course of training and an examination at Florence. The successful candidates would then pass out as Junior N.C.O s . The fact that it is intended to give these recruits thorough training and sufficient time to gain practical experience in the field, I believe the scheme to be sound and one worthy of trial.

No definite decision as yet been taken in this matter and at the present time the recruitment of N.C.O s remains unchanged.

Officers. There has been no recruitment of regular CC.RR officers during the past 5 yrs. The following scheme has now been approved and will be given the final assent in the course of the next few days:-

300 Junior Officers to be recruited as soon as possible from the following sources:-

I00 from senior N.C.O s who passed the qualifying examination held in I943.
I00 from Junior Officers at present serving in the Italian Army.
I00 from other sources , preference to be given to men who have served with distinction with the Army of Liberation and who have held Army commissions.

It is proposed to give the I00 N.C.O s a short course in administrative matters at the Central School in Florence and put them into service immediately.

The remaining 200 from the other two sections will be selected from applications submitted to G.H.Q. CC.RR. A complete report with family history, educational attainments and other qualifications will be forwarded to the War Ministry where the selection is made. The applicants must have at least the Higher School Certificate and are not more than 28 yrs of age. Successful applicants will then be sent to the Central School, Florence for training.

With regard to the I00 it is proposed to take from other than regular army officers or Carabinieri N.C.O s, I believe that this is subject to criticism and is liable to be abused. It is understood that preference will be shown to men who have given good service with recognised partisan units and who have held commissions in the Army. This is insufficient, as it means that in

The remaining 200 from the other two sections will be selected from applications submitted to G.H.Q. CC.RR. A complete report with family history, educational attainments and other qualifications will be forwarded to the War Ministry where the selection is made. The applicants must have at least the Higher School Certificate and are not more than 28 yrs of age. Successful applicants will then be sent to the Central School, Florence for training.

With regard to the 100 it is proposed to take from other than regular army officers or Carabinieri N.C.O s, I believe that this is subject to criticism and is liable to be abused. It is understood that preference will be shown to men who have given good service with recognised partisan units and who have held commissions in the Army. This is insufficient, as it means that in many cases the applicant has no previous Carabinieri experience or limited military training. In my opinion it would be impracticable to mix a section of these recruits with either Junior army officers or Carabinieri N.C.O s and a separate training plan would have to be devised. The CC.RR is far too important to permit sentimental reasons to interfere with recruitment, especially of officers and only the best men should be sought.

As an alternative I recommend that one half should be taken from the senior N.C.O s and the other half from junior officers at present serving in the Italian Army. The advantages are obvious i,e

(a) the N.C.O s are men of long experience, of proved ability and would require little extra military training.

(b) the Junior Army officers need no military training, are disciplined and of good education. It would be possible to include in this group, men who have held Army commissions recently, but who have completed their military training. The point I wish to wish to make is that men from quasi-military organisations must be avoided at all costs.

3. PERIOD OF SERVICE. I consider that the present system of enlistment is bad and operates against the efficiency of the service, it should be altered to periods of 7, I4 or 2I yrs and gratuities or pensions fixed accordingly. The effect of this would be that the CC.RR would get a man who had fixed ideas of following the Carabinieri as a career and the natural outcome would be greater interest in the work. At the present t ime a recruit joins with the feeling that the work is only temporary and this has an adverse effect . The extended scheme would also reduce the number of recruits to be trained annually and would have a stabilising effect on the service as a whole .

4. PAY. It is generally acknowledged that the pay of the CC.RR is inadequate and as a result of the present high cost of living, some of the personnel, especially officers with families are in dire financial circumstances. The question of pay has a direct bearing on the efficiency of the CC.RR service and every effort should be made to improve it, amongst other things increased pay would certainly attract a better type of recruit.

At the present time it is made up of multifarious allowances which to the newcomer is to say the least a little bewildering i,e, Basic Pay, High cost of living pay, Military Pay, CC.RR Pay, P.S. Pay and Lodging Allowance. The high cost of living pay varies according to the district. What is badly needed is a clear cut basic pay, lodging allowance and bi-annual increments for efficiency. Under the prsent system there is no grading of Carabinieri and good and bad are paid the same. Apart from a reward scheme whereby a Carabinieri or N.C.O is granted a small sum of money for meritorious service , there is little incentive for a man to become efficient.

5. DOMESTIC. Under the existing regulations a Carabinieri is prevented from getting married until he has completed I2 yrs service and even then he is placed on a long waiting list until final approval is given. The reason given for this is the lack of accommodation and that it causes less trouble to post a single man. This, I suggest is one of the causes which prevents a better type of man from entering the service. Some form of restriction is obviously necessary but the limit should a recruit joins with the feeling that the work is only temporary and this has an adverse effect . The extended scheme would also reduce the number of recruits to be trained annually and would have a stabilising effect on the service as a whole .

6. PROMOTION. There has been little promotion during the past 5 yrs, especially from N.C.O to Officer and apart from a few cases where Lts have been promoted to Captain, promotion ~~amongst~~ amongst the officers has stopped. This has undoubtedly caused some dis-contentment. I find that the present system of epuration of CC.RR officers and N.C.O s a slow and laborious process and this effects the situation. Whilst it is highly important that every case should be fully and impartially investigated, I feel that this matter could be speeded up. At the present time approx: 500 officers and 5.000 N.C.O s await epuration and due to the fact that the Epuration Committee meets only twice a week, it means some time will elapse before this work is completed. Until then the true position regarding Officers and N.C.O s will not be known. It is highly desirable for many reasons that this work should be expedited.

The actual figures regarding time expired and Reserve Officers is not known but is safe to say that over 50% of these comprise the present w/e. I am constantly urging the resumption of officers training courses and I can see nothing to prevent the immediate promotion of 100 Senior N.C.O s. I know of nothing better which would give the badly needed encouragement and impetus to CC.RR personnel.

7. TRAINING. - Cadets. The training centres at Rome and Turin and the provisional schools are set up to give a basic form of training to cadets. The training is uniform and no modification can be made without the authority of G.H.Q. It is made up of three phases, covering a total period of 6 mths i,e,

(a) 1st Phase of I mth.

In this period instruction is given to a general idea of the CC.RR service and to prepare the recruits for barrack and caserma routine.

(b) 2nd Phase of 4 mths. This comprises of military training i,e, foot drill, P.T. weapons training, Military and Civil Law and Procedure, Regulations, Hygiene and other professional duties.

(c) 3rd Phase of I mth.

Repetition and review of Phases I and 2 and preparation for the final examinations.

The cadets immediately on admission to the schools are formed into Coys and for the purpose of professional training into platoons. The average strength of a platoon is 60. Each platoon as I officer, I maresciallo, 2 Brigadiers and 2 Vice Brigadiers and these act as instructors. The officer in charge of each platoon is responsible to the Coy Commander who is Chief Instructor. Supervision is given by the Coy Commander to his own Coy and he in turn reports to the Batt. Commander. Theoretical instruction is given to each platoon separately and practical instruction to Coys. Each class receives the same instruction which is re-viewed before the end of each phase. There is no variation to the programme. At the end of each phase the Batt. Commander ascertains the progress made of each recruit and whether he is fit to be admitted to the next phase. If found unfit the recruit is put back for 15 days for further instruction.

three phases, covering a total p[illegible]

(a) 1st Phase of I mth. In this period instruction is given to a general idea of the CC.RR service and to prepare the recruits for barrack and caserma routine.

(b) 2nd Phase of 4 mths. This comprises of military training i,e, foot drill, P.T. weapons training, Military and Civil Law and Procedure, Regulations, Hygiene and other professional duties.

(c) 3rd Phase of I mth. Repetition and review of Phases I and 2 and preparation for the final examinations.

There is no variation to the programme. At the end of each phase the Batt. Commander ascertains the progress made of each recruit and whether he is fit to be admitted to the next phase. If found unfit the recruit is put back for I5 days for further instruction.

The final examination for promotion to Carabinieri is given in the second part of the 5th mth. This is taken before an examining board of Coy instructors. If a recruit fails in the examination he is given instruction for a further I5 days and the opportunity to sit again. The percentage of failures is very low. A recruit does not attain the rank of Carabinieri until he has passed the final examination. Normally successful recruits are promoted to the rank of Carabinieri during the last fortnight of the course. As an incentive, cadets who hold the Technical School Certificate and who have shown zeal and efficiency during the training period, can be promoted to Carabinieri at the end of 5 mths.

The School Commandant carries out the duties of Legion or Batt. Commander according to the size of the school and is given a rank accordingly. He is responsible for:- Supervision of the training and to ensure that the programme is adhered to.

Allocation of instructors to Coys and specialist instructors.
Issue of general orders affecting the school.
Co-ordination between Batt. and Coy Commanders on questions of training and discipline.
Observe and report the progress of recruits.
Maintenance of school, clothing and equipment.
Recommendations as to future courses.

At the completion of each course the names of Instructors who have earned rewards or commendations are forwarded to the Legion H.Q for recognition.

N.C.O s. The training of all N.C.O s is done at the Central School, Florence. The intake is 700 received at the same time and the length of the course is 9 mths. For the purpose of training 3 Coys and I Squadron is formed, each Coy is made up of 3 platoons. The strength of a platoon is approx: 60 and has I officer and 3 N.C.O s who act as instructors, an average of I instructor per I5 men. The Coy Commander is the Chief Instructor who is responsible to the Batt. Commander who works under the direction of the School Commandant (A Colonel). In addition there are specialist instructors.

The recruits are examined 3 times a month and a record of progress is kept by the Coy Commander. Individual checks are also made by the School Commandant. During the 9th mth an examination is held on all the subjects. In the case of failures an extended course of 3 mths is given with another examination.

A record sheet is kept for each student which shows the result of the examination on the various subjects and his final grading. One copy of this is sent to G.H.Q and another to the N.C.O s Group Commander.

At the conclusion of the course, successful candidates are usually promoted to Vice-Brigadier.

This is a sound training programme and once the school is fully equipped, there will be little fault to find.

I found the School Commandant to be a progressive type and one who is receptive to new ideas. The one weak spot is the absence of organised games and limited P.T and this is entirely due to the lack of a sports ground and limited gymnastic equipment. It is realised that these items and many other refinements are chiefly a question of finance.

OFFICERS. The training of officers has not been resumed and there is little likelihood of it doing so until after the elections. Many changes have been proposed from the old method of training and in all probability all the officer candidates will be sent to the Central School at Florence to take a course of approx: I yr. A syllabus has been prepared and once final approval has been received an early start can be made.

The position regarding CC.RR officers is a serious matter, as at the present time the number of regular officers required to make up the w/e is 585.

Of the Carabinieri officers who served in the Italian Army, 34 have so far failed to return and most of these are believed to be prisoners of war. Any influence which can be used to get these men repatriated at an early date, will be appreciated.

8. ACCOMMODATION.

Financial grants are made for the maintenance of the schools but the persons responsible at the War Ministry are inclined to overlook the fact that practically nothing has been done in the way of repairs and renovation during the war years and much remains to be done. Demands have been made to the War Ministry but the amount of money allocated is insufficient.

On the question of renovation and the re-equipping of the school at Turin there are many problems outstanding. This school was only re-occupied by the CC.RR in Nov 45, after it had housed many thousands of refugees. These have only recently been finally cleared and the whole of the building is now at the disposal of the Carabinieri. The site and general lay-out of the place is ideal for a school but great destruction has been done , especially to windows and fittings and the sum of at least 10.000.000 lire is required to put it in order. Up to date only 3.000.000 has been granted and many repairs which should be carried out before next Winter will not be done unless more money is forthcoming. Taking into consideration the present financial state of the Country the expenditure in this respect is absolutely essential. As soon as the school at Turin is completed it is proposed to close down the provisional schools at Bari and Cagliari.

So far as the school in Rome is concerned there has been no change since my previous report and it will remain so until alternative accommodation is found for the G.H.Q.

I can only again stress the fact that the accommodation at present is totally inadequate for present needs and this should be pointed out to the War Ministry in the strongest possible terms. I am satisfied that once this matter is settled satisfactorily , there will be considerable progress made in the training of recruits .

9. EQUIPMENT. Chiefly as a result of the War very little money has been spent on school equipment and this is also a matter which requires immediate attention. The position is well known at the War Ministry, where many requests have already been refused on the grounds of lack of money. Many of the items required can be obtained from Italian sources but in view of the unstable market in this Country it is impossible to give any idea as to cost. The question of repairs and equipment for the three principal schools is not a small

The question of repairs and equipment for the three principal schools is not a small item and obviously special expenditure is required for this. I would suggest that a Commission be formed to re-view the whole position and make recommendations. The following items are urgent necessities:-

Cadets School, Rome.

Equipping of dining rooms for 1500 cadets, with chairs and tables;(At the present time thay have to take their meals outside standing)

Desks and chairs for class rooms for 9 Coys. (What little class room equipment exists at the moment is old and dilapidated)

Re-equipping of two gymnasiums and the supply of gym shoes.

The fitting of a photographic Dept at each school with cameras, elargers, epidaiscopes for lecture purposes.

Signal equipment for signal course.

Typewriters for stenography course.

Sports equipment and provision of sports ground.

Re-equipment of libraries and rooms for private studies.

It will be seen from the above that a considerable sum of money is involved and the same applies to the school at Turin and to a lesser degree to the Central School at Florence. It is not anticipated that these items will be forthcoming immediately, but the War Ministry should be given some idea of what is required to bring the schools up todate.

IO. DIRECTOR OF TRAINING.

As referred to in a previous report I consider the appointment of a Director of Training essential in to the training of the CC.RR and the following is an outline of what his duties should be:-

(a) Screening of the present teaching staff and instructors.
(b) Arranging of instructors courses.
(c) Review of syllabi and amendments.
(d) Employment of specialist instructors from outside the CC.RR service.
(e) Systemisation of the training programme.
(f) Maintenance of schools and supervision of training.
(g) Preparation of examinations.
(h) Introduction of organised games, provision of sports ground and equipment.
(i) Re-organisation of refresher courses at Group level.
(j) Appointment of specialist officers .

To... Lt. Col. Highall.

1. I have to inform you that I have made an inspection of the CC.RR schools at Rome, Florence, Turin and Cesano and the following are my recommendations, which in the interests of the CC.RR should be put into effect at the shortest possible time.

2. I find that the recruiting system has a direct bearing on training and certain modifications are in my opinion necessary.

3. Recruiting. Under the present system the Carabinieri are recruited on a three year basis and in my view 6 mths training for a guaranteed period of 2½ yrs service is un-satisfactory. What is badly needed is a scheme whereby recruits can enrol for a longer period i,e 7, 14 or 21 yrs. This would cut down the number of recruits who have to be trained annually and would have a more stabilising effect on the service as a whole. It may be necessary to offer some sort of inducement to the men and I am satisfied that a slight increase in pay and speedier chances of promotion would suffice. A further advantage would be gained by recruiting suitable men from the other services after the compulsory period of 18 mths service and include this service for the purpose of seniority and pension, as CC.RR service.

Add to +

At the present time Cadets are taken into the service at the age of 17 yrs. In many instances this means that a recruit is put on practical police work at under the age of 18 yrs. In my opinion this is too young and I recommend that the age limit for recruits be raised to 19 yrs.

4. Schools. (a) Rome. As previously stated the present accommodation at this school is totally inadequate for present needs and the training suffers accordingly. Approx? one third of the building is occupied by the G.O.C and his staff and so long as they are compelled to remain, there will be little training and certain modifications are in my opinion necessary.

4. Schools. (a) Rome. As previously stated the present accommodation at this school is totally inadequate for present needs and the training suffers accordingly. Approx. one third of the building is occupied by the G.O.C and his staff and so long as they are compelled to remain, there will be little improvement. Persistent demands have been made by General Brunetti for other accommodation but without result. I cannot emphasise too strongly the need for another building for the C.C.C. and the supply of school equipment, most of which could be obtained from Italian sources.

(b) Florence. The accommodation in this school is good and there is ample room for the 700 N.C.O s now taking the course. There is also sufficient space to take 100 officers. I am satisfied that thorough training is given in accordance with the existing syllabus. More intensive training however is required on crime detection and forensic science and this will be given as soon as suitable instructors are found. Motorised training is limited on account of the lack of motor cycles and other suitable vehicles and demands have been made for these. The discipline and appearance of the men is good and I was impressed by the Senior Officers and staff of

Instructors. Given the proper equipment and fully qualified instructors in specialised subjects, this school will soon be extremely efficient and a credit to the CC.RR service.

(c) Turin; The school at Turin is at the present time training 300 recruits and although the site and lay out of the buildings is good a considerable amount of work and money is required to put it in good condition. The sum of 3.000.000 lire has been allocated for this purpose, but this amount I consider to be inadequate. However a start has been made on the right lines and when all the repairs have been effected this should be a good school, in many respects far superior to the Central School in Rome, so far as accommodation is concerned. It will later be possible to take in 1000 men on each course and there will then be no need for the temporary schools at Bari and Cagliari. Many items are required in the way of equipment, most of which could be obtained locally but I am told the funds are not available. I am satisfied that the School Commandant is capable and doing well under difficult conditions and a rapid improvement can be expected in the near future

(d) Police School, Cesano. The accommodation at this school is bad both from a practical and morale point of view. To accomodate 120 officers and men who usually take the course, only two small class rooms are available. They are entirely without dining rooms and the men eat and sleep in the same rooms, which are overcrowded. The officers have no separate mess and at the present time have a temporary arrangement with another section of the school, which is undesirable. So far as the CC.RR is concerned the position of the school is bad and the personnel have a feeling of isolation which is bad for morale. Motorised training has been stopped, chiefly due to the bad condition of the motor cycles. Out of the 16 machines allocated to the school, 6 are unusable due to lack of tyres and other minor repairs necessary which have to be done at private garages. To maintain the vehicles in proper repair, 10.000 lire is granted for each truck per 3 mths and 3.000 lire for each motor cycle. This is insufficient, but even so difficulty is experienced in obtaining any money at all and the matter is being taken up with the proper authorities. Col. Mackay has persistently pressed for better accommodation for the Police School and I feel that a more central position in Rome is desirable. The syllabus has been altered to deal with present requirements and good results would be obtained if suitable accommodation could be found. A good type of Carabinieri is being sent to the school and it is unfortunate that nothing better in the way of accommodation be obtained locally but I am told the funds are not available. I am satisfied that the School Commandant is capable and doing well under difficult conditions and a rapid improvement can be expected in the near future

(d) Police School, - Cesano. The accommodation at this school is bad both from a practical and morale point of view. To accomodate 120 officers and men who usually take the course, only two small class rooms are available. They are entirely without dining rooms and the men eat and sleep in the same rooms, which are overcrowded. The syllabus has been altered to deal with present requirements and good results would be obtained if suitable accommodation could be found. A good type of Carabinieri is being sent to the school and it is unfortunate that nothing better in the way of accommodation can be offered, as the present conditions must have a depressing influence on both officers and men.

5. Director of Training.

A syllabus has been prepared for each school but I find that in the past there has been no standardisation in training and little co-ordination. It is reccommended that a Director of Training be appointed to ensure that the training programme as laid down is put into effect. This is important, especially in specialised subjects, as at the moment it depends on the individual ideas of each School Commandant, as to what is given to the recruits. Such an appointment would guarantee that the prepared syllabus was being given, which I doubt is the case at the present time. I find there are a number of officers in the CC.RR who consider the Carabinieri primary as soldiers and pay little or no attention to the practical police side of the training. It is not difficult to imagine the result of such influence in the eventual training of the Carabinieri. The importance therefore of selecting a fully qualified person in practical police work, need hardly be stressed, and provided with the necessary staff to see that the programme is carried out.

6. Text Book. Possibly as a result of the War little attention has been given in the compilation of a standard form of text book and although one is in circulation it does not meet modern requirements and the time for a re-view is long overdue. I recommend that the work on a new edition be commenced at once, for issue to each Carabinieri

7. Criminal Records and Circulations.

The inter-change of information and the keeping of criminal records is far from satisfactory and a Central Records Office is badly needed. The most that can be said of the present system that a record is kept of local criminals at Tenenza's but there is little inter-change of information between Groups and Legions and H.Q. Under the prevailing system it is the responsibility of the Questura to keep Criminal Records but these are in-complete and the CC.RR are dependant on them for information. There is no circulation of wanted persons or serious crimes by the CC.RR and at the moment the Carabinieri are to a great extent unaware of what is happening outside their own area. A limited amount of work has been done in this respect by the Scientific Police Section in Rome, (under the control of the Minister of Interior) but since 1942 it has taken a backward step and at the present time a Police Bulletin, containing very sparse information regarding wanted criminals is circulated every 10 or 12 days throughout the Country. In many cases owing to the very slow process of compilation, there is no value in the information by the time it reaches the various stations. Although this may appear to be a purely operational matter, no police school is complete without training on the method of police records and circulations and the value of the rapid exchange of information. What is badly wanted is a complete re-view of the present system and whether later, it becomes the responsibility of the CC.RR or P.S to maintain proper records, some form of instruction should be given once a plan has been devised.

8. Tele- Communications. The tele-communications system of the CC.RR has never been efficient and they have no plan whereby they can put into circulation information regarding serious crimes, as again this is considered to be the responsibility of the Questura. There is nothing to prevent the CC.RR from acting on their own initiative in this matter concerning serious crimes for which they have accepted responsibility and a scheme similar to the Express Message System operated in England could be started. Whilst a lot of its value would be lost on account of the fact that many stations in out-lying districts are without telephones it is fairly accurate to state that down to Tenenza level they have telephonic facilities and it could be operated at this level with good effect.

9. Finger Prints. Very little use has been made of finger prints as a means of identification by the CC.RR and there are no trained personnel in the service. The Scientific Police Section (P.S.) in Rome have for many years classified finger prints (similar to the Henry system used in England) and are supposed to serve the ~~xxxxxxxxx~~ whole country. The Dept also has a number of trained men attached to Questure throughout the Country. Through the depletion of staff, improper use of trained personnel and lack of interest by responsible officials this section of police work has been sadly neglected, with the result that the police agencies as a whole are not taking advantage of a fairly efficient Finger Print Dept operating in Rome. So far as I can ascertain the CC.RR do not take the finger prints of persons arrested by Carabinieri, as this is considered to be the responsibility of the Questure or prison officials. Lack of liason results in many descrepancies and many persons arrested for serious crimes are not finger printed, although the chances are that they are wanted in other parts of the Country. At the present time the Dept in Rome is used exclusively by the P.S;although as previously stated to a limited degree and apart from a few CC.RR officers who have been stationed in Rome, little is known of its functions by the rank and file of the CC.RR. Some years ago certain Carabinieri stations in the Country were supplied with finger print apparatus sufficient to enable them to take finger prints of prisoners and to develop prints found at the scene of a crime, but the whole subject has long been forgotten or to say the least badly neglected. It is common knowledge that serious crime is rampant throughout the Countrybut the number of sets of finger prints received daily at the Clearing House in Rome, shows only too well that only a small percentage of prisoners are having their prints taken. The same applies to marks found at a scene of crime, it depends on the whims and fancies or degree of interest taken of the individual investigator, as to whether or not an attempt is made to photograph them and submit them for expert examination. Although the Dept in Rome does not have a single finger print collection or classification system, the personnel are always prepared to make a check with any list of suspects which may be submitted either by CC.RR or P.S. from the district where the crime has been committed. The fact that the CC.RR are responsible for dealing with a large percentage of serious crime, generally in places where there is no contact with the P.S. it is important that they should have some knowledge and facilities to make effective use of finger prints.

(b) to assist in the detection of serious crime

I recommend therefore that (1) 25 Tenente or Marescialli be given expert instruction at the Dept in Rome, who in turn could operate at Legion level to deal with marks and traces found at serious crimes .

(2) elementary instruction be given to the students taking the N.C.O.s course at Florence and the cadets in the schools at Rome and Turin.

(3) a supply of finger print cards and equipment for the taking of finger prints of prisoners and at scenes of crime to be kept at each Tenenza.

For this purpose it would be necessary to obtain the co-operation of the Ministry of Interior, so that qualified men could be seconded from the P.S. to the CC.RR schools. No great expense would be entailed and results would soon show that this work is of inestiamble value to the CC.RR.

10 Criminal Investigation Department.

There is no organised Detective Branch in the CC.RR and all enquiriesvare generally speaking conducted by uniformed men. It may be argued that this is unnecessary as in most of the principal towns, special investigation and confidential enquiries are made by the P.S.. It should however be realised that practically the whole of serious crime committed outside the large towns, is investigated by the CC.RR and whilst they may call upon the P.S they rarely do so because in most cases they are more experienced and certainly more competent to deal with it themselves. They are however greatly handicapped by the lack of C.I.D men. I recommend therefore that all Groups should have their own plain clothes personnel, properly trained in Criminal Investigation. They should have specialised knowledge of finger prints, travelling criminals, forensic science and police records. Providing they were mobile and supplied with the necessary equipment, such a branch would fill a badly required need of the CC.RR. Any officer with experience in the field knows that the P.S; are absolutely incompetent and the public have not the slightest faith in them, as law enforcing agents. One of the outstanding needs of the Country at this moment is a force of experienced and fully trained men, capable of tackling the many criminal activities which exist at the present time.

11. Instructors.

One of the chief difficulties in the re-organisation of CC.RR is the lack of instructors in specialised subjects and it is important that the best men should be found and given a special course. There are facilities for this at the school in Florence and this is one of the many items which a Director of Training could supervise.

12. Welfare Officer.

There are many problems in the CC.RR service affecting the individual Carabinieri, such as sport, canteens, libraries and domestic matters which do not at the moment receive adequate attention. A Dept does exist at G.H.Q which the CC.RR and whilst they may call upon the P.S they rarely do so because in most cases they are more experienced and certainly more competent to deal with it themselves. They are however greatly handicapped by the lack of C.I.D men. I recommend therefore that all Groups should have their own plain clothes personnel, properly trained in Criminal Investigation. They should have specialised knowledge of finger prints, travelling criminals, forensic science and police records. II. Instructors.

There are facilities for this at the school in Florence and this is one of the many items which a Director of Training could supervise.

I2. Welfare Officer.

There are many problems in the CC.RR service affecting the individual Carabinieri, such as sport, canteens, libraries and domestic matters which do not at the moment receive adequate attention. A Dept does exist at G.H.Q which is supposed to give assistance but the method of approach is laborious and it does not meet the needs of the man in the field. What is wanted is a Welfare Officer at each Legion to enable the men to have personal contact.

I3. Refresher Courses.

In normal times each Carabinieri is supposed to receive I hours instruction per day from the Maresciallo in charge of the station but it is impossible to give this in many cases owing to the already overburdened Maresciallo. This system is bad and it would be much better to organise refresher courses at a Legion level. In actual fact no refresher courses, apart from local training in the use of automatic arms, have been held during the past 6 yrs and many men are in need of instruction. For this purpose two instructors would be required at each Legion.

I4. Promotion.

So far as officers are concerned promotion has been blocked since 1943 and is affecting the morale of officers and senior N.C.O s . Any influence which can be used to open up promotion would be welcomed and certainly would be in the best interests of the service. So far as the proposed scheme to recruit men direct from civilian life for the N.C.O;s course, is concerned this I feel is a retrogade step and is not popular amongst the men. A better scheme would be, when recuiting to give publicity to the fact that speedy promotion awaits with suitable qualificationsand who have proved themselves , both in school and early years of actual service and allow them to sit for promotion examinations after 3 yrs.

I5. Recreation.

Organised sport is limited at the present time owing to the lack of equipment and sports grounds. Apart from the barrack square there are no facilities at the schools in Rome, Florence or Turin and the provision of a sports ground for each school is required. It should not be difficult to solve this problem locally , providing the necessary funds for rental were forthcoming.

I6. Conclusion.

Many of the recommendations I have made may appear to be ambitious and far reaching in effect but they are all in the interests of the service. It will naturally take time and money, assuming they are accepted, to see the beneficial results. It is impossible to put forward any 'make-shift' or temporary scheme and my suggestions are based on a long term policy. I reiterate that the first step must be to provide proper accommodation, the remainder of the programme could be consolidated as soon as the trained personnel are available. Another important step is to place a person in charge of training who has drive and initiative and who appreciates the real operational problems of the CC.RR, not from a purely military point of view, but who realises the value to the community of an efficient police service. Many suggestions which I have made cannot be included in the present syllabi, as further consideration must be given to them.

Cadet Schools.

At the present time elementary training is being given to schools in Rome, Bari, Turin and Cagliari (Sardinia). Owing to lack of equipment and the failure to maintain the buildings the schools are not working at the maximum. The following is the Italian designation, the number of recruits at present being trained and the maximum number that can be trained per annum.

	At present	Max. Per Ann
(a) Legione Allievi Carabinieri Reali, Caserma Vittorio Emmanule, Via Legnano 3, Rome	I250	3000.

(c) Battaglione Allievi Carabinieri Reali di Bari, Casermette Aeronautica, Bari.	300	500.
(d) Battaglione Allievi Carabinieri Reali di Cagliari, Cagliari, Sardinia.	I00	500.

It will be appreciated that the schools have deteriorated and have been sadly neglected during the War years, i,e buildings, equipment and staff and it will take a considerable time to get them back to any standard of efficiency.

Prior to the War the schools at Rome and Turin catered for all the recruits and those now functioning at Bari and Cagliari, are purely provisional. In view of transport difficulties and the urgent need for Carabinieri these schools will continue to operate until the schools at Rome and Turin can accommodateall the recruits. Inspection of the accommodation at the school in Rome reveals a very unsatisfactory state of affairs. Approx. $\frac{1}{3}$ of the school building is now being occupied by the G.O.C and his staff, who, previously were in other buildings. The result is that the remaining part of the school is overcrowded, although the school is not working to the normal maximum capacity.

The facilities for lecturing and private study are deplorable, in fact they are practically non-existent. Apart from one small ante room where I Coy

The facilities for lecturing and private study are deplorable, in fact they are practically non-existent. Apart from one small ante room where I Coy receives lectures, the remainder of the Coy's are expected to study in the sleeping quarters in the barracks. They are entirely without class rooms or furniture of any description. A most urgent requirement at the moment is proper space where classes can be taken and facilities for private study. This matter has been raised with the War Ministry without satisfactory results. It is impracticable to use this Caserma in Rome for a dual purpose and I strongly recommend that either the whole of the accommodation be returned for training or another building be souhgt. The messing facilities are also very poor and the men are expected to take their meals standing.

Training.

(a) General. The recruits at the schools in Rome, Turin, Bari and Cagliari receive 6 mths training. More than $\frac{1}{2}$ of this time is takem up on foot drill and P.T. Owing to the lack of accommodation referred to, from my own observations at the school in Rome very little other instruction, especially on law and procedure is given. The only part of a Carabinieri's training adequately given at the present time is foot drill and arms drill. The equally important sections law and procedure and elementary scientific training are retarded due to the lack of equipment and space. In view of the urgent need for

Declassified E.O. 12958 Section 3.4(b)(NND) No. 785020

Training (contd)

Carabinieri I have considered recommending this course to be reduced from 6 to 4 mths. It should be borne in mind however that the recruits are only between 17 and 20 yrs of age and not of a high educational standard. The conditions of service in the CC.RR are not considered to be very attractive and it is not surprising to learn that 80% of the entrants come from Central or Southern Italy of 'contadini' stock. In addition to being a law enforcing agent he is also considered to be a first class soldier and to shorten the course would probably affect efficiemcy.

(b) Equitation.

The riding school at present stables 143 horses in fair condition. The buildings, harness and saddlery are in good condition and this establishment is one of the few bright spots in the Rome School. 170 picked students are at present receiving instruction and if found suitable will be used in the Mounted Branch for special duties.

(c) Motorised and Wireless section.

Instruction in the construction and use of motor vehicles is given but is restricted owing to the lack of suitable vehicles. Indents have been made for suitable machines but have not been received. A number of men have already completed special trg with the Italian Army and it is intended to use these as instructors . As soon as radio equipment is available, instruction will be given in the use of wireless.

(d) Weapon Training.

Each student is given a full course in the use of small arms and automatic arms. They are probably more efficient in this than in other part of their traing. This will be on a more sounder basis when the weapons issued to the CC.RR are standardised and sufficient in the school.

(e) Crime Detection and Scientific Aids.

It will be seen from the curriculum which incidentally covers a wide range of subjects, that little instruction, if any, is given to crime detection and the value of scientific aids in this respect. Experience shows that the Carabinieri are usually the first persons called to a serious crime, especially so outside the larger cities and they usually are responible for the investigation. It is agreed by the senior officers that the a/m training is important and arrangements will be made to include this subject in the syllabus.

No mordern police school is complete without facilities to train officers and men in the use of scientific aids in the detection of crime. In this respect the CC,RR are extremely backward. Whilst it may be argued that the CC.RR are not primary responsible for the detection of crime, so long as they are recognised and accepted by the public as being responsible for maintaining law and order, steps should be taken to see that their trg as police officers is complete. In view of their shortcomings in other directins the standard aimed at in this new subject will not be high, and

In view of their shortcomings in other directins the standard aimed at in this new subject will not be high, and providing that the expert lecturers are available I have suggested that a start be made. The difficulty at the present time, is again space and equipment.

Equipment.

In practically all branches of CC.RR training the equipment is extremely bad, in fact almost non-existent and they are in avery sorry plight. There is not one well equipped room in the whole of the school in Rome where an organised class could be taken. The same applies to the P.T and gym equipment and immediate consideration must be given to this before any trg plan can be put into effect. I am told that representations have been made to the War Ministry on this matter by the CC.RR but the question of expenditure appears to be the stumbling block. There may be some items which can be obtained by improvisation and every effort is being made in this direction.

Syllabi

The syllabus for the Cadets course covers a wide field and is well prepared but I doubt whether it is being given in its present form. The extent to which it can be given depends on school accommodation and equipment and more important still the availability of trained instructors. Providing the Italian Government is prepared to spend a considerable amount of money on the a/m , the syllabus provides for a foundation for an efficient police service

School for Sotto-Ufficiale . (N.C.O.s)

There is one school for the traing of senior N.C.O.s i,e

Up to and including the present time all students are recruited from the CC.RR. They consist of either junior N.C.O.s or Carabinieri with special qualifications or of outstanding merit. A new entrance scheme has now been put to the War Ministry whereby it is proposed to take only $\frac{1}{3}$ from the CC.RRR and the remaining number direct from civilian classes. The course for the latter section will take 2 yrs, whereas the course for the men with previous CC.RR experience occupies 9 mths, as at present. This proposed change has already caused some discontentment and alarm amongst the ranks, because under this schema it is realised by the average Carabinieri that his chances of promotion to senior N.C.O are very remote.

In the past the promotion to Maresciallo (equal to our Staff Sgt) takes about I5 yrs to achieve and this is one of the reasons, if not the main reason, which deter men of higher educational qualifications from joining the ranks of the CC.RR. The aim of the War Ministry should be to raise the standard of the CC.RR by improving conditions of service and the result would undoubtedly be an improvement in the type of recruit.

Training.

An excellent syllabus has been prepared for the N.C.O.s Course and this is I am told being given at the present time. If this is the case then it is far in advance of the Cadets School in Rome. Experience has shown that the experienced N.C.O is generally a good man and well trained. As in the case of the Cadets School he receives very little specialised training on the investigation of crime and it is proposed to include this in the curriculum.

Officers. School.

Recruiting.

In the past $\frac{1}{3}$ of the students have been recruited from experienced N.C.O.s who had passed the Senior N.C.O.s Course at Florence and these were given a further 2 yrs training at a special school in Modena, passing out as 2/Lts.

The remainder are recruited from officers of other arms of the Services with suitable qualifications.

At the present time out of 1425 officers on the w/e, approx. 50% are reserve officers or time expired, consequently the position so far as officers are concerned is very bad.

A proposal was made a short time ago that 300 officers should be recruited immediately under the following scheme:-

(a) $\frac{1}{3}$ from time serving officers in the Infanatry, Cavalry, Artillery and Engineers.

(b) $\frac{1}{3}$ from other officers with suitable qualifications who have served with distinction with recognised partisan units.

Declassified E.O. 12065 Section 3-402/NNDC No. 18502

Officers (contd)

(c) ⅓ from Senior N.C.O.s who were successful in the examinations of 1943.

There is every reason to believe that this scheme will be approved and a War Ministry Decree is expected in the near future.

Training.

A very comprehensive course has been prepared in readiness for an early resumption of trg but much remains to be done in the way of obtaining the necessary accommodation and equipment . The number catered for on each course will be approx. 70 and is expected to take 6 mths to complete. A further report will be submitted when this scheme has been approved.

Instructors.- Training.

In the past no special course has been given for Instructors and officers and men have been selected without having had any special training (except P.T instructors. I have stressed the importance of this and consideration is being given to the proposal that an instructors course should be started. The over riding question in this, is again that of equipment and accommodation.

Conclusion.

It is plain to see even from a cursory inspection that so far as schools and training are concerned the CC.RR have been sadly neglected and very little improvement will be made unless a considerable amount is spent and adequate accommodation found . To put it at its best the Central Cadets School in Rome is an old and somewhat dilapidated building and it is extremely important that the whole of it should be made available for training , in the absence of a better building. The fact that approx.⅓ of it is used for another purpose has a paralysing affect on the training programme and every effort should be made to remedy this at the earliest possible moment. This is by no means a complete report and only touches the surface of CC.RR training, given the necessary time I shall no doubt find many other bad features and I shall submit recommendations.

SUBJECT; Programme of instructions to be given to cadet CCRR at the schools in ROME, TURIN, BARI and CAGLIARI.

While passing the directives for the performance of instructions to be given to cadets, I point out;

1)- The programme of theoretical-practical instructions will be performed in six months, viz. in 25 weeks of work, and will commence within the next week after the destination of the class in a unit.
It is divided in three periods;

(a) PERIOD OF ONE MONTH INSTRUCTION

In this period pupils will be given instructions intended to give them general idea and prepare them to the service and the life in the barracks.

(b) PERIOD OF 4 MONTH INSTRUCTION.

the real military instruction (drill instr.);
Professional instruction of the carabiniere.

(c) PERIOD OF ONE MONTH INSTRUCTION.

Repetitions and preparations for final examination.

2)- The cadets, immediately after their definitive admission, are divided in companies for the different classes of instruction which correspond at the maximum, to the strength of a platoon.

3)- One officer or Maresciallo Maggiore will be appointed for the instruction of a class, from its beginning to the end, i.e. until the promotion of the cadets. This officer or Maresciallo

3)- One officer or Maresciallo Maggiore will be appointed for the instruction of a class, from its beginning to the end i.e. until the promotion of the cadets. This officer or Maresciallo will be responsible before the commander of unit for the results of instructions. He is assisted by a NCO chief of class and, if necessary, by one or two corporals, = second instructors.

4)- Each class of recruits receive the same instruction which is reviewed before the end of each course and the necessary adjustmen ments made..

5)- The cadets who have not completed the rifle and small arms course and have not had the territorial service course, normally will not be employed on guard duties, except in exceptional circumstances.

6)- Daily leave will be granted to junior cadets when the commanders of detatchments are satisfied that they can salute properly, have a good militay appearance and have been instructed sufficiently to appear outside the barrack with credit. Instructions will be given to cadets in "leave uniform" in order to accustom them with the salute with the military baton.

7)- At the end of first period of instruction, the commanders of of companies and battailions will verify if any single cadet is set to be admitted to the second course.
The cadets unset to the second course will be admitted again to the first period after a fortnight, so that his promotion to the carabinieri will suffer a delay of 15 days.
The final examination for the promotion to the carabinieri is given in the second part of the 5th month of instruction, and it is given before a commission formed with the commanders of the company and of the platon; which commission will give its opinion on the state of preparation of the cadet. The undersigned can intervent when the judice of the commission is not definitive.

If the opinion of the commission is contrary, the cadet will be re-examined 1(days later and his promotion to carabinieri will be delied consequently.

The final examination excludes, beside the verbal questioning, a brief written examination.

After the examination names of deserving instructors (officers, NCOs and Corporals) will be reported to the Legion HQ with the notes of commander concerning proposals for reward, praise etc.

On 15 and 30 of each month the commander of the battalion will report names of cadets to be given a praise-leave (3 per cent of the present strength) as reward for good conduct, activity and good votes obtained during the examination.

8)- Normally, the cadets have the promotion to carabiniere within the last fortnight of six month after their enrolemnt to the Legion.

Special promotions: Cadets who have the graduation certificate (technical school, supplementary school, first class of superior school, etc.) may be promoted carabinieri at the end of 5th month.

= Practical instruction will be given , generally in Companies or Battalions with the participation of all officers, N.C.O. s and Instructors of the Units.

= as it is prescribed by the 'Rule of discipline N. 39I', the Commanders of the Coys must take an active part in the instruction and not limit themselves to the simple 'act of presence'. A particular effort is to be made for the moral education of cadets bearing in mind that:-

(a) the part of the moral educator is that of an officer, especially the commander of a unit.

(b) every occasion is to be used to bring a beneficial influence on the minds of young cadets and have them trained and prepared so that they always feel their sense of duty, discipline and responsibility.

Particular instruction is to be given on individual training as this is the principal basis of the training of the whole Unit. Practical instruction will be given gradually and methodically Collective instruction will not be given until any single man has not shown capacity in individual movement.

Particular care is to be paidto drill instruction in the first period. Then, it will be repeated during the second period accordingly to the development of instruction.

During the practical instructions on CCRR service, particular care is to be paid to details concerning transport of prisoners, patrols search of persons and premises, arrest of suspected persons, rule for the accertainment of personal particulars.

All instructions are not to be limited to the only explanation of fules, but are to be completed by some example

The arming of cadets is not to be a simple act of ordinary administration, but must have the importance of a ceremony for the whole unit, to which all officers, NCOs and men have to take part. On such an occasion the commander of the unit will briefly explain to the men their condition of privilege upon the other citizens, as soldiers and agents of public forces, and their duty concerning the keeping and use of arms.

Exercises on firing are to be commenced as soon as the cadets have had the necessary preparation on use and pointing of arms, and in any way, not before the end of the first month of instruction.

PROGRAMMA DELLE ISTRUZIONI DA IMPARTIRSI AGLI

ALLIEVI CARABINIERI

382

Declassified E.O. 12065 Section 3-402/NNDC No. T8520

LEGIONE ALLIEVI CARABINIERI REALI ROMA
Ufficio Servizio

OGGETTO: Programma delle istruzioni da impartirsi agli allievi carabinieri.

.....INDIRIZZI OMESSI.....

Nel comunicare le direttive per lo svolgimento delle istruzioni da impartirsi agli allievi, premetto:

1°)- il programma delle istruzioni teorico-pratiche, si svolge in sei mesi - corrispondenti a 25 settimane utili - e si inizia dalla prima settimana successiva a quella di destinazione della classe al reparto.

Esso si suddivide in tre periodi:

I°) PERIODO DI ISTRUZIONE DELLA DURATA DI UN MESE
-gli allievi attendono esclusivamente ad istruzioni preliminari di orientamento e di preparazione alla vita ed al servizio di caserma;

2°) PERIODO DI ISTRUZIONE DELLA DURATA DI 4 MESI
-istruzione militare propriamente detta;
-istruzione professionale del carabiniere.

3°) PERIODO DI ISTRUZIONE DELLA DURATA DI UN MESE
-ricapitolazione e ripetizione generale per gli esami finali;

2°)- gli allievi, subito dopo la loro definitiva incorporazione, vengono assegnati alle compagnie, per classi d'istruzione, corrispondenti, di massima, alla forza di un plotone;

3°)- all'istruzione di ciascuna classe - dal momento della sua formazione e sino alla promozione degli elementi che la costituiscono é preposto lo stesso ufficiale o maresciallo maggiore c.s. comandante di plotone, il quale risponde, poi, verso il proprio comandante di reparto, dei risultati conseguiti. E' coadiuvato da un sottufficiale capo classe e - a seconda dei casi - da uno o due graduati istruttori, in sott'ordine;

4°)- ogni classe di allievi svolge con uguale progressione il programma d'istruzione - qual'é annualmente concretato, in base alle presenti direttive, nei reparti di battaglione - sotto la personale direzione del comandante di compagnia;

5°)- gli allievi che non abbiano completato il tiro col moschetto e non abbiano svolto il programma riflettente il servizio territoriale non possono, normalmente, essere impiegati nei servizi di guardia. Quando però abbiano eseguito almeno le prime due lezioni di tiro, tanto col moschetto quanto con la pistola, possono - in mancanza di elementi più anziani - considerarsi disponibili per eventuali servizi di picchetto armato e di rinforzo.

6°)- gli allievi sono ammessi a fruire di libera uscita quando i comandanti di reparto si siano personalmente assicurati ch'essi sappiano bene eseguire il saluto,abbiano assunto portamento militare e siano sufficientemente istruiti per bene regolarsi fuori caserma.
Per meglio addestrarli al saluto col cappello,saranno fatti opportunamente intervenire in tenuta di libera uscita ad apposite istruzioni pratiche;

Declassified E.O. 12065 Section 3-402/NNDC NO. 16522

7°)- al termine del I° periodo d'istruzione l'allievo sarà vagliato da parte dei rispettivi comandanti di compagnia e di battaglione sulla idoneità all'ammissione al 2° periodo.
Gli allievi non dichiarati idonei sono rimandati a nuovo vaglio al termine della quindicina successiva e,conseguentemente,ritardano poi la promozione a carabiniere di tante quindicine,per quante é ritardata la loro ammissione al 2° periodo.
Gli esami finali per la promozione a carabiniere si svolgono,invece, nel corso della seconda decade successiva al 5° mese d'istruzione,davanti ad una commissione composta dal comandante della compagnia e dal comandante di plotone,la quale emetterà giudizio sulla idoneità degli allievi. Al sottoscritto é devoluta la facoltà di intervenire, in caso di discrepanze di giudizio.
Se l'esito é sfavorevole,gli allievi sono rimandati alla quindicina successiva,per nuovi esami,con conseguente ritardo nella data di promozione a carabiniere.
Gli esami finali per la promozione a carabiniere comprendono - oltre che interrogazioni orali sulle materie del programma - un elementare saggio di scritturazione.
Ad esami ultimati,verranno eventualmente segnalati al comando legionale - con le opportune proposte di encomi,di gratificazioni,ecc.- quegli istruttori,ufficiali o graduati,che si siano particolarmente distinti per i risultati ottenuti nell'istruzione delle classi loro affidate.
Analogamente,il 15 ed il 30 di ciascun mese,verranno proposti dai comandi di battaglione,per la concessione di licenza-premio,in ragione del 3 per cento della forza presente,quegli allievi che più si distinsero per condotta,attività e zelo,e che riportarono i migliori risultati agli esami per la promozione a carabiniere.

8°)- gli allievi conseguono,normalmente,la promozione a carabiniere,allo scadere della quindicina in cui compiono sei mesi di permanenza alla legione,computati dalla data di arruolamento.
Promozione a scelta: gli allievi,provvisti di titolo di studio - da comprovarsi mediante presentazione di certificato legale - possono conseguire la promozione a scelta a carabiniere,al termine del quinto mese di permanenza alla legione.
I titoli di studio validi per il conseguimento della promozione a scelta sono:licenza tecnica,licenza complementare,ammissione al ginnasio superiore e titoli equipollenti.
Sarà cura dei comandanti di battaglione - mercé compilazione di apposito programma - perché gli aspiranti alla promozione a scelta possano completare la loro istruzione tecnico-pratica,nel termine ridotto di cinque mesi.

9°)- quindicinalmente,alle date stabilite,i comandanti di compagnia,trasmetteranno,per via gerarchica,al comando di legione,gli elenchi di proposta per la promozione,ordinaria e a scelta,degli allievi che,avendo l'anzianità prescritta,siano stati riconosciuti idonei lenchi di proposta per la promozione,ordinaria e a scelta,degli allie-vi che,avendo l'anzianità prescritta,siano stati riconosciuti idonei alla promozione,avvertendo che,per le promozioni ordinarie,si richie-de,un periodo minimo di 150 giornate di effettiva presenza alle istruzioni.

Di norma,per condotta,la promozione é ritardata di una quindicina quan-do si tratti di punizioni lievi (non oltre 5 giorni di camera di punizione semplice);

di una o più quindicine,a criterio dei superiori gerarchici,per punizioni più gravi.

Nello svolgimento,infine,delle istruzioni da impartirsi agli allievi raccomando che:

-le istruzioni teoriche siano svolte per classe,sotto la direzione dell'ufficiale subalterno o maresciallo maggiore c.s.ad esse preposto;

-le istruzioni pratiche siano invece - di massima - compiute per compagnie o per battaglione e con l'intervento,quindi,di tutti gli ufficiali,sottufficiali e carabinieri istruttori;

-i comandanti di compagnia intervengano,come é loro fatto obbligo dal n.301 del regolamento di disciplina,con direttive e controllo su tutte le istruzioni e che il loro non sia un ""atto di presenza"" ma direzione effettiva ed efficace nelle istruzioni;

-sia spiegato massimo interessamento per l'educazione morale dell'allievo,tenendo presente che:

a) la funzione di educatore é essenzialmente riservata all'ufficiale ed al comandante di reparto in specie;
b) bisogna trarre motivo di ogni occasione favorevole,per influire benficamente sulla mente e sul cuore dei giovani allievi per plasmare gli animi al sentimento del dovere e della disciplina;

-particolare cura sia portata alle istruzioni individuali perché,essendo esse la base dell'addestramento dei reparti,quanto più curato e perfezionato sarà l'addestramento individuale,tanto più rapido ed efficace sarà l'addestramento collettivo;

-nelle istruzioni pratiche siano adottati criteri di progressione graduale e metodiche,non passando mai a movimenti ed esercizi collettivi,se prima l'allievo non abbia preso ad eseguire bene i movimenti individuali;

-l'istruzione formale sia particolarmente ed intensamente curata nel primo periodo di istruzione:essa seguirà quindi,scopi e metodi diversi,nei vari periodi di istruzione;

-nelle istruzioni pratiche sul servizio d'istituto siano principalmente curate quelle riguardanti le traduzioni,le pattuglie,le perquisizioni personali e domiciliari,il fermo di persone sospette,le norme per la richiesta delle generalità;

-l'istruzione,qualunque essa sia,non consista soltanto nella esposizione e spiegazione dell'argomento trattato,ma sia integrata da esempi;

Men who are called to do their 18 months compulsory military training (at the moment between 19/20 yrs old), may volunteer to serve in the CC.RR. If accepted they ~~xxxxx~~ attend the normal 6 months initial training course.

At the end of the 18 months they may apply to become regular CC.RR, are accepted if vacancies exsist.

ANNUAL RECRUITMENT. Officers. As before stated, at the moment no officers are being recruited and a number of reserve officers are still serving. Approx 100 recruited before the war.

O.Rs. It is very difficult to asscess the number of men recruited annually, 1. As afterthe twelfth year the carabinieri sign on yearly, so that it is not known who will be serving at any one time.

2. There is always the fluctuating reserve of trained carabinieri, who may or may not sign,on from the men serving their period of compulsory Army training.

3. When the new scheme is passed, the number of civilians entering for senior NCOs course if under requirements will govern the number of CC.RR who will take the course.

Approx number of recruits between 3,000 - 4000 per year.

PROMOTION

Officers. Promotion is based on vacancies. If he has any special qualifications he may apply for, and if passed, be advanced approx 1 year up the waiting list.

ORs. From CC.RR to Cpl is based on a vacancy, and for the ordinary man will take approx 10 yrs.

Promotion to Senior NCO as already stated is based on the man attaining the required standard of education.

TRAINING

No special requirements are required of CC.RR officers than those already mentioned.

There are no specialists, all appear to be expected to know everything.

Approx 10 years ago officers were recruited from other arms and reported direct to Legion HQs, so that before the war there were courses at FLORENCE for officers already in the Corps.

However with the present scheme of officers passing through FLORENCE before being posted to the Corps, refresher courses are not now run. Officers are expected to keep their knowledge up to date by their own study.
