ITALIAN MERCANTILE MARINE - PROPOSED TRANSFER OF

With reference to your letter N3C/1701 dated 24th February, 1945, it is confirmed that the position remains unchanged from that existing in June 1944 when a similar proposal was refused.

2. Apart from the operational reasons which make it essential that the Italian Mercantile Marine should remain under the Italian Minister of Marine, any transfer of control might possibly interfere with the implementation of Peace Terms.

MINISTERO DEI TRASPORTI
GABINETTO

ROME, 8th of Feb. 1945.

Subject: Competence of the Ministry of Transports.

To Col. L. D. Densmore
Allied Commission
Rome.

As it is known with the Decree Luogoteniale of the 12th of December 1944 No. 113, the Ministry of Communications was divided into two distinct Ministries, the Ministry of Transport and that of the Posto e Telecomunicazioni.

During the appropriate determinations of the services and competences of the new Ministries, this Ministry assenting to the often repeated requests of the Italian Shipowners and of the Aeronautics Associations, verbally and by the press, proposes that the services of the Mercantile Marine and that of the Civil Aviation be attached to this Ministry.

In Italy, the "Sottosegretariato" of the Mercantile Marine has, indeed, always been dependent of this Ministry of Transport, before that this Ministry has been absorbed by the Ministry of Communications.

Only with the Royal Decree of the 1st. of November 1943 N.4/B, in consequence of the measures taken by the Military Allied Government on all Mercantile Fleet, was provided for a temporary passage of the same "Sottosegretariato" to the War Navy.

The service of the Civil Aviation had, then it's original source from the Ministry of Transports, and only in consequence of the military arrangement of the past regime, was detached and joined to the Air Ministry as an activity of minor importance.

Such is, nevertheless, the arrangement of most progressive democratic countries.

Consequently, a reorganization of the administration of Transport, moreover now that transport represent the most vital exigency of this country, it is necessary that both the services of the Mercantile Marine and that of the Civil Aviation, should return to depend upon this Ministry.

To co-ordinate the scarce means presently at disposal a "Comitato Interministeriale" has already been constituted within this Ministry (as previous note of the 27th of January 1945 N. 1655/UL/118.B) but the co-ordination of the means is not easy when various administrations interfere, and is inadequate to the necessities, if an impulse is not given to increment the reconstruction and development of the same means.

Such activity will not be in condition to begin and brought to a good end otherwise than with an administration that comprehends all the services in matter of transports with relative responsibility.

The problem then, is not only of co-operation, but of unison.

Meanwhile, before proposing such unison, this Ministry will appreciate an advise from that Commission.

The Italian Merchant Marine is operated by the Naval Allied CINC-Mediterranean through MEDBO under the provisions of paragraph 5 of the Cunningham Agreement. The Italian Director General of the Merchant Marine is under the Ministry of Marine. Subject: seamen, natives of Trieste and Istria.

As your Command is aware, for some time the Port Security Officers at Bari and Taranto do not allow seamen who are natives of Trieste and Istria to embark in Italian ships, and they are struck off the crew list.

Consequently, in this manner the work of de-nationalization carried out by Yugoslav agents is facilitated.

The Ministry, for example, is in possession of statements signed up <sup>of</sup> seamen from the above areas who, induced by their desperate situation due to unemployment, are obliged to accept being taken on in Yugoslav ships and have signed documents in the Croatian language - considered to be <sup>of</sup> benefit in signing - on paper - which were really renunciations of their Italian citizenship.

This giving up of citizenship is not legally valid, but it is indicative of the illegal systems used against Italian citizens and of the inconveniences caused by the instructions emanating from the Port Security.

1. Reference (a) stated that the Port Security Officer, Naples did not allow an Italian First Officer to embark on merchant vessel CAMPIDOGLIO and requests that consideration be given to cancellation of present security regulations in favor of an arrangement by which merchant seamen would be vetted jointly by the Allied Port Security Officer and the Italian Captaincies of the Port. Reference (a) further states that "all merchant seamen from German-occupied territory are forbidden to embark on Italian or Allied ships."

2. Reference (b) states that Port Security Officers have not allowed seamen who are natives of Trieste and Istria to embark in Italian ships.

3. As the Navy Sub-Commission is not aware of the circular mentioned in paragraph 1 of reference (a), definite comments in regard to its terms are not possible. If available, it is requested that a copy be forwarded to this office. However, the current port security regulations of which this office is cognizant do not indicate that all merchant seamen from German-occupied territory are forbidden to embark on Italian or Allied ships or that seamen from certain areas, such as Istria or Trieste, are forbidden to embark on Italian ships.

4. Such regulations permit Italian seamen to sign on Allied controlled ships (other than Italian ships) when their services are required to replace original crew members and when they hold Italian Seaman's Books issued in Allied Occupied Italy. Naturally, each merchant seaman who is a candidate for a position on an Allied Controlled ship, is vetted carefully by an Allied Security Officer at which time consideration is given to his past associations and the length of time he has been in occupied Italy.

5. In regard to Italian vessels, any Italian seaman may be signed on such ships subject to satisfactory vetting. At the time of

1) On 29th Aug. the Counter Intelligence Corps-Port Security Office-Naples did not allow First Officer Capt. (long service) MARCHI Guido di Vittorio, 1905 Class Service N° 13616 of Trieste, to embark aboard M/V "CAMPIDOGLIO".

The R. Captaincy of the Port at Naples contacted C.I.C. direct to find out the reason for this and so were informed that, in a recent secret circular from Allied Supreme Command to come into effect immediately, all Merchant Seamen from German-occupied territory are forbidden to embark in Italian or Allied Ships.

The circular states that as and when territory is liberated Merchant Seamen there will be given an opportunity to embark after being screened by the Police in each case.

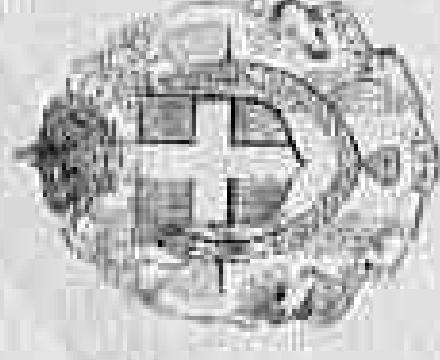

2) This Ministry desires to point out that the above order severely hits a large number of Merchant Seamen who are now far away from their families and homes, many of whom have voluntarily passed through serious danger to collaborate with the United Nations Merchant Navies, depriving them of any chance of making a living.

3) It is suggested therefore that the Authorities concerned be approached to cancel this order in view of the critical situation of these men who, without means, find that they are unable to exercise their profession, substituting it by an arrangement whereby the R.Captaincies of the Port, in conjunction with the various Port Security Offices of C.I.C., examine each case attentively and be considered competent, after the proper screening, to declare these Merchant Seamen as fit or otherwise to embark.

1. Il 29 Agosto il Counter Intelligence Corps - Port Security Office - di Napoli ha proibito l'imbarco sul P/f "CAMPIDOGLIO" della Società di navigazione "Adriatica" al 1º Ufficiale Capitano di Lungo Corso MARCHI Guido di Vittorio, cl.1905 metr. 13616 di Trieste.

La R.Capitaneria di Porto di Napoli, allo scopo di accertare il motivo del provvedimento, ha preso subito contatto diretto con il predetto C.I.C. e così è venuto a conoscenza che, in base ad una circolare segreta recentissima, emanata dal Comando Supremo Alleato, con effetto immediato viene proibito l'imbarco sulle navi italiane e su quelle alleate indistintamente a tutti i marittimi appartenenti ai Compartimenti esistenti nel territorio ancora occupato dalle forze tedesche.

La circolare precisa che, man mano che verranno liberati i territori, sarà data ai marittimi di cui trattasi la possibilità d'imbarco previo, beninteso, accertamenti di polizze, caso per caso.

2. Questo Ministero desidera far presente che il predetto numero susposto colpisce in modo grave un numero notevole di marittimi attualmente lontani dalle loro famiglie e residenze, spesso volontariamente accorsi, attraverso gravi pericoli, a collaborare con la Marina Mercantile delle Nazioni Unite, privandoli di ogni possibilità di sostentamento.

3. Si prospetta pertanto l'opportunità di interessare le competenti Autorità affinchè il provvedimento sia revocato, facendo presente la situazione gravissima ed insostenibile dei marittimi che, senza mezzi, si vedono così preclusa ogni possibilità di esercitare il loro mestiere, sostituendo una disposizione per cui le R.R.Capitanerie di Porto d'accordo con i vari "Port Security Offices" del C.I.C. esaminino attentamente caso per caso e siano competenti, dopo esperite le indagini opportune, a dichiarare idonei o non idonei all'imbarco i marittimi di cui trattasi.

PORt SECURITY INSTRUCTION NO. 557 (ITALY).

SUBJECT: Control of Italian Schooners.

TO : See Distribution.

1. The increasing number of Italian Schooners now being employed in the Allied Service has made it desirable that a stricter control of all schooners be introduced both as regards (a) registration (b) the area in which they may be employed and (c) security check of crews.

2. C-in-C, Mediterranean has introduced a number of regulations which are summarised below:-

✓ (i) All Italian schooners and coastal vessels are to be assigned a serial number, prefixed by port identity letters.

(ii) Schooners are not permitted to ply between Italy - Sardinia: Italy - Corsica: Sicily - Corsica: Sicily - Sardinia: Sicily - North Africa and Tunisia (Schooner traffic is permissible between Sicily and the mainland of Italy: Sicily and Malta: Pantelleria and Tunisia).

(iii) An up-to-date crew list must be appended to the voyage permit submitted by the Italian authorities to N.C.S.O. except in the case of R.A.S.C. controlled vessels when this will be submitted by the R.A.S.C. detachment or escort. This voyage permit with crew list attached will not be stamped by the N.C.S.O. unless the crew list has been approved by F.S.P. or C.I.C. 5508

At ports where no F.S.P. or C.I.C. exist, the crew list is to be approved by the Capitano del Porto.

(iv) If any objection is raised on security grounds by the Port Security authorities, the individual objected to is to be prevented from sailing.

They will be carried only for purposes directly concerned with the war effort or when essential to the economic necessities of the locality.

- (vi) The onus of keeping the crew list up to date rests upon the Master of the vessel.

The crew list attached to the voyage permit will be stamped by Port Security immediately after the last name. This will indicate to the forward port up to what point Security has particulars of the crew and will also indicate to the N.C.S.O. that Security has approved the crew list allowing him to stamp the voyage permit. (Stamps used by Security Control should NOT indicate the number of the unit concerned - e.g. 408 F.S. Section).

5. Port Security at the port which originally stamps the crew list will keep a copy of the list and subsequent ports need only record changes. The letter will continue to be reported as per Circular No. 551. Reference can always be made back to the original port if necessary.

6. The carrying of passengers will be strictly confined to those travelling in aid of the war effort or when necessary to the economic necessity of the locality. Passengers will under no conditions be allowed on voyages Sicily - Malta; Pantelleria - Tunisia. All passengers carried will be seen in the same way as new members of crew and S.I.G. sent to this office, except for those passengers travelling between Naples and adjacent islands and between Sicily and the mainland; particular regard will be shown in reports as to reason for journey. If a passenger is found aboard contrary to C-in-C Med's instructions, a full enquiry will be made and the matter reported immediately to the nearest

THE PRESIDENCY OF THE COUNCIL OF MINISTERS

Rome, 16 October 1944.

Dear Comodore,

I refer to your letter n. A/GV/010 of September 11th concerning the registry offices of sailors.

As I told you in my letter of August 2nd, the control of naval authorities on the registry offices means to avoid two inconveniences: fee and indiscriminate embarkation.

The possibility of admission for embarking is subordinated to the payment of a fee, thus annulling the right to embark acquired by the sailor according to the priority of inscription in the registries of the offices, ie according to the longest period of unemployment.

The embarking of sailors whose technical ability hasn't been tested and whose penal and political precedents haven't been looked into exposes the shippers to get crews of doubtful capacity and ability. It may also imply the inclusion of turbulent elements in the crew, who might cause incidents in foreign ports; besides, it might help the expropriation of people who got in trouble with the law.

For these reasons, before the fascist regime, in 1919, the registry offices were declared to fulfill a public function, and they were entrusted to the capitanerie of the ports, so that they wouldn't be submitted to uncontrollable personal influence or interferences.

These motives still have full value, the more so because of the war, which makes it necessary to get very good crews, well disciplined or born as well as in foreign ports. A severe control of the penal and political precedents of the sailors must be made, to avoid the expropriation of individuals who were compromised during the last regime.

It is obvious that this is a function of the state, which can only be fulfilled by organs of the government.

Now, for instance, from what has been referred to me by the Direzioni Generale della Marina Mercantile, in apiles, where the registry office has been made dependent from the "Ufficio Centrale di Mares", requests for fees have already been made. This seems to show that to make this office dependent from an uncontrolled syndical association, not free from party influence, does not give the guarantee of impartiality which could be obtained through the control of the capitanerie of the ports, organs of the Navy Department.

It is useless to add that when the sailors were embarked because val authorities on embarkation or disembarkation;

veniences; fee and indiscriminate embarkation.
The possibility of admission for embarkation is subordinated to the payment of a fee, thus annulling the right to embark acquired by the sailor according to the priority of inscription in the register of the offices, is according to the longest period of unemployment.

The embarkation of sailors whose technical liability hasn't been tested and whose moral and political preconditions haven't been looked into entitles the shipowners to get crews of doubtful capacity and ability.
Besides the inclusion of turbulent elements in the crew, it may also imply the inclusion of foreign ports; besides, it might help the right causes incidents in foreign ports.

The embarkation of two to who got in trouble with the law.

For these reasons, before the capitalist regime, in 1919, the regulatory offices were declared to fulfill a public function, and they were entrusted to the capitalists of the ports, so that they wouldn't be submitted to uncontrollable personal influences or interferences.

Please motives still have full value, the more so because of the help, which makes it necessary to get very good crews, will disciplined on board as well as is foreign ports. A severe control of the men and political preconditions of the seafarers must be made, to avoid the expatriation of individuals who were compromised during the past regime.

It is obvious that this is a function of the state, which can only be fulfilled by organs of the Government.
Now, for instance, from what has been referred to me by the Directorate General of the Union Centra di mare, request for fees has been made dependent from the Union Centra di mare, request for fees have already been made. This shows to show that to make this office independent from an uncontrolled syndical association not free from party influence, does not give the guarantee of impartiality which could be obtained through the control of the Capitalism of the ports, organs of the Navy Department.

It is useless to add that when the seafarers were embarked because they had paid a fee, their ability and preconditions were probably estimated in a rather unreliable way.
For these reasons, I suggest that, the registry offices should remain under control of the Capitalism of the ports, to of the Navy Department, at least while the Italian merchant marine is engaged in a task of such vital importance for the country.

I remain, my dear Commodity,

yours very truly,

Caro Comandante,

mi riferisco alla Sua lettera numero A/CC/040 dell'11 settembre u.s. relativa agli uffici di collocamento per marittimi.-

Come ebbi a farLe presente nella mia lettera del 2 agosto u.s., il controllo dell'Autorità marittima sugli uffici di collocamento mira ad ovviare a due inconvenienti: la senseria e la indiscriminazione degli imbarchi.-

La senseria, subordinando al pagamento di un indebito premio la possibilità di ammissione all'imbarco, annulla il diritto all'imbarco stesso, acquisito dal marittimo in base alla priorità dell'iscrizione nei registri degli uffici di collocamento e, cioè, al maggior periodo di disoccupazione.-

L'imbarco di marittimi, dei quali non siano stati valutati né i requisiti tecnici nè i precedenti penali e politici, espone gli armatori a disporre di equipaggi di non sicura capacità ed efficienza. D'altro canto, esso può comportare l'inclusione di elementi turbolenti negli equipaggi, con i conseguenti incidenti che possono nascere nei porti stranieri, e può infine consentire l'espatrio di individui interessati ad eludere i rigori della giustizia.-

E' per queste considerazioni che già in epoca prefascista, e precisamente nel 1919, fu riconosciuta agli uffici di collocamento una funzione di ordine pubblico e che fu stabilito di affidare i medesimi alla vigilanza delle Capitanerie di porto, onde sottrarli ad ingerenze ed influenze personali, non controllabili.

Gli stessi motivi sembrano sussistere tuttora, aggravati dalla situazione di guerra, che esige la scelta di equipaggi particolarmente efficienti, disciplinati sia a bordo che nei porti stranieri ed il controllo più accurato sui precedenti penali e politici dei marittimi, per evitare l'espatrio di individui compromessi con il passato regime.

Ora è evidente che l'espletamento di siffatte mansioni è funzione statale e come tale non può essere assolta che da organi governativi.

Venendo infine ai casi concreti, secondo quanto mi è stato riferito dalla Direzione Generale della Marina Mercantile, a Napoli, ove l'ufficio di collocamento è stato trasferito alle dipendenze della "Unione Gente del Mare", si sarebbe già verificato qualche caso di senseria. Ciò permetterebbe di far ritenere che il trasferimento di tale ufficio alle dipendenze di una associazione sindacale non controllata, non esente dalle influenze dei singoli partiti, non fornisca quelle garanzie di imparzialità che sarebbe possibile ottenere mediante il controllo delle Capitanerie di porto, organi del Ministero della Marina.

E' infine superfluo rilevare che nei casi nei quali i marittimi abbiano potuto ottenere l'imbarco pagando una sussersione, è pensabile che la valutazione dei loro requisiti e precedenti non offra garanzie di assoluta attendibilità.

Questi sono i motivi che mi hanno indotto a suggerire che, almeno durante il periodo nel quale la Marina Mercantile Italiana è impegnata in compiti di così vitale interesse per il Paese, gli uffici di collocamento restino sotto il controllo delle Capitanerie di porto, cioè, in definitiva, del Ministero della Marina.

Mi creda, caro Comandante, con molta cordialità

My dear Mr. Prime Minister:

Your letter No. 1016/13.8 of 2 August 1944 requested that consideration be given to the re-establishment of employment offices for Italian Merchant Seamen.

My reply, A/CC 040, dated 12 August, informed you that the matter was under consideration and indicated that particulars as to the facts involved would assist materially in determining the merits of the proposed re-establishment of the employment offices under the Italian Port Captaincies.

Prior to reaching a final decision on the matter, information is desired as to whether you propose to supply additional facts as suggested in my letter of 12 August.

1. The President of the Council of Ministers of the Italian Government in enclosure (A) has requested the Allied Control Commission to consider favorably the possibility of allowing the re-establishment of employment offices for Italian Merchant Seamen under the Port Captaincies.

2. Enclosure (B) contains the policy of the Labor Sub-Commission, ACC, and indicates that the employment offices were properly suppressed and that they should not be re-established.

4. Prior to notifying the President of the Council of Ministers of the policy expressed in enclosure (B), comments are desired regarding inconvenience which might be caused by the refusal of the Allied Control Commission to allow the re-establishment of the employment offices. 1. Reference is made to your letter of 23 August and attached copies of letters from the Council of Ministers and the Shipping Sub-Commission with reference to the re-establishment of employment offices for Italian Merchant Seamen under the Port Captaincies.

2. The policy of the Labor Sub-Commission is that these Offices have been rightly suppressed and should not be re-established. Where special offices are needed for Italian Merchant seamen they may be established as branches of the Provincial Labor Offices and under their jurisdiction.

The policy is applicable to Italian Government territory as well as to Allied Government Territory in Italy since the Italian Government is committed to continuing the system of Labor Offices established by A.M.G./ACC until new legislation on this subject is proposed by the Italian Government and agreed to by A.C.C. See Gazzetta Ufficiale No. 15, 25 March, 1944.

3. The reasons for this policy may be briefly summarized:

a) The old offices were found to be unsatisfactory both because of staff, or lack of staff, and of policy. Merchant seamen complained against fee-charging and against Navy Officials in charge of Merchant Marine affairs.

b) The new system of Regional and Provincial Labor Offices provides the machinery for uniformity of policy and control, and at the same time permits specialization through branch offices where necessary.

c) Any change desired by the Italian Government should be proposed as a part of the basic law regulating Labor Offices, and not as a request to reestablish old Offices now outside of the present system. The Ministry of Industry, Commerce and Labor is now preparing draft legislation on the organization of Regional and Provincial Labor Offices and a copy of this letter is being sent to that Ministry for information.

THE PRESIDENT OF THE COUNCIL OF MINISTERS

No. 10614/13.8

My dear Admiral Stone:

Among the various measures which the Allied authorities have adopted in the liberated territories there is one which concerns the suppression of the employment offices for sailors.

The suppression of these offices, as the Minister of the Navy advises me, has given rise to notable inconveniences.

As a matter of fact the employment offices of the people of the sea re an institution which existed before the advent of Fascism in Italy and have given useful results.

Created in 1919 as offices subordinate to the direction of Port Officials, they were more comprehensively organized in 1925 with Royal Decree Law 24 May, No. 1031 and subsequently, in 1928, with Law No. 3042 of 16 December, which established official movements offices with the Port Captaincies to regulate the embarkation of men and officers, without either of the two provisions being substantially altered.

The procedure contained in the Navigation Code of 1942 reproduces the preceding instructions.

The purpose of these procedures, which has been distinctly successful, is that of removing the embarkation of sailors from the speculation of private intermediaries, assigning the function of employment to the military authorities, who are the Royal Port Captaincies.

With the suppression of the above offices it has been found that service is bad, to the detriment both of the sailors and the war effort.

With this in mind, taking into account that the sailors' employment offices are no fascist institutions and that in the past they have fulfilled the purposes for which they are established, I should be grateful to you, dear Admiral Stone, if you would be kind enough to examine favorably the possibility of agreeing that the employment offices of which I have been talking be re-established under the charge of the Port Captaincies in conformity with the legislation now in force.

Please accept, my dear Admiral, my cordial greetings.

With reference to Commander Zinoli's minute of the 8th September, MSC/816, regarding the re-establishment of employment offices for Italian Merchant Seamen under the Port Captaincies, I have discussed this with General Matteini, the President of CO.GE.NA.

General Matteini explained that whilst the Free Labour Organisation actually engaged the seamen, the Italian Government authorities, i.e. the Captains of the Port, controlled such engagement only to the point of arranging the technical details inherent in the signing off and signing on of merchant seamen.

The Mediterranean Shipping Board feel that they must support the President of the Council of Ministers of the Italian Government in their request that this matter be dealt with by the Port Captains, as there are considerable technical matters involved in engaging or signing off merchant seamen on Italian or Allied vessels. These details concern themselves with such matters as crews insurance, social welfare, allotments to dependents etc., which it is felt by the Mediterranean Shipping Board could not be dealt with adequately by any other existing machinery.

4. Prior to notifying the President of the Council of Ministers of the policy expressed in enclosure (B), comments are desired regarding inconvenience which might be caused by the refusal of the Allied Control Commission to allow the re-establishment of the employment offices. It is noted in paragraph 3(b) of enclosure (B) that the Director of the Labor Sub-Commission, ACC, considers that the new system of Regional and Provincial Labor offices will be adequate.

1. Reference is made to your letter of 23 August and attached copies of letters from the Council of Ministers and the Shipping Sub-Commission with reference to the re-establishment of employment offices for Italian Merchant Seamen under the Port Captaincies.

2. The policy of the Labor Sub-Commission is that these Offices have been rightly suppressed and should not be re-established. Where special offices are needed for Italian Merchant seamen they may be established as branches of the Provincial Labor Offices and under their jurisdiction.

The policy is applicable to Italian Government territory as well as to Allied Government Territory in Italy since the Italian Government is committed to continuing the system of Labor Offices established by A.W.G./ACC until new legislation on this subject is proposed by the Italian Government and agreed to by A.C.C. See Gazzetta Ufficiale No. 15, 25 March, 1944.

I have just returned from a short visit to Algiers where the whole question of Italian shipping formed part of the discussions which took place.

It has now been definitely established that all Italian ships over 300 G.r.t. (In other words those ships requisitioned by the Royal Italian Government) will be chartered by the Allied Comander in Chief on a charter form which has been agreed by both London and Washington. This charter, while setting out the terms, will not bear any rates of hire but merely notes "Rate of Freight to be agreed."

It is this question which prevents us to review the constitution of CO.GE.MA as it now stands, also the Under Secretaryship held by Admiral Italiano, held by Admiral Barone is purely political and that he directs CO.GE.MA from the political viewpoint rather than the practical.

As it is the intention of the Combined Shipping Adjustment Board to make the maximum use of Italian tonnage it is essential that some machinery is set up to attend to the normal husbandry of these ships. You will recall in this work but they were found, on our part not to be sufficiently experienced, CO.GE.MA has eventually been evolved, and while under the chairmanship of Admiral Cesari, the members of the Committee named by Barone are all directors no member of the "free" ship - owning community which in fact constitutes the larger proportion of the Italian merchant fleet, I do not think it stretches the point too far when I say that the present committee members are not free agents but rather employees who doubtless receive substantial salaries but fail that the Italian Government must be well represented on the Committee, and it especially since here in Southern Italy there is at the present time no shipowner of the calibre competent to fulfil such a position. As a successor to Admiral Barone, who we think should be removed to rectify the present position, we feel that Admiral Casaroli should be appointed. In submitting the present position, we feel succeed Barone I must say that is our suggestion.

I have just returned from a short visit to Algiers where the whole question of Italian shipping formed part of the discussions which took place.

It has now been definitely established that all Italian ships over 300 G.R.T. (in other words those ships requisitioned by the Royal Government) will be chartered by the Allied Commander in Chief on a charter form which has been agreed by both London and Washington. This charter, while setting out the terms, will not bear any rates of hire but merely noted "Rate of Freight to be agreed."

It is this question which prompts me to review the constitution of CO.G.M. as it now stands, also the Under Secretoryship held by Admiral Barone. It has become more and more apparent to both Nicol and myself that the position held by Admiral Barone is purely political and that he directs CO.G.M. from the political viewpoint rather than the practical.

As it is the intention of the Combined Shipping Adjustment Board to make the maximum use of Italian tonnage it is essential that some machinery is set up to attend to the normal husbandry of these ships. You will recall in the very early days we endeavoured to constitute a body of shipowners to attend to this work but they were found, on our part not to be sufficiently experienced, and on the part of Admiral Barone to be of the wrong political colour. CO.G.M. has eventually been evolved, and while under the Chairmanship of Admiral Cassardi, the members of the Committee named by Barone are all directors of Italian subsidised lines represented on the Committee, and there being no member of the "free" ship - owning community which in fact constitutes the larger proportion of the Italian merchant fleet, I do not think it stretches the point too far when I say that the present committee members are not free agents but rather employees who doubtless receive substantial salaries but fail to give the impression of being fully in the war effort.

In view of the organisation which has already been created we recognise that the Italian Government must be well represented on the Committee, and it must be accepted that the Chairman should be a senior Naval Officer, more especially since here in Southern Italy there is at the present time no shipowner of the calibre competent to fulfil such a position. As a successor to Admiral Barone, who we think should be removed to rectify the present position, we feel that Admiral Cassardi should be appointed. In submitting that Cassardi should succeed Barone I must say that in our dealings with the Italian Authorities to date he has been found reasonable, ready to admit his lack of technical knowledge of merchant shipping, but willing to be guided by and accept the views of those who do have knowledge of the industry - an attitude which Admiral Barone has never taken.

Recently we have sensed lack of co-operation amongst the Committee members themselves, insofar that they say that the Committee as such cannot take any action but must refer everything back through the Under Secretary, and while the members are perhaps not all that can be desired, I feel sure that if the man at the top was more reasonable's lot of our troubles would disappear.

We informed accordingly the "Direzione Generale" of Merch. Marine, disposing that no personnel should be send for the tank "TAIGETE".

In contrast with what we have disposed, the MEDIC of Naples has now informed that the sending of personnel for the tank "TAIGETE" is en urgent matter, while it is not necessary to send all the crew on the tank "ARCOLA" on account this tank is going to be used as a fuel-oil dep't.

We beg the FOGLI to kindly give us explanations on the matter.

Replying the letter of this office No.166/U.T., dated July 2nd, 1944, with which I forwarded a list of seamen to be send to Dakar for embarkment on the tanks "ARCOLA" and "TAIGETE", the F.O.I.I. informed us that the latter tank should come back to Italy.

We informed accordingly the "Direzione Generale" of Merch.Karine, disposing that no personnel should be send for the tank "TAIGETE".

In contrast with what we have disposed, the MIMIC of Naples has now informed that the sending of personnel for the tank "TAIGETE" is an urgent matter, while it is not necessary to send all the crew on the tank "ARCOLA" on account that this tank is going to be used as a fuel-oil depot.

We beg the FOI.I to kindly give us explanations on the matter.
