The Political Section of the Allied Commission presents its compliments to the Czechoslovak Consul-General, and with reference to its memorandum No. 660 of the 27th December 1944, has the honour to inform him that the Ministry of Public Instruction has now prepared the following correction for the passage on page 158 of the 5th Class Subsidiary Textbook on Arithmetic, Geography and Science at present in use in Italian schools, regarding the composition of the Czechoslovak State.

1. REPUBBLICA CECOSLOVACCA

La Repubblica Cecoslovacca comprende la Boemia, la Moravia e la Slovacchia, al centro d'Europa fra la Germania, la Polonia, la Romania, l'Ungheria e l'Austria.

La capitale e' Praga; altre citta' importanti sono Brno e Bratislava.

Comprende importanti zone montuose: la Selva Boema, i Monti Metalliferi e i Carpazi Sciocchi.

2. The Education Sub-Commission of the Allied Commission has ordered the printers in Palermo, Naples, Rome and Florence to substitute the above passage in future editions of the book. At the same time, the Ministry of Public Instruction has agreed to prepare a circular for all Provveditori agli Studi instructing them to direct all teachers of the 5th class to substitute the new statement for the old when they reach page 158 in those cases where the children hold copies of the book hitherto published.

CONSUL GENERAL OF THE CZECHOSLOVAK REPUBLIC.

No. 204/14.

Rome, 30th December, 1944.

The Czechoslovak Consul General presents his compliments to the Political Section of the Allied Commission and begs to express his thanks for the Commission's prompt intervention in the matter concerning the passage on the Czechoslovak State in the Italian text-book in question.

Owing to the fact, however, that copies of this reader have already been distributed to the schools and among the pupils in a considerable number, the Consul General fears that what instruction on Czechoslovakia Italian pupils will receive will continue to be based on a fallacy for some time to come. He would be most grateful, therefore, if the Italian authorities could be requested to take the following steps:

- a/ Prepare a new text for the next edition without further delay and submit it to this Consulate for perusal.
- b/ Have this text inserted in the present edition in lieu of the text on Slovakia.
- c/ The Italian Ministry of Public Instruction should draw the attention of all elementary schools to the error in the reader and furnish the schools with the correct text for teaching purposes.

The Consul General deeply regrets having to trouble once again with this request the Allied Commission and the authorities, but he finds himself unable to do otherwise than insist on the above rectifications being made as such a fundamental matter as teaching about the existence of the Czechoslovak State in the schools is for us too serious a point to be overlooked.

CONSUL GENERAL OF THE CZECHOSLOVAK REPUBLIC.

No. 704/44.

Education Sub-Commission
Rome, 18th December, 1944.
for such action as may be possible.

The Czechoslovak Consul General presents his compliments to the Allied Commission /Political Section/ and, enclosing Dec 20 a school text-book entitled "Il Libro della V Classe Elementare" now published by the Ministry of Public Instruction for the year 1944-45, begs to point out that on page 153 there is an article on the so-called "Slovak state" while no mention is made of the Allied state of Czechoslovakia although all the other European states are mentioned. Instead the book contains this article wherein it is stated that Czechoslovakia no longer exists and that the state of Slovakia has sprung up in its place.

The Czechoslovak Consul General, on behalf of his Government, would greatly appreciate it if the Allied Commission would draw the Italian Government's attention to the matter and request them to take the necessary steps in order to have the matter revised and corrected.

The Italian Government, by their declaration of September 26th, 1944, annulled the Munich Agreement and its consequences. In so doing they recognised the integrity of Czechoslovak territory as they recognise that of other Allied nations. It is inadmissible, therefore, that, where other European nations are mentioned in Italian text-books, Czechoslovakia should be omitted while mentioned in its stead is a state which has sprung into being as an ally of Germany and whose existence is not recognised by the Allies.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE POLITICAL SECTION A.C.

Last December the Allied Commission, in compliance with a request of the Ministry for Foreign Affairs, informed that the necessary steps had been taken with the competent Allied Military Authorities to the effect that all possible aid be granted by the latter to children's colleges and colonies, as soon as the zones, where these are located, have fallen into Allied hands, pending the intervention of the Italian Authorities.

In this connection the Allied Commission agreed that an official of the Italian Colonial Administration be sent to inspect the summer colonies of Rimini, Riccione and Cattolica, where are lodged, since May 1946, part of 9000 sons of Italian citizens emigrated to Erythra.

The Colonial Administration, who is in charge of said institutions, has now made known the name of the high official who should be sent to visit said colonies: Signor Alberto Mario PICCIONI - identification card n. 267, issued by the "Ministero dell'Africa Italiana" on April 19, 1938. Residence: Rome, via Topino, 13

In consideration of the urgency of Signor Piccioni's task, it would be much appreciated if he could be authorized as soon as possible to reach Rimini, Riccione and Cattolica.

The Political Section of the Allied Commission presents its compliments to the Ministry of Foreign Affairs and, with reference to their memorandum No. 6/1250/541 of the 13th December, has the honour to inform them that the Allied authorities are unable at the present time to issue supplementary rations to institutions other than hospitals. Institutions therefore receive the same rations as the general population. While this diet during October and November was very short in fats and carbohydrates, the situation improved in the month of December as a result of the issue of the ration of 100 grammes of sugar and 200 grammes of olive oil. The Allied authorities are aware that the shortage of fats and sugar has been a serious problem in all institutions not only in Siena but in Grosseto and Arezzo Provinces also. As a result of shipping deficiencies, sugar has been in short supply on several occasions and it is regretted that no guarantee can be given that even the present low ration will be constant. In these circumstances, the Allied authorities cannot increase the sugar ration to institutions such as those at Montalcino, but instructions have been sent to the Regional Supply Officer that such institutions should be given first priority in the making of allocations of sugar that is available.

2. The appropriate Sub-commission of this Commission has pointed out that the requirements of fats in respect of these institutions can well be provided from the local resources of the province which is a good olive oil producing region and also has considerable resources of animal fats. Similarly, supplementary rations can also be provided from local resources since in particular meat, vegetables and fruit are available. The attention of the Regional Supply Officer will be drawn to the necessity for urging the provincial Italian authorities to consider these institutions in all allocations of local supplies that are made.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE POLITICAL SECTION A.C.

Reference is made to previous communications (Memorandum of the Political Section dated August 30th, 1944) and to conversations concerning the colleges for children whose parents are living abroad.

From information received, it appears that the health conditions of the children boarded at the two colleges of Montalcino (Siena) are particularly bad owing to insufficient food.

The management of the colleges in question find it difficult to provide food except bread and vegetables, whereas the children are in great need of fats, sugar, etc.

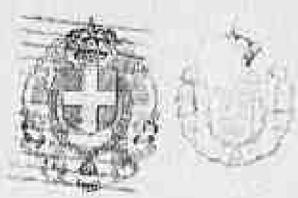

The Ministry for Foreign Affairs would, therefore, be grateful if the Political Section could kindly approach the competent Military ~~or~~ or ~~authorities~~ authorities in Siena with a view to obtaining an improvement in the food conditions of the colleges. [Signature]

The Ministry for Foreign Affairs should be grateful if the A.C., would approach the Allied Authorities in Florence with a view to obtaining the necessary means of conveyance to transport about 60 girl boarders belonging to the College of the Sons of Italians abroad, to Castiglione Fiorentino.

This transfer appears advisable owing to the very precarious conditions in which the girl boarders now find themselves in Florence, while at Castiglione Fiorentino there is every facility for feeding and clothing them as well as the necessary funds for their maintenance.

The second Memorandum under reference duplicates the request made in the first Memorandum and owing to the fact that it was not addressed to the Political Section but merely to the Allied Control Commission, it was routed to a different Sub-Commission, the Education Sub-Commission. However, the matter not being one for its action, the Education Sub-Commission forwarded the paper to the Public Health & Welfare Sub-Commission, who made application to the competent authorities for permission to travel. A reply has not yet been received to this request. As soon as information is received, the Political Section will advise the Ministry of Foreign Affairs.

It is pointed out that the confusion regarding this request arose due to the fact of there being two Memoranda sent to different offices on the same subject.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE ALLIED CONTROL COMMISSION

POLITICAL SECTION

In the summer of 1940 there were in Italy several thousand children, sons and daughters of Italians living abroad, who had come, as usual, to spend in Italy part of their summer holiday.

These children, in the majority from the warmer countries of the Mediterranean basin and belonging to the more modest families, usually spent part of their holidays in Italy for health reasons. In the great majority they frequented the schools supervised by the Ministry of Foreign Affairs.

Owing to the entry of Italy into the war, the said children were in the impossibility of rejoining their families and the Ministry of Foreign Affairs was obliged to find them board and lodging and to supply them with clothes and the necessary schooling. The children were thus subdivided into 22 colleges according to their sex, age and degree of secondary education.

These colleges have to-day been reduced to 6, numbering about 3000 children, and are situated as follows within the liberated territory:

- 4 in Rome
- 1 at Nocera Umbra Bagni (Province of Perugia)

- 2 at Montalcino ( " " )
- 1 at Colle Val d'Elsa ( " " )

The only College outside this zone is the one in Florence.

Two are the most urgent problems connected with these Colleges, namely :

- a) the gradual return of these children to their families;
- b) the financing of the Colleges.

As regards point a), the Ministry of Foreign Affairs would welcome any suggestion by the Allied Control Commission for the gradual return of the children to their families, bearing in mind the fact that the majority of them live in Egypt, Tunisia and Morocco. The return of these children becomes ever more indispensable not only owing to this overlong separation from their families, but also in view of the fact that the Ministry of Foreign Affairs cannot for the future continue to bear such considerable expenditure.

The Mediterranean countries of origin of the children housed in the four Colleges in Rome are the following :

As regards point b), i.e., the financing of the Colleges in order to meet all their needs, the urgent necessity is stressed of making some provision without delay, as the Colleges in question could only be supplied with sufficient means to meet their expenditures for the month of June. It was possible to finance the Rome College only through an allocation made by the Intendenza di Finanze (Revenue Office) of Lire 1,000,000. The numerous other Colleges in Central Italy, have however been left without any provision and undoubtedly they must be finding themselves in a particularly difficult situation owing to damages inflicted by war operations in the vicinity. In fact, according to unofficial information received the Colleges of Chiusi and Chianciano, in the Province of Siena, appear to have been heavily damaged. There have also been some dead and wounded children.

For the guidance of the competent authorities a list of the Colleges outside Rome, subdivided by Province, is given hereunder:

Province of Perugia - College of Nocera Umbra Degni (Girls)
Province of Arezzo - College of Cortona (Girls)
 College of Castellion Fiorentino (Girls)
Province of Siena - College of Siena (Boys)
 College of Chianciano (Boys)
 College of Montepulciano (Boys)
 2 Colleges of Montalcino (Boys)
 College of Chiusi (Girls)
 College of Val d'Elce (Girls)

The foregoing list shows that the majority of the Colleges are situated at a certain distance from the chief provincial town and, as most likely they have been left without means of transportation, it is to be assumed that only a few, in view of their proximity, they will be able to take the necessary steps with the Intendenza di Finanze (Revenue Office) of the Province

Colleges in question could only be supplied with sufficient means to meet their expenditures for the month of June. It was possible to finance the Home College only through an allocation made by the Intendenza di Finanze (Revenue Office) of Lire 1,000,000. The numerous other Colleges in Central Italy, have however been left without any provision and undoubtedly they must be finding themselves in a particularly difficult situation with respect to damages inflicted by war operations in the vicinity. In fact, according to uncorroborated information received the Colleges of Chiusi and Chianciano, in the Province of Siena, appear to have been heavily damaged. There have also been some dead and wounded children.

For the sake of the competent Authorities a list of the Colleges outside Rome, subdivided by Province, is given hereunder:

- Province of Perugia - College of Nocera Umbra Bagni (Girls)
- Province of Arezzo - College of Cortona (Girls)
- Province of Siena - College of Castiglion Fiorentino (Girls)
- College of Siena (Boys)
- College of Chianciano (Boys)
- College of Montepulciano (Boys)
- 2 Colleges of Montalcino (Boys)
- College of Chiusi (Girls)
- College of Val d'Elce (Girls)

The foregoing list shows that the majority of the Colleges are situated at a certain distance from the chief provincial town and, as most likely they have been left without means of transportation, it is to be assumed that only great difficulty, they will be able to take the necessary steps with the Intendenza di Finanze (Revenue Office) of the Province in order to obtain the monthly funds necessary to meet their expenditure.

It would, therefore, be necessary to examine the possibility either of kindly informing of the situation, through the military means of communications, not only the Directors of the Colleges, but also the Intendants of Finance (Revenue Office), as well as the competent local Allied Authorities, or otherwise providing in Rome for the entire monthly financing of all the Colleges. For this purpose a small motor-van, FIAT 500 should be authorized to effect a liaison service between the Foreign Ministry in Rome and the different Colleges.

The necessity is also stressed of notifying without delay the Allied Authorities in the locality of each College, as well as the Italian civil authorities to supply the necessary staffs and to grant all possible aid and assistance.

Finally it would be advisable and necessary to obtain the necessary authorization for the following Officials of the College Section of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs to proceed to a tour of inspection: Counsel General Carlo Carosi; Inspector Cesare Vassari and Inspector Emilio Troiani.

The vehicles which would be used for such inspection and to bring assistance to the Colleges, and for which a permit should be granted, are the following:

- FIAT 1500 - Licence plate ROMA 75077
- " 508 - " " ROMA 82868
- " 534 - " " ROMA 45539 ( lorry)
- " 500 - " " ROMA 75348 ( small van)

The necessary authorization is also herewith requested for the following drivers: Fiscaletti Pietro; Massarotti Marino; Giardini Arturo; Noto Giuseppe.

The Ministry of Foreign Affairs feels confident that the Allied Control Commission will take into consideration the above points and look forward to an early and favourable reply on the subject.

1. The information relative to the colleges in Siena, Arezzo and Perugia provinces has been sent to the proper Army authorities. Since personnel is specially assigned to see that institutions obtain the funds and provisions necessary for functioning, it is likely that these places are already supplied. For this reason, the issuance of permits to travel appear unnecessary.

2. As regards Rome, the return of jurisdiction to the Italian Government will allow the direct financing of the institutions by Italian authorities.

2. This would not appear to be a function of the Education Subcommittee, which is education in the schools, not children independently regarded.
3. In a division of labor dating back to Sicilian days, the particular problem raised by the Memorandum would appear to belong to Welfare (Public Health) unless indeed in its final phase to Displaced Persons Subcommittee.
4. Perhaps it may be allowed to query, independently, whether the number of cars, considering their kinds, might not prove a temptation to other uses than locating children?

Al Ministero degli Affari

Al Gabinetto di S.E. il
Ministro - SEUEDocetto Insegnante d'Inglese nella R. Università di Palermo.

Questo Ministero si riferisce alla lettera del 13 ottobre u.s. no. 834 e al memorandum del 25 novembre u.s. di cotesta Sezione Politica diretto a cotesta Sottocommissione relativo alla questione dell'insegnamento di inglese nella R. Università di Palermo.

A tale riguardo questo Ministero fa presente che le Autorità accademiche della R. Università di Palermo hanno proposto che al Dr. John Graham, sia affidato non soltanto il lettorato d'inglese, ma anche l'incarico dell'insegnamento della Storia della civiltà anglo-sassone. Al Dr. Graham sarà corrisposto uno stipendio complessivo di L. 18.000 annue al lordo delle ritenute di legge.

In ordine alle proposte suddette lo scrivente osserva ora che, a norma delle disposizioni in vigore, condizione per l'assunzione a qualsiasi ufficio nelle Università è il possesso del requisito della cittadinanza italiana.

Non prescindersi da tale requisito soltanto per i lettorati di lingua straniera. Ciò stante, per quanto riguarda il lettorato, questo Ministero può dare senz'altro la propria approvazione.

Per l'incarico d'insegnamento, lo scrivente non potrebbe dare la propria approvazione, mancando il requisito della cittadinanza italiana.

Tuttavia, questo Ministero può ritenere applicabile, nel caso in esame, l'art. 275 del Testo Unico delle Leggi sulla istruzione superiore approvato con R.O. 31 agosto 1933, n. 1592, il quale dispone in via eccezionale che può essere affidato l'insegnamento di una determinata materia a chi non sia cittadino italiano, quando l'istituzione dell'insegnamento stesso sia stata dal Governo ritenuta necessaria per accordi scritti o verbali determinati da ragioni di carattere internazionale.

Ciò premesso, ove nulla vi fosse in contrario da parte delle competenti Autorità inglesi, lo scrivente sarebbe ben lieto di poter dare disposizioni al Rettore della Regia Università di Palermo per il conferimento al Dr. Graham

MEMORANDUM TO: Education Sub-Commission

FROM : Political Section

1. The British Embassy have informed the Political Section that they have received a communication from the Foreign Office in regard to the proposed appointment of a professor of English at Palermo University. It appears that the British Council were originally approached in this matter by Colonel Gayre the Educational Adviser at A.M.C.O.T. Headquarters in Sicily who stated that the Faculty of the University would welcome the appointment of a professor of English. The Council suggested that they should appoint a suitable man to their own staff and second him to the University possibly with the prospect of his becoming Director of the British Institute in Palermo when it re-opened. In July the British Council put forward the name of Mr. J. Graham and in early August of this year Mr. Garcia approached the Italian Government on this subject. In October it was learned from the Minister of Education that the Italian Government agreed to the appointment of Mr. Graham and that his duties would be those of visiting lecturer in the English language and in the History of Anglo-Saxon Civilisation with a salary amounting to 15,000 lire per annum.

2. It is possible that Colonel Gayre may have misunderstood the intentions of the University at Palermo and that the Faculty were in fact only asking for a lecturer. The British Council feel reluctant, however, to let the university have as a lecturer the same man whom they were originally offered as professor. Moreover, they do not feel that they would be justified in supplying a good man merely to be lecturer in English, although they might be prepared to change this view if it were possible for him to combine his work with that of the British Institute. The Political Section would be grateful if the Education Sub-Commission could make enquiries into the position and whether they could ascertain if there is a professor of English already at Palermo University and, if so, what his nationality is and how long he has been appointed. Although the letter from the Foreign Office does not say so in terms, it is presumed that they would welcome a return to the original proposal to appoint Mr. Graham as professor of English.

You may be interested to know that according to Major GREENLEES there are some British Council people working in BARI. A Major Hinbury, with about six teachers, has been there for the last six or seven months. They are only concerned with teaching refugees from the Balkans--Yugoslavs and perhaps Greeks too.

Major GREENLEES says the party was sent out by Middle East. They work in close touch with P.W.B.

NOTE FOR FILE

Mr. Halford telephoned to point out that the British Council had raised certain points such as status etc. on which they required information, and these had been referred by Col. Smith to the Min. of Ed. in letter No. 4/11/EE of 14th Aug. Had any reply been received?

2. I raised this with the Ed. Sub. Com. who said that no reply had been recd. on these points. According to the letter from Palermo the post offered was that of Lecturer and not Titular Professor: this implies a low grade and one which would certainly not be entitled to air his views in the Faculty. This also explains in part the low salary.

3. The Ed. Sub-Commission undertook to raise the question of status with the Min. as well as getting his assent to the post being offered to Mr. Graham. If the Min. could recommend that the status of the post be raised, this could be taken up with Palermo.

Solo oggi, dopo un mese, ricevo una Sua del 11 Agosto, Ref. 4.11.ED. a S.E. il Ministro della Pubblica Istruzione, rinviata a me dal Rettore della Universita' di Palermo, in rapporto all'incarico di Lettorato di lingua Inglese nella Facolta' di Lettere e Filosofia.

E mi affretto a dirLe: Anche nella sua ultima seduta di luglio la Facolta' propose solo "sub-conditions" un lettore, e cioe' solo per il caso che gli Alleati non potessero mantenere in tempo utile la loro promessa. E la Facolta' sospese anche l'assegnazione dell'incarico di Storia della Civilta' Anglo-Sassone che col Sig. Col. Gayre si era convenuto di assegnare al lettore proposto dagli Alleati.

Tale deliberazione della Facolta' fu regolarmente approvata dal Senato Accademico e dal Consiglio di Amministrazione. Sono in grado, dunque, di farLe sapere che lo ritengo che, salvo la dovuta approvazione da parte di S.E. il Ministro, la Facolta' sara' lieta di poter usufruire dell'insegnamento del Sig. M.A. John Graham, proposto dal British Council.

Gio' Le comunico direttamente, perche' Lei possa senza ritardo ottenere l'approvazione di S.E. il Ministro e trasmettermela. E al contempo mando copia di questa al Rettore della Universita' di Palermo.

Voglia Lei, intanto, ringraziare il Col. Gayre a nome della Facolta' e mio, per esserci egli interessato della pratica sino al suo pieno successo. Giovera' molto che sia un insegnante inglese a iniziare i nostri giovani alla sua lingua, che col nuovo riordinamento della Facolta' favorito dallo stesso Colonnello, sara' praticamente studiata da quasi tutti gli studenti, e di lettere e di filosofia.

Devo aggiungere che il Senato Accademico, con l'approvazione del Consiglio di Amministrazione, dato il caro-vita attuale, ha alzato il compenso degli incarichi da L. 4.000 annuo a L. 10.000 E che i professori cui sia assegnato un secondo incarico avranno per questo altre L.5.000. Con i due incarichi, dunque, di Lettorato di Inglese e di Storia della Civilta' Anglo-Sassone, Mr. Graham potra' avere dalla nostra Universita' L.15.000 annue.

Mi dicono, intanto, che la vita a Palermo, si sia fatta sempre piu' cara, e non sanchera' lei di avere informazioni in proposito. Il British Council sara' dunque opportuno che tenga quanto piu' alto sia possibile il suo contributo, accrescendo, possibilmente, quello che gia' si proponeva di dare.

Con l'approvazione di S. E. il nostro Ministro per la Pubblica Istruzione Mr. Graham potra' dunque venire a Palermo sui primi di novembre.
E miei saluti, cordiali saluti.

Il Preside:
Cino Ferretti.

STATEMENT LAID BEFORE THE ALLIED CONTROL COMMITTEE by Prof. V. FELIX CASSANO

R. SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC EDUCATION IN THE DISTRICT OF MATERA

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

On Nov. 22nd the undersigned received from the "R. Prefettura" of Matera a letter (registered N. 5955) informing him that the Allied Command had ordered his discharge from the position of R. Superintendent of Public Education.

If the measure was prompted by political motives, the undersigned begs to call attention to the following:

1st) From 1916 to 1925 (when all political parties were dissolved by fascism) he was a member in the socialist party; this brought upon him in 1920 disciplinary proceedings from the military authority of Bari; in 1925 the undersigned who was an official elementary teacher in Terlizzi was compelled to abandon his position and then to resign because of his participation in the movement brought about by Matteotti's murder.

2nd) After taking his degree in Philosophy and being judged "idoneo" in the public competitions of 1925 and 1926, he did not get a chair in secondary schools because he was reported as being subversive; owing to the same reason in 1926 he was excluded from a competition for the position of "direttore didattico".

3rd) In July 1926, being compelled by family necessities, he became a member in the fascist party, and next year, because of his entry for fascist membership, he was proclaimed fit for the chair of History and Philosophy in the Royal Liceo.

4th) Not being a fascist by conviction, he defended his own spiritual freedom by fully accepting in 1926 the theories advocated by the Catholic Church movement, because such theories were to him a continuation of, and an improvement upon, his early socialism, and a dignified protest against the fascist regime.

The political significance of his new Catholic faith caused him the suspension of his fascist membership in 1931 during the disagreement between the State and the Church because of the "Azione Cattolica"; in 1936 he met secret opposition to his appointment as "Principal" in the Royal Liceo, and in 1939 he was refused a knighthood dignity owing to an unfavourable report by the

"Segretario Politico" of Bitonto.

5th) In 1940, through the exclusive initiative of the Ministry, he was appointed R. Superintendent of Public Education.

In such capacity, always respecting the laws, he defended human freedom and dignity, and was strict with unworthy teachers; a few of whom, punished by the undersigned an account of their illicit traffic in private lessons, reported as an article of accusation a book written by him under the heading of "Arguments in Fascist Pedagogy".

Such book was published only with a view to supplying the candidates to the office of elementary teachers with a correct treatment of various arguments in their examinations and with a correct interpretation of the official programmes in elementary schools. This book is not a proof testifying to the writer's fascist convictions, but it is rather against the fascist régime because it advocates the personal freedom of children; it does not state its author's opinions, but is a mere comment on the ministerial programmes.

The undersigned, therefore, begs to apply to the Allies in the name of liberty, hoping to be soon restored to his former dignity and relative salary he enjoyed till Nov. 1943, and he declares himself ready to produce unquestionable proofs to his above assertions in defence of his own despised dignity and for the maintenance of his own family.

Three copies of the incriminated book were sent to the Ministry for National Education on March 9th 1944.

Very respectfully

( V. Felix Cassano )

Educational Question

May 23, 1944.

Dear Bob:

I have received your letter of May 15, returning the correspondence regarding the activities of our educational "professors." You ask whether Major Koopman's Memorandum reflects Monsignor Carroll's attitude. I have not discussed the subject directly with Carroll, but Ellery Stone did a short time ago and gained the impression very definitely that nothing in the Carroll-Koopman conversation warranted the conclusions drawn by Major Koopman. Knowing the two men, I agree with Stone's estimate. I would take the matter up with Carroll direct but at present, until the thorny question of the Benevento Seminary is settled, I am rather avoiding the good Monsignore.

I hear you are coming over to see us soon.

With all best wishes,

Yours,

Dear Sam:

Many thanks for loaning me the attached file regarding Mgr. Carroll's complaint on the subject of the activities of three American officers detailed to the Educational Section of the Allied Control Commission. I understand that this matter is now under investigation by Allied Force Headquarters.

My attention has been invited particularly to Major Koopman's statement in the last paragraph of his memorandum of March 3rd, reading as follows:

"My interpretation of the conference is as follows: to the extent that Bishop Carroll was representing his higher authority (a matter open to question) we can conclude that the Church is seeking political power utterly regardless of its effects on world peace. The position taken was the most dangerous threat to our policies that I have encountered in military government since it was entirely contrary in every respect to the principles of democracy."

I wonder whether you have ever discussed with Mgr. Carroll the points made by Major Koopman in his memorandum and whether you agree with Koopman's conclusion.

With warmest personal regards,

Yours ever,

Bob

AMERICAN CONSULATE

PALERMO, ITALY

STRICTLY CONFIDENTIAL

April 13, 1944.

Dear Sam:

In reference to your desire to obtain information regarding Monsignor Carroll's complaint concerning the alleged anti-Catholic tendencies of the American members of the Educational Division, there are enclosed copies of various documents which I believe give a fairly clear picture of the case. No doubt, you have seen most of these communications, if not all, but I think that the confidential memorandum prepared by Major Koopman, dated March 3, 1944, merits special attention. From two separate and independent sources I have confirmed Major Koopman's statements with regard to Monsignor Carroll's attitude and remarks during the conference. As a matter of fact, it seems that he expressed himself much more forcibly regarding our next enemy being Communism than was set forth in the memorandum.

It is understood that the principal objection on the part of the church to the appointment of Omodeo as Director of the University of Naples was because he had taught church history objectively. One informant told me that the Maestro di Camera made charges that the election of Omodeo had been crooked, but he refused to press these charges when offered an opportunity to do so in an A. C. C. tribune.

So far as Sicily goes, I am unable to find any justification for the charges against the American members of the sub-commission. Monsignor Carroll spoke only in generalities and I do not know one instance where he was able to make a specific charge. Colonel Gayre did an admirable piece of work here, and the present sub-commission is continuing to follow his policies. I cannot see that the rights of SUBJECT: Conference with Bishop Carroll and Mr. Mohler.

TO : Regional Commissioner.

1. In reviewing church-state relations shortly before he left, Lt. Col. Charles Poletti, then RCAC, asked me to put in written form for our files a report on my conference with Bishop Carroll and Mr. Mohler. I am complying with this request with apologies for my tardiness.

2. The Bishop was introduced to me as a representative of the Vatican. Mr. Mohler was introduced as secretary of the American Bishop's Welfare Conference. The latter took no part in the conference apart from the usual friendly interchanges at the beginning.

Since these two functionaries called on me at the behest of the RCAC and at the time when the Head of the Subcommission was visiting the Region, I arranged to show them every courtesy and to have Lt. Col. Gayre in the conference. After the usual pleasantries Bishop Carroll opened the discussion of church affairs by stating that he believed that AMG was "attempting to set up an anti-fascist government". This puzzled us both but he elucidated by objecting to the appointment of Godesco as Rettore at Napoli (which appointment was not made by Lt. Col. Gayre) and other liberal sounding activities. The Bishop stated that (a) no non-catholic should be appointed to a public office such as the Napoli post and (b) that there were no educational affairs in which the Church should not be consulted.

Later the matter of replacements of faculty members at University of Palermo was discussed. The Lt. Col. stated that he had removed 12 professors of permanent status. At this point the Bishop interjected "and replaced them with Communists." He also mentioned several names of supposed communists which included two of the best-known socialists in Palermo. One of these persons, Ferretti, had not been appointed by AMG. The Bishop also discussed the matter of programs of study prepared by AMG. He objected to anticlerical influences. We explained our policy of neutrality as evidenced by the fact that we withdrew Part II of the program of the elementary school because it was susceptible to an anti-clerical interpretation. The Bishop then indicated that we should recognize that for all of us, the next enemy would be Communism.

Personally, I took no part in the first half of the discussion. I interposed an objection at the point when he stated that a non-catholic should not hold public office by pointing out that the preservation of freedom of religion was a mandate to AMG.

The blatant statement about Communism prompted me to state to the Bishop that he was proposing a policy contrary to the achievement of our main objective - a lasting peace. I also pointed out that his suggestion to the effect that Lt. Col. Gayre had replaced fascists with communists was entirely contrary to the facts of the case.

My interpretation of the conference is as follows: to the extent that Bishop Carroll was representing his higher authority (a matter open to question) we can conclude that the Church is seeking political power utterly regardless of its effect on world peace. The position taken was that we should be our policies that I have encountered in Italy.

2. In addition to the cable which formed the background for the above letter, a further cable has now been received from General Hildring on the general subject of the Educational system in Sicily and Southern Italy. This cable states that the State Department now request a comprehensive report on the developments in the educational field under AMG in Sicily and Southern Italy since our occupation on these areas.

The cable states that in addition to any general information and the specific data already requested (which was summarized in this Section letter of 19 Feb.) the State Department is particularly interested in knowing:

- a) To what extent it has been necessary to revise the curricula in order to eliminate Fascist teachings and characteristics.
- b) What courses it has been necessary to eliminate altogether.
- c) What course, if any, have been introduced.
- d) What modification, if any, has occurred in religious courses.
- e) To what extent the advice of the local educational committee has been followed in establishing new curricula for the schools.

3. It is emphasized that all the above requested information is to relate to the elementary, secondary and higher educational institutions. It is further stated that changes in such personnel from time to time should also be furnished as they occur.

DATE : 14 March 1944

1.-Reference is made to your letters HGS. 350 dated 19th and 21st February 1944.

2.-A comprehensive report on the activities of the Educational Division and Subcommission from September 1943 to February 1944 is attached. This contains the list of personnel requested. Lt. Col. T.V. Smith has now assumed the direction in succession to Lt. Colonel Gayre.

3.-Copies of Plans of Study for teachers are also attached. These have been fully discussed before publication, with representatives of the Church and are in conformity with their recommendations.

4.-Touching the specific points raised in your letter of 19 February:

a) Religious teaching in schools continues unchanged. The only teaching reforms which have been made in material are those involving the elimination of fascism:

b) New text books are in conformity with Catholic principles. It was found unnecessary to change, add to or subtract from any of the religious teaching contained in the old books. Books are being forwarded to you on publication, in accordance with your previous request.

c) Without the aid of a complete survey of the religious principles of teachers, a formidable task which has not been undertaken, the attitude of teachers to the Church or to religion in general cannot be stated with any accuracy. However, the proportion of teachers replaced is small, and therefore the general body of teachers may be assumed to hold the same religious beliefs as they did before the Allied occupation.

5.-The points in your letter of 21st February are answered below:

a) The curricula remain essentially unaltered. The teaching of fascism has been prohibited, and from the text books have been expunged such things as the glorification of fascism and Mussolini, references to Abyssinia and the Empire generally, the glorification of war, and similar items essentially of fascist teaching;

b) No courses have been eliminated in the schools. In the universities the three chairs of Diritto Corporativo, Storia e Dottrina del Fascismo and Cultura Militare have been abolished.

c) No new courses have been instituted in the schools. In the

- c) University, which was abolished in 1924 has been re-instituted and an Institute of Social Anthropology, attached to the Faculty of Letters has been created at Palermo University.
- d) No modification has been ordered or suggested in religious courses.
- e) The local educational committees, many of which include priests, have worked closely in all educational matters with the Allied Officials engaged in the work.

6.- It would seem that the apparent uneasiness of the Apostolic Delegate and the Holy See are the result of inaccurate information, and it may be opposite to record that the warmest expressions of approval of the work of the educational officers of this organization have frequently been made by such people as Cardinal Davitrano of Palermo; the Archbishop Ballo of Mazara del Vallo, who is especially concerned with education in his arch-diocese; Father Giozzo of the Society of Jesus, who is the head of an important school in Palermo, and whose advice was constantly used in the preparation of Plans of Study; and Cardinal Ascalesi of Naples.

MEMORANDUM

The Allied educational programme for Italy is at present under the direction of Lt. Col. Gayre of the British Army, and Oxford scholar, member of the Church of England and scientist of repute. The principal members of his staff are Major T.V. Smith, Major Carleton Washburne, and Major Keepman of the American Army.

These latter are said to be bent on encouraging leftist elements in Italian education, and imposing, under the guise of "freedom of thought", educational programs not only devoid of traditional Christian influence of any kind, but designed to deprive children, parents and the church of the elementary rights recognized by every society in which the principles of justice and freedom prevail.

Colonel Gayre, because of powerful backing in England, up to now has succeeded, not without great difficulty, in preventing the American members of his staff from putting into practice policies which he and the mass of the Italian people rightly regard as arbitrary, unjust and perilous to the true welfare of the people and the stability of the nation. There are indications that these American officials have in mind the de-christianization of education. They are already regarded in Italy as extreme doctrinaires and superficial educational experimentalists. The inevitable result of their program, if permitted to be put into effect, will be the preparation for, if not the establishment of, an anti-religious educational regime with no provision for the freedom which prevails in the educational systems of England and the United States.

Now it is learned that Colonel Gayre, the only obstacle in the way of those who would carry out such a program, is about to be recalled to London and that he will be succeeded in the normal course of events by any one of the above-mentioned American officials, with the other two remaining as his assistants. This news has created consternation among those interested in promoting genuine education in the country. Shocking as they find the present condition of affairs, they feel that the situation which would follow the departure of Colonel Gayre would be nothing short of disastrous. It might be noted that the Italian people have been utterly dismayed to find themselves victims of policies and programs alien not only to their concept of freedom but to the traditions and practices recognized as inviolable under the Constitution of the United States.

Thus, these American officials, it may be truly said, have not only failed to win the confidence of the majority of the Italians of goodwill, but have done immeasurable harm. As ~~6681~~ troops move forward, the gravity of the situation will be greatly accentuated. So critical is the situation already that it is felt to be of the gravest importance that it be brought to the attention of the highest authorities of the United States Government, so that immediate steps may be taken (1) that Colonel Gayre be returned in his present post and (2) that an immediate change in the American personnel of his staff in Italy and Sicily

SUBJECT : Religion in the school.
REF : ED/S.10
DATE : March 6. 1944

1.- Acknowledgements are hereby made and thanks recorded for your report (dated 29 February 1944) as to the previous policy of this subcommission in regard to religion in the Italian schools and as to its method of liquidating administrative incidents.

2.- There can be no just perturbation on the part of this Subcommission as to the course which concluded the incident in Sicily to which reference is made. Your own attitude and the official action of the subcommission has been so manifestly correct that the record may well be allowed to speak as it has spoken, the final word; and your precedent is now become our continuing policy.

3.- It is not as though our educational effort had started, could start, de novo with either State or Church. We found a State defeated but a Church triumphant in the schools through a Treaty and Concordat Concluded with that now defeated state. To extirpate the doctrines of the State from the Schools but to respect the privileged position of the Church in the schools was the indication of our double duty. In a situation so ambiguous it is providential that we did not make serious mistakes. It was hardly ours to presume upon matters of the highest international policy. In this premise we were soldiers, not philosophers; and in this practice administrators, not evaluators. As judgmental success was beyond our power, so error of judgment is outside our deserts. In operation we were not even privileged to remark the narrowing of religious essence to what in all three of our great allied lands (not to mention China as the fourth) would be by a great majority of our citizens be regarded as doctrinaire rather than sacrosanct and what would in the United States at least would offend both the deepest constitutional credo, that of separation of church and state, and the highest moral credo, that of toleration as between utter equals of all competing theological creeds.

4.- If defence be needed for your, our, course, it could hardly be defence against censure from responsible Catholic sources; for, to repeat we have accorded maximum deference to all but the maximum monopoly accorded Catholicism by fascism. (We even went beyond the Lateran Treaty and the Concordat in the matter of permitting the opening new church schools in Sicily). Our right flank is thus secure from attack by the Right. It has the momentary safety of surrender to the Catholic-Fascist Pact and Concordat of 1929. It is our left flank which is in dialectical peril, and all the more so because our Center was fixed by historic accident rather than by original judgment. If, however, the Italian people were present to will into being a spiritual force pressing upon education from as far to our British-American left as the present spiritual pressure is to our right, let our defence be ready, and be indeed the same demurrer of correctness as now; that in Italy we were soldiers obeying orders, leaving politics to statesmen and religion to God.

February 14, 1944.

My dear Mr. Hull.

With further reference to my recent letter regarding the teaching of religion and the general educational policy to be followed in the schools of Italy under the military government of the Allied I have the honour to present for your esteemed consideration the accompanying memorandum which has been presented to me by V. Rev. Monsignor Walter Carroll, of the Vatican Secretariate of S.

M. Carroll is presently in the U. S., whither he returned at the earnest request of their Eminences Cardinal Ascalesi of Naples and Cardinal Levitrano of Palermo who have viewed with consternation the first steps being taken for the reorganization of the Italian schools. It was the wish of their Eminences that Mr. Carroll should come to present in person a view of the actual situation in order that proper steps might be taken to forestall possible lamentable abuses or to remedy those which may already have been caused.

It is superfluous for all to observe that the teaching of religion occupies an important and even essential place in any satisfactory program for education for Italy, in view of its predominantly and traditionally Catholic background.

With sentiments of esteem and with every best wish, I remain

- 5. These reports are summarized:

A). That the education S/O has endeavored to pursue a policy of scrupulous fairness to the C.C. and that this policy has been approved by eminent Church authorities on the ground, including Cardinal Lavitrano of Palermo, the Archbishop Ballo of Nagara del Valle, Father Gliozzo of _____ and Cardinal Ascalesi of Naples (a single incident in Sicily which disturbed certain church authorities was settled to their own satisfaction).

B) That this policy was accepted and has been and is being furthered by B. and A. officers with identity of viewpoint as touching the educational right of the church in a predominately catholic country, and with common determination to observe those rights defined by the prevailing Treaty and Concordat.

C) That the change of educational leadership from Lt. Col. Gayre (b) to Lt. Col. T. V. Smith (a) has not changed the policy or the direction of effort accepted by both and further by them both in entire accord.

D) That there is no justification for discrimination between the policies of A. & B. educational officers and that there is no ground for apprehension regarding our policy toward the Church in Italian Education under AMG. I regard the insinuations that the policy of one of my subcommissions is affected by the nationality of its chief or member with regret and resentment. All the responsible members of the A.C.C. work together as an Allied team. That is their task and that is what they strive to do.

IL PRIMO CONVEGNO DEI SR. PROVVEDITORI AGLI STUDI

DELL'ITALIA LIBERATA

Education in Liberated Italy

Presso il Ministero della Pubblica Istruzione è stato tenuto il primo convegno dei Provveditori agli Studi dell'Italia liberata. All'inizio dei lavori P.E. il Ministro, dopo il saluto ai partecipanti, ha illustrato le direttive fondamentali cui deve aspirarsi la nuova scuola italiana. =

Richiamando le istruzioni già impartite, il Ministro ha insistito sulla necessità che la scuola non venga turbata dagli echi dei contrasti politici e che i professori, pur militando - come sono liberi di fare - in partiti diversi, mantengano un contegno di serena imparzialità di fronte ai giovani, i quali, non per imbottimento di cervelli, ma attraverso il libero esercizio delle loro facoltà intellettive, debbono pervenire ad una personale convinzione politica. La scuola deve essere agnostica, di quel tale agnosticismo che il fascismo si è sforzato di eliminare ad ogni costo. =

"Un altro motivo di assidua cura e di costante preoccupazione - ha detto il Ministro - deve essere, per tutti, la elevazione culturale della scuola. Scuole governativa e scuola privata sono in questi ultimi anni scadute dal livello normale. =

Come in economia la cattiva moneta caccia la buona, così nel nostro campo la scuola cattiva, rappresentata da corsi troppo leggermente riconosciuti, senza adeguata dignità di insegnamenti, ha fatto decadere la buona; che ha dovuto altresì subire ogni sorta di riforme e di inframmettenze dovute a motivi politici. =

A questo stato di cose deve essere portato pronto rimedio, ripristinando con ogni mezzo, la serietà degli studi, senza peraltro fare della scuola un privilegio di determinate classi, ma favorendo, anzi, gli alunni poveri che dimostrino di essere capaci e volenterosi. =

Accennando al problema della defascistizzazione il Ministro ha detto che ad esso si procederà con rapidità e fermezza, non disante, però, da un largo senso di umanità. All'uopo, oltre ai provvedimenti del licenziamenti diretti a colpire i maggiori responsabili, sarà opportuno ricorrere spesso ai trasferimenti per coloro che siano ritenuti degni di indulgenza e la cui presenza alasi non tuttavla indesiderabile in località dove sono ben noti per il loro passato politico. =

Per quanto riguarda le nomine di personale, verranno studiati gli opportuni provvedimenti, ma non si dimenticherà - come non si deve mai dimenticare - che nulla dovrà essere fatto che le a i diritti e le aspettative di coloro che attualmente soffrono, tanto più degli altri, per causa della guerra, i prigionieri e coloro che, nell'Italia invasa, continuano la lotta contro i tedeschi. Tutti costoro non dovranno trovare al loro ritorno al vivere civile, le vie chiuse e i posti occupati; dovranno, al contrario, trovare l'accoglienza più cordiale, gli aiuti più larghi, la possibilità di esercitare serenamente le loro attività e di attendere alla ricostruzione della loro vita. =

Di fronte alle loro sofferenze, come di fronte a quelle di coloro che hanno perduto in questa guerra i loro beni e i loro affetti più cari, ogni altra contrarietà passa in secondo piano; e sono assurdi i risentimenti di coloro che protestano contro una ritardata sistemazione o promozione, non meno di quelli degli studenti che menano tanto clamore perché non vengono mantenute nei loro riguardi facilitazioni di studi, che li ponevano in una condizione di privilegio in confronto a tanti loro colleghi molto più duramente provati e costretti a sacrificare ben più che la possibilità di ottenere un certo diploma e di superare un certo esame. =

Dopo avere rivolto il suo saluto alla Autorità Alleata, delle quali non si può che non apprezzare il sincero spirito di collaborazione, il Ministro ha invitato i partecipanti alla discussione dei vari argomenti all'ordine del giorno, che sono stati opportunamente trattati per armonizzare le direttive ed unificare gli indirizzi in atto, secondo le esigenze della suspirata rinascita della scuola, presupposto necessario per la ricostruzione della Nazione. =

ORDINAMTO ED ESAMI NELLE SCUOLE MEDIE DI OGNI ORDINE E GRADO

Il Ministero della Pubblica Istruzione comunica:

La progressiva liberazione di altre provincie del territorio nazionale e le persistenti difficoltà delle comunicazioni che ostacolano l'accesso e la permanenza dei candidati nelle sedi di esame hanno consigliato di apportare alcune modifiche alla ordinanza 16 maggio n° 1386, sugli scrutini e-d esami nelle scuole medie, senza peraltro sacrificare il principio che quell'ordinanza aveva ispirato, e cioè la necessità dell'esame di Stato e della prova scritta ed orale come un ritorno alla normalità e alla serietà degli studi.

Con ordinanza in data odierna, si è pertanto disposto.

Gli esami di ammissione, di promozione, di idoneità e di licenza si svolgeranno solo con prove orali, quelle di maturità e di abilitazione con prove orali e con una prova scritta di italiano, la quale, per l'abilitazione tecnica, è sostituita da una prova scritta sulla materia professionale propria dell'indirizzo o della specializzazione dell'Istituto ( commerciale, agrario, nautico, industriale ).

Le prove orali degli esami di maturità e di abilitazione verteranno, solo per gli alunni interni, sulla materia svolta nell'ultimo anno di scuola.

La prova scritta avrà luogo: il 27 luglio, per la maturità classica e scientifica; il 29 luglio per l'abilitazione al magistrale.

Il 29 luglio per l'abilitazione tecnica.

Saranno sedi di esame di maturità e di abilitazione per gli alunni interni tutti gli istituti regi, parificati, parificati 6, comunque legalmente riconosciuti, qualunque sia il numero degli alunni stessi; per i candidati esterni saranno sedi di esame soltanto gli istituti regi.

Le commissioni esaminatrici saranno composte da professori dell'istituto sede di esame, con la partecipazione di un presidente o di un commissario governativo nominato dal regio procuratore agli Studi. Anche per il corrente anno scolastico sono confermate le norme concernenti l'ammissione agli esami nelle scuole e negli istituti dell'ordine tecnico, comprese le scuole ed i corsi di avviamento professionale e l'abilitazione all'insegnamento professionale per la donna, contenute nei paragrafi 4° - 11° dell'ordinanza 15 aprile 1943.

RECONSTRUCTION OF CATHOLIC B.S.

In the lack of general directives we are forwarding the first provisional directives received from our Archbishop in harmony with all the Bishops of Campania.

1. It is necessary to begin with the greatest urgency the recruiting of youths and boys in order to anticipate analogous initiatives from sources other than ours.

2. This movement must be set up on a broad basis. However the elements must be chosen with the criteria used in the past and with the tests as prescribed in the rules, for we must not forget that the uniform regulates the conduct of the B.S. to a much greater extent than a simple badge.

3. The "breadth of vision" (i.e. tolerance) which is necessary at first, in order to attract and "save" as much of our youths as possible must not lead to the detriment of the seriousness of the organization. We must not, under a new name, repeat the mistakes of the C.I.L. Numbers are very important but the question of numbers must not suffocate the life of the unit. Rather than having a few overcrowded units it is necessary that very small units be created in order that a great number of youths and boys may receive a careful education.

RELATIONS BETWEEN CATHOLIC YOUTH AND B.S.

4. It is not superfluous to point out-for experience has taught us - that the novelty and the attraction of the revived organization should not become a cause for abandoning or neglecting the Catholic Action. The assistants and directors should take care to secure the continued life, even the further invigoration of the Association. It must not be forgotten that the Catholic Youth, because of the great services it has done Italy, has been and is necessary and no other organization can replace it.

5. The Youth of C.A. must be the basis (ferment) and the goal (aspiration) of the B.S.
- the basis because all members of the C.A. should be the first to join the B.S. and they should be the first to set an example. The directors, instructors and troop leaders, since they must have a tried and firm preparation, cannot fail to be youth or even men of the C.A. Whenever possible the Delegato Aspirante or the Delegato Ju, must be the instructors. The Guides and the Aspiranti Cepi are the proper elements to become troop leaders.

In case there should be other elements not enrolled in the A.C. but having proper moral and physical qualifications for assuming directional duties in the B.S. it would be advisable that they should also give their support to the C.Y.

-- the goal is as much as it will be the important and delicate task of the Assistanti to direct into the C.Y. such B.S. as are worthy of it.

6. The director of the unit. Director and instructor belong to the council of the association. This fusion of elements will facilitate as well the necessary dovetailing of activities and schedules so that one movement will not hamper the other.

7. The B.S. will take part in the meeting of Religious Culture of the association and will take the same examinations.

8. It is desirable that there be an Association in the Parishes, Churches and Institutes in which a B.S. unit is set up. Where there is none the founders of the unit should seek to crown their work by setting up the Association as well.

9. The categories of the B.S. will harmonize with the vertical division of the C.Y.

Tenderfoot (?)	10-15 up
B.S.	up to 21
Senior B.S.	over 21

10. For the better formation of the B.S. and to gain the confidence of the families the units should be constituted with the criterion of horizontal classification already in use in the C.Y. (workers, students, etc.).

ORGANIZATION

11. Every unit intending to organize must make request of the Diocesan Commissariat, indicating the denomination to be assumed. Each unit will be assigned a number and a color.

12. The appointment of the Ecclesiastical Assistanti and the Director of the unit must be subject to approval of the Ordinario Diocesano. Appointments of instructors are the function of the Commissariat organizing the preparatory course.

13. The B.S. will have a provisional card different from that of the C.Y., since, as has been said, they may contain elements not enrolled in the C.Y.

14. Applications for B.S. cards will be made in the same way as for C.Y. cards; i.e. by written request made on forms furnished by the Commissariato.

15. While awaiting the uniforms and equipment which have been promised us by the Scout Organization of the Allied Countries candidates having passed the prescribed tests and qualified for the uniform will wear a white "foulard" (scarf), bordered with the color of the troop, having the scout eagle in the rear angle and the unit number (in Arabic numerals) in the forward corner, on the left shoulder.

We must point out at once that this provisional uniform or the other definitive uniform may be worn only during periods of instruction, meetings or other activities of the unit.

16. The most urgent necessity is the preparation of instructors. To this end the diocesan Commissariate will set up as soon as possible an accelerated course of preparations. It will be the responsibility of the Assistanti and of the Directors of units to indicate the youths having the necessary moral and physical requirements. These may be recruited not only from among the present directing elements of the Association but also from among our young Army officers, now discharged and from among the teachers of gymnastic - always with proper scrutiny. Use may be made of former instructors of the A.S.C.I.

17. Another serious difficulty is the lack of buildings and gymnasiums. This is a problem that has to be met case by case. First, of all during the summer a good part of the instructions may take place in the open. Use may be made of the School gymnasium. Units of the same zone may make use of the same yard, on different days or at different hours. Centers, parishes or institutes having a yard at their disposal may share with other units. Other activities of the unit may be carried on in the meeting places of the association.

18. As soon as possible the manuals of organization and the technical handbooks will be reprinted by the Commissariate of the Diocese. For the recent directives will be given by means of circulars.

19. The presidenza diocesana invites Curates, Heads of Institutes, Priests, Youth Association to indicate as soon as possible - in any case not later than the week in Albis - the local situation as affecting the possible formation of a unit, indicating:

- 1) What are the possibilities of recruitment and what is the social background.
- 2) Availability of buildings or open air space.
- 3) If yards are available in vicinity.
- 4) Available elements for directing the units.
- 5) What ex-scouts or ex-instructors are known, even if unavailable.
- 6) Names to be enrolled for the instructor course.
- 7) If in that place there has ever been an ASCI unit.

8) If there are any special facilities.

This information is of the greatest importance and will enable the Commission to make a concrete plan. The information should therefore be given quickly and accurately.

20. Without awaiting further directive or assistance, all who are animated by good will and in a position to begin should commence immediately the recruiting of youths and boys, speaking to them of the A.S.C.I., instructing them, finding leaders, preparing organization nuclei, keeping always in contact with the center. If we Catholics are unable to make a good and successful start we shall miss a great opportunity for doing good. The Lord will ask us to give an accounting for this lost opportunity.

SUBJECT: Report on Youth Activities.

TO : Deputy Chief Commissioner.

THRU : Vice President, Administrative Section.

The Education Sub-Commission has the honor to submit a brief report on its initial efforts to restore on proper foundations certain youth activities in AMG territory. We have approached this matter cautiously and with limited objectives. We have wished to see what initiative there is of the "grass roots" type and what use may be made of it in the educational enterprise. Education Officers of Regions III and IV have pooled their ingenuity under Sub-Commission encouragement to see what may be discovered in Naples worthy of further development in Rome and of eventual recommendation to the Ministry of National Education for the whole of Italy.

The general Commission has been divided into five subcommittees to help the youth of various ages. To date these subcommittees have considered the following problems:

1. The University subcommittee has arranged a political forum for university students. It is considering plans for the reestablishment of the university printing house. It is attempting to set up a student store.
2. The Scuola Media Superiore Subcommittee has proposed a plan for the establishment of clubs in the secondary schools and the publication of a school newspaper. The first club has been started with great enthusiasm.
3. The Scuola Media Inferiore Subcommittee has developed a plan for inaugurating groups akin to the Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts. A request has been made of the Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts of America for help in rebuilding this organization.
4. The Scuola Elementare Subcommittee has presented a detailed plan for furnishing lunches to school children. If this plan is not in early operation, it will not be from any lack of enthusiasm and practicality on the part of the youths who have promoted it.
5. The Asili Infantili subcommittee has proposed plans for re-opening of kindergartens and day nurseries for children of working mothers.
6. The coordinating committee of these five subcommittees has worked out a general plan for student aid (patronoscolastico) equally applicable in all regions.

To have employed a full time civilian secretary, a gifted and enthusiastic Italian teacher, who brings such energy to the direction of this work and radiates enthusiasm. All reports, from that of the Rector of the Naples University to the humblest student, indicate a genuine passion for independence and a fertility of suggestion which together show that here is a well-spring for the kind of self-management that underlies democratic government.

As a case in point, students below the University level recently gave a concert in Naples theatre to raise money for their future enterprises. On two days' notice they filled the theatre and gave a creditable performance managed throughout by themselves.

MEMORANDUM

The Allied educational program for Italy is at present under the direction of Lieutenant Colonel Gayre of the British Army, an Oxford scholar, member of the Church of England and scientist of repute. The principal members of his staff are Major T. V. Smith, Major Carleton Washburn, and Major Koopman of the American Army.

These latter are said to be bent on encouraging leftist elements in Italian education and imposing, under the guise of "freedom of thought", educational programs not only devoid of traditional Christian influences of any kind, but designed to deprive children, parents, and the Church of the elementary rights recognized by every society in which the principles of justice and freedom prevail.

Colonel Gayre, because of powerful backing in England, up to now has succeeded, not without great difficulty, in preventing the American members of the staff from putting into practice policies which he and the mass of the Italian people rightly regard as arbitrary, unjust, and perilous to the true welfare of the people and the stability of the nation. There are indications that these American officials have in mind the dechristianization of education. They are already regarded in Italy as extreme doctrinaires and superficial educational experimentalists. The inevitable result of their program, if permitted to be put into effect, will be the preparation for, if not the establishment of, an anti-religious educational regime with no provision for the freedom which prevails in the educational systems of England and the United States.

Now it is learned that Colonel Gayre, the only obstacle in the way of those who would carry out such a program, is about to be recalled to London and that he will be succeeded in the normal course of events by any one of the above-mentioned American officials, with the other two remaining as his assistants. This news has created consternation among those interested in promoting genuine education in the country. Shocking as they find the present condition of affairs, they feel that the situation which would follow the departure of Colonel Gayre would be nothing short of disastrous. It might be noted that the Italian people have been utterly dismayed to find themselves victims of policies and programs alien not only to their concept of freedom but to the traditions and practices recognized as inviolable under the Constitution of the United States.

Thus these American officials, it may be truly said, have not only failed to win the confidence of the majority of the Italians of goodwill, but have done immeasurable harm. As Allied troops move forward, the gravity of the situation will be greatly accentuated. So critical is the situation already that it is felt to be of the gravest importance that it be brought to the attention of the highest Authorities of the United States Government, so that immediate steps may be taken 1) that Colonel Gayre be retained in his present post and 2) that an immediate change in the American personnel of his staff in Italy and Sicily be effected by the American authorities.

Axis Education Stumps Hull

By JAY C. HAYDEN
From Our Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON, April 5. — Not the least of the headaches presently plaguing Secretary of State Cordell Hull, is the flood of plans for re-educating Axis countries, if and when they are conquered.

Hull, his associates say, fully recognizes the desirability of extirpating Fascist ideologies and getting youth in the Axis nations started on a new intellectual track. But as a statesman with long practical experience in dealing with the body politic, he discerns great difficulties on the road to accomplishment of this task.

To start with, there are the obvious differences among the United Nations (between the United States and Soviet Russia, for example) as to what teaching should be offered in lieu of the Fascist doctrines.

Hull already has run into numerous ideological pitfalls, particularly in his dealings with the Free French in North Africa and violently conflicting groups of Italians. One conclusion Hull has arrived at was incorporated in a statement issued by the State Department last week. This said:

"It would be unwise for this Government to undertake to apply much less impose, a foreign education program or system in any liberated country, or to develop a program for the placement of American teachers in the schools of these countries, or for the preparation of textbooks in the United States for use in such schools."

EXPERIMENT IN ITALY

MEANWHILE THE ALLIED military government is very quietly going about the renovation of the school system of Southern Italy, and the results of its experimentation are likely to greatly influence the ultimate American policy respecting Axis re-education.

The AMG educational branch, under a British lieutenant colonel and Maj. Carlton W. Washburne, famous school superintendent of Winnetka, Ill., is handling this endeavor.

These officers first rounded up as many Italian school teachers with a democratic bent as they could find. These were sent through the schools, removing pictures of Benito Mussolini and other Fascist dignitaries, and tearing out the parts of the textbooks which dealt with Fascist ideology.

Teachers definitely identified with the Fascist organization were fired. Some entire courses were eliminated.

With these changes the Italian pupils have been left in the hands of their former teachers, and with the same school books—the latter, partly because there were no other books in the Italian language with leges cannot be purged by removing pictures and parts of textbooks. A college professor does not need either textbooks or symbols for projecting his ideologies.

In face of this situation and due particularly to the scarcity of qualified teachers to replace those presently on the job, "dry cleaning" of colleges has proceeded slowly.

In marked contrast with the State Department's conservatism, educational groups, as so far formed to deal with after-war problems, have trended more and more in the direction of forcing re-education on conquered countries.

This was the course which a British educational conference recommended from the beginning. An American group about the same time was less drastic. Its report held that the job must be left mainly to elements within the countries to be rehabilitated. Later, however, American educational opinion, as in a conference at Harpers Ferry last September, has veered in the British direction.

The United States just now is sending a mission to London to deal with the subject. Its members are two State Department educational advisers, Dr. Ralph Turner of the University of Pittsburgh, and Dr. Grason N. Kefauver, of Stanford University; John W. Studebaker, director of the United States Office of Education; Archibald MacLellan, director of the Library of Congress, and Rep. J. William Fulbright, former president of the University of Arkansas.

The job proved comparatively easy in the elementary schools, and not much harder in the high schools, because up to that point faculty and textbooks could be decanted without great difficulty, disturbing the normal routine.

PROBLEM IN UNIVERSITIES

THE UNIVERSITIES present a much more difficult problem. Youths of college age have been under the Mussolini tutelage for a long time and one of the first acts of the Fascist regime was to force all college professors to stand up and be counted for or against it.

As with newspapermen and other groups in position to influence public opinion, those of the professors who failed to succumb to Fascist doctrines were removed and many of them liquidated.

Hoffmaster said the company had asked permission to cut over 3,000 acres within the proposed boundaries, but that he would recommend a much smaller area. He said he would attempt to preserve uncut a tract along the Presque Isle River gorge, the highway into the area and along the Lake Superior shore.

Stavisky Jewels Sold to Pay Off Creditors

MADRID, April 5. —(AP)—The Serge Stavisky jewels were reported in a Paris dispatch to the Spanish press today to have been sold at auction for more than 7,000,000 francs to satisfy creditors. Failure of Stavisky's chain of pawnshops in Bayonne late in 1933 led to a series of financial scandals, the death of Stavisky—which French police said was suicide—and resignation of the Chautemps Cabinet.
