With reference to your letter No. 12335/AG/3.24. Coll dated 12th November, it is understood from Allied Force Headquarters that the proceeds of the sale of the aircraft are to go in the first place to cover arrears due to the Spanish Government in respect of the protection of Italian interests up to the end of October. The balance should then be devoted to the maintenance of the Italian Embassy.

The balance should be devoted to the maintenance of the Italian Embassy.

MEMORANDUM TO: G-5, AFHQ.

SUBJECT: Proceeds of sale of Italian planes interned in Spain.

Reference is made to ACG Political Section memorandum of August 9 and our memorandum of September 5, 1944, both with reference to the Italian desire to utilize the proceeds of the eventual sale of Italian planes in Spain towards the refunding to the Spanish Government of protection expenses incurred by the latter.

In reply to the Department of State's telegram of August 23, the substance of which was contained in our memorandum of September 5, the American Embassy in Madrid sent a telegram to the Department on September 7, the substance of which is quoted herewith for your information:

In view of the persistent refusal of the Spanish Government to give consideration to the application of the civil war debt against any Italian obligations in Spain pending clarification of position of the Italian Government and stabilization of lire in which money debt is payable, the Italian Embassy has not considered it worthwhile to take up with the Spanish Government the question of applying a portion of the debt toward defraying costs of latter's representation of Italian interests. Spain has "annexed", since capitulation, but has not paid into clearing, two installments of 46,100,000 lire each. Spain has hedged on proposals to liquidate Italian deficit of 300,000,000 lire in clearing by discounted prepayment of war debt installments through 1946, since the Italian armistice. The problem of liquidating clearing as well as that of fixing an exchange rate between peseta and lire reflecting present relative values, is involved in any use of the war debt as a source of pesetas for Italians. The possibilities for protracted bargaining, on both points, are obvious. For some months the Italian Embassy, supported by the British and ourselves, has been pressing for a favorable decision in principle with respect to this matter and has agreed to sound out the Spanish Government along the lines suggested, although not hopeful of early success.

In view of the relatively small amount involved, British Embassy has recommended to London, with reference to proposal to use proceeds of sale of aircraft towards refunding Spanish Government for expenses incurred in protecting Italian interests that, in order to avoid further delay which can result only in deterioration of Italian aircraft in Spain and consequent reduction in their saleability, permission be given to Italian Government, subject of course to approval of final sale price by Allied Control Commission, to employ proceeds of sale of aircraft as outlined therein.

POLITICAL SECTION

The Italian Ministry for Air informs that the Spanish Government would be interested in the purchase of some Italian planes interned in Spain. The Ministry adds that the Allied Authorities in Algiers have requested that the proceeds of the sale in question be paid to the British and American Embassies in Madrid, as partial reimbursement of the funds advanced by the Allies to the Italian Embassy.

In consideration of the fact that quite recently the Spanish Government informed the Italian Ambassador at Madrid that they would be unable to continue the task of protecting Italian interests abroad should the Italian Government continue not to be in a position to reimburse them of the relevant expenses, the Ministry of Foreign Affairs expresses the wish to utilize the proceeds of the eventual sale of the planes towards the refunding to the Spanish Government of the protection expenses incurred.)

The Ministry of Foreign Affairs trusts that the A. C. C. will not fail to see the reasonableness of the solution proposed and should be glad if the Political Section would accordingly kindly inform the competent Allied Authorities in Algiers and the British and American Embassies at ~~Madrid~~.

Instructions in this sense are being sent to the Italian Embassy there.

The Ministry of Foreign Affairs would much appreciate an early reply on the matter. Edw.

UNITED STATES POLITICAL ADVISER
ALLIED FORCE HEADQUARTERS

June 10, 1944

TO: Samuel Reber, Esquire
Vice President
Allied Control Commission
Political Section
Naples

SUBJECT: Italian Airline Equipment on Iberian Peninsula

The Department of State has requested your comments and recommendations in regard to the following report from the American Embassy in Madrid concerning disposition of Italian aircraft and gasoline in Spain.

The Spanish Government has given evidence to the Italian Air Attache in Madrid that it is interested in the possibility of purchasing Italian military aircraft interned in Spain. The planes involved, together with estimates by the British Air Attache of reasonable prices for them in pesetas are:

7 seaplanes (RO43, 420,000 pesetas total. One such plane has sunk because of alleged negligence by the Spanish.)
1 Torpedo bomber 79, 1,250,000 pesetas.
1 AT313 seaplane 150,000 pesetas.
1 Cantzeta and co-7 at 900,000 pesetas.

All the planes are in Mallorca except the Torpedo bomber which is at Alcala.

The prices that actually could be obtained might have to be lower since as an alternative to their sale the Spanish Government has a bargaining weapon in the form of continued internment. It is not believed that the addition of these planes would appreciably enhance Spanish military strength.

The American Embassy sees no objections to the sale of the planes provided that the advances made by the British and American Governments for maintenance of the Italian Mission in Madrid would be reduced by an amount corresponding to the proceeds. The recommendation of the British Embassy ¹⁹⁹³ this point is that the proceeds of the sales should be paid directly to the British and American Embassies as a credit against advances made in the past. In the opinion of the American Embassy, it would be preferable to have the sales based upon collection by the Italians of free pesetas not chargeable to the Italian clearing debt, and then to decrease by an equivalent amount the next subsequent advances made by the American and British Embassies. This arrangement would be preferred by the American Embassy in order to keep the matter a simple bookkeeping transaction which would not involve the American and British Government in the sales procedure.

With regard to the gasoline of the Italian Airlines it is estimated by the Italian Air Attache in Madrid that some 200,000 liters of aviation gasoline which was originally of 87 octane are on hand in Spain, and that nearly 50,000 kilos of lubricants are on hand. Recommendation as to the disposition of the gasoline will be made after an analysis to determine its present condition.

The Department of State comments that the handling of the proceeds of the proposed sale as suggested by the American Embassy in Madrid would appear desirable, if the proposed disposition of this material is approved by competent Allied authorities. For your information the comments of the interested sections of AFHQ regarding the proposed sale are being requested separately.

For the American Political Adviser.

Italian Air Attaché says that he will co-operate in putting Italian air transport equipment at the disposal of the British and U.S. authorities when he has received the instructions in question.

2. Italian air line holds in Spain stock of about 200,000 lit... of aviation spirit and have refused recent offers to purchase by the Spanish Government. Octane value was originally 37 but as it is about a year old samples are being obtained by U.S. Embassy to determine present octane and condition. Italians will retain this stock pending orders from their Government.

3. Italian Air Attaché also reports that the Spanish Government are interested in purchasing Italian military aircraft interned in Spain. As these are in poor condition and of obsolete type, British and U.S. Air Attachés agree that they would be of no service to the Allies even if release could be secured, i.e. as a result of arbitration as in the case of warships. On the other hand the price offered by the Spanish Government would probably be comparatively low owing both to poor condition and the fact that alternative to purchase is almost certainly continued internment. British and U.S. Air Attachés have agreed that reasonable price would be 2,720,000 pesetas on the following basis:

1 CANT 1007 B	Pesetas 200,000
1 S 79 Torpedo Bomber	Pesetas 1,250,000
7 B 30 A3's	Pesetas 420,000
1 CA 315	Pesetas 150,000

I see no objection to this purchase provided that it is made clear to the Italian Government that proceeds of sale must be handed over to U.S. and British Embassies in part settlement of advances already made by them to the Italian Embassy and not, repeated 1997 retained to cover current or future expenses.

2. Italian air line holds in Spain stock of about 200,000 litres this stock pending orders from their government.

3. Italian Air Attache also reports that the Spanish Government

British and U.S. Air Attaches agree they would be of no service to 43rd pesetas 420,000 1- 315 pesetas 190,000.

I see no objection to this purchase provided it is made

U.S. Embassy have learnt that Italian Air Attaché has informed Italian Air Ministry that 50,000 pesetas a month will be needed for payment of wages to the 23 Italian members of the Italian airline staff in Spain after the present funds are exhausted at the end of June. The U.S. Embassy understand that after the armistice some items of airline property were sold to provide wages. They have also pointed out that prices given in my telegram under reference are maximum estimates and final level agreed with Spanish authorities would probably be lower.

2. The U.S. Embassy have also suggested to Algiers and Washington that the proceeds of sale of the Italian equipment having been collected by the Italians, a corresponding deduction should be made from the next Anglo-American advance for the maintenance of the Italian Mission. Although for the reasons given in my telegram under reference I would prefer that the money should be handed over by the Italian Embassy to this and the U.S. Embassy in part settlement of past advances, I would not wish to object to the U.S. proposal if U.S. authorities press for its acceptance, provided it is agreed that the Italian Ambassador undertakes to apply the proceeds of the sale against current monthly advances as determined by us and the Americans.

Sir:

Reference is made to my communication of March 3, 1944, concerning the utilization of equipment and personnel of the LATI and Ala Italiana airlines in Spain.

The Allied Control Commission has been informed by the American Embassy in Madrid that, according to information received from the Italian Embassy there, the Badoglio Government has established an entity known as LAI (Linee Aeree Italiane) to take over Italian Air Line concessions in Spain under the provisions of Article 9 of the Spanish-Italian air agreement of April 12, 1940, which provides that each of the contracting parties can at any moment freely designate a new society to undertake air services without indemnifying the previous contractor. The previous concessionaires were the Ala Italiana and LATI which suspended their operations at the time of the Armistice with Italy.

This development is described by the American Embassy as a sequel to recommendations made and action taken by the Italian Ambassador in Madrid last December. At that time, he recommended to his Government the formation of LAI and the transfer to it of the operating concession in order to prevent the Fascist Republican regime from establishing services under the air agreement with Spain. The Italian Ambassador then notified the Spanish Government that the Italian Government was entrusting its air service with Spain to the newly formed LAI.

The American Embassy in Madrid is not informed as to when the Italian Ambassador's action was supported by actual establishment of LAI by the Badoglio Government, although data received there from the Italian Embassy points to the probability that this event took place in January. However, powers-of-attorney and other documents on the subject for local use were not received in Madrid until recently.

It is assumed that the establishment of LSI need not interfere with the utilization by the Mediterranean Air Transport Service of the Italian airlines equipment. It would be appreciated if the Allied Control Commission could be informed of the present position in respect to the request of the Mediterranean Air Transport Service.

There is enclosed a detailed summary of equipment and personnel in Spain as provided to the American Embassy in Madrid by the Italian Embassy there.

Sir:

Reference is made to Memorandum No. 559 of the Royal Italian Ministry for Foreign Affairs, dated February 12, 1944, concerning the desire of the Italian Government to resume an Italian commercial air service between Southern Italy and the Iberian Peninsula. Further consideration has been given to this proposal and to the Royal Ministry of Aeronautics Memorandum of December 1, 1943, and the Allied Control Commission has been informed that the Allied military authorities and Governments cannot at the present time agree to the resumption of commercial airlines in this theater. It may be pointed out in this connection that no United Nations commercial airlines are permitted to operate in active war theaters.

The Allied Governments are in agreement with the desire of the Italian authorities to prevent any of the equipment and facilities of the Lati and Ala Littoria airlines in Spain from being put at the disposal of the so-called Fascist Republican Government or of the Germans, and that civil airline properties should be guarded against such an eventuality. In view of the urgent requirements of the Mediterranean Allied Air Forces, it would be of benefit to the war effort if the equipment and personnel, particularly the auto engine spares, Reference your 774.592 of 16th February 1944, Memo No. 559 of 12th February 1944 from the Italian Ministry of Foreign Affairs contains some inaccuracies which require correction.

2. The Italian Air Minister was told some time ago that there was no possibility of an Italian Civil air service between Spain and Southern Italy. Therefore no technical preparations for the resumption of the LATI airline to Spain have been completed nor are any contemplated.
3. The course of action now required is for the return of all equipment and spares for use in this theatre of operations; para. 5 of the Acting Chief Civil Administrator's letter of 9th February 1944, shows that this has already been requested by HQ. Mediterranean Allied Air Forces.
4. The Italian authorities are naturally anxious that none of the LATI and ALA LITTORALI Companies' equipment and facilities in Spain should be put at the disposal of the opposition Government in Northern Italy, and that all Italian civil airline property should be safeguarded against such an eventuality.
5. It is assumed that this point of view coincides with the desires of the Allied Governments; no doubt pressure will be applied in the proper quarter to ensure that the enemy Italian Government gets no such preferential treatment.

SUBJECT: Italian Airline Equipment on Iberian Peninsula.

Reference is made to the Political Section's memorandum of February 16, 1944 (774/392), asking whether a communication from the Italian Government renewing a proposal for resumption of Italian airline service between Southern Italy and the Iberian Peninsula affects the suggestion, contained in Civil Affairs' memorandum of February 9, 1944, that the Italian Government be requested to make the Italian airline equipment on the Peninsula available for the use of the Mediterranean Air Transport Service.

For the information of the Political Section, there is reviewed briefly below some of the pertinent background on this subject in the Civil Affairs files.

A proposal for resuming Italian air service between the Iberian Peninsula and liberated Italy was first brought to the attention of Allied Force Headquarters in October, 1943, with the endorsement of the American Legation at Lisbon and the American Embassy at Madrid. In connection with consideration of the proposal at Algiers, the War Department transmitted on November 12 these comments of the Department of State: (1) United Nations commercial airlines have not been permitted in active war theaters; (2) control of Italian air operations between points in neutral Portugal and Italy would be impossible; (3) a precedent which might have bearing on treatment of German airlines in the future might be established.

With the concurrence of Military Government, G-2 and the Mediterranean Air Command, AFHQ, informed the War Department that it agreed with the Department of State comments and added these objections to the proposal: control of passengers, pilots and crews would be most difficult from a security aspect; diversion to the Italian line of fuel and other supplies would be necessary; operation of the Italian airline would not benefit the war effort of the United Nations.

In the meantime, Civil Affairs was informed by the Department of State on November 17, 1943, that it had been made clear by the President that he did not wish to preserve or re-establish Italian commercial airline service in any form at present. The Department advised that consequently the suggested Italian service between Southern Italy and the Iberian Peninsula was out of the question, and any use of Italian airline facilities in the Peninsula would have to be solely for military purposes as a part of the armed forces.

The substance of an Allied Control Commission memorandum dated December 6, 1943, in which it was said among other things that the Italian Air Minister proposed retention of the LAMI business premises together with skeleton maintenance staff and retention of radio staffs with equipment inoperative until re-opening of airline, with spare parts, engines and some other equipment to be returned to Italy, was transmitted to the Department of State. With reference to the President's views as summarized above, the Department confirmed on January 7, 1944, that the Italian Air Minister's suggestion could not be followed, but that instead the premises should be vacated and the equipment put to other use.

In view of all the foregoing, there does not appear to be any possibility that the renewed request of the Italian Government could receive favorable consideration. It is suggested, therefore, that the Allied Control Commission will wish to discourage the aspirations of the Italian Government for resumption of the service between southern Italy and the Iberian Peninsula, and proceed with the steps necessary to facilitate use of the available equipment by the Mediterranean Air Transport Service.

SUBJECT: Italian Airline Equipment on Iberian Peninsula.

Reference is made to the Political Section's memorandum of February 16, 1944 (774/392), asking whether a communication from the Italian Government renewing a proposal for resumption of Italian airline service between Southern Italy and the Iberian Peninsula affects the suggestion, contained in Civil Affairs' memorandum of February 9, 1944, that the Italian Government be requested to make the Italian airline equipment on the Peninsula available for the use of the Mediterranean Air Transport Service.

For the information of the Political Section, there is reviewed briefly below some of the pertinent background on this subject in the Civil Affairs files.

A proposal for resuming Italian air service between the Iberian Peninsula and liberated Italy was first brought to the attention of Allied Force Headquarters in October, 1943, with the endorsement of the American Legation at Lisbon and the American Embassy at Madrid. In connection with consideration of the proposal at Algiers, the War Department transmitted on November 12 these comments of the Department of State: (1) United Nations commercial airlines have not been permitted in active war theaters; (2) control of Italian air operations between points in neutral Portugal and Italy would be impossible; (3) a precedent which might have bearing on treatment of German airlines in the future might be established.

With the concurrence of Military Government, G-2 and the Mediterranean Air Command, AFHQ informed the War Department that it agreed with the Department of State comments and added these objections to the proposal: control of passengers, pilots and crews would be most difficult from a security aspect; diversion to the Italian line of fuel and other supplies would be necessary; operation of the Italian airline would not benefit the war effort of the United Nations.

In the meantime, Civil Affairs was informed by the Department of State on November 17, 1943, that it had been made clear by the President that he did not wish to preserve or re-establish Italian commercial airline service in any form at present. The Department advised that consequently the suggested Italian service between Southern Italy and the Iberian Peninsula was out of the question, and any use of Italian airline facilities in the Peninsula would have to be solely for military purposes as a part of the armed forces.

The substance of an Allied Control Commission memorandum dated December 6, 1943, in which it was said among other things that the Italian Air Minister proposed retention of the LATI business premises together with skeleton maintenance staff and retention of radio staffs with equipment inoperative until re-opening of airline, with spare parts, engines and some other equipment to be returned to Italy, was transmitted to the Department of State. With reference to the President's views as summarized above, the Department confirmed on January 7, 1944, that the Italian Air Minister's suggestion could not be followed, but that instead the premises should be vacated and the equipment put to other use.

In view of all the foregoing, there does not appear to be any possibility that the renewed request of the Italian Government could receive favorable consideration. It is suggested, therefore, that the Allied Control Commission will wish to discourage the aspirations of the Italian Government for resumption of the service between southern Italy and the Iberian Peninsula, and proceed with the steps necessary to facilitate use of the available equipment by the Mediterranean Air Transport Service.

MEMORANDUM TO: Civil Affairs Section, Allied Force Headquarters
SUBJECT: Airline Equipment on Iberian Peninsula.

Reference is made to Civil Affairs Memorandum of February 9, 1944, concerning the desire of the Mediterranean Allied Air Forces (Rear) to obtain Italian airline equipment in the Iberian Peninsula for the use of the Mediterranean Air Transport Service.

Simultaneously with the receipt of the Memorandum under reference, a communication has been received from the Italian Foreign Office requesting authorization to resume service between southern Italy and the Iberian Peninsula as suggested by the Royal Ministry of Aeronautics in its Memorandum of December 1 addressed to Air Commodore Foster, Chief of the Air Section of the Allied Control Commission.

It would be appreciated if it could be ascertained whether this communication from the Italian Government affects the approach to the Italian Government proposed in the Memorandum under reference.

MEMORANDUM TO: Political Section,
Allied Control Commission,
Naples.

Subject: Italian Airline Equipment on Iberian Peninsula.

1. The Mediterranean Air Command suggested to Civil Affairs last October that full information be obtained as to Italian commercial airline personnel, equipment and facilities available on the Iberian Peninsula preliminary to initiation of action to employ these facilities either (a) for operational purposes being administered by the Italian Government, or (b) for establishing a transport service under direction of the Mediterranean Air Transport Service.

2. This information was supplied by the American Legation at Lisbon, on the basis of a communication from the Italian Legation there, and communicated to the Mediterranean Air Command in a memorandum dated November 18, 1943. Except for description of the Lati plane then grounded at Lisbon, the pertinent portions of this memorandum are quoted below:

"Two routes have been operated by the Italian airlines in the vicinity of Lisbon. These are Lisbon, Madrid, Barcelona and Italy, and Lisbon, Seville and Italy. Equipment and ground organization of these lines are as follows:

"At Madrid -- a city office, a director, two employees, complete servicing equipment, three mechanics for plane, engine and radio, and stock of aviation gasoline and spare parts.

"At Barcelona -- a town office, a radio station, a director and employee, complete equipment for servicing planes, several mechanics, a stock of aviation fuel, and spare parts.

"At Seville -- offices in the town and airport, a director and employee, three mechanics for air-plane, engine and radio, a radio operator, complete servicing equipment for SM 75 and 82 planes, and a stock of 87 octane aviation gasoline, and spare engine and spare parts."

3. A memorandum to Civil Affairs from the Mediterranean Allied Air Forces (Rear) dated February 6, 1944, confirms that the airline equipment referred to is required for the Mediterranean Air Transport Service, and adds:

"It is therefore requested that negotiations with the appropriate authorities be commenced to get the equipment and personnel, particularly the aero engine spares, and radio apparatus and spares, and the radio mechanics. If these can be put at Gibraltar arrangements can be made by M.A.T.S. to send them forward either by air or sea as space becomes available.

"Will you please initiate the necessary diplomatic action."

4. It is assumed that the first step in the requested negotiations would be for the Allied Control Commission to ask the Italian Government to issue appropriate instructions to its representatives in Lisbon and Madrid. If you concur, please take the necessary action and keep this Office informed of developments.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE ALLIED CONTROL COMMISSION

With their Memorandum N.458 dated December 3, 1943 the Royal Ministry of Foreign Affairs have informed the Allied Control Commission that the Fascist authorities were planning to re-establish regular services of the "Ala Littoria" and "Lati" airlines between Rome, Seville, Madrid and Lisbon. These services had been discontinued after the Armistice.

In said Memorandum it was pointed out that it is very urgent and important to forestall such a plan by starting a regular service of our own: thus the concession granted to those companies by Spain and Portugal would be kept from being transferred to Fascist hands. Subsequently we were informed by our Ambassador in Madrid (see Allied Control Commission message n.584 of January 1st, 1944) that the "Ala Littoria" and "Lati" representative in Spain, Colonel Parvopassu, had been summoned to Rome to confer by the Fascist managers of said companies who are trying to re-establish Italian air services with Spain. Though Colonel Parvopassu has not accepted the invitation, it is to be feared that, in view of continued lack of activity on our part, Fascist Republican elements may eventually succeed in making use of "Ala Littoria" and "Lati" concessions.

It is therefore of the greatest importance that the above named companies be authorized to start a regular service of their own between Southern Italy and the Iberian Peninsula, as suggested by the Royal Ministry of Aeronautics in their Memorandum ¹⁹⁵³ December 1st, 1943 addressed to General Foster. Technical preparations for the resumption of the line have already been completed by the above Ministry and the company is only waiting for the Allied authorization.

With their Memorandum N.456 dated December 3, 1943 the Royal Ministry of Foreign Affairs have informed the Allied Control Commission that the Fascist authorities were planning to re-establish regular services of the "Ala Littoria" and "Lati" airlines between Rome, Seville, Madrid and Lisbon. These services had been discontinued after the armistice.

In said Memorandum it was pointed out that it is very urgent and important to forestall such a plan by starting a regular service of our own: thus the concession granted to those companies by Spain and Portugal would be kept from being transferred to Fascist hands. Subsequently we were informed by our Ambassador in Madrid (see Allied Control Commission message n.564 of January 1st, 1944) that the "Ala Littoria" and "Lati" representative in Spain, Colonel Parvopassu, had been summoned to Rome to confer by the Fascist managers of said companies who are trying to re-establish Italian air services with Spain. Though Colonel Parvopassu has not accepted the invitation, it is to be feared that, in view of continued lack of activity on our part, Fascist Republican elements may eventually succeed in making use of "Ala Littoria" and "Lati" concessions.

It is therefore of the greatest importance that the above named companies be authorized to start a regular service of their own between Southern Italy and the Iberian Peninsula, as suggested by the Royal Ministry of Aeronautics in their Memorandum 1953 December 1st, 1943 addressed to General Foster. Technical preparations for the resumption of the line have already been completed by the above Ministry and the company is only waiting for the Allied authorization to start operations. Resumption of the service would also enable us to recall gradually the Italian personnel that has to be repatriated from Spain and Portugal. The Royal Ministry of Foreign Affairs would

The following message to the Royal Ministry of Foreign "Letter 11 dated 17 December: Am informed by American and British Missions that Republican Government is planning to approach Portuguese authorities for purpose of reopening between Portugal, Spain and Northern Italy the Ala Littoria and Iati Airline. Personally called this matter to attention of Portuguese Foreign Affairs Minister stating our firm belief that, should such an approach be attempted, the Portuguese Government would reject it because these companies are presently under illegal control of so called Republican Government and German authorities. If the Portuguese Government should be approached indirectly with such request, I have provided confirmation that it would not in accordance with correct attitude it has always observed towards Royal Italian Government. In short, if Ala Littoria and Iati make any such request, I have been given full assurance that a definite refusal would be the answer."

The following message to the Italian Ministry of Foreign Affairs has been received from the Ambassador of Italy at Madrid:

Number 1263 dated 20 December: The representative of Ala Italiana and LAI in Spain, Colonel Parvozzani, had been suggested to confer at Rome. As he is perfectly loyal to the Royal Government, he agreed with me to reply that the state of his health prevented him from travelling. I have instructed him to take orders from the Madrid Royal Air Attache only.

"I understand that managers of these companies in Rome are trying to renew Italian air services with Spain. I urge that we should notify the Spanish Government that from now on air service with Italy will be run only by new firms of LAI (Linea Aerea Italiana), owing to utmost importance and urgency of such matters and considering that article 9 of Italo-Spanish agreement states that each high contracting party can freely designate at any time new company to undertake new service without indemnifying previous contraction.

"As soon as possible LAI company should be formed in liberated territory and its activities should start from Southern Italy, pending the liberation of Rome.

"In any admission Colonel Parvozzani should be appointed representative of the new company in Spain.

"I am sending report."

Mr. Halford.

A short time ago you sent me copy of a letter and enclosure from Sir Anthony Rumbold (38/150/1 of the 2nd August) about personnel and equipment of the Italian air lines in Spain.

I showed this to the Air Forces Sub Commission, who confirmed that M.A.T.S. were no longer interested in either the personnel or the equipment and said that Air Vice Marshal Bowen-Buscarlet was dealing with the matter. He took a copy of the letter you sent me to Caserta and no doubt has been in touch with the Resident Minister's Office. The attached copy of a note from the Air Forces Sub Commission to the Italian Air Minister shows how the matter was settled.

Dear Aubrey,

Roger Makins tells me that you are interested in the question of the employment of the personnel of Italian air lines in Spain and the use of their equipment, the subject referred to in Foreign Office telegram no.945 to Madrid of July 30th and Madrid telegram no.1 to us of July 25th.

M.A.T.S. requested last February that negotiations should be entered into to obtain the equipment and personnel belonging to the Italian civil air lines in Spain and Portugal. The British and American Missions in Spain and Portugal have accordingly been negotiating with the local Italian Air Attaches, as well as with the Spanish and Portuguese authorities, for several months to this end. The negotiations in Spain finally reached the point a month ago where an inventory of the equipment had been drawn up for M.A.T.S. to pick what they wanted from and a list provided of the personnel who were willing to volunteer for service in M.A.T.S. At this point, however, M.A.T.S. bluntly informed us that it had "not been found possible to utilise in this organisation any of the material or personnel in question". We said that this was a surprise in view of the back history of the question and asked them to confirm that this was their final decision. We have had no answer to this request in spite of two reminders, the last one of which was sent on July 30th where we pointed out that not to employ the personnel or to accept the equipment would have an undesirable effect on the Italian authorities concerned after all the steps which had already been taken to obtain them.

I enclose a copy of our telegram no.155 to Madrid which I regret was not repeated to you, and which is the one to which Madrid were replying in their telegram no.1. I will keep you abreast of developments.

Yours,
(sgd) Tony
