War Department,
Washington 25, D.C., 4 July 1944

REIMBURSEMENT FOR STUDENT OFFICERS ATTENDING SERVICE SCHOOLS ON TEMPORARY DUTY

1. Service schools, for the purpose of reimbursement on per diem basis to student officers attending same, will include any school operated under the supervision of the Army or any of its components, either at a military installation or under contract at a civilian educational institution, plant, factory, or laboratory, which regularly conducts formal education courses for officer personnel. Service school does not include civilian educational institutions to which officers may be detailed to take regular courses open to civilians and which are not directly supervised by the Army. It does not include operating installations to which officers may be sent for practical training, for inspection of material owned by or destined for the Military or Naval establishment, or for observation of industrial procedures.

2. Reimbursement on per diem basis to a student officer attending a service school, so defined, on temporary duty is authorized for the time the officer is in attendance at the school but not to exceed the duration of the course of instruction.

3. a. Effective 15 July 1944, per diem rates to be paid students on temporary duty at service schools are authorized as follows:

- (1) $2.00 per day where quarters are furnished and Government-operated messing facilities are available.
- (2) $3.00 per day where quarters are furnished but no Government-operated messing facilities are available.
- (3) Where no quarters are furnished and Government-operated messing facilities are not available, reimbursement will be in accordance with the per diem rates indicated after the schools listed in the table, paragraph 4. Per diem rates established for service schools in this category may be revised by the War Department from time to time as necessary.
- (4) Army officers on temporary duty attending a service school operated under the jurisdiction of the Navy Department will be authorized the per diem rates established by the Navy Department for Navy officers on temporary duty attending that school.

b. All directives from Headquarters, Army Ground Forces, Army Air Forces, Army Service Forces, or War Department and War Staff Divisions, allocating students for each service school will indicate the fixed per diem rate to conform to a above, which subordinate commanders are authorized to prescribe in their orders for student officers attending each service school on temporary duty.

c. When quarters or Government-operated messing facilities or both are discontinued at a service school, thus placing the school in the category described in a (3) above, the per diem rate to be authorized at that service school will be determined by the War Department upon receipt of appropriate recommendations from the agency mentioned in b above which has jurisdiction over the school. Recommendations in this connection should include a survey of actual living expenses incurred by student officers attending the school on temporary duty.

4. The following table prescribes per diem rates for reimbursement to student officers when attending service schools (on temporary duty status) where no quarters are furnished and Government-operated messing facilities are not available:

WAR DEPARTMENT,
Washington 25, D. C., 23 May 1944.

IMPLEMENTATION OF OVERSEA ROTATION POLICY

1. Reference is made to Circular No. 58, War Department, 1944, subject, "Rotation or Return of Military Personnel as Individuals on Duty Outside the Continental United States."

2. Failure of theaters to comply fully with the provisions of the above reference, and misinterpretation of other provisions, have resulted in the unsatisfactory operation of the rotation policy. Shortage of personnel to fulfill the requirements of this policy, with attendant difficulty and delay in procurement, and failure to appreciate that personnel procured from the continental United States cannot be expected, without opportunity for indoctrination and familiarization, to possess the experience and proficiency of a man of comparable grade in the same military specialty who has been working in an assignment for an extended period, have adversely affected the policy and resulted in a great many complaints and criticisms. The success of this policy can be obtained only by thorough understanding of the problems involved and by accurate interpretation of instruction for its implementation. The importance of the effect of this policy on the morale of personnel overseas can not be overemphasized. It is essential that overseas commanders exercise every precaution in implementing the procedures involved to assure that unfavorable reactions to the policy are not permitted to arise.

3. The instructions issued in this memorandum are intended to supplement those contained in Circular No. 58, and to clarify instructions that have not been fully complied with to-date by all theaters.

4. Paragraph 2, Circular No. 58, will be interpreted to include procedures for shipment to, and assignment in, continental United States, of personnel from overseas and from duty elsewhere outside the continental United States, the provisions of letter AG 370.5 (6 Oct 43) OB-S-E-SPMOT-M, 11 October 1943, subject, "Procedure for Return of Individuals From Canada and for Their Disposition After Arrival," as amended by letters 7 January and 3 March 1944, same subject, being applicable.

5. Selection.--a. Persons rotated under the provisions of the rotation policy will be selected from those with the longest continuous service in the command or those with the longest continuous service overseas regardless of their present assignment, whether to vacancies in T/O units, overhead allotment, or attached unassigned in depots or pools. It is firmly believed that discrimination against individuals because of their present assignment will have a decidedly adverse effect on the morale of that group. Selection of eligible personnel in depots and pools will give added flexibility to the problem of matching skills.

U.S. RESTRICTED Equals British RESTRICTED

b. Until his rotational replacement is present in his unit, no person in the theater will be advised he is to be rotated at a specific time. Personnel will not be relieved from assignment prior to arrival of rotational personnel. The uncertainties of procurement, training, and shipment will not permit advance selection of individuals. Advising personnel in advance of arrival of replacements can result only in disappointment with serious effect on the morale of the command. Exceptions to the above policy will be made only with specific War Department approval which must be received prior to advising personnel that their rotation is contemplated.

c. The maintenance of lists of personnel eligible for rotation, with appropriate priorities indicated, will be necessary. These lists will not be published. It must be understood that eligibility does not bestow the right to be relieved from an oversea theater, but establishes a basis for selection and planning. Actual relief is dependent upon the availability and receipt of the rotational personnel as replacements and the priorities established by the theater commander.

d. To provide the theater with a greater variety of qualifications from which rotational personnel can be selected to replace individuals eligible for return under the rotation policy, authority is granted to use any personnel received either as replacements or as rotational personnel so long as this exchange does not effect a reduction in the total number of loss replacements. All personnel received in these two categories, upon arrival in the theater, becomes available for replacement purposes. Using this memorandum as authority, the theater will rotate, within numbers provided for each of the three major forces, personnel by color, arm or service, and grade in numbers equal to those received as rotational personnel. While it is desired that, so far as practicable, MOS or SSN of personnel returned agree with those of rotational personnel received, it is not essential that this be done in every case if to do so delays the return of individuals or the prompt use of rotational personnel received. Rotational personnel received and not required because qualified replacements were exchanged for persons to be rotated will be absorbed within the theater as replacements and reflected in future requisitions.

6. Requisitions.-- In order to establish a uniform requisitioning system, all requisitions will be submitted as of the first day of each month and will consolidate, for each major force by arm or service, grade, color, and MOS or SSN, personnel requested for delivery during the month beginning 3 months from the date of requisition, e.g., for the requisition submitted as of 1 May delivery requested 1 through 31 August. Requisitions will not exceed monthly theater authorized percentages or quotas after allowance has been made for personnel to be returned to the United States on leave or furlough, who, for the purpose of determining the authorized number to be rotated, are charged against these authorizations.

7. Reports.--Not later than 30 days after the arrival of the rotational personnel, individuals to be rotated, selected in accordance with paragraph 5, will be reported to The Adjutant General (Attention: SPGAR) as ready for shipment, quoting the file reference (shipment number) under which rotational personnel for the shipment were received. Partial shipments may be reported as soon as data are available whenever it is desired to expedite the return of a portion of the personnel to be rotated. Personnel will be reported as prescribed in paragraph 7, Circular No. 58.

8. Commanders of theaters, bases, departments, and defense commands outside the continental United States will comply with all instructions contained in Circular No. 58 as modified herein.
