4. REDUCTION IN LONG DISTANCE TRAFFIC:

It is imperative that use of the military long distance telephone lines be curtailed. Reduction of personnel and in the number of available circuits requires a great reduction in traffic. Long distance telephone calls therefore must be kept to a minimum limited to only those calls which are absolutely necessary. Military circuits are monitored to detected and report unnecessary calls and calls of a purely personal nature. Compliance with the above is necessary to permit satisfactory service on the military circuits. (Sig Sec)

2. MILITARY COURTESY AND DISCIPLINE (US MILITARY PERSONNEL): The following letter, file AG 420/918 CG-O, Commanding General, Headquarters Mediterranean Theater of Operations, dated 29 November 1945, is published for the information, guidance and compliance of all concerned:

"1. There is a marked laxity on the part of Officers and Enlisted personnel throughout in observing the basic principles of Military Courtesy and Discipline. Saluting is far from the standards prescribed, and discrepancies range from careless and improper execution, to complete failure to render the salute. Improper wearing of the uniform is common. Unbuttoned jackets, wearing of torn and dirty articles of uniform, improper wearing of or failure to wear the proper headgear, dirty and tarnished insignia, unpolished boots and shoes, and unbuttoned pockets are frequently observed offenses.

"2. Such derelictions are inexcusable and are a reflection upon the Army of the United States. The appearance and behavior of our officers and enlisted men in foreign lands make an impression upon the inhabitants by which they will judge our nation. Therefore, every effort must be exerted by every officer and enlisted man to correct the existing deficiencies and to reach and maintain a high state of military courtesy and discipline. It is the duty and responsibility of every commander personally to constantly direct and supervise the proper observance of these basic principles which are part of the foundations of the Army. Vigorous action will immediately be taken to correct present conditions, and the proper standards of military courtesy and discipline will be maintained. Laxity will not be tolerated.

"3. Any orders or instructions heretofore issued in this theater relaxing in any way or for any reason the above requirements with respect to conduct uniform or saluting are hereby revoked."

GENERAL ORDERS)

NUMBER 302)

27 November 1945

A GREAT AMERICAN

General of the Army George C. Marshall, Chief of Staff of the United States Army, has relinquished the post of trust and responsibility which the American nation confided to him more than six years ago.

The United States during those six years, experienced momentous events; faced perils as grave as any in its history; and by the united efforts of its people emerged victorious.

The extent of those perils, the margin by which they were surmounted, the wisdom of vital decisions reached during those days, and their future influence on the destiny of the American people are yet to be evaluated.

Neither can we yet measure the full stature of the men to whom America entrusted the direction of its affairs during these critical years. But in the small group which has comprised our collective leadership, the great eminence of General Marshall is conspicuous.

Upon the occasion of his own retirement from a varied public service unsurpassed in our history, Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson with a simple and generous subordination of self found only in the truly great, said of General Marshall:

"I cannot leave the War Department without giving some account, more personal than official, of my association with the Chief of Staff, General Marshall, during the five years we have worked together. Our day-to-day, almost hour-to-hour consideration of plans and policies on which the safety of the Nation depended has given me an unparalleled opportunity to measure the stature of this great and modest man.

In spite of the great prestige which General Marshall justly holds among his countrymen, I doubt that many fully realize how his leadership has counted. I know, because we could talk freely of it in private, how clearly he saw the inevitable involvement of this nation in the war and tried by every means at his disposal to prepare us for it.

A man in high office cannot always make public the things that are in his heart. Yet in his Biennial Report in July 1941, General Marshall uttered as strong a warning to the Nation as he appropriately could. His recommendation that the Selective Service men, the National Guardsmen and Reserve officers taken into the Army for a year of service be retained beyond that period touched off a violent debate in the Congress. General Marshall fought to make clear the pressing need to hold these men in the service. To release them would have destroyed the Army which later we required so urgently. He won his battle by a single vote in the House of Representatives.

When Japan attacked, General Marshall's visions was displayed in the global view which he immediately took of our situation. From the beginning his concept of proper strategy was that we must defeat Germany first in order to wisdom of vital decisions reached during those days, and their future influence on the destiny of the American people are yet to be evaluated.

Neither can we yet measure the full stature of the men to whom America entrusted the direction of its affairs during these critical years. But in the small group which has comprised our collective leadership, the great eminence of General Marshall is conspicuous.

Upon the occasion of his own retirement from a varied public service unsurpassed in our history, Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson with a simple and generous subordination of self found only in the truly great, said of General Marshall:

"I cannot leave the War Department without giving some account, more personal than official, of my association with the Chief of Staff, General Marshall, during the five years we have worked together. Our day-to-day, a;most hour-to-hour consideration of plans and policies on which the safety of the Nation depended has given me an unparalleled opportunity to measure the stature of this great and modest man.

In spite of the great prestige which General Marshall justly holds among his countrymen, I doubt that many fully realize how his leadership has counted, I know, because we could talk freely of it in private, how clearly he saw the inevitable involvement of this nation in the war and tried by every means at his disposal to prepare us for it.

A man in high office cannot always make public the things that are in his heart. Yet in his Biennial Report in July 1941, General Marshall uttered as strong a warning to the Nation as he appropriately could. His recommendation that the Selective Service men, the National Guardsmen and Reserve officers taken into the Army for a year of service be retained beyond that period touched off a violent debate in the Congress. General Marshall fought to make clear the pressing need to hold these men in the service. To release them would have destroyed the Army which later we required so urgently. He won his battle by a single vote in the House of Representatives.

When Japan attacked, General Marshall's visions was displayed in the global view which he immediately took of our situation. From the beginning his concept of proper strategy was that we must defeat Germany first in order to gain victory in the shortest possible time. In spite of the far distancebetween the European and Pacific theaters of war, he saw them as separate battlefields of a single conflict. The major, the more menacing force, was Germany. How sound that strategy proved was shown when the Japanese collapsed four months after the German surrender.

From the very beginning, he insisted on unity between the services and among our Allies. He realized that only by this means could our combined resources be employed to the fullest advantage against the enemy. To achieve whole-hearted cooperation, he was always willing to sacrifice his own personal prestige. To him agreement was more important than any consideration of where the credit belonged. His firm belief that unity could be preserved in the face of divergent opinions was a decisive factor in planning throughout the war.

In all the military councils, General Marshall's leadership constantly pressed for adoption of the most direct means of defeating Germany. From the outset, he held to the plan that this must be accomplished by a cross-Channel invasion of Northern France. Other plans were proposed and considered. Marshall never swerved from his bold insistence of a frontal attack on the coast which would bring us quickly into contact with the mass of Germany's military forces on terrain favorable for their defeat.

There have been times when General Marshall's swift decisions have averted possible disaster. In the summer of 1942 when in a single battle Field Marshal Rommel has destroyed a large proportion of Britain's tanks in Lybia, General Marshall unhesitatingly stipped our training forces of medium tanks and shipped them to Egypt as the only means of meeting this crisis. One of our armored divisions was at that time in a port of embarkation, ready to sail for further training in North Ireland. That division, too, was divested of its armor and its shipment delayed until the tanks could be replaced. But the important thing was that Rommel had been stopped. The dangerous crisis was met. We know now that Marshall's estimate of this situation was correct. We know that Hitler intended to break through Egypt to the Near East. Had he succeded, the entire course of the war would have been changed.

The man has a sure approach to every problem he studies. When we were determining the number of units of all sorts which would be required for victory, the combat divisions were fixed at an even hundred. General Marshall questioned that estimate. After going over our planned operations for all theaters and the timetable of the war, he decided that 90 divisions should be sufficient, and in the end that figure was cut to 89. How accurate was his judgement can be gauged by the fact that at the close of the war, all but two of those 89 divions had been committed to action in the field.

General Marshall's leadership takes its authority from his great strength of character. I have never known a man who seemed so surely to breathe the democratic American spirit. He is a soldier, and yet he has a profound distaste for anything that savors of militarism. He believes that every able-bodied citizen has a personal responsibility for the Nation's security and should be prepared to assume that responsibility whenever an emergency arises. But he is opposed to a large standing Army as un-American.

His trust in his commanders is almost legendary. During the critical period of the Ardennes breakthrough no messages went from the War Department to General Eisenhower which could require his personal decision and reply. This is standard practice with General Marshall. When one of his commanders is in a tight spot, he does everything possible to back him up. But he leaves the man free to accomplish his purpose unhampered.

He is likewise the most g e n e r o u s of men, keeping himself in the background so that his subordinates may receive all credit for duties well done.

His c o u r t s e y and c o n s i d e r a t i o n for his associates, of whatever rank, are remarked by all who know him. His d e v o t i o n to the nation he serves as a vital quality which infuses everything he does. During the course of a long lifetime, much of it spent in positions of public trust, I have had considerable experience with men in Government. General Marshall has given me a new gauge of what such service should be. The destiny of America at the most critical time of its national existence has been in the hands of a great and good citizen. Let no man forget it."

to break through Egypt to the Near East. Had he succeeded, the entire course of the war would have been changed.

The man has a sure approach to every problem he studies. When we were determining the number of units of all sorts which would be required for victory, the combat divisions were fixed at an even hundred. General Marshall questioned that estimate. After going over our planned operations for all theaters and the timetable of the war, he decided that 90 divisions should be sufficient, and in the end that figure was cut to 89. How accurate was his judgement can be gauged by the fact that at the close of the war, all but two of those 89 divions had been committed to action in the field.

General Marshall's leadership takes its authority from his great strength of character. I have never known a man who seemed so surely to breathe the democratic American spirit. He is a soldier, and yet he has a profound distaste for anything that savors of militarism. He believes that every able-bodied citizen has a personal responsibility for the Nation's security and should be prepared to assume that responsibility whenever an emergency arises. But he is opposed to a large standing Army as un-American.

His trust in his commanders is almost legendary. During the critical period of the Ardennes breakthrough no messages went from the War Department to General Eisenhower which could require his personal decision and reply. This is standard practice with General Marshall. When one of his commanders is in a tight spot, he does everything possible to back him up. But he leaves the man free to accomplish his purpose unhampered.

He is likewise the most g e n e r o u s of men, keeping himself in the background so that his subordinates may receive all credit for duties well done.

The thoughtful attention of every American in this Theater should be directed not only to General Marshall's achievements, great as these have been, but much more to those traits of character by which alone has it been possible for one individual to rise to the heights he has attained.

A careful reading of the tribute of Secretary Stimson, himself a great American, to General Marshall will bring out into clear relief such words and phrases as "personal responsibility", "devotion to the nation", "strength of character", "the democratic American spirit", "courtsey and consideration of his associates", "trust in his commanders", and a"keeping of self in the background in order that deserving subordinates might receive their proper credit".

These are the manifestations of American character at its best. They provide reassuring faith that the unshakable character by which, through God, Washington and others were enabled to build our nation, have grown in strength on American soil through the intervening years.

2. ELECTRICAL ACCESSORIES, BULBS, MAINTENANCE:

It is becoming impossible to comply with the ever-increasing demands for bulbs, electrical accessories, and requests for services of an electrician. During this month, up to and including November 19th, there have been 331 written requests for an electrician's services. This does not include oral requests. These requests involved the replacement or supplying of 177 bulbs and 62 fuses. There have also been literally hundreds of requests for desk lamps, although 235 of them were supplied last year, and uncounted requests for the repair or installation of electric heaters, although the use of electric heaters in the building is prohibited.

The result of this increase in lighting fixtures and electrical appliances is a terrific burden on the already over-burdened power plant. As a consequence we have burned-out bulbs and fuses, and the power plant which should deliver 120-130 volts is barely able to produce 110 volts.

The main difficulty seems to be that the occupants of the building expect the same standards of lighting, heating and comforts that they were accustomed to in office buildings back Home. Unfortunately neither the buildings nor the installations here are up to USA and British standards, and because of the physical limitations of the existing plant and unavailability of supplies (which must now come for the most part from civilian sources), we should not expect the same lighting, heating, and comforts which we were accustomed to back Home.

Occupants are urged, therefore to consider the above factors before making any requests, and above all to comply with the following existing regulations:

1. No heaters or electric stoves will be used without permission of the HQ Commandant. Any heater or electric stove used without authority will be impounded.

2. Hereafter no light bulbs will be furnished unless a burned-out bulb is turned in.

3. All requests for services or supplies will be made in every case (except in extreme emergencies) thru the Administrative Officer of the Sub-Section concerned, who will satisfy himself that the request is a necessary one before forwarding same to this office. (Hq Comdt Sec)

3. SIGNAL - THEFT OF TELEPHONES:

Numerous telephones have been stolen from offices in this building within the past few weeks. The majority of the instruments were removed during the lunch hour. To assist in preventing the theft of instruments it is recommended that either a system of charge of quarters be established, or offices be locked, as these are the only ways in which these thefts can be stopped. It is requested that when telephones are missing, the Signal Office, Extension 229, be immediately notified. It is also requested that any officer, noticing anyone carrying a telephone, stop such a person and demand his card (specifying that the bearer is an official installer) as the only personnel allowed officially to handle a telephone in this building possess such a card. Cooperation of all concerned is requested. (Sig O)

2. ELECTRICAL ACCESSORIES, BULBS, MAINTENANCE:

It is becoming impossible to comply with the ever-increasing demands for bulbs, electrical accessories, and requests for services of an electrician. During this month, up to and including November 15th, there have been 331 written requests for an electrician's services. This does not include oral requests. These requests involved the replacement or supplying of 177 bulbs and 62 fuses. There have also been literally hundreds of requests for desk lamps, although 235 of them were supplied last year, and uncounted requests for the repair or installation of electric heaters, although the use of electric heaters in the building is prohibited.

The result of this increase in lighting fixtures and electrical appliances is a terrific burden on the already over-burdened power plant. As a consequence we have burned-out bulbs and fuses, and the power plant which should deliver 120-130 volts is barely able to produce 110 volts.

The main difficulty seems to be that the occupants of the building expect the same standards of lighting, heating and comforts that they were accustomed to in office buildings back home. Unfortunately neither the buildings nor the installations here are up to USA and British standards, and because of the physical limitations of the existing plant and unavailability of supplies (which must now come for the most part from civilian sources), we should not expect the same lighting, heating, and comforts which we were accustomed to back home.

Occupants are urged, therefore to consider the above factors before making any requests, and above all to comply with the following existing regulations:

1. No heaters or electric stoves will be used without permission of the HQ Commandant. Any heater or electric stove used without authority will be impounded.

2. Hereafter no light bulbs will be furnished unless a burned-out bulb is turned in.

3. SIGNAL - THEFT OF TELEPHONES:

Numerous telephones have been stolen from offices in this building within the past few weeks. The majority of the instruments were removed during the lunch hour. To assist in preventing the theft of instruments it is recommended that either a system of charge of quarters be established, or offices be locked, as these are the only ways in which these thefts can be stopped. It is requested that when telephones are missing, the Signal Office, Extension 229, be immediately notified. It is also requested that any officer, noticing anyone carrying a telephone, stop such a person and demand his card (specifying that the bearer is an official installer) as the only personnel allowed officially to handle a telephone in this building possess such a card. Cooperation of all concerned is requested. (Sig O)

6. CIVILIAN PAYROLLS:

Civilian payrolls for the first half of November 1945 and for recent previous periods which were checked by the G-1 Civilian Personnel Office were found to contain an excessive number of errors. The amount of work which must be performed in the few days between the submission of payrolls and the actual paying of employees is tremendous in quantity and is being handled by a very small staff. If the present practise of careless payroll preparation is continued, the employees of the offending departments will suffer needless delay in being paid. Every effort must therefore be made by the responsible administrative chiefs of all sections to see that accurate payrolls are submitted promptly as required.

a. Liquid coffee for 100 men for 1 meal:

Coffee	4 lbs
Water	10 gallons
Salt	2 oz

Bring fresh water to a boil. Add coffee and salt. Allow to boil for three (3) minutes and remove from fire. Let stand for fifteen (15) minutes before serving.

b. The use of cans, corrugated, galvanized or iron vessels is not favored. If left for any lenght of time the coffee will not only turn color but will lose part of its natural flavor. The use of the aluminium 15 gallon stock pot or a heavily tinned vessel will give excellent results. All coffee making vessels and utensils must be kept scrupulously clean, aerated and sweet. This is mandatory for good coffee.

c. The study and application of instructions contained in WD Technical Manual TM 10-412 is earnestly recommended to all Mess Officers and Mess Sergeants for additional recipes and methods. (S-4, 2675th Regt)

6. CIVILIAN PAYROLLS:

Civilian payrolls for the first half of November 1945 and for recent previous periods which were checked by the G-1 Civilian Personnel Office were found to contain an excessive number errors. The amount of work which must be performed in the few days between the sub-commission of payrolls and the actual paying of employees is tremendous in quantity and is being handled by a very small staff. If the present practise of careless payroll preparation is continued, the employees of the offending departments will suffer needless delay in being paid. Every effort must therefore be made by the responsible administrative chiefs of all sections to see that accurate payrolls are submitted promptly as required. (G-1 Civ Pers)

The following is extracted from Letter, War Department, the Adjutant General's Office, file AG 210.482(16 Oct 45) OB-S-B-M, dated 31 October 1945, for the information and guidance of all concerned:

"In recent months, particularly since the end of the war, considerable embarrassment has resulted from the extension of invitations, implied and actual, to foreign military personnel to visit the United States. Invariably such invitations cause confusion within the War Department because it is difficult to ascertain whether the invitation results from a request on the part of the foreign national concerned or is the idea of the United States official and is substantiated by valid reasons. All such invitational visits entail the expenditure of War Department funds (which frequently require approval of the Secretary of War) and necessitate concurrences from numerous War Department agencies.

"No commitments regarding invitational visits to the United States will be made to foreign military personnel without the express approval of the War Department. The Assistant Chief of Staff, G-2 will continue to be the War Department agency for clearance of all such visits or requests before approval. All discussions with foreign personnel regarding visits will be kept on a tentative basis until all facts pertinent thereto have been furnished to and cleared by the War Department."

3. EXTENSION OF INVITATIONS TO FOREIGN MILITARY PERSONNEL TO VISIT THE UNITED STATES.

The following is extracted from Letter, War Department, The Adjutant General's Office, file AG 210.482(16 Oct 45) OB-S-B-M, dated 31 October 1945, for the information and guidance of all concerned:

a. In recent months, particularly since the end of the war, considerable embarrassment has resulted from the extension of invitations, implied and actual, to foreign military personnel to visit the United States. Invariably such invitations cause confusion within the War Department because it is difficult to ascertain whether the invitation results from a request on the part of the foreign national concerned or is the idea of the United States official and is substantiated by valid reasons. All such invitational visits entail the expenditure of War Department funds (which frequently require approval of the Secretary of War) and necessitate concurrences from numerous War Department agencies.

b. No commitments regarding invitational visits to the United States will be made to foreign military personnel without the express approval of the War Department. The Assistant Chief of Staff, G-2 will continue to be the War Department agency for clearance of all such visits or requests before approval. All discussions with foreign personnel regarding visits will be kept on a tentative basis until all facts pertinent thereto have been furnished to and cleared by the War Department.

3. ISSUE OF OFFICERS' PAY AND ALLOWANCES (BRITISH):

1. The following details regarding the procedure for the issue of pay and allowances to officers serving in this command are published for information and as a guide for officers when making enquiries on their pay and/or allowance, in accordance with GRO 1129/45.

2. Ordinary pay may be issued, according to the officer's individual choice, by either:-

(a) The Officer i/c Army Pay Office (Officers' Accounts), Stockport Road, Manchester, 13; or

(b) The Army Agents, viz:-

(i) Lloyds Bank Ltd (Cox's and King's Branch) Avon Court, Bournemouth.

(ii) Glyn Mills & Co. (Holts Branch). Kirkland House, Whitehall, LONDON, SW1.

NOTE - Certain Regiments and Corps deal only with one Agent. The Regimental Agents for each Regiment or Corps are shown in the Quarterly Army List.

Whichever of the above departments issues an officer's pay also issues Engineer, Corps or Signal pay and Staff Pay, if these are admissible. These extra elements of pay are issued automatically and therefore do not require any form of application to be submitted by the officer. In the case of Staff Pay, the issue is commenced from the particulars promulgated in the list of Staff Appointments in the Appendix to General Routine Orders. War Service Increments are also issued by the department responsible for the issue of the officer's ordinary pay.

3. Outfit allowance and all questions on Income Tax are dealt with the Agent or Paymaster who issues the officer's ordinary pay.

4. The Army Pay Office (Officers' Accounts), Manchester, is alone responsible for the issue of the following forms of pay:-

Command Pay — Additional Pay
Charge Pay — Specialist Pay

The above forms of pay if admissible under existing regulations, or specially authorized by duly delegated officers, must be claimed when the emolument first becomes admissible by the submission to GHQ 2nd Echelon of an appropriate casualty on AF W3010A. The issue will then be continued by the Army Pay Office, Manchester, without further claims until a further casualty is reported on AF W3010A showing cessation of entitlement. To prevent overissues and avoid possible hardship to the individual officer it is important that all casualties affecting the issues of Command, Additional, Pay, etc particularly cessation of entitlement, be reported on AF W3010A to GHQ 2nd Echelon, as and when they occur. Casualty Returns, AFs W3010A, etc, are not required by Paymasters.

5. Family Lodging Allowance, Mediterranean Allowance, and Servant Allowance when specially authorized, are issued by the Army Pay Office (Officers' Accounts), Manchester.

6. Enquiries regarding Pay and Allowances will be forwarded to G-1 (B), Hq Allied Commission through normal channels as previously. (To be repeated in Regional Orders).

Certain personal property of this officer has gone astray after being left in the care of Lieutenant Count S. Boschetti at Caserta (PW) hospital for eventual transmission to ENGLAND on cessation of hostilities.

Count Boschetti was subsequently employed by HQ MMLNA and obtained a receipt for the property from that headquarters on 9 May 1945.

From that time trace of the property is not apparent.

A statement is therefore required from any personnel, American or British, able to give any information regarding subsequent disposal.

Statements will be forwarded to G-1 (E) HQ Allied Commission through normal channels. (G-1 (E))

3. DRESS - BRITISH OFFICERS:
The Supreme Allied Commander, while not desiring to impose additional irksome restrictions and regulations, nevertheless wishes all British troops under his command to be reminded that the victorious end of the war in Europe has left the British Army with a reputation as high as, or higher than, it has ever had. He is most anxious that this reputation shall not be dulled in the eyes of Allied Nations or of foreign observers by carelessness and inattention to such matters as dress and saluting.
In connection with the foregoing, the Commander, British Troops, ROME, has issued instructions, extracts of which read as follows:

> "Officers should be reminded that upon them lies the duty of setting an example in respect, both of turnout and saluting. The more flagrant eccentricities of dress must be discarded. In particular coloured scarves are quite inappropriate to a capital city, and will not be worn in ROME.
> Similarly in respect of saluting, officers are reminded that failure to return salutes or a perfunctory acknowledgement is bad discipline apart from being an unpardonable lapse from good manners. If all will think of the salute as a salutation exchanged between soldiers than as a ceremonial gesture offered by the junior and acknowledged by the senior, we shall put the matter on a more genuine basis."

"This is a day for thanksgiving and rejoicing, for peace has at last been won and the cause for Freedom and Justice has prevailed. This is the day for which the freedom-loving nations of the world have been fighting for almost 6 years. It is the day that spells the doom of totalitarian governments and their policies of aggression, hatred and persecution.

Each of you - whatever service or your nationality - has played a vital role in our struggle for this great victory. You brought the Nazis and their satellites to their knees, while your brothers-in-arms were administering the final blows to the Japanese on the other side of the globe.

Today I know you will join me in extending the warmest congratulations of this theater to the men who have inflicted overwhelming defeat on Japan. They have fought long, hard and well. They have won a truly magnificent victory.

Naturally, all of us hope that the events of today will hasten your return to your families and to normal peacetime pursuits. You may be certain that your commanders in the Mediterranean Theater will do everything in their power to get you home and back to the normal pursuits of peace with all possible speed. For the task of us here - redeployment and occupation - we shall attempt to cut our forces to an essential minimum.

You are the men and women on whom the future peace of the world will depend. Out of the chaos that this war has brought, it will be your task to build a world in which peace and human decency are the dominating motives. You, soldiers of the United Nations, who have fought shoulder to shoulder as Allies against a common enemy, today form a united front for world peace and security". (Estab Sec)

3. UNIFORM REGULATIONS - US PERSONNEL: "Delinquency reports reaching this headquarters from units in the field and observation at this headquarters, indicate that numerous members of this command are appearing in public without caps and with sleeves rolled up. There have been no changes in existing regulations prescribing proper wearing of uniform.

Unit Commanders will inform all concerned that studied casualness of attire may be deemed "sporty" by some members of this command, but on the contrary, is indicative of lack of knowledge of the fundamental precepts of the military and the inability to properly attire ones self.

Necessary action will be taken to insure that this practice cease forthwith." (Hq 2675th Regt)

4. OUTGOING SIGNAL TRAFFIC:

1. 75% of the outgoing signals originated in this Headquarters are being sent to the Adjutant for authentication between the hours of 1600 and 1900. This causes severe congestion and unnecessary delay. Whenever possible, messages will be dispatched earlier during the day.

2. In view of the large volume of traffic marked "Priority", messages will be checked for unnecessary use of this precedence.

3. The volume of message traffic in this Headquarters is too great. Many of these messages could be dispatched by ADLS or ELS and other various messenger services. Messages reaching the Message Center before 1700 hours will be received in Bologna, Milano, Torino, Venezia or Naples the next day.

4. Sub-Commissions, Branches, Sections, etc, are encouraged to make greater use of these means of delivery, thereby relieving the already heavy burden on Signal Circuits. (Adj)

2. TRANSMISSION OF RECORDS TO ARCHIVES:

A very large volume of the Commission's records is likely to become available for Archives during the next few months. A programme for dealing with this material has been worked out, and close co-operation between all offices and Archives Branch is essential.

Every office (Section, Sub-Commission, Region, etc) will appoint a Records Officer to co-ordinate and supervise the preparation of its records, and will provide two competent clerks, one of whom will be a typist, to work for a period under the direction of Archives Branch to assist in sorting, arranging and indexing its records.

In general, the provisions of Establishment Memorandum No. 3 will apply. Particular attention is called to paragraphs 7 - 10 of the Memorandum, which are modified as follows:-

Para 7 - A bundle 15" high has proved to be unwieldy; the desirable maximum is 12".

Para 8 - It is not now necessary for the file lists to indicate the the division of files into bundles.

So far as offices at Hq are concerned, no further written directive will be issued. Instead, every office at Hq will notify Archives Branch (through its own Records Officer) when it is ready to prepare its records. The Archivist will then visit the office to discuss any difficulties, and to advise as to the manner in which the records can best be arranged and listed in order to meet Archive requirements.

NO FURTHER RECORDS WILL BE SENT TO ARCHIVES BRANCH BY ANY OFFICE AT HQ UNTIL THE ABOVE STEPS HAVE BEEN TAKEN.

Supplementary instructions are being issued to Regions and to offices in the Field. (Ex Comm)

Permits will be issued to civilian employees only, when they present a letter from the Section head or Executive Officer, thereof, certifying that transportation is already available to their particular destination, and, if so be the case, for the return journey.

Of late, too many outsiders are being sent to the Adjutant's Office from other offices in this headquarters, requesting permits to reach certain destinations for compassionate reasons, with intent to hitch-hike, and becoming a nuisance to the Military Police and other Allied Agencies in other parts of Italy. The Assistant Adjutant will not issue a W.D. 3. REQUESTS FOR TRAVEL AND/OR TEMPORARY DUTY: Attention is again called to paragraph 5, on the reverse side of the Request for Travel and/or Temporary Duty form, which states:

"Requests will be forwarded at least 48 hours prior to the date of departure. Orders are closed at 1530 hours each day. All requests received after this time will be published the following day".

Too many requests are being submitted to the Adjutant's Office on short notice, in some cases, only a few minutes before departure. This practice must cease as it disrupts the daily procedure, delaying the issuance of these orders in the proper sequence of priority. Requests should not be marked "EMERGENCY" as a means of expediting orders, and such requests will be thoroughly investigated. It is urged that as much information as possible be submitted on the request, giving the complete itinerary and full reason for the performance of travel.

Reckonable service

(f) Service reckonable as total service under (a) above will, except as provided below, be continuous commissioned service in the Territorial Army only. Periods spent in the Territorial Army Reserve of Officers will not reckon, but broken Active List service may be aggregated where the whole of the intervening period has been spent in the Territorial Army Reserve of Officers.

Service in the ranks of the Territorial Army is reckonable towards total service under (a) as follows, provided it is continuous with Territorial Army commissioned service:

ARMY COUNCIL'S INSTRUCTIONS ON THE FOREGOING ORDER

1. The establishment of Colonels will consist of 120 officers, of whom 20 will be medical officers. Any necessary Railway Staff Corps appointments will be additional to this establishment. Officers on the colonels list who have been unemployed throughout the war and those admitted to the establishment who revert to unemployment in future will be transferred to a supernumerary list.

2. The number of Quarter-masters on the active list of the Territorial Army holding the substantive rank of Lieutenant-colonel will be limited to five.

3. 4. Promotions under this Order will carry no entitlement to appointments in the new rank in any post-war force, but officers who wish to continue on the Active List after the war will be considered for appointments in their new rank as far as possible.

5. Officers already qualified or selected for promotion under this Order will be promoted from 11th April 1945. Subsequent promotions will be from the date of qualification or selection (or date of vacancy on the establishment, where applicable).

7. LEAVE - BRITISH PERSONNEL:

1. In view of the increased allotment of LIAP vacancies given to this Command for the month of August, it is not proposed to make a general allocation of local leave vacancies to units as it is considered that this would result only in wholesale surrendering of vacancies.

2. It is proposed however to hold at this Headquarters a considerable proportion of the vacancies allotted to this command which can be sub-allotted to units as required.

3. Units will therefore request local leave vacancies as they require them in bulk for four weeks with effect from 29 July 1945 if a unit can see its way clear to make a firm demand over that period.

4. Local leave vacancies available are as follows:

Officers:	Other Ranks:
RAVELLO	FLORENCE
AMALFI	SALERNO
AQUILA	ROME
FLORENCE	AQUILA

N.B. Other Ranks' leave vacancies at Aquila are limited to 35 per week. Units are therefore requested to make only moderate demands for such vacancies so that fair distribution can be made to all units. (EXTRACT HQ ROME AREA ALLIED COMMAND, Ref: 2249, dated 19 July 1945).

Applications in respect of British Officers should be made to Headquarters Commandants Office. (Hq Comdt)
