SUBJECT: Allied Force Labor and Wages Committee

TO : Allied Forces Local Resources Section
Zone Area Allied Command
C.M.F.

1. Reference is made to your memorandum LSC/AL(R)/
463 of 16 November 1945.

2. The recommendations of the Allied Force Labor and Wages Committee as contained in your memorandum, namely,

(a) Pay on national holidays;
(b) Religious, etc., holidays;
(c) Compensating indemnity, and
(d) Leave;

are approved.

3. This approval is extended upon the considerations set forth in your memorandum and with particular reference to the request of the Italian Government. It is hoped that adoption of these revisions will bridge the gap which may have hitherto existed between the treatment accorded employees of the Allied Forces and treatment received by the civilians employed in Italian industry.

4. With reference to the compensating indemnity, I endorse the recommendation that this indemnity be paid at some time other than on regular pay days.

5. Should these proposals become effective I suggest that the fullest possible publicity, both by notices and otherwise, be given, and I desire to participate in the drawing of an appropriate press release.

2. MEETING OF THE SUB-COMMITTEE:

The Indian delegation stated that an additional Christmas bonus had been in direct proportion to the number of days a employee worked during a year, the maximum possible payment for 12 months employment being 15% hours of the basic rate of pay. A bonus covering payment for the year 1944 provides for a supplementary bonus computed on the basis of all [illegible] than in force for the [illegible] industries, in addition to the basic rate.

No [illegible] are on foot between the U.K., U.S., employers and the Indian Government for the payment of a Christmas bonus in 1945 similar in any respects to that was paid in 1944. Such a bonus to be payable in proportion to the period of employment during the year and all employees will be deemed to have worked a minimum of 4 months. The maximum possible payment for 12 months employment is proposed to be 200 hours at the basic rate of pay, plus all current indemnities, allowances, and bonuses.

The Indian....

MEMORANDUM for : AFHQ

SUBJECT : Christmas Bonus 1945

Reference your A35/2442/438 of 23 Nov 45.

1. The CAO agrees that :-

a. a Christmas bonus should be paid.

b. the Christmas bonus should be equivalent to 2 days current basic pay and cost-of-living bonus for each month of completed continuous service during the year of 1945 with the unit concerned or the predecessors thereof. Those employees in employ as of 20 Dec 45 will be considered for the purpose of this computation as having been employed for the whole month of December.

2. The CAO has also considered the question of a minimum bonus and rules that no exception will be made to the plan detailed in para 1 b. above.

3. The recommendations regarding a "Compensating Indemnity" will have to be referred to the CAO, and you will be advised further on this at a later date.

Para 1. Lack of international coordination in summer slash winter time changes in Europe during 1945 caused difficulties in planning transcontinental transport time tables.

Para 2. Understood from CCS that international coordination is well under way under the auspices of SCITO and that European coordinating office of SCITO at Brussels has received from ALCOM its agreement to any date which is most suitable for rest of Europe. CCS state furthermore that a meeting of railway representatives of all nations, including Italy, has agreed a date and Headquarters, SCITO are now sending formal communications to all Governments concerned seeking their agreement to selected date.

Para 3. It appears from the above that negotiations in which both Italy and ALCOM have parteoipated for an international time change are already in progress. In view of this and the obvious advantages of a simultaneous time change, SAC does not approve an indipendent time change in Italy on 4 March.

Following statement released by President February 6. Statement by President Truman for the world as a whole.

A food crisis has developed which may prove to be the worst in modern times. More people face starvation or even actual death for want of food today than in any war year, and perhaps more than in all the war years combined. The United States and other countries have moved food into wartorn countries in record amounts but there has been a constantly widening gap between essential minimum needs and available supplies, although this country enjoyed a near record production of food and a record crop of wheat. The wheat crops of Europe and North Africa and the rice crops of the Far East have proved to be much shorter than anticipated. In fact, some areas have experienced the shortest crops in 50 years because of extreme droughts and the disruption of war. We in this country have been consuming about 3,300 calories per person per day; in contrast, more than 125 million people in Europe will have to subsist on less than 2,000 calories a day, 28 million will get less than 1,500 calories a day, and in some parts of Europe large groups will receive as little as 1,000 calories. Under these circumstances it is apparent that only through superhuman efforts can mass starvation be prevented.

In recognition of this situation Great Britain only yesterday announced cuts in rations of fats and a return to the dark wartime loaf of bread. I am sure that the American people are in favor of carrying their share of the burden. Accordingly, I have instructed the appropriate agencies of the Government to put into effect a number of emergency measures designed to help meet critically urgent needs to the greatest possible extent in the shortest possible time. The cooperation of every man, woman and child, the food trades and industries, the transportation industry and others will be needed to make these measures effective. I know the conscience of the American people will not permit them to withhold or stint their cooperation while their fellow men in other lands suffer and die.

The measures to be taken are as follows:

1. The agencies of this Government will immediately inaugurate a vigorous campaign to secure the full cooperation of all consumers in conserving food, particularly bread. Additional emphasis will be placed upon the cooperation of bakers and retailers in reducing waste of bread in distribution channels.

2. The use of wheat in the direct production of alcohol and beer will be discontinued. The use of other grains for the production of beverage alcohol will be limited beginning March 1 to 5 days consumption a month and the use of other grains for the production of beer will be limited to an aggregate quantity equal to that used for this purpose in 1940, which was 30 percent less than the quantity used in 1945. This will save for food about 20 million bushels of grain by June 30, 1946.

3. The wheat flour extraction rate (the quantity of flour produced from each bushel of wheat) will be raised to 30 percent for the duration of the emergency. Also, steps will be taken to limit the distribution of flour to amounts essential for current civilian distribution, half of 1946.

4. The Department of Agriculture will control millers' inventories of wheat and bakers' and distributors' inventories of flour. The inventory controls will be designed to maintain the wheat and flour being held for civilian use at the minimum necessary for distribution purposes.

5. Specific preference will be given to the rail movement of wheat, corn, meat and other essential foods in order promptly to export maximum quantities to the destinations where most needed.

6. The Department of Agriculture will exercise direct control over exports of wheat and flour to facilitate movement to destinations of greatest need.

7. Necessary steps will be taken to export during this calender year 37,500 tons of fats and oils; 1.6 billion pounds of meat, of which 1 billion pounds is to be made available during the first half of 1946; and to increase the exports of dairy products, particularly cheese and evaporated milk.

8. The War and Navy Departments already have materially aided the movement of Philippine copra (the raw material from which cocoanut oil is produced) by releasing 200 LST and J boats for the interisland trade in the Philippines. These Departments and the War Shipping Administration will take immediate steps to make available the additional ships needed for this purpose. The Secretaries of War and Navy will release for the movement of food to Europe all refrigerated ships not essential to the maintenance of the flow of food to the Armed Forces.

9. The Department of Agriculture will develop additional ways in which grain now being used in the feeding of livestock and poultry could be conserved for use as human food. These steps may include means to obtain the rapid marketing of heavy hogs, preferably all those over 225 pounds, and of beef cattle with a moderate rather than a high degree of finish to encourage the culling of poultry flocks to prevent excessive chick production and to encourage more economical feeding of dairy cattle. Regulations to limit wheat inventories of feed manufacturers and to restrict the use of wheat in feed will be prepared. We are requesting the cooperation of retailers and other distributors in informally rationing commodities that will be scarce supply for the months immediately ahead. Actual reductions in the volume of distribution may be suggested with the obligations placed on the industry involved to handle distribution equitably.

I believe that with the wholehearted cooperation of food manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers, the job can be done. The measures which I have directed will cause some inconvenience to many of us. Millers and bakers, for example, will have to adapt their operations to produce and to use flour of a higher extraction rate. While consumers may not be able to get exactly the kind of bread that many prefer, we will not have as large a selection of meats, cheese, evaporated milk, ice cream, margarine and salad dressing as we may like. However, these inconveniences will be a small price to pay for saving lives, mitigating suffering in liberated countries and helping to establish a firmer foundation for peace in attempting to alleviate the shortages abroad. This country will adhere to the policy of giving preference to the liberated peoples and to those who have fought beside us, but we shall also do our utmost to prevent starvation among our ex-enemies. I am confident that every citizen will cooperate wholeheartedly in the complete and immediate mobilization of this country's tremendous resources to win this world-wide war against mass starvation.

Following directive issued by President January 25 to United States agencies concerned. Directive from the President:

"I have become increasingly concerned over the shortages of vitally needed supplies to liberated countries. I am particularly alarmed at what now appears to be a world-wide shortage of wheat. I am informed that many of the countries of Europe now possess less wheat than is necessary to maintain distribution, even though their bread ration is down to a starvation level. The problem of supplying the destitute people of the world with this vital food rests mainly on the shoulders of the United States, Canada, Australia and Argentina. I am informed that estimated shipments through the first six months of 1946 will be at least 5 million tons short of the requirements of the deficit areas. In view of this situation, this Government is recommending that each of the supplying countries accept its proportionate share of the responsibility in meeting the urgent requirements of the liberated countries on an equitable basis. Furthermore, this Government recommends that each of the importing countries procure from its own internal sources the maximum quantity of wheat and make the best possible use of existing stocks.

"Upon my return from the Potsdam conference I stated if we let Europe go cold and hungry we may lose some of the foundations of order on which the hope for world-wide peace must rest. We must help to the limits of our strength and we will. I should like to emphasize the last sentence of the statement and request that you give the personal attention to this problem which the seriousness of the situation demands. Everything possible must be done to provide the necessary handling, inland transportation, port facilities and ocean transportation required to move all the wheat and flour which can be provided. We must reduce to a minimum the quantity of wheat used for non-food purposes. Also, all other efforts must be made to increase wheat for food and for this purpose the possibility of increasing the extraction ratio in milling should be explored. I have asked Mr. Snyder to coordinate all of the movement activities in the country to make certain that we attain maximum shipments of wheat as well as coal to liberated countries. Mr. Snyder has directed the establishment of a Movement Coordinating Committee and it is my understanding that your Department is represented on this Committee. I have also asked him to keep me fully informed of the progress being made and to report directly any major difficulties which are not readily adjusted by his action."

13th November 1945

1. I have in my camp a very good specimen of an African Lioness. She is now about 12 months old, and has been in my possession since she was 4 months old.

2. If possible, I should be very pleased to present this Lioness to any Zoological Gardens in Italy. My reason for suggesting this is that she has been in charge of an Italian PW Officer since her arrival.

3. This Officer has complete control of the Lioness, and has had previous experience with wild animals. In civilian life he was a Ship's Officer on Italian passager ships, and would, therefore, be quite capable of looking after the Lioness on the voyage.

4. If this could be arranged, with your kind assistance, it would be necessary for a recommendation to be made for this Italian Officer, No. 457 Lieut. Manbelli, to escort the animal to its destination.

5. A reply by airmail would be much appreciated.

1. Effective immediately, the following will govern the demobilization of the Army until 30 June 46. It is desired that the entire system be explained in the greatest detail to every soldier:

A. By 30 April 46 the following will be separated from the Army or aboard ship returning home: (1) all enlisted men (except volunteers) with 45 points as of 2 September 45 or with 30 months service as of 30 April 46. (2) all enlisted womens Army Corps Personnel (except volunteers) with 24 months service as of 30 April 46 (3) all male officers (except regular Army. volunteers. Medical Department Officers) with 67 points as of 2 September 45 or 45 months service as of 30 April 46. (4) all womens Army Corps Officers (except volunteers) with 36 months length of service as of 30 April 46.

B. By June 30, 1946, the following will be separated from the Army or aboard ship returning home: (1) all enlisted men (except volunteers) with 40 points as of 2 September 45 or with 24 months service as of 30 June 46. (2) all male officers (except regular Army). Volunteers, and medical Department Officers) with 65 points as of 2 September 45 or with 42 months service as of 30 June 46. (3) seperate instructions covering the discharge of womens Army Corps personnel, officer and enlisted, for the period after 30 April will be issued by the War Department.

C. Medical Corps officers will be demobilized by separate Criteria established by the War Department.

D. As soon as the tabulation of the desires of officers according to category as prescribed in War Department circular 366, 1945, has been made, further instructions on their separation will follow.

E. It is emphasized that release of all personnel will follow the principle of priority of release for those with highest points and longest length of service.

2. Computation of length of service will include total active commissioned and enlisted honorable service, continuous or interrupted, since 16 September 1940. Time lost under article of War number 107 will not be included.

3. Eligibility for separation of personnel med eligible by previously published Criteria is not affected by this message. Such personnel will be given priority for seperation over personnel demobilized in accordance with paragraph 1 above.

4. The term volunteers as used herein includes enlisted personnel who have volunteered under provisions of change 2 of readjustement regulations 1-1 or who have enlisted in the regular Army. Officer volunteers are those who sign certificates under War Department circular 366, 1945, as category 1, 2 or 3, or category 4 until date specified

5. Service category personnel whose military occupational specialty appear in circular 323, War Department, 1945, and in circular 332, War Department, 1945, may be retained in the service until released provided they are utilized in their specialty, but in not case longer than 6 months beyond date upon which he would be discharged under these instructions.

6. The above constitutes this War Department program of demobilization for the period until 30 June 46. Commanders are responsible for the immediate release of every individual for whom there is no military need, and for releasing officers and men in sufficient time to carry out these instructions. However, not individual will be discharged under this directive with less service or smaller scores than set by herein.

Declassified E.O. 12356 Section 3.3/NND No. 785015

1. THE CRISIS. Yesterday morning De Gasperi received Nenni, Togliatti, Lussu and Ruini in his own house, and told them that the Luogotenente, whom he had seen at the Quirinale during the night, had told him that he had been very much surprised to learn by the radio that he - De Gasperi - had decided to form a five party Govt while he had been charged to form a six party one. He then asked De Gasperi to make further attempts to save the six party coalition. De Gasperi promised he would make one last attempt but pointed out that the common desire was not to change the decision which had been taken during the night's meeting. It was therefore decided to hold a plenary meeting of the C.L.N. in Pentecitorio at six in the afternoon. The Liberals, having debated the matter at length, consented to participate in the meeting, and added that they might even participate in the Govt should "the conditions they had already set forth be fulfilled". At the meeting, at which were present three delegates of each party and two members of the C.L.N.A.I., De Gasperi explained that though his first intention, having realised that it was impossible to form an extra party Govt, was to form a six party one, he had resigned himself to form a five party one owing to continual absence of the Liberals from all the debates and meetings. He then read the letter he had sent to the Liberals. (See letter under Pacelo) Then Brosio - and not Cattani - spoke for the Liberals, saying that De Gasperi's program was not in opposition to the Liberals' decalogue, and that all that had happened should be considered as an exacerbated debate and therefore forgotten. To this the Left naturally answered that, though recognising the good will of the Liberals to collaborate loyally until the Costituente, the situation had now changed; Nenni pointed out that all attempts at widening the Govt should be considered as having failed and that no further attempts should be made in that direction; that it was now necessary to accentuate the anti-fascist trend of De Gasperi's program, and that the first pledge of the new Govt must be to work loyally in order to reach the elections quickly and in an atmosphere of calm. Debates were long. At the end of the meeting De Gasperi stated that there was now again a possibility of forming a six party Govt, and that he had been allowed by the C.L.N. to present, for today, a program of concrete proposal.

The Liberals claim th had no formal offer from De Gasperi to reopen negotiations. (Risorg. Lib.) There are evidences of dissension within the ~~party~~ Liberal party. (Epoca).

The C.D. s are criticized for inconsistency by Italia Nuova in that they were willing to break up the Parri govt on the grounds that it was too far to the left and was left with only 5 arties. Now they are willing to form another five party govt which - with the Liberals out - must necessarily be even more Left.

Papers of the Right are somewhat irritated with the poor strategy of the Liberals. The Leftist parties are feeling rather pleased with themselves.

THE CRISIS

Yesterday the Labour-Democrats had a moment of uncertainty and it seemed they were going to leave the Govt; however they finally decided to remain, pressed to do so, it seems, by Ruini.
Yesterday afternoon De Gasperi made a last appeal to the Liberals inviting them to participate in the Govt. While the Liberals were still debating the matter and De Gasperi was awaiting their answer, there arrived at Palazzo Chigi a delegation of dissident republican Liberals who handed De Gasperi an order of the day deploring the attitude of the Executive Committee of the Liberal party. In the evening De Gasperi reported to "the five" on the vain efforts he had made to get the Liberals and Saragat into the Govt. Finally, late in the evening, Cattani telephoned De Gasperi and refused the latter's invitation to join in the discussions. This news was communicated to the press and to the radio. Though De Gasperi had felt ill in the course of the evening, at half past two he went to the Quirinale where he was received by the Lieutenants. This morning the list of the Ministers will probably be completed.

Ref: 213/202/EC

15th November 1945

SUBJECT: Personnel - Message Centre

TO : Establishments Section

1. Reference our conversation of 13 November (Col Parkin-Lt Col McCleary) and to my minute No. 181 of 20 October 45 on file 213/EC pointing out the personnel situation in the Message Centre.

2. No clerks, military or civilian, have yet been provided to take the place of those recently departed. The matter was urgent on 13 November, it is even more so now.

3. At present in the Cable Pool there is one L/Cpl and one civilian typist; on Sunday the L/Cpl will have left and there will only be one civilian typist. There are at the moment many signals awaiting to be typed but the present staff of two (it was originally six able and experienced soldiers) is quite unable to cope with them as pointed out to you in our conversation referred to above.

4. It is of paramount importance that immediate steps be taken to find four typists. I would prefer them to be soldier typists but if it is impossible to provide soldier typists, two could be civilian; the remaining two however must be soldier typists to deal with classified signals.

PRESS COMMENT ON PUBLICATION OF ARMISTICE

GOVERNMENT

It would have been fairer for the Allies to recognize that the armistice terms are no longer valid. (Jacchia, G. del Mattino)

NON PARTY

True, the clauses have been mitigited but it is still an offence to Italy to keep her in the same legal position in which the armistice placed her. (Momento)

CHRISTIAN DEMOCRAT

In the armistice clauses we look in vain for any attempt to understand the real condition of Italy and the position in which she was placed by the presence of German troops throughout the country. (Popolo)

LABOR DEMOCRAT

The clauses were indeed hard but were dictated by the Allies' military necessity. We should not think too much about them but look to the future. (Ricostruzione)

LABOR

Did the Allied Control in Italy respect the Moscow declaration and the promises of Churchill and Roosevelt? (Lavoro - headline)

CATHOLIC INDEPENDENT

The mere fact that such clauses formed part of the armistice even though they may never have been in force is a discredit to the Allies. Further it is not easy to understand why such terms still remain in force two years later. (Quotidiano - S. Federici)

REPUBLICAN

"The Monarchy has crucified the Italians and handed 0337

Declassified E.O. 12356 Section 3.3/NND No. 785015

them over, in torture, slavery and suffering to foreign governments." (Voce Repubblicana)

SOCIALIST

...We wonder what advantage the Anglo Americans derived from humiliating us, from devastating our country beyond the needs of war, from plunging us into paper inflation, from... imposing on us an improvised and hence incompetent beaurocracy to control our every act....

But all this is in the past....Now the war has been over for six months but the armistice continues with its heavy burden and its system of restrictions.

It would almost seem that they do not desire our political, economic and moral rehabilitation.....

(Avanti - Antonio Borgoni)

COMMUNIST

Most of the terms were justified at the time....But Italy has changed a great deal since then. The time has come to abrogate the armistice. Even Austria has a government which can administer all its national territory. Italy is put on the same plane as Germany. The Allies should give Italy full commercial and financial liberty and full sovereignty over its national territory.

(Unita' - Velio Spano)

MONARCHIST

We do not know why the Allies published the terms at this time. The Armistice belongs to the past. It is time to recognize the actual condition and attitude of Italy.

(Italia Nuova-Massimo Mercurio)

LIBERAL

The Armistice was for Italy the dividing line between two wars. Our period of cobelligerency, in regard to most of the nations involved, was longer than the period of hostilities with them. The damage commited by Fascist Italy was by no means as great as the devastation suffered by Italy in the second of the two wars.... As in most such documents the harsh clauses of the Armistice reflect a comprehensible mistrust of a country which has been an enemy. But all this is past and there should be every reason for confidence in the new democratic Italy. We cannot go on indefinitely paying the price of our liberty with our independence. (Risorgimento Liberale)

PARADOXICALLY OR "FAIR PLAY"

The numerous calls given us from our article "Impartiality please" have induced us to reflect that this is the time to clear up our thought in a way that no ambiguity should be possible.

No-one better than us - who were born and have lived in this territory - can take into account the exceptional difficulties with which the A.M.G. is daily confronted. It is our duty to recognise that these courageous officers execute their arduous task conscientiously and with noble behaviour, in other words "gentlemanlike", as is the tradition of the civilization that they represent. The paradoxal situation, contrary to the rule and spirit of international right, which exists in Venezia Giulia and from which the larger part of the tragic injustices rose and against which we protest and will continue to protest before the whole world, has not been created personally by them nor is it in their power to change it. Their mandate is to administer "Zone A" maintaining the situation as it is until it should be transformed into a situation by right.

Now every effort is being made to change this situation as it is, right under our eyes and under the eyes of the A.M.G., by people without scruples, who far and at the expense of principals who have adopted the slogan "the end justifies the means". To us it seems that in front of this evident manoeuvre, the A.M.G. politics are inadequate, ineffective and, in its sincere aspiration to impartiality, it ends up in practice by doing a great wrong to the Italian element, that is to the overwhelming majority of the inhabitants of "Zone A".

How is this incongruity possible? The explanation is given in a sentence recently spoken by Col. Bowman. He said in substance: "They have called me a Jugoslavian Colonel, tomorrow they will call me an Italian Colonel. The truth is that I am an American Colonel."

Western civilization, and in particular the anglo-saxon people, have created a type of life, a system of social and political intercourse in which fair play prevails, the play of honesty, loyalty, of unconditional acceptance without reservations of the rules of the game, that is of the written and unwritten laws, of right, of good manners, of morals; and on this indisputable but fundamental premise democracy is based. The Bills of Rights does not say: who goes against this or that rule will be punished...: it says: to complete this or that act, to infringe on the liberty of the citizen, to pass over the will of the national representation is contrary to the law. This is enough. The idea of the legality is so deeply rooted, so connaturalized with the mentality of the anglo-saxon man that he struggles to understand that there could be someone who would deliberately try to violate it, except in the case of communal delinquency where one is placed on the level of the abnormality, of the social pathology.

Declassified E.O. 12356 Section 3.3/NND No.

And since the feeling of respect for the law and for right does not come from an imposition, from a sanction, but from a spontaneous acceptance and that is to say understood in that it is found diffused in the atmosphere in which the anglo-saxon man breathes from childhood, he naturally presumes that this same mentality predominates elsewhere, that all accept the rules of fair play. And when it happens that someone, individual, state or population - or a part of it - behaves in an unfair manner, the anglo-saxon is disconcerted, just as when an honest and correct player finds himself in front of a cheater. Unless he can then understand and act accordingly.

Now our population loves law and aspires to a lawful regime no less than the anglo-saxons, because it also is in love with liberty, it, too, wants democracy, because it, too, rejects with horror the sacrilegious motto "force before right", because after all it has proved too long the meaning of free will, violence, oppression, imposition, and it is profoundly persuaded that liberty and law are the two complementary aspects for the greatest benefit of man: his spiritual and material autonomy.

Feeling and thinking thus, our population accepts in good faith the rules of the democratic play and asks nothing better than that all should observe them. But, unfortunately, here is the knot of the question. Not all observe them, not all are fair. There is a very small, lowest - in every sense - part of the population, backed by a certain number of elements never before seen in Trieste and who descended here about the first of May, who do not take any notice of the rules of the game, who do not even know what fair and unfair mean, and who combat themselves according to their predilection law, which is the law of the jungle. They are those "factionists" noted by the Giornale Alleato.

The A.M.G. has proclaimed that everyone is free to show his own sentiments, to expose the flags of his own heart, the signs of his own store in Italian, Slovenian, or bi-lingual, or tri-lingual, or as he wishes. Healthy, true and holy principles. If it were not that the lowest part of the population does not understand it that way: it designs instead that only the opinions that they like should be expressed, that only the flags that they want should be exposed, that the merchants should write on their signs that which they want; and who dares to do as he wishes is threatened with threatenings and invasions in the house or devastation of the store; in short, it displays abuse of power and oppression. And not only do those factionists laugh at law and right but they show themselves ready to pass from word to deed, and they do it effectively, on occasion, as the chronicle of the past few months teaches. And they keep ready and circulate armed squads, in short they practice petty terrorism while never waiting to exert the totalitarian terror.

A.M.G. says "If you are the object of an abuse of power, denounce it, call the police: immediate and severe justice will be done". Perpetua also advised Don Abbondio, when menaced by Don Rodrigo's cut-throats, to go to the Cardinal Archbishop and ask for his help. To which Don Abbondio replied: "Is that advice to give to a poor man? If a rifle-shot should be in my back, God forbid!, could the Archbishop take it out?"

Declassified E.O. 12356 Section 3.3/NND No.

We rember that during the forty days we met a good man of the country, a Slovenian and an acquaintance of ours, with whom we exchanged a few words, and he, in the way of conclusion with a gesture of heartless resignation, said to us: "You others had black shirts, we have these". Because it is a fact that the Slovene population also finds itself under the mere abuse of power, of the same petty terrorism: and perhaps in a larger measure because the O/Z/A, which in the city of Trieste is compelled to have a little discretion, is a sovereign ruler in the villages and wreaks there an anarchy. How do you think that under these conditions, exposed to the violence and revenge of individuals over of not being punished, these poor peasants could dare to rebel against the imposition of showing a nationalism which in great part they do not feel and against following certain ring-leaders which, if they could, they would throw out?

In the city one could certainly resist the abuses of power, make counter-manifestations, and oppose the oppressors: it would be necessary to give violence for violence, to enter the conflict. Nothing is simpler to organize than violence: it is exactly of this that the primitives make use, those who are short of good and honest arguments. But to organize a violent objection means to kill democracy, to kill it as soon as it cries, as rebirth to 1919,1920. It means to substitute private defence by public defence: a terrible, tragic eventuality in front of which our sense of responsibility and political maturity retreats. But in making this decision of renunciation of self-defense, in this moment, we have the right of saying to the A.M.G.

Our adversaries must not profit by the sacrifice which we are knowingly making for the principles of democracy. Insist that the rules of "fair play" are observed, create prerdues, the atmosphere necessary so that the citizen cannot be an object of oppression. It is not enough to write ordinances on disarming and other beautiful things.

Act in a way so that a ring cannot be torn away, that it should be impossible to enter a private apartment by force, that one of our processions cannot be disturbed or assaulted. The manifestation of one's own national and political faith ought not to be an act of heroism, ought not to expose one to eventualities, ought not to create a risk. Every citizen ought to be sure that, as long as he moves within the limits of the law, no-one can injure him.

But as long as action squads, well or badly disguised, are permitted to operate in the city, as long as secret terroristic associations, financed from abroad, are permitted to nestle in it, as long as so many people, who have nothing better to do, can continue to stir up the waters, there is no more "fair play"; the permit to manifest more or less choreographically on the streets, the order to display flags, or any other devility that you wish, are settled by unbridled authoritations (that are favourable only to the side that is dedicated to the systematic use of violence) of biased acts under the pretence of impartiality. And this, gentlemen, is not "fair".

OCT 29 [illegible]

The United States and Great Britain are getting ready to wind up their first joint experiment in the martial governing of a country -- democratic style. For, late this fall, all Italy -- with the exception of small portions along the Yugoslav border -- will be handed back by the Allied commission to the Italian government. The Allied commission has just issued a 125-page booklet describing its experience in governing Italy and the part which northeasterners played in it. Incidentally, Lieutent Colonel F.G. Bergin, who's on leave as a romance language professor from Cornell University, was a member of the public relations department which prepared the story of the Allied commission in Italy.

The Allies began the job of governing Italy from the moment the first GI set foot in Sicily one bloody July morning in 1943. Four months later the Allied commission was formed, and given five jobs by General Eisenhower. Its first task was to support our fifth and eighth armies which were then driving the Germans out of Sicily and up the Italian boot toward the northern Alps. Secondly, the Allied commission was to render all the help it could to the civilian population in the rear of those armies. Its next job was to get Italy back on its feet -- that is to restore its economy and politics -- as quickly as possible. For our government has always taken the view -- even in Japan -- that a conquered country should begin governing itself as soon as it could. The Allied commission was also to see that the terms of the Italian Armistice -- which still haven't been published -- were carried out. And it was to act as "the spokesman of the United Nations" to the Italian government.

In charge of Sicily, the Allied commission appointed one of our own northeasterners -- Lieutenant Colonell Charles Poletti -- a former lieutenant-governor of New York State. On October 26th of 1943, Colonel Poletti took over Sicily, one of the five regions into which Italy was eventually divided, and the way Colonel Poletti met problems that arose in Sicily proved a valuable guide in governing other conquered territories as our armies advanced up the Italian peninsula. There was -- for instance -- the problem of education. It was tough to even get the schools open, because 25 per cent of them had been bombed or shelled into ruin, and many more -- especially in the larger towns -- had been requisitioned as barracks for our troops; but by December first, Col. Poletti and his staff had all of Sicily's schools in working order -- even though some of them had to be moved into temporary buildings or private homes. Then teachers had to be carefully culled. There wasn't much use of ripping Fascism out of Italy and then letting it be drilled into the heads of Italian youngsters in their schools, and that meant rewriting most of the basic textbooks, too -- for they were saturated with Fascism. That was just one of the many problems.

Take Naples; when the Allied commission moved in there, this was the picture: the dead had to be buried; food was short; water was lacking; the main water aqueduct had been blown up. All resevoirs except one had been drained. The sewer system had been destroyed. Public utilities, the post office, hotels, and telephone exchanges had been mined by the Germans. The University of Naples had been set on fire. To complicate things, there were constant air raids and bitter winter cold; and only by the skin of its teeth did the Allied commission prevent a typhus epidemic by dusting more than three and one quarter million Neopolitans with D-D-T. And, if that wasn't bad enough, refugees -- homeless, broke, and frightened -- poured in on Naples at the rate of 550 a day. Out of this chaos, the Allied commission somehow restored order. And it's interesting to note that one of the key men which the Allies used to get Naples back on its feet was John Warner, the son-in-law of Al Smith. Colonel Warner -- who used to be the head of the New York State police -- had just about the same job in Naples, only they called it public safet director. Another northe erner who made a substantial contribution to the goverment of Italy was Brigadier General William O'Dwyer, who's now a candidate for Mayor in New York City. General O'Dwyer arrived in Italy in May of 1944 as head of the Allied commission.

When it came to Italian finances, the Allies had three jobs to do: Get all Italian banks open as early as possible; support the Bank of Italy so that it could finance the Italian government; and lastly, cut Italy's national debt and strengthen its national credit. For the Fascists, had really gotten Italian finances in a mess. They had issued paper money hand over fist, until there was 285 billion lire (lē 'ra) in circulation when we stepped in. Just compare that with the 30 billion in circulation in 1938 and you can see why cigarettes cost about twelve times what they did normally.

General O'Dwyer also supervised the collection of taxes, in the provinces we had taken from the Germans, and he also operated the Italian government's lottery which in eight months brought in more than 242 million lire (lē 'ra). Another job for O'Dwyer's economic division was to sell three necessities -- salt, tobacco, and matches -- which only the [redacted] government handled. And then [redacted] O'Dwyer took over and operated more than eight thousand Allied business properties until they could be turned back to their owners. These included a dog track in Rome, on which -- incidentally -- O'Dwyer's GI's showed a profit. Public confidence in O'Dwyer's handling of Italian finances was shown in many ways. Bank deposits jumped to 78 billion lire (lē 'ra); postal savings -- the poor man's bank in Italy -- showed a six billion increase in nine months, and when O'Dwyer conducted a national bond sale -- the Italians bought about seven times more than they had when the Fascists were running the show.

Another northeasterner -- Frank Nagley -- is a member of the Federal Economic Administration, and it's his job to get Italian agriculture back on its feet. Nagley, a resident of Ithaca, N.Y., was an Animal Husbandry and Co-operative specialist before he left for Europe in August.

And that's part of the story of how we're governing Italy -- and the part played by men of the northeast.

SUBJECT: Proclamation by the Committee of Military Agitation

TO : Regional Commissioner, Venezie Region
G.C.A., Venezia Giulia

1. Reference 13 Corps Monthly Intelligence Summary no. 2 for September 1945, appendix D (copy of poster put up all over Venice about 15/16 September 1945).

2. Herewith copy of C.D.C. MMIA's comments thereon.

"The proclamation in question is by no means an isolated instance of anti-militaristic propaganda. Articles of a similar nature have frequently appeared in the Italian Press, particularly in the "Voce Repubblicana" as the Italian Army is suspected, not entirely without reason, of having strong monarchist tendencies.

With regard to the sentiment expressed that "We all want to go home", a most understandable wish, it is pointed out that the 1913-1918 classes inclusive have already been demobilised and further demobilisation will take place in due course (i.e. 1919 Class in Nov).

In view of the policy of freedom of speech and of the press the publishers of this proclamation should only be proceeded against if it is considered that this proclamation constitutes an incitement to mutiny. This Hq. is not entirely satisfied that it does constitute such an incitement nor that any action would be worth-while in this case, particularly as the inevitable reply would be that the Allies take suppressive action solely because they support the House of Savoy."

Action Party Statement - Italia Libera, Oct 26 '45

The Italian situation has changed since the liberation of the North and the formation of the Parri government.

Although Italy has not yet been granted the peace and the juridical status to which she is entitled and the pressure of occupation still makes itself felt, the prestige of our country has grown considerably in the eyes of international democratic countries. In June we were still - in world opinion - a conquered nation for whom a certain poli tical comprehension could be urged because of the good will of its anti-Fascist political class, almost a colonial country with the prospect of undergoing military, political and economic limitations, tied down by an armistice regime, the secresy of which was harmful to the democratic government. Today Italy, thanks to the valour of its fighters and thanks to the efforts and the ~~xxxxxxxx~~ firm and digni fied language of its leaders has regained a political and moral pres tige far above its material strength.

Much has yet to be done in order to win back for Italy not only full rights in the international field but also a juridical position not out of keeping with the merits she has won by her contribution to the cause of liberty and an economic treatment which will open ~~xxxxxx~~ in ternational markets to us and provide us with an outlet for emigration. The European outlook of Parri and and others responsible for our foreign policy is the best pledge for the integration of Italy in the recon struction of democratic Europe.

From this point of view, essential to our future, the union of the ant Fascist parties has already won its first victory. There does not exist today nor will there exist in the near future any other political forma tion that could have, in comparison to the coalition government, a like authority to represent the country in its ascent towards democracy, a lik prestige to guide it and win for it the confidence of international democratic forces.

A recent attempt to group conservative political forces under another banner, the attempt, that is, of Nitti has shown the incapacity of forces outside the antiFascist coalition not merely to ~~xxxxx~~ carry out but even to postulate the independent development of Italy in the framework of international solidarity. Only the new forces of democracy can assume this ~~xxxxxxxxxx~~ important task.

In the matter of internal affairs, making allowances for all just criticisms, an excessive pessimism is unfounded. We have but to glance around Europe, at the countries once occupied by the nazis, to verify that in almost no other country is the realization of a d mocratic regime so near as in Italy, that in Italy, much more successfully than else where, it has been possible to operate a relatively stable government which, in spite of internal differenc s, is united against efforts of reactionaries to return to power. We have succeeded in in initiating a great work of reconstruction, of public works, of social solidarity, in conditions of unprecedented difficulty. The very excess of criticism which surrounds the government may be considered an indication of poli tical maturity.

Of course the gaps are enormous; the financial and economic situatio remains extremely gra (in this sector the poli of the government appears particularly hesitant), every measure passed seems to cost the coalition enormous effort as if the govt were internally paralyzed by the contrasting views of its varying tendencies, the contact between the antifascist goverbment and the people is far from being perfect, epuration, which could have succeeded only if conceived of politically in the framework of a radical structural reform has indeed failed and left sorry consequences among the people, the structure of the old centralized and authoritarian state has hardly been touched, social contrasts are still very acute, the miserable residues of the corporative state are still extant - i.e. privileged groups still exist, at odds with each other but at one in their efforts to appropriate the few resources of the state for their own ends and to the detriment of the community.

All these are eveident evils on which it would be foolish to close our eyes. Our party asks a more energetic ecation on the part of the state for the elmination of the closed castes which dominate the instruments of state policy particularly in the military and diplomatic organizations, for the democratization of the instruments of public order by the introduction into the police of men animated by a democratic spirit, for recognition - in view of the imminence of the administrative union with the North- of the new political class having its roots in the CLN, for a rapid epuration, merciless at the top and indulgent to the lower ranks and set up automatically by categories of responsibility, for a financial policy which will weigh decisively on the wealthiest classes and create permamnent obstacles to the reurn of politcal-economic privilege - a policy to be carried out by improving the instruments of assessment and collection - for a more energetic action of social solidarity, for a more intelligent and honest evaluation of s uthern interets relation to finance and imports.

Further we ask that the government to prepare a clear economic policy, freeing itself from the influence of corporative and autarchic machinery and indeed combating the efforts made to strentthen and extend them (as in the case of the industrial committees of Northern Italy) by consolidating and legalizing public and democratic control of the great monopolistic combines now under an uncertain commissarial regime, by suppressing indeed this commissarial in smaller businesses which should be returned to private initiative, guaranteeing the democratic development of the working classes and their cooperation in production by means of legislative recognition of the "consigli di azienda" (workers' councils). Further an essential task of the government is that of facilitating the return to a free market, with simultaneous public projects aiming to raise the level of the lowest classes. Lastly our party maintains that the moment has come to issue forth from the closed circle of the antifascist struggle and to throw ourselves, beyond all factional limitations, into the living and concrete problems of the nation, to pass (in the words of Parri) FROM THE ANTIFASCIST REVOLUTION TO THE DEMOCRATIC REVOLUTION, to build up that democracy which must assume under a common rule of political life, all the Italian people.

In this sort of action to whi

Declassified E.O. 12356 Section 3.3/NND No. 785075

In this action to whi we invite all the living rces our party, with its democratic origin and traditions must be second to none. We are independent of any attitude of privilege towards class, category, profession or territory. We represent purely and simply the interest of the people.

In spite of all the failings ~~of~~ and difficulties of the internal situation it is clear that no one outside the Government of the antifascist parties could confront them with hope of success.

If there are within the coalition centrifugal forces which sometimes show a tendency to fall away from the common effort in order to appeal directly to the general malcontent of certain starate of the population, nothing must be left undone to maintain these forces in the framework of the coalition. In particular we must hope that democratic aspect of the Action party must in the end prevail over a manifest tendency towards a generic and demagogic oppoition, aimed at exploiting for party intersts and to the detriment of the coalition, natural though painful situations of ~~xxpxxxx~~ uneasiness in the people. All democratic forces regardless of their credo, must work for political rebirth in Italy. And an effective democratic construction in Italy is impossible without the collaboratuon of the Communists even though in their tradition of class and their urgent pressure from their base they find difficulties in following a creative economic policy. We evaluate at their just worth the guarantee against the return of reaction and the pledge of a new civili zation of labor represented by the organized working masses.

An internal policy of blocs within the coalition would today complete ly annul the convergence of efforts, would dangerously paralyze the contrasting political forces and would leave uncovered large sections of public opinion, still uncertain and uncomprehending and would thence remain exposed to the maneuovres of the reactionaries. The principal duty of the antifacsist parties is on the other ahnd to unite these elements in a democratic development of wide scope. Even if tomorrow alliances may be necessary between reakted political forces for the creation, defence and devlopment of political and social instances of the republican state, today blocs of left, right or center groups are all ~~xxxx~~ formulae inadequate to the immediate present reality which call for a battle a l'outrance for the construction of democracy; today is a time for ~~xxxxx~~ breadth rather than rstriction; we must open wid e to the needs of the country, especially to the elementary needs for these are the most acute needs though less organized politically.

Our position of independence of blocs which, however constituted, would be harmful to the building of democracy, is implicit in our character of partybof the left which, in the unhappy case of a fracture between progressive and conservative forces would find its assigned place.

The coalition would fail of its purpose if it thought only of remainin united, of staying in the government ~~xx~~ under any circumstances. The unit of democratic forves must not be an end in itself. The coalition to justify itself must advance. This not only because of its link with the victorious insurrection of the North. This insurrection has assigned to the political class of Italy the task of a profound renewal of the institutional and social ~~xxxxxx~~ structure of the whole Italian state; although the impulse towards renewal has been notably retarded ~~xy~~ for internal and international -

for international and internal reasons and though many bitter com promises have had nec arily to be accepted, the are fundamental exigencies of renewal that cannot be be betrayed under any conditions. These can be summarized in the necessity for the Italian people to decide its own destiny; in a word in the convocation of the Costituent

Today, in the presence of numerous efforts to temporize and to minimize this act fundamental for the rebirth of our country we must reaffirm our instransigeant appeal: THE COSTITUENTE MUST BE CONVCKED AS SOON AS POSSIBLE, IT MUST DECREE THE FALL OF THE MONARCHY AND ESTABLISH IN AN AUTONOMOUS AND SOVEREIGN FASION THE PROVISIONAL FORMS OF POWER UNTIL THE NEW CONSTITUTION.

We do not think that the functions and the sovereign powers of the ~~xxx~~ Costituente can be limited. The problem of the abolition of the monarchy is essential in Italy and is ~~xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx~~ prejudicial to any possibility of democratic development; ours is not the task of making some minor revisions in an existing constitution, ~~xxxxxxxxxx~~ our task is a matter of life or death for democracy.

The setting aside of the monarchy must therefore be the first decision of the Costituente which then must immediately set up the provisional govt. defining its powers until the definitive constitution. X

The anti fascist parties may be in disaccord on many important matters political social and constitutional and it is right that they should be; but an essential condition, in order that their contrats may be resolved for the general good in a climate of free democracy, is that they must agree on this point: Italy must be ~~xxxxxx~~ republican.

There must not only be a Costituente but it must be republican. On this ground the Party calls together all the democratic forves of the country, this is the proving ground of the real democratic character of these orces. The permannence of monarchy in Italy would mean civilwar.

In the present moment of transition from conspiracy to democracy, difficult indeed ~~xor,the,climate,xx~~ because of the climate of semi-resto ration and compromise owing to the permannence and pressure of the traditional forves of reaction. all political parties have been obliged to pass from poetry to prose and their ~~xxxxx~~ assurance is sometimes shaken. Such a trial has been suffered by our party too and it ~~xxxxx~~ has been the harder because of the responsibility of power and the resolute refusal to turn to the drugs of demagogy. 284

In this action all our combatants are employed, from the President of the Council to the youngest party member. This can be summed up in the necessity to unite, in view of the ~~xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx~~ immediate objective of the republic, all the forves of democracy in the necessity of ensuring and and preparing in a democratic sense the contituent assem bly.We are all aware of the lacunae and the deficiencies of the traditio nal parties with respect to the new problems of a truly popular policy, of a policy of national interest in a European framework. As a party which striggles against privilege, which affirms the preeminence of general over private interest and of the needs of the socially and eco nomically depressed strata over the privileged classes we feel that toget her with much hard work ~~xxxxx~~ great possibilities confront us. And we are determined to confront these tasks with the same enthusiasm which has characterized our anti-fascist origins and our contribution to the war of liberation.

Risorgimento Liberale - Saturday October 27th,

A question to the President of the Council

Italia Libera of yesterday morning included a political statement from the Action Party; the President of the Council of Ministers has not participated in its drafting.

Among other things, we read : 'The Constituente will have to decide the dechéance of monarchy..... The decadence of the monarchy must therefore be the first decision of the Constituente..... Not only must there be a Constituente, but it must also be recognized for the monarchy to remain in law would mean civil war .....
All our militant members, from the President of the Council to the youngest of our members, are duty carrying out this action ....'

At this point, every Italian is wondering: to preside the Government which took the care of government of the Constituente, and as such, solemnly pledged itself to be impartial, is there only professor Parri, who swore before the nation to respect the Institutional truce, for which he is responsible, not only as President of the Council, not only before the party coalition, but also before the whole nation;

such a question demands an immediate and clear answer. It is obvious that if the President of the Council intends to submit to party discipline even when it demands the forswearing of an oath and solemn pledge, he himself, being Luciferian, can only draw the necessary consequences.

Meeting of the Executive Board.

The National Executive of our party met yesterday its works, to take in consideration the present political situation.

After the meetings, the final motion presented by the secretariat of the party was approved.

After a long debate, in which the president of the Council, Parri and Minister Bonomi and Labor Minister Gullo took part, from 19 to 17 hours, the motion was approved in its second issue during the afternoon meeting, which ended at 23 hours, after the intervention of many speakers, among whom, Lombardi, Pertini, Valiani, Scoccimarro, Di Vittorio, Colombi, Amendola, Nenni, Gullo, Romita, Lizzadri, Grieco, Grilli, Calogero, Jacometti, Venturi, Pignatelli, and others. Then members of the Executive Board at once discussed the modifications suggested during the debate, and approved the final text of the motion.

At 22 hours, the Executive Board met again in full number. At the end of the meeting, the political statement which we have published above was issued..

Yesterday also, the Executive Board discussed the various special problems of our national policy. The attitude was examined in regard of the day on the problem of the Council of Management, and of economic policy, having in particular under consideration the question of the Bank which we are going to publish in tomorrow's number of this paper.

FOREIGN AFFAIRS.

Provisional peace with Italy?

Momento, Libera Stampa, Popolo and Italia Nuova print an "Associated Press" report to the effect that Great Britain and the United States have agreed in principle to grant to Italy a provisional peace treaty, to be stipulated after the general elections. The following are some of the headlines: Libera Stampa, "The Ruler is protracted"; Italia Nuova, "Theme with variations; the question of a provisional peace with Italy will be raised after the general elections"; Popolo, "Wishing that we may not have to publish a denial. England and America favour like to a provisional peace." Momento, in which the report is given the greatest prominence, accepts the "A.P." report somewhat sceptically. It asks what is the exact meaning of the "strange" condition that the provisional peace would be negotiated after the Italian general elections? "Does it mean that the conclusion of the provisional peace is subordinated to the results of the elections? Those who remember that London has repeatedly told us that, once the Italian people got rid of Fascism and repudiated the war of the Axis, it would be left free to choose the Government it wanted, cannot but reject such a hypothesis". Italy's present position is most difficult and most painful. In England too Italy's situation is being understood more and more. A "France-Presse" despatch has announced that the British Premier is fully in agreement with President Truman as to the need of not facing the consequences of the breakdown of the London Conference, especially as regards Italy. "One may ask: Is it by means of a provisional peace, which is yet to be concluded and which would leave Italy's most intricate problems unsettled that it is considered possible to satisfy Italy who has already satisfactorily 'worked her passage home?' The Italian people has the right to demand more definite information and to expect something more than that."

The debate at the Foreign Affairs Committee of the Consultative Assembly.

Epoca announces that at the next session of the plenary assembly of the Consultative Assembly in the middle of November there will be a full debate on foreign affairs. This decision was taken yesterday by the Foreign Affairs Committee on the proposal of Consultore Brusasca which was accepted by Sforza. The article on war reparations which appeared in yesterday's "Unita'" (see yesterday's Headlines) had caused some excitement, and Consultore Cicerone (?) of the Italian Democratic Party, has presented an interpellation on the subject to obtain the real facts.

Several newspapers publish accounts of the debate at yesterday's meeting of the F.A. Committee. According to Libera Stampa, the two main topics of discussion were Italy's Eastern frontier and reparations. Count Sforza dealt in particular with the numerous promises made to Italy by the Allies before and after the armistice, promises which guaranteed to Italy, on the basis of the Atlantic Charter, territorial integrity and parity of rights as soon as the Fascist regime was overthrown and the war came to a victorious end. The same subject was dealt with by Bonomi. Paladin, Pecorari and Antoni communicated to their colleagues the news they had received about the serious situation existing in Venezia Giulia, where a campaign of persecution and denationalization was going on and everything was being done to create a fait accompli. B.Croce proposed that a volume recording the German England and America favourable to a provisional peace." Momento, in which the report is given the greatest prominence, accepts the "A.P." report somewhat sceptically. Italy's present position is most difficult and most painful. In England too Italy's situation is being understood more and more. A "France-Presse" despatch has announced that the British Premier is fully in agreement with President Truman as to the need of reviewing the consequences of the breakdown of the London Conference, especially as regards Italy. The debate in the Foreign Affairs Committee of the Consultative Assembly.

It is announced that at the next session of the plenary assembly of the Consultative Assembly in the middle of November there will be a full debate on foreign affairs. This decision was taken yesterday by the Foreign Affairs Committee on the proposal of Consultore Brusasca which was accepted by Sforza. The article on war reparations which appeared in yesterday's "Unita'" (see yesterday's Headlines) had caused some excitement, and Consultore Cicerone of the Italian Democratic Party has presented an interpellation on the subject to obtain the real facts.

Several newspapers publish accounts of the debate at yesterday's meeting of the F.A. Committee. According to Libera Stampa, the two main topics of discussion were Italy's Eastern frontier and reparations. Count Sforza dealt in particular with the numerous promises made to Italy by the Allies before and after the armistice, promises which guaranteed to Italy, on the basis of the Atlantic Charter, territorial integrity and parity of rights as soon as the Fascist regime was overthrown and the war came to a victorious end. The same subject was dealt with by Bonomi. Paladin, Pesenti and Antoni communicated to their colleagues the news they had received about the serious situation existing in Venezia Giulia, where a campaign of persecution and denationalization was going on and everything was being done to create a fait accompli. B.Croce proposed that a volume recording the German atrocities in Italy be published; De Gasperi replied that the competent authorities already had the matter in hand. Salvatorelli and Fenoaltea stressed the necessity of safeguarding Italian interests in Venezia Giulia. The same subject was touched upon by the Communist representative Longo who, according to rumours circulating in Montecitorio, expressed the view that the campaign which was being conducted in connection with Venezia Giulia was exaggerated. He maintained that in Venezia Giulia, besides strong Slav elements, there were Italian groups who favoured Yugoslav sovereignty over the region, because in their eyes the Yugoslav State was "a champion of democracy of a more progressive character." As regards reparations, Longo apparently complained of the fact that emphasis was wrongly laid upon non-existent Russian claims while no mention was made of the demands, services and supplies claimed by other Allied Governments. As regards the Italian colonies, Longo seems to have argued that, since there were reasons to believe that the Allies were not prepared to return Tripolitania to Italy, it would be in the latter's interest to support the Soviet request because it offered the only means of guaranteeing to the Italian Government, even though indirectly, the balance of power in the Mediterranean. Consultore Cicerone referred to the Soviet demand for reparations, and he said that political capital was being made of the fact that the Soviet Government had not advanced a proper and direct request. No such request could have been made for the simple reason that the Italian Delegation had gone to London with other well-defined tasks. No one could, however, deny that the Russian claim had been put forward and had even been discussed by the Allied Governments. De Gasperi then intervened in the debate. According to rumours current in Montecitorio, the facts were as follows. At Potsdam Stalin had demanded 600 million dollars and, in addition, part of the Italian heavy industries existing in Northern Italy. The demand had been the subject of an exchange of views between the Allied Governments. In his conversation with Molotov De Gasperi pointed out that acceptance of the Russian request would have meant "hunger and poverty" for millions of workers. Molotov listened attentively to De Gasperi but did not reply. In the circumstances it did not rest with the Italian Government to deny the existence of the Russian claim.

In the afternoon Brusasca stressed that the country at large should be informed without delay of the Foreign Minister's declarations on the gravity of Italy's international position. The Allies still regarded Italy as a defeated country. Brusasca urged the Government to ask the Allies to speed up the repatriation of war prisoners. After xxxx several Consultori had called the attention of the Government to the situation in Venezia Giulia, Longo outlined the Communist Party's attitude towards the Trieste question. He is reported by Parole to have declared that his Party recognized the Italianita' of Trieste but was opposed to the way in which it was being defended at present. Another speech by De Gasperi brought the debate to a close.

The Soviet claim for war reparations from Italy.

In Italia Nuova "Scrutator" develops the above-mentioned arguments put forward by Consultore Cicerone. He points out that De Gasperi learnt of the Soviet demand in private talks. Reference to the request for industrial machinery was made in the private conversation De Gasperi had "with one of the five Foreign Ministers." The above reports were put out by numerous foreign news agencies before De Gasperi had spoken of them with his political friends or at the [illegible] Committee. The Soviet Government did neither deny nor correct those reports. "Therefore, until the Soviet Government categorically denies the report, it is confirmed that the Kremlin demands from Italy 600 million dollars as war reparations and the handing over of the most important industrial equipment - unless "Unita'" can be regarded as the official organ of the Soviet Government in Italy." Replying to the other point made by "Unita'", Italia Nuova declares that the hundreds of milliards paid by Italy to England and U.S.A. in the form of war services were not paid as reparations but represented Italy's contribution to the war effort.

Yugoslavia.

Yugoslavia.

Risorgimento Liberale rebuts the charge made in the same "Unita'" article referred to in the preceding paragraph that the independent and party newspapers indulge in lies, calumnies and provocations whenever they speak of Soviet Russia and of the countries in her sphere of interests and pander to the Western Allies. It emphasizes that the Liberal press and the other newspapers "democratically free from any party obligations" are prompted solely by love of the country and the defence of its legitimate interests. Among these interests is evidently to be included friendship with the Slav peoples across the Adriatic. Such friendship, however, cannot take root in an atmosphere of ignorance and oppression. Do the Yugoslavs believe that a good service is being rendered to the cause of the future necessary collaboration between the two races when thousands of Italians are detained in Yugoslav internment camps? Do the Yugoslavs and their friends believe that it is possible to discuss calmly frontier lines and minorities' statutes when even the fate of thousands of Italians is unknown?

In the same newspaper a despatch from Gorizia states that for over 6 months thousands of families have been anxiously waiting for news of their dear ones deported to Yugoslavia. The Italians, the despatch concludes, have now reached the limits of human endurance, beyond which there is tragic despair. "If Tito is uncompromising and refuses to respect the agreements entered into with Alexander and to allow the return of the Italian deportees, if no one in Europe and America intervenes to make him observe his pledge, let Tito, in the interest of his country and on humane grounds, at least compile and communicate a list of the names of the Italians who have died in his camps." The despatch also states that, pending the arrival of the Commission which is to fix the ethnic frontier, Gorizia was invaded by a large number of Slovenes.

Tempo. "Orbis" news agency reports that, immediately after the conclusion of the Alexander-Tito agreement of June 9th, the Italian Government took steps for the liberation of the Italians deported to Yugoslavia. A few weeks ago the Italian Government submitted to the Allied Commission and diplomatic missions a list of 2500 names representing only one-third of the Italian deportees.

Mr.Bevin's speech.

Mr.Bevin's speech in the House of Commons on the grim prospects for next winter is prominently reported in several newspapers. The following are some of the headlines: Tempo, "An alarm warning for Europe uttered by Minister Bevin in the Commons"; Libera Stampa, "Sad consequences of the failure to conclude peace - A winter of hunger and privation forecast by Bevin for Europe"; Popolo, "The speech of common sense. Bevin illustrates the tragic European situation to the House of Commons"; Unita', "Preparations for Pontius Pilate's gesture? Europe's tragic conditions described by Bevin. If America and England keep the promises made to UNRRA, the situation may, however, be faced." Cabling from London to Giornale del Mattino, R.Orlando states that Mr.Bevin's "great and humane" speech in the Commons was followed by a "great and humane" debate. He calls particular attention to Mr.Edelman's appeal for help to Italy.

The German problem.

Count Sforza's last article in his series of contributions to Giornale del Mattino is devoted to the German problem because he still regards it as the issue upon which future peace or war depends. He insists that the solution of the German problem can come solely as a result of the solution of the European problem. Outside the union of the European nations, enjoying the sympathetic support of the United States, there is no hope of German rehabilitation and, consequently, of a stable European peace. It is for this reason that to conceive peace with Italy that will be materially accepted but morally rejected by a people, whose conduct was radically opposed to the Germans when the hour for final decision struck, seems to be a mistake against Europe rather than against Italy. "It is as Europeans and as Christians, rather than as Italians, that we tremble at the thought of the numerous mistakes that may be committed vis-à-vis our country. This is not the way to prepare the atmosphere of generous European comprehension that alone can make the Germans desire to form part of the great European family."

Europe and America intervenes to make him observe his pledge, let Tito, in the interest of his country and on humane grounds, at least compile and communicate a list of the names of the Italians who have died in his camps." The despatch also states that, pending the arrival of the Commission which is to fix the ethnic frontier, Gorizia was invaded by a large number of Slovenes.

Tempo. "Orbis" news agency reports that, immediately after the conclusion of the Alexander-Tito Agreement of June 9th, the Italian Government took steps for the liberation of the Italians deported to Yugoslavia. A few weeks ago the Italian Government submitted to the Allied Commission and diplomatic missions a list of 2500 names representing only one-third of the Italian deportees.

Mr.Bevin's speech.

Mr.Bevin's speech in the House of Commons on the grim prospects for next winter is prominently reported in several newspapers. The following are some of the headlines: Tempo, "An alarm warning for Europe uttered by Minister Bevin in the Commons"; Libera Stampa, "Sad consequences of the failure to conclude peace - A winter of hunger and privation forecast by Bevin for Europe"; Popolo, "The speech of common sense. Bevin illustrates the tragic European situation to the House of Commons"; Unita', "Preparations for Pontius Pilate's gesture? Europe's tragic conditions described by Bevin. If America and England keep the promises made to UNRRA, the situation may, however, be faced." Cabling from London to Giornale del Mattino, R.Orlando states that Mr.Bevin's "great and humane" speech in the Commons was followed by a "great and humane" debate. He calls particular attention to Mr.Edelman's appeal for help to Italy.

The German problem.

Count Sforza's last article in his series of contributions to Giornale del Mattino is devoted to the German problem because he still regards it as the issue upon which future peace or war depends. He insists that the solution of the German problem can come solely as a result of the solution of the European problem. Outside the union of the European nations, enjoying the sympathetic support of the United States, there is no hope of German rehabilitation and, consequently, of a stable European peace. It is for this reason that to conceive peace with Italy that will be materially accepted but morally rejected by a people, whose conduct was radically opposed to the Germans when the hour for final decision struck, seems to be a mistake against Europe rather than against Italy. "It is as Europeans and as Christians, rather than as Italians, that we tremble at the thought of the numerous mistakes that may be committed vis-à-vis our country. This is not the way to prepare the atmosphere of generous European comprehension that alone can make the Germans desire to form part of the great European family."

Italian private property abroad.

Tempo emphasises that Italian private property abroad "represents Italy's most important and most valuable wealth" and that the preservation of this property is indispensable to Italy. Nothing definite is known about the intentions of the U.S.A., Great Britain and Russia, but Brazil has asked for this property as war indemnity. The question must be tackled by the Italian Government.

INTERNAL AFFAIRS.

Council of Ministers: State employees' salary increases.

Avanti reports that at yesterday's meeting of the Council of Ministers it was decided that the basic salary of State employees is to be increased by 120% on the first 20,000 lire of yearly salaries, by 100% on the next 20,000 lire, by 80% on sums exceeding 40,000 to 60,000 lire, and by 60% on further amounts. A high cost of living bonus at a basic rate of 5,000 lire a month is also to be granted. This bonus in increased by 900 lire in the case of married employees, with supplementary allowances of 300 lire for each child under age. The cost of living bonus, which absorbs the family allowance and the allowance for rationed foodstuffs, varies according to the number of inhabitants in, and local conditions of, the town where an employee lives. The same bonus is granted on a reduced scale to employees who are bachelors or of marriageable age and less than 30 years old and who live with a father who is incapable of work, as well as to employees who enjoy the rationed foodstuffs allowance. An important innovation in the system of family allowances is the grant of increases in the cost of living bonus also to parents incapable of work who live with, and are a charge on, an employee. The amount of the bonus will vary every quarter on the basis of the fluctuations in the average index numbers of the cost of living.

The increases decided on are also applicable to the communal and provincial secretaries. Local public bodies are authorized to increase the salaries and allowances of their employees on the same scale, subject to the possibility of limiting the increases when the terms of employment do not absorb the full-time activities of an employee. Similarly the application of the increases decided on to the employees of public bodies is authorized in cases where their duties are not regulated by collective labour contracts, provided that the salary and allowances do not exceed by 20% the aggregate salary and allowances payable to State employees of the corresponding official grade. Important increases have also been decided on in the case of pensioners on a descending scale from 100% to 50% applicable in instalments on sums of 24,000 lire a year. The high cost of living allowances for pensioners have also been increased.

The increases decided on will have effect retrospectively from October 1st. Giornale del Mattino adds that the increases decided on in the case of State employees must be fixed in such a way as to guarantee a minimum increase of 2,000 lire a month. The cost to the State budget of the salaries and allowances of State employees including the increases decided on yesterday is as follows: (1) For State employees, 45 milliard lire; (2) for high cost of living bonus, family allowances etc., 55 milliards; (3) to guarantee a minimum increase of 2,000 lire for all, one and a half milliards. The present increase, which raises the total cost of the salaries and allowances of State employees from 70 milliards to 100 milliard lire, therefore amounts to a good 30 milliards as compared with the 14 milliards originally proposed by the State Accounts' Department.

Socialist Party's resolution.

In Avanti's leading article Silone considers that, "having freed ourselves from Fascism, we must now try to overcome Anti-Fascism also. Such a necessity can be serenely and strongly contemplated by us Socialists, for the simple reason that Socialism does not consist solely of Anti-Fascism. In Such A necessity can be serenely and strongly contemplated by us Socialists, for the simple reason that Socialism does not consist solely of Anti-Fascism. In order properly to understand the recent appeal of the Socialist Party (see Headlines for Oct. 24th) for the union of all the democratic republican forces of the country, it must be looked upon as an incident in a well-considered policy, intended to dissociate Italian life from the negative attitude of Anti-Fascism and guide it towards the solution of the problems of post-Fascism. The decree law drafted by comrade Nenni, which will reduce the total of ex-Fascists subjected to the epuration enquiry from more than a million to less than 50,000, is inspired by the same clear and firm determination .... Our appeal was addressed to all the democratic and republican Parties; but it is necessary to specify that it is not meant for them alone. In reality we addressed it to all Italians .... In substance

we declared that the interests of the Parties must effectively be subordinated to those of the country. The democracy to which we aspire cannot, and must not, be a democracy of committees or federal Secretaries, a 'république des camarades', but the democracy, the republic of all the citizens, one in which the law protects the minorities from oppression by the majority and affords the minorities every chance of becoming the majority in their turn. We shall examine shortly, in candid and loyal talks with the other Parties, the fears and reservations which exist regarding the Constituent Assembly. We, obviously, do not dispute its sovereignty, but we can try to secure agreement in defining and regulating that sovereignty ... We hope that the appeal of the Socialists will be taken up by all who have the future of Italy at heart. The democrats who are accustomed to deplore certain aspects of our Socialism are now on trial. They must not forget that every bourgeoisie has the Socialism it deserves."

Epuration.

Avanti states that the draft decree proposed by the High Commissioner for Sanctions against Fascism for epuration of the public administrations, the professional albi, and private firms, will be examined next Wednesday (October 31st) by the Council of Ministers, and describes its main principles in its headlines as follows: "Epuration as proposed by the High Commissioner. To strike at those in the higher grades and to show clemency in the lower grades is the guiding principle that inspires the new law. The basic principles of the text to be discussed are: limitation to the high grades; one single epuration Commission; abolition of all the minor penalties; suppression of the Central Commissions; revision of the albi entrusted to the professional orders."

General Brunetti.

Giornale del Mattino publishes the text of the letter addressed by General Brunetti to the Premier and the Minister of War in consequence of an article in yesterday's Unita' (quoted in yesterday's Headlines): "With reference to all the insinuations about me in the short article entitled 'Equivoco' in today's Rome edition of 'Unità', I deny in the most categorical manner the charges levelled against me. There is nothing of a political nature in the text and context of anything I have said in my instructions to officers, NCO's and men of the Carabinieri in Rome and elsewhere or in the tours of inspection carried out by me. I have always, and exclusively, spoken of service matters concerned with the reorganization and strengthening of the Corps. I can invoke the evidence of all who have listened to me. And, moreover, in the eight months during which I have had the honour to command the Carabinieri Corps no one has dared to make attacks of this kind on me. In deference to the truth, which must constitute the unshakable basis of every Party battle and ideal, I request the authoritative intervention of the Government for the purpose of an immediate denial of the statements of the newspaper concerned. My actions as Commander of the Carabinieri have always been carried out solely in the interests of the country and the Corps, and are absolutely non-political. If they are so considered by the higher Signed: General Commanding the Royal Carabinieri Brunetto Brunotti."

Italia Nuova comments as follows: "The methods used in the offensive waged against the Carabinieri by the Communists constitute one of the outstanding examples of political dirty tricks. But joint responsibility for their free use belongs rightly to the Government (of which the Communists form part) and in particular to Prof. Parri, President of the Council and Minister of the Interior. General Brunetti's letter publicly identifies this responsibility; will the Government of Prof. Parri be, as usual, the bad payer this time too?"

Unita carries the inset: "General Brunetti does not want criticisms and asks to be left in peace. Very well, let him change his profession."

Incidents in Bari Province.

Giornale del Mattino reports that fresh demonstrations in favour of America took place in other towns of the Province of Bari. At Toritto a procession of reduci and servicemen, with the Italian and American flags at their head, and with shouts of "Long live America! Long Live the Monarchy!", after having played the Royal Anthem in the streets, went to the Communist Party's premises, broke open the door, and wrecked them, setting fire to everything they found there. At Noicattaro demonstrations of sympathy for the Americans culminated in a procession which attacked the premises of the Communist Party, and removed furniture and documents as well as a red flag and set fire to them. A Communist tried to resist by firing a pistol shot in the air which still further excited the demonstrators who re-entered the building and set fire to everything they had left behind in it. At Bitetto men returned from prison organized a popular demonstration of sympathy for the Americans, wrecked first the Communist Party's premises and then those of the Communist cooperative society. At Canosa, in consequence of protests against failure to allocate premises to the "Uomo Qualunque" group, its leader, Giuseppe Fiore, was set upon/about 50 people and wounded. The incident gave rise to a kind of challenge to a duel and in the evening two groups, each numbering about 150 persons, one belonging to the "Uomo Qualunque" movement, and the other to the Left Wing Parties, met in the streets: during the incidents that followed Michele De Riso, of the former group, being stabbed by an unknown assailant.

Avanti carries the headline: "Intolerable acts of provocation";

Epoca's headline says: "Squadrismo and the Royal Anthem in Puglia. Bombs explode and fires break out in the Communist and Action Party premises."

Unita' states that "the attitude of the authorities in face of such serious and symptomatic incidents has given rise to grave unrest among the masses in Puglia who have recently seen their towns invaded by entire detachments of tanks, Carabinieri, and sailors of the 'San Marco' Battalion, entrusted with the task of making arrests among the so-called 'rebels' of Trani and Minervino Murge. The Bari workers who are members of organizations have sent a telegram of protest to the C.G.I.L. Secretariat requesting Government intervention in the form of the prompt and exemplary punishment of those responsible for acts of Fascist violence. In view of the passive attitude of the authorities towards the recrudescence of reactionary movements, the workers have expressed their firm determination to defend their premises against any further violent and illegal demonstrations." Unita also comments as follows: "The landowners of Puglia are attempting a big move: the reproduction of the conditions of 1920 in order to prepare for the events of 1922. Now the peasants and democrats of Puglia do not want a repetition of 1920, and least of all a repetition of 1922, and we are absolutely in agreement with them. Italians who have learnt to die in order to destroy Fascism can certainly not resign themselves unresistingly to the possibility of the return of Fascism... In the meantime there are very many nests of Fascist putrefaction among the police and the Carabinieri. There are innumerable Carabinieri sergeants who go about telling their men that they must be ready to arrest the Communists in view of the forthcoming war against Russia. There are police officials who still keep the lists of 'card-indexed subversive persons' and bring them carefully up-to-date.... The existing situation in Puglia is intolerable. Action Party's resolutions.

Under the heading "A question for the President of the Council", Risorgimento Liberale, commenting on yesterday's resolution by the Action Party (See yesterday's Headlines), writes: "Yesterday morning's 'Italia Libera' published a political declaration by the Action Party which the Premier himself helped to draft. Amongst other things it says: 'The Constituent Assembly must decide the downfall of the Monarchy .... The downfall of the Monarchy must therefore be the first decision of the Constituent Assembly .... We must not only have the Constituent Assembly, but it must be Republican .... The continuance of the Monarchy in Italy would mean civil war .... All our members, from the President of the Council to the youngest comrade, are involved in this campaign'....

‡ those of the Action Party and tried to destroy

"At this point every Italian asks himself: is not the man who presides over the Government which took the name of the Government of the Constituent Assembly and as such undertook a solemn pledge to be impartial, that same Professor Ferruccio Parri who took an oath before the nation to respect the institutional truce of which, as President of the Council, he is a guarantor, not only vis-à-vis the coalition of the Parties but also the whole country? This question calls for an immediate and unambiguous answer. It is evident that, if the President of the Council intended to submit to Party discipline even when this involves the violation of a solemn pledge, he himself, as an upright man, could not fail to draw the necessary conclusions therefrom."

Italia Libera publishes a further resolution, approved yesterday by the Action Party, on the subject of Management by Commissioners and Boards of Management, which asks, inter alia, (1) that all the firms at present subjected to Management by Commissioners should be gradually restored to the normal administrative organs; (2) that in the case of the big monopolistic combines such as the electrical, chemical, mining, heavy metal, and motor vehicle industries, the system of Management by Commissioners should be continued and regulated in such a way that the Commissioners will have their objectives and limitations fixed by the law. As regards relations between the North and South, it declares that the economic problems involved by the link up between North and South are of an urgent nature and constitute a prominent feature of the general situation in view of the Constituent Assembly and the labour of revival incumbent on it.

New Party in Naples.

Italia Nuova reports that the Italian Patriotic Party and the Union of Neapolitan Patriots, in view of the link between their political and social programmes, have decided to merge them into one Party, which takes the name of the "Democratic Italian Party". The new Directorate therefore consists of four members of each of the Parties joining in the merger. The Secretariat General is entrusted to Mario Orbitello and Leopoldo Rubino. The headquarters of the Party, which all the citizens can join, are in Via San Giacomo, Naples.

Financial problems.

SUBJECT : Compulsory retention of British Officers in this Theatre.

TO : Distribution below

1. Reference is made to paragraphs 6 and 7 of this HQ letter G-1B/144/A dated 18 Oct 45 on the above subject.

2. The latest position with regard to officers in release group 21 is that they may be released at any time between 12 Nov 45 and 10 Feb 46. They will in any event be released on 10 Feb 46, but may be considered for release before that date, as and when they become surplus to THEATRE requirements. It is emphasised that the mere declaration that any individual officer is surplus to the requirements of this Commission will not result in that officer's release. He must be declared by GHQ to be surplus to the requirements of the theatre before his release can be entertained. It is, however, known to be the policy of GHQ to release as many officers as possible in Group 21, when once present commitments have been met.

3. The release of officers in Group 22 will not begin before 11 Feb 46, but officers in Groups 22 - 24 may apply for reversion to Home Establishment or release on compassionate grounds. In considering such applications, full weight will be given to the fact that an officer may have arranged to take up a civil appointment or have entered into domestic commitments in expectation of release under the earlier programme.

Applications on Civil appointment grounds must be accompanied by a signed statement from the proposed employer that a bona fide arrangement has in fact been made between himself and the applicant. Application on the above grounds will be submitted to G-1(B) this HQ.

4. No general ban is being imposed on Class 'B' release; refusals will be limited to cases where individual officers' retention is considered vital by GHQ.

Meetings of the Executive Board.

The National Executive of our party carried on yesterday its works to take in consideration the present political situation.

During the meetings, the final motion presented by the Secretariat of the party was discussed.

After a long debate, in which the president of the Council, Ferruccio Parri and all other leaders of the party took part, lasting up to 2/ hours, the motion was approved in its general lines during the afternoon meeting, which ended at 19 hours, after the intervention of many speakers, among whom, Lombardi, Carosi, Pino, Nardi-Doria, Di Gi, Schiavetto, Scoccimarro, Pesce, Di Maio, Lussu, Conti, Jon, Spinelli, Pellegrini, Lami, Andreis, Venditti, Simonelli, and others. Some members of the Executive Board as once demanded the modifications suggested during the debate, and approved the final text of the motion.

At 22 hours, the Executive Board met again in full number. At the end of the meeting, the political statement which we have published above was issued.

Yesterday also, the Executive Board discussed the various special problems of our internal policy. The attitude was expressed in order to the day on the problem of the country of emergency, and on economic policy, having in partic- ular consideration the question of the month which we are going to publish in the following number of this paper.

For the CC

Sir:

Mr Chinigo spoke to me about the Ferrone business. They want to get back in control of the Messagero (at present under a commissario). According to Chinigo the govt is anxious to see them succeed but will take no action until AC says it has no objection.

At the APB meeting the matter came up and it was the unanimous opinion that this is purely an Italian matter. I dont think we should go so far as to say even we dont care. ~~XXXX~~ You may think otherwise but I am writing this note simply to inform you of what has been done in case Arpesani comes directly to you. I have told Chinigo that he may come to me - in which case I should consult you - but he may by- pass me.

ORDER OF THE DAY

On parting from you, I wish it were possible to shake the hand of each of you and, in person, to say goodbye and wish you good luck.

While this method is inadequate, I cannot leave without telling you how sincerely I appreciate everything that all of you have done in the Mediterranean Theater.

Before long most of you will be home, returned to the pursuits of peace. We fought this long and terrible war to preserve and strengthen our ways of peaceful living. In all the days to come you can be proud of your contribution.

By our victory we have won great opportunities for ourselves and for the generations to follow us. We have it within our means to keep the world at peace. We can - and will - do it if we apply to the future the same spirit of understanding and cooperation which guided us during our successful struggle against the enemy.

In war all our efforts, in each of the United Nations, were concentrated toward one end - victory. In peace, all our efforts should be concentrated toward one end - a harmonious world. In such a world, freed of fears and doubts, there is no limit to human accomplishments. All of us know these things, of course, but each of us needs to repeat them again and again. Peace is worth all our efforts, and we should be alert always to preserve it.

I take leave of you with my heart full of pride for the privilege of having been associated with you of many nations in the Mediterranean Theater. You have been partners in an unbeatable team. You wrote pages of history that will never dim.

Goodbye and good luck to you all!

Paris press conference -

Parri held yesterday his weekly press conference; he began by pointing out that the discussions on the Costituente rather than causing disagreement among the various parties have strengthened the link between them. The parties have more or less agreed on using the proportional electoral system which, said Parri, seems to us to be most appropriate one for the occasion. He then assured the journalists that the greatest possible haste would be made to ~~fixxthatxGenzxtuexim~~ to fix the date for the Costituente as "the Costituente represents a necessity", for the country". The president at this point made a reference to the French elections through which the past regime, which had caused the defeat of the country, has been buried. Passing to the subject of foreign policy Parri said that though Italy has ~~nnxpaexaixdexirex~~ nothing particular to gain by the publication of the armistice, all the same the Italian Govt is in favour of such a publication which might minimize the suspicions due to the secrecy of the document and clarify the limits within which the Italian Govt has had so far to work. He added that the armistice contains also the clause of unconditional surrender, but that, should this clause have been /// enforced, there could not even have been an Italian Govt. Another concession was made by the Allies a few weeks ago when Italy was allowed to contact directly other nations. At this point Parri thanks the Allied Commission for having facilitated the matter. One more concession ~~shall~~ shortly be made when the Carabinieri unit is armed and motorized. Parri then expressed the hope that a provisional peace may be reached, because, he said, "Italy needs full freedom in all interior matters, a greater autonomy in foreign maters and an improved economic situation". Speaking about war reparations Parri said that very probably these will be limited to handing over, by Italy, war material, so that disarmament would take place at the same time. Questioned whether he though it was true that all Italian property abroad will be confiscated, he said that he hopes this may not happen. Answering another questioned he expresed hope that 5 or 7 hundred thousand Italian workers may shortly be allowed to go and work in France were they will be treated exactly as French workers are. Finally, questioned on the handing over to Italian administration of the North of the Country, /// Parri said that he regrets the delay because it renders the work of the Italian Govt much more complicated.

Capt. Montart:

I sent this cable to Commerce Sub-commission for information to compile an answer - because it concerned Import-Export (reply attached).

I then gave the ES file copy to Food Subcommission (Maj. DeTolfarry (S)) and told him that I thought that "standard brands" concerned food and would also like an answer from Food S/C, (note reply on file copy).

I talked to Maj. Cooper, Food S/C, after you called about the incoming cable and he stated. (a) That he did not know what "standard brands" concerned food, since there was a possibility that there could be quite a few items that would come under the heading of standard brands.

(b) That even though standard brands concerned food products, he would like an explanation of the type of foods concerned etc.

(c) That he could see no benefit in the Allied interests to this individual entering Italy at this time.

SUBJECT: Procedures Governing Travel Under Lend-Lease Aid Arrangements.

TO: All Concerned.

1. Pursuant to current War Department instructions on accounting for Lend-Lease aid rendered to Allied countries in the form of transportation facilities, and in accordance with the provisions of War Department directives 395 and 554, 1945, the following policy is announced:

a. (1) Only military and civilian personnel of Allied Armed Forces may travel by United States aircraft, motor vehicles, rail, or surface facilities under present Lend-Lease aid arrangements when the cost of such travel is to be charged to the Allied country concerned.

(2) Travel of such personnel by the above means of transportation will be authorized under Lend-Lease aid arrangements as is necessary to carry out the responsibility to the individual Allied country involved.

b. (1) Non-military civilian personnel of Allied countries who are not employed by or with the United States Military Forces will be required to pay the cost of transportation at the time the services to which they are entitled are rendered.

(2) In addition, all such civilians, including United States citizens, who desire to travel by United States Army Transport Service facilities are required to obtain a certificate from the proper Allied representative that such travel by aircraft in the United States national interest will be of such importance as to justify its approval. (See paragraph 1a, Circular Number 441, 1945, as amended). The individual must obtain this certificate prior to requesting military travel orders.

2. All requests for Lend-Lease air travel of all Allied Armed Forces personnel in United States facilities, including Lend-Lease aid [illegible] Allied countries will be referred to Air Transport Service for final action.

Sheffield--

First see the attached.

I'm afraid you will have to take care of this today. Do the following:

Call Salzburg 2565, Capt. Jo Brown, or else try to get Capt. Luther. Like to General Clark. I don't know just how to get to the call #'s, but maybe the supervisor at the Rome L.D. switchboard will be able to help you. I think the call is routed thru Frankfurt.

Re the attached:

No. 1--Mr. Pirzio-Biroli has sent with Capt. Luther all the information as it will be necessary. I'm afraid we'll be full nine of Pirzio-Biroli and his wife; he is not taking his driver.

No. 2--He expects to arrive at the Brenner Pass at about x 2 PM on 20 October 1945.

No. 3--He don't understand what is meant by the British and French-point. Find out just where it is--at the entrance of the Brenner Pass, at the end, or where? Mr. Pirzio-Biroli cannot tell what time he'll be there if he doesn't know where it is.

Re his getting in touch with the French liaison officer about their clearance.

Also ask whether any other information is needed on this. Another point is--is Mr. Pirzio-Biroli supposed to be travelling on verbal orders only? He will be leaving Rome in about five days; couldn't they send confirmation by cable so he wouldn't run into any trouble?

It seems to me that it should be limited on officer level. I know that Sidney Stone is personally interested in this. Perhaps you should get in touch with Lt. Bemis before you undertake the above as he is the one who took the telephone call from Col. Brown.

Hank

P.S.--Re No. 1 above. Vice-General Clark was here in Rome, Mr. Pirzio-Biroli gave all the needed details to Lt. Luther, General Clark's Aide. It included full names, passport details, photos, etc. Mr. Luther was supposed to have delivered this to the AC of S Salzburg.

To get in touch with Mr. Pirzio Biroli, call the Victoria switchboard, No. 48318 and ask for him. His phone no. is 864902.

TELEPHONE MESSAGE

Captain Brenner, USFA Headquarters, Schwaig, (Telephone Schwaig 5265), called saying all information had been provided to Mr. Pirzio-Biroli, his wife, ~~and his mother~~.

The following information must be obtained from Pirzio-Biroli and phoned to Capt Brenn:

1. Full name of Pirzio-Biroli, his wife, [redacted] - 9 o'clock Sat 20.

2. The exact date at which they will arrive at the Brenner - ~~Innsbruck~~ Pass.

3. The exact time and date they will present themselves at the Brenner check-point. The reason for this is that Gen. Clark is sending an American officer to meet and escort them.

Mr. Pirzio-Biroli must be met in town with French Liaison officer for clearance through French territory, telling him that General Clark has given his verbal O.K. Innsbruck and that it will not be necessary to call through to him.

TEMPO : (A.F.) (Independent)
Russia and the western democracies on the brink of a considerable difference of opinion - After an 11 days discussion, Russia, the United States, Great Britain, France and China haven't yet agreed about any of the main problems.

Nothing concrete seems to indicate that the Council of the Big Five is a complete failure, but the possibility of such a failure isn't beyond the limits of what can be foreseen. The postponement of the morning meeting has increased the pessimism of the diplomatic milieux.

LIBERA STAMPA
A storm is brewing in Lancaster House - differences of opinion between the Russians and the Anglo-Americans hamper the work of the Council of the Big Five.

IL POPOLO (Christ. Dem)
The London Conference is surrounded with silence but does not progress.

IL MONDO
Intricate situation in London - Conference at a standstill - Difference of opinion between Russians and Anglo-American on Balkan question increase.

ITALIA NUOVA (Democrat)
Serious tension among Ministers of Foreign Affairs because of the Russo-Hungarian agreement.

ITALIA LIBERA (Action)

beyond the limits of what can be foreseen. The postponement of the meeting has increased the pressure of the diplomatic activity.

A spokesman in Lusaka said the difficulties of organization could arise in London - conference at a stumbling block - the Rhodesian question could be settled without the participation of Nkomo and Sithole.

Meanwhile in Salisbury the Rhodesian Front Party has begun its campaign for the March 31 referendum on Smith's settlement proposals.

(Reuter)

(Reuter) Mr. Smith, the Rhodesian Prime Minister, has begun a series of meetings to explain the proposals and the implications they have for the country's future.

(Reuter) Mr. Smith's referendum campaign is being conducted with silence by Dr. Nkomo and Mr. Sithole, the two African nationalist leaders detained since 1964.

INFORMATION:

SUBJECT : Lieut. Scott

1. General Brown has investigated the case of Lieut. Scott and finding no charges to hold him on, has ordered him to report to his unit immediately.

2. According to Colonel Perkin, Lieut. Scott came to Rome on orders from Displaced Persons Branch to see about his transfer to Austria. Colonel Perkin states that he knew nothing about this proposed transfer, nor was he advised that Lieut. Scott was coming to Rome.

CHANGES No. 6

WAR DEPARTMENT
WASHINGTON 25, D. C., 2 May 1945

AR 600–45, 22 September 1943, is changed as follows:

8. Awards, by whom made.—a. General provisions.—Awards of decorations are made by the War Department or by designated commanders acting for the President. The authority granted to any commander designated in b(3) below authorizes him to award the decorations mentioned to individuals permanently assigned to his command and to individuals physically present within his command under competent orders even though not assigned to the command. Such commanders are also authorized to take final action on recommendations for acts or services performed while units or individuals were so assigned or physically present within the command, but subsequently transferred or separated therefrom. Commanders who are specifically authorized by the War Department to award the Legion of Merit may award this decoration only to individuals permanently assigned to their command unless the War Department authorization specifically provides for the award of this decoration to personnel who are not assigned thereto. In any case where the commander is not authorized to make an award, recommendations will be forwarded to the War Department through normal channels.

b. To members of armed forces of United States.

(3) (As changed by C 1, 9 Mar 44) The Distinguished Service Cross, the Silver Star, the Distinguished Flying Cross, the Soldier's Medal, the Bronze Star Medal, and the Air Medal may be awarded by—

* * * * * * *

(5) The commanding generals of any of the following, when operating directly under the War Department:

* * * * * * *

f. (As changed by C 2, 11 Nov 44) Any separate force operating outside the continental United States when commanded by a major general or officer of higher grade.

[AG 200.6 (6 Nov 44) (28 Mar 45)]

16. Purple Heart (Par. 8)—a. (As changed by C 4, 3 May 44).

(1) The Purple Heart, established by General George Washington at Newburgh, 7 August 1782, during the War of the Revolution and revived out of respect to his memory and military achievements by War Department General Orders, No. 3, 22 February 1932, is awarded to members of the armed forces of the United States and to civilians who are citizens of the United States serving with the Army, who are wounded in action against an enemy of the United States, or as a direct result of an act of such enemy, provided such wound necessitates treatment by a medical officer. (For the purpose of awarding the Purple Heart, a wound is defined as an injury to any part of the body from an outside force, element, or agent sustained as the result of a hostile act of the enemy or while in action in the face of the enemy. One award (the Purple Heart for the first wound, and Oak-Leaf Cluster thereafter) is authorized for each such wound, except that only one award is authorized for two or more wounds received at the same instant.

(2) In connection with the definition of "wound" above, the word "elsewhere" refers to weather and permits award to personnel severely frostbitten while actually engaged in combat. Trench foot will not be considered as meriting award. The phrase "at the same instant" is intended to prevent duplicate awards of the Purple Heart for two or more injuries or wounds received from one missile, force, explosion, or agent. A wounded soldier's unsupported statement may be accepted in unusual or extenuating circumstances when, in the opinion of the officer making the award, no corroborative evidence is obtainable. However, the statement will be substantiated if possible.

[AG 200.6 (4 May 43)]

21. Time limits. a. [As changed by C 5, 11 Nov 44.] No decoration or other device in lieu of a decoration (except as provided in par. 10b(3), and in b and c below) shall be issued to any person after more than three years from the date of the act justifying the award thereof, nor unless a recommendation was submitted through official channels at the time of the distinguished act or service, or within two years thereafter, nor unless it shall appear from the records of the War Department that such person has so distinguished himself as to be entitled to the award. See act 9 July 1918 (40 Stat. 874; 10 U. S. C. 1509; M. L. 1939, sec. 310) and E. O. 5091, 4 March 1927.

* * * * * * *

c. [As changed by C 5, 11 Nov 44.] The Bronze Star Medal may be awarded for acts or service performed between 7 December 1941 and 4 February 1944, both dates inclusive, provided the recommendation therefor shall have been made on or before 4 February 1946 and also provided that the award is made prior to 4 February 1947.

CHANGES No. 3

WAR DEPARTMENT,
WASHINGTON 25, D. C., 25 April 1944.

AR 600–45, 22 September 1943, is changed as follows:

2. War Department decorations.—(As changed by C 1, 9 Mar 44.) In order of precedence, except that the Oak Leaf Cluster is issued in lieu of an additional medal, and its precedence is that of the medal it represents.

* * * * * * *

g. Soldiers Medal.
h. Bronze Star Medal.
i. Air Medal.
j. Purple Heart.
k. Medal for Merit (State, War, and Navy Department(s).
l. Oak-Leaf Cluster.
m. Good Conduct Medal and Clasps. See AR 600-68.
(A. G. 200.6 (26 Feb 44).)

5. Presentation.

* * * * * * *

b. Decoration other than Medal of Honor.

* * * * * * *

(3) (As changed by C 2, 18 Mar 44). Presentation to an individual no longer in service, or to the next of kin, will generally be made at the military post, camp, or station nearest the home of the recipient. Although the wearing of a decoration by next of kin is not authorized, these regulations will not be interpreted to exclude the pinning of a medal on the next of kin as part of the presentation ceremony, as an alternative to handing the recipient the medal in an open container. The method of presentation shall be optional with the officer in charge of the ceremony.

* * * * * * *

(A. G. 200.6 (10 Mar 44).)

8. Awards, by whom made.—a. General provisions (As changed by C 1, 9 Mar 44.)—Awards of decorations are made by the War Department or by designated commanders, acting for the President. The authority granted to any commander to award decorations (other than the Purple Heart) authorizes him to make awards only to individuals permanently assigned to that command, except that immediate combat awards may be made for acts performed by individuals physically present within that command under competent orders. Such commanders are also authorized to take final action on recommendations for acts or services performed while individuals or units were permanently assigned to that command but subsequently transferred or separated therefrom. In any case where the commander is not authorized to make an award, recommendations will be forwarded to the War Department.

b. To members of armed forces of United States.

* * * * * * *

(3) (As changed by C 1, 9 Mar 44.) The Distinguished Service Cross, the Silver Star, the Distinguished Flying Cross, the Soldiers Medal, the Bronze Star Medal, and the Air Medal may be awarded by—

* * * * * * *

(4) (As changed by C 1, 9 Mar 44.) The Purple Heart may be awarded by commanders named in (3) above, and the commander of any force which is commanded by, or the appropriate command of, a brigadier general or officer of higher grade and the commander of a named general hospital in the continental United States. Certain commanders may delegate this authority as provided in c below.

* * * * * * *

c. To members of armed forces of foreign nations.

* * * * * * *

(3) (As changed by C 1, 9 Mar 44.) The commanders named in b (3) above may make immediate combat awards of the Distinguished Service Cross, the Silver Star, the Distinguished Flying Cross, the Bronze Star Medal, and the Air Medal, and awards of the Soldiers Medal for acts appropriate thereto, under the following conditions:

* * * * * * *

c. (As changed by C 1, 9 Mar. 44.) Commanders authorized to make awards may delegate all or any part of their authority, except where specifically prohibited, to subordinate commanders of any force or command which is commanded by, or the appropriate command of, a major general or higher. Commanders listed in b (3) above may delegate authority to award the Purple Heart to United States military personnel to any United States Army officer of their commands.

(A.G. 200.6 (2 Feb 44) (16 Feb 44) (26 Feb 44) (30 Mar 44).)

13. Silver Star (fig. 5).

* * * * * * *

b. (As changed by C 1, 9 Mar 44.) Those individuals who, prior to 7 December 1941, have been cited for gallantry in action in orders issued by the headquarters of a force commanded by a general officer, which citations do not warrant the award of the Medal of Honor or Distinguished Service Cross, may make application for the Silver Star Medal to The Adjutant General, W. D., A. G. O. Form No. 0745 (Application for Silver Star), being used for this purpose.

(A.G. 200.6 (9 Mar 44).)

13½. Bronze Star Medal (As changed by C 1, 9 Mar 44).—a. The Bronze Star Medal is awarded to any person who, while serving in any capacity in or with the Army of the United States, on or after 7 December 1941, distinguished, or has distinguished, himself by heroic or meritorious achievement or service not involving participation in aerial flight, in connection with military operations against an enemy of the United States.

b. The required achievement or service for award of the Bronze Star is less than that required for award of the Silver Star of the Legion of Merit, but must nevertheless be accomplished with distinction. The Bronze Star may be awarded to recognize minor acts of heroism in actual combat or single acts of merit, or meritorious service either in sustained operational activities against an enemy or in direct support of such operations.

[A. G. 200.6 (26 Feb 44).]

16. Purple Heart (fig. 81).—a. (As changed by C 1, 9 Mar 44.) The Purple Heart, established by General George Washington at Newburgh, 7 August 1782, during the War of the Revolution and revived out of respect to his memory and military achievements by War Department General Orders, No. 3, 22 February 1932, is awarded to members of the armed forces of the United States and to civilians who are citizens of the United States serving with the Army, who are wounded in action against an enemy of the United States, or as a direct result of an act of such enemy, provided such wound necessitates treatment by a medical officer. (For the purpose of awarding the Purple Heart, a wound is defined as an injury to any part of the body from an outside force, element, or agent sustained as the result of a hostile act of the enemy or while in action in the face of the enemy.) One award (the Purple Heart for the first wound, and Oak-Leaf Cluster thereafter) is authorized for each such wound, except that only one award is authorized for two or more wounds received at the same instant.

* * * * * * *

[A. G. 200.6 (18 Feb 44).]

33. Acceptance of awards.

* * * * * * *

b. Offers by the governments of cobelligerent nations or the other American republics to personnel of the United States Army of decorations, orders, medals, and emblems, as set forth in a above, may be received, accepted, or worn by members of the United States Army provided the award and presentation have first been approved by any one of the appropriate commanders designated in paragraph 8*b*(3). Such cases not falling within the afore-mentioned category will require prior concurrence of the War Department.

[A. G. 200.6 (8 Apr 44).]

34. Unauthorized wearing of foreign decorations.—a. That it shall be unlawful for any person, with intent to deceive or mislead, within the United States or Territories, possessions, waters, or places subject to the jurisdiction of the United States, to wear any * * * decorations, or regalia of any foreign State, nation, or Government with which the United States is at peace, or any * * * decoration, or regalia so nearly resembling the same as to be calculated to deceive, unless such wearing thereof be authorized by such State, nation, or Government.

Any person who violates the provisions of this Act shall upon conviction be punished by a fine not exceeding $500 or imprisonment for not exceeding six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment. Sec. 1, act 8 July 1918 (40 Stat. 831; 22 U. S. C. 256; M. L. 1939, sec. 2158).

FORMATION FOR CEREMONY

5 September 1945

TIME: 1630 HOURS

PLACE: PIAZZA VENEZIA

UNIFORM: Khaki, ties, ribbons and decorations will be worn.

1600 hours - 223rd Army Band and Headquarters Company will be formed.

1615 hours - Band and Headquarters Company will march to Piazza Venezia (Parade Grounds. Band will play while marching.

1645 hours - Admiral Stone will call Colonel Parkin (Colonel Parkin will walk to within three paces in front of the Admiral and salute). Admiral Stone will then read (or any other person designated by Admiral Stone) the order awarding the meritorious service plaque to 2675th Regiment, then Admiral Stone will give the plaque to Colonel Parkin. Colonel Parkin will salute, do an about face and return to his position.

Commanding Officer of troops will call the troops to PRESENT ARMS. (At this order of PRESENT ARMS only officers will salute, enlisted men will stand at attention, both arms to their sides), then gives the order or signals the band to sound retreat. The buglers sound retreat and immediatly afterwards the band plays the National Anthem.

The Commanding Officer of troops remains facing the troops and salutes the first note of the National Anthem. At the last note of the National Anthem he faces the Reviewing Officer and salutes him. The Reviewing Officer returns the salute and the Commanding Officer of Troops does ABOUT FACE and brings the troops to ORDER ARMS. Then orders the Commanding Officer, Headquarters Company to take over the troops. The band and men of Headquarters Company will then march off the Parade Grounds. The band will play while marching.

SUBJECT: Travel Out of the Theatre to SWITZERLAND.

TO : Allied Force Headquarters.
Attn: G-5 Section.

1. The Director of the Education Sub-Commission returned from Switzerland two weeks ago after making tentative arrangements for the printing of certain educational text-books required by the Province of Bolzano.

2. The preparation of text books in the German language involves repeated contacts with the Swiss authorities concerned who have offered to permit the publication in Italy of text books in German.

3. It is therefore necessary to send a representative to Switzerland the first week in September as the schools in Bolzano will be opening in October. This representative will have to make the final selection of the books to be printed and also complete the negotiations as to whether to have the folios printed in Switzerland and sent to Italy for binding or whether the books are to be completed in Switzerland. Owing to the short period of time left before the opening of the schools, personal contact is essential.

4. I wish to send J/Cdr. J.C. Harvey for this duty as he knows the country and the language.

5. It is therefore requested that J/Cdr. J.C. Harvey, A.B. 223677, be authorised to proceed by air to Switzerland via Milan and Chiasso for a period of approximately 10 days beginning 4 Sep 1945. Authority for the drawing of Swiss francs for per diem and rail transportation charges in Switzerland is requested.

PERSONAL AND CONFIDENTIAL

Dear Mr. Prime Minister:

I have received your letter of October 24 and I am glad to have your views on the situation in the Middle East. I am also grateful for the information you have given me about the steps you have taken to implement the cease-fire resolution of the Security Council.

I am sure you will understand that I cannot comment on the details of the military operations which you describe. I can only say that I hope that the cease-fire will be observed by all parties and that the United Nations Emergency Force will be able to carry out its task as quickly as possible.

I am also glad to have your assurance that you will not take any action which would prejudice the peaceful settlement of the dispute. I am sure that you will agree with me that the best way to achieve a lasting peace is through negotiation and agreement between the parties concerned.

I am grateful for your offer to keep me informed of developments. I shall do the same for you.

Yours sincerely,

DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER

The Right Honourable
Sir Anthony Eden, M.P.,

EXTRACT from the Minutes of MACMED's Conference (3rd Meeting) held at AFHQ on 9th August 1945.

MINUTE No.2.

2. RETURN OF COMMUNICATIONS AND OTHER FACILITIES TO CIVILIAN USE IN ITALY.

MAJOR GENERAL LEMNITZER reported that, in accordance with the direction given him at SAC (45) 2nd Meeting, Minute 3, enquiries had been made into the possibility of relaxing or removing present censorship restrictions on civil communications. However, as these restrictions had been prescribed by the Combined Chiefs of Staff, it was necessary to obtain their approval to any alterations. A signal had therefore been despatched (MAT 671 dated 7 Aug 45) to the Combined Chiefs of Staff requesting authority for ship-owners and agents in ITALY and GREECE to forward messages through normal commercial telegraphic channels. With regard to the release for civilian use of certain communication lines now reserved for military traffic, he states that this question was most complex but that investigations were progressing. Only 65 per cent of the pre-war communications facilities of ITALY were now in operating condition and only 15 per cent of these were available for civilian use. Military requirements had not decreased since the cessation of hostilities, due to the widespread deployment of our forces throughout the country. The release of further circuits could therefore only be effected if poorer facilities for military communications were accepted. He considered that the Italian Government after examining the matter should put in a demand for the additional circuits required for the shipping commitment. The Chief Signal Officer was already taking the matter up on these lines with the Allied Commission and he would report, through the Chief of Staff in due course.

REAR ADMIRAL STONE said that as a result of the termination of hostilities the secrecy of the military traffic was not as important as previously. It might therefore be possible for the military to share certain circuits with civilian users.

MAJOR GENERAL LEMNITZER added that the Commanding General MTOUSA had directed all US units to examine urgently the feasibility of releasing to the Italians accommodation and material now requisitioned for military use.

MAJOR GENERAL DUFF reported that a similar directive to British forces had been drafted and would be issued in the near future.

THE SUPREME ALLIED COMMANDER:

Reiterated his policy that accommodation, land lines and similar facilities in ITALY should be released to civil purposes as soon as military requirements permitted.

SUBJECT : Permanent Regular Commission

TO : Distribution below

Reference ACIs 1696/42, 2441/42, 153/43, 362/44, 919/44, 224/45 and 794/45regarding the Grant of Permanent Regular Army Commissions.

1. It has been decided that outstanding Temporary officers who are up to 5 years too old for eligibility under the above-noted ACIs may be considered for Permanent Commissions if specially recommended by the Army Commander and/or Commander in Chief.

2. Upper age limits are therefore extended as follows:-

(a) ACI 1696/42 paragraph 3 (f) and Appendix 1 paragraph 1: to 28th birthday;
(b) ACI 2441/42 paragraph 2 (a) (1) and Appendix 1 paragraph 1: to 33rd birthday.

3. All conditions of the above quoted ACIs (except that 224/45 may be applied if to their advantage) will continue to apply to all candidates who are within original age limits.

4. The following conditions apply to candidates now made eligible by paragraph 2 above.

(a) Must have had at least two years' commissioned service on full pay this war including at least one year's outstanding service in Regimental employment.
(b) Must have attained the paid rank of Major.
(c) Must be recommended by Commander of Brigade, Division, and Corps Commanders and/or Commander in Chief;
(d) Interview by regular Commission and selection board not required;
(e) Other conditions as in the above quoted ACIs.

5. Names of officers who are recommended as in paragraph 4 above will be included in the War Office Register from which selections will be made to fill vacancies.

6. Officers selected from register by War Office will receive Permanent Commissions under the following conditions:-

(a) Seniority in Regular Army will be as 2/Lieutenant from 23rd birthday (1/Lieutenant as from 25th birthday in the case of RAOC and REME) irrespective of length of service actually recorded. Time elapsed since date of seniority will count for time of Promotion and increments of pay, but not for retired pay. Any seniority in excess of that which would be due if reckoned as in ACIs 1696/42 and 2441/42 will not be taken into account when calculating age for eligibility to apply for permanent Commissions.

7. All officers eligible are urged to apply as soon as possible. Their attention is drawn particularly to the benefits of paragraph 6. Applications by candidates referred to in paragraph 3 will continue to be dealt with as hitherto, but applications by those referred to in paragraph 1 will not be forwarded above District Headquarters pending further instructions. Vacancies for the latter class are limited and primary consideration for both classes is the candidate's suitability to take a place in the Regular Army as if his Commission dated from his 23rd birthday (25th for RAOC and REME).

8. Pending further instructions, CMF Form 74 (in quadruplicate) will be used for applications, and SP Form 72 (WOSE) for detailed report on candidate by CO and Superior Commander.

Top Secret

I had the exceptional chance to see you coming into the Embassy yesterday morning. The "etiquette" is a very bad school. I am bound to it. So I could not ask you personally what I am asking you now.

I am a former employee of the U.S. Embassies and Consulates General in Rome (as secretary to the Legal Advisor) Paris as Translator of War documents, with both Cpt. & Cpt. Mc Fathen, Military Attaché during the war 1917-19. also with the actual Ambassador Jefferson Patterson.

To: The Military of the Interior.

1. Enclosed is a report from the Regional Commissioner, Ancona on the area which was devasted during the fighting last winter.

2. There is no doubt that special attention, of the kind given last year to those provinces covered in the previous winter's fighting, will be necessary. Since it is the intention of Allied Commission to restore Italian Region to the control of the Italian Government in the very near future, the problem will become one for the Italian government. The Regional Commissioner's report is therefore forwarded to you for consideration and comment.

SUBJECT : Recent trials in Milan

TO : Executive Commissioner

1. At the Chief Commissioner's Conference this morning I stated that the persons recently sentenced in Milan were being tried under AMG Proclamations.

2. You will recollect that Mr Hopkinson stated that appeal would go to the Minister of Grace and Justice.

3. My statement was only partially correct. Those persons were charged both under AMG Proclamations and under Italian law. It is not yet known under which they were sentenced.

4. I must request this misstatement. You may think that it is making a correction in the Minutes.

POLITICAL REVIEW BY REAR ADMIRAL ELLERY W. STONE
for presentation at the
393rd MEETING OF THE ADVISORY COUNCIL FOR ITALY, 26th JULY 1945

Gentlemen:

1. Since the last meeting of this council, the Government, although continuing to manifest its concern over domestic problems, has shown perhaps even a greater interest in Italy's so-called "international status". The convening of the Big Three meeting has been the occasion for a number of steps by the Government, taken ostensibly with the hope of obtaining a new juridical position for Italy vis-a-vis the United Nations. As you are no doubt aware during the United Nations Conference at San Francisco, various members of the Italian Government and most of the press made repeated pleas for the inclusion of Italy in these deliberations. However, when the Conference terminated, with no action having been taken concerning Italy, hope was immediately pinned on the "Big Three" meeting as being the next occasion on which Italian claims might be brought forward.

In this connection publicity has been given to stories emanating from the capitals of the United Nations, particularly Washington and London, concerning the possibility of a revision of Italy's status. Special attention was devoted to reports of the approval by the Foreign Affairs Committee of the House of Representatives on July 10 of a resolution introduced by Representative Marcantonio of New York providing for the admission of Italy to the United Nations and asking the President of the United States to exert his influence to attain this end. The Italian Government and the press have naturally maintained a close watch on any information that might tend to support their hopes that discussion of the status of Italy will indeed appear on the agenda of the Potsdam Conference, and more especially that these discussions will greater interest in Italy's so-called "international status". The convening of the Big Three meeting has been the occasion for a number of steps by the Government, taken ostensibly with the hope of obtaining a new juridical position for Italy vis-a-vis the United Nations. In this connection publicity has been given to stories emanating from the capitals of the United Nations, particularly Washington and London, concerning the possibility of a revision of Italy's status. Special attention was devoted to reports of the approval by the Foreign Affairs Committee of the House of Representatives on July 10 of a resolution introduced by Representative Mercantonio of New York providing for the admission of Italy to the United Nations and asking the President of the United States to exert his influence to attain this end. The Italian Government and the press have naturally maintained a close watch on any information that might tend to support their hopes that discussion of the status of Italy will indeed appear on the agenda of the Potsdam Conference, and more especially that these discussions will result in the termination of the Armistice regime.

Italy, during the period under review, also took two steps internationally which elicited considerable public reaction - the declaration of war against Japan on July 15 and the recognition of the Polish Government, reported on July 8. Reaction to the declaration of war against Japan, which had been rumoured in the press for some time, was almost entirely favorable from all sides and Nenni writing in AVANTI cited this step by the Italian Government as one more proof of the solidarity between Italy and the western democracies, while de Gasperi and Sforza in public statements on the same subject took much the same line. The reaction to Italy's recognition of the new Polish Government was also generally favorable although some regret was expressed that this step had been taken after the new Government had been recognized by the Big Three, and thus appeared to lack Italian initiative. In this field, L'UNITA carried on July 13 an editorial asking that Italo-Polish relations which had now been reestablished on a cordial basis not be prejudiced by the continued presence in Italy of a large force of Polish troops who had declared their loyalty to the now-defunct London Government, and concluded asking that these troops be removed from Italian soil as soon as possible.

As I mentioned earlier, the Government has continued an active program domestically and meetings of the Council of Ministers have been generally productive. The principal political problems which have been under study are the organization of the two ministries for the Constituent Assembly and the Consultative Assembly. As you recall, these two posts were given to the two vice Presidents of the Council, Nenni for the "Costituente" and Brosio for the "Consulta", and the council of Ministers has now sought to elaborate on the earlier decision and to determine definite methods by which these two bodies may be brought into existence. Since the "Consulta", which is the provisional body to assist the Cabinet on a temporary basis until the question of the permanent form of the Government can be studied more carefully, represents at present a more urgent problem, its organization has been the object of close study. A draft decree has already been drawn up outlining in detail the exact composition of the "Consulta" and providing for representation to be granted to northern Italy on the same basis as had been provided for the

by the Big Three, and thus appeared to lack Italian initiative. In this field, D'ORDA carried on July 13 an editorial asking that Italo-Polish relations which had now been reestablished on a cordial basis not be prejudiced by the continued presence in Italy of a large force of Polish troops who had declared their loyalty to the now-defunct London Government, and concluded asking that these troops be removed from Italian soil as soon as possible.

The principal political problems which have been under study are the organization of the two ministries for the Constituent Assembly and the Consultative Assembly. As you recall, these two posts were given to the two Vice Presidents of the Council, Nenni for the "Costituente" and Croce for the "Consulta", and the Council of Ministers has now sought to elaborate on the earlier decision and to determine definite methods by which these two bodies may be brought into existence. Since the "Consulta", which is the provisional body to assist the Cabinet on a temporary basis until the question of the permanent form of the Government can be studied more carefully, represents at present a more urgent problem, its organization has been the object of close study. A draft decree has already been drawn up outlining in detail the exact composition of the "Consulta" and providing for representation to be granted to Northern Italy on the same basis as had been provided for the southern and central portions of the country. The same three general classifications from which delegates would be selected; namely the political parties, former anti-fascist parliamentarians and finally representatives of labor, employer, cultural, veterans and similar organizations has been maintained. Some criticism has been heard from the opposition parties at the preponderance given to representativ of the CLN parties, who will p ably have an absolute majority in the "Consulta" with over two hundred delegates, as against the relatively small number allotted to the three opposition parties - Democratic, Republican and Liberal-Democratic - (about 20 seats) and to the other categories.

Calling of the Constituent Assembly is naturally a more complex problem. While the "Consulta" will serve temporarily and only as an advisory body, the "Constituente" will of course have important problems to discuss and will presumably have powers of decision. Nenni has been extremely active in preparing a draft decree for the "Constituente", which will require considerable time and work. Most of the newspapers have estimated that it will take two to three months simply to examine the legal bases for the draft of such a decree.

As you will recall, Nenni, in addition to his post as Minister for Constituent Assembly, received the post of High Commissioner for the Punishment of Fascist Crimes, and he has already been able to obtain the approval of the Council to a decree reorganizing and simplifying the administration of this of this office. Under the previous arrangement, it was directly under the President of the Council who appointed four joint high commissioners to serve under him, each one being charged with direction of one branch of the Commissariat's functions. Under the new arrangement the office will consist of only three branches - epuration, punishment of fascist crimes, and liquidation of fascist profits - and each branch will be under the supervision of a magistrate rather then under a political figure as was formerly the case. In commenting on this reorganization, Nenni remarked that it represented an effort to remove this office from the field of politics.

Among the other more important political problems upon which the Government began action during the past two weeks was the status of the language minorities residing in certain areas in Italy. Following a meeting of the "Constituente" will of course have important problems to discuss and will presumably have powers of decision. Nenni has been extremely active in preparing a draft decree for the "Constituente", which will require considerable time and work. Most of the newspapers have estimated that it will take two to three months simply to examine the legal bases for the draft of such a decree.

Among the other more important political problems upon which the Government began action during the past two weeks was the status of the language minorities residing in Certain areas in Italy. Following a meeting of the Council of Ministers on July 11, a statement was made reaffirming the determination of the new Government to guarantee special rights for these groups including the use of their native language in business, in public meetings, in the press, in relations with the political and juridical authorities and in the schools. Insofar as the specific project submitted by the CLN of Val d'Aosta providing for wide administrative autonomy for that area is concerned, the

Council of Ministers announced that it intended to discuss the plan on July 25.

The President of the Council himself has also continued to play an exceedingly active role, and visited Naples on July 8 and 9 where he addressed the Chamber of Commerce and workers of the Alfa-Romeo plant. Following his return to Rome he asked the Council of Ministers to make arrangements whereby the members of the Government might maintain closer touch with the different problems affecting all of the regions of Italy, and in this connection announced his own intention of visiting Sicily toward the end of this month and Sardinia in August.

On July 10 the Italian Government also made a statement following a meeting of the Council of Ministers to the effect that the preparation of electoral lists would begin on July 15 in northern Italy. This is being effected through the AMG organization. At the same time it was stated that preparation of the lists was almost completed in southern and central Italy and that in Tuscany and Venetia where work on the lists had started fairly recently, they would be completed in September. Various statements have appeared recently in the press emphasizing the importance to Italy, in her national reorientation toward democracy, of holding elections at as early a date as possible. All of the political parties appear to be agreed that this is the most important single political question to be faced at the present time.

Disorders in various parts of the country have been a problem both for the Italian Government and for Allied Military Government. The disorders in Apulia which I mentioned during my last review have quieted down and no recurrence of trouble has occurred there recently. However, some dissatisfaction still exists with the situation in that area and not only the opposition but the Liberal and Christian Democrat newspapers as well have stressed the failure of the official campaign to collect arms from civilians who were in illegal possession of them. Officially the final word on this situation came in the report given on July 7 by the Minister of Finance Scoccimarro in which in August.

Officially the final word on this situation came in the report given on July 7 by the Minister of Finance Scoccimarro in which he stressed the system of large landholdings in Apulia as the basic cause of the economic plight of the area, which in turn resulted in civil disturbances. On July 9 another serious incident of violence was reported from Schio in the Province of Vicenza, where fifteen alleged partisans were stated to have broken into the local prison and to have killed forty-seven political prisoners and wounded an additional twenty-six. The Regional Commissioner for Venetia p proceeded to the scene of the disturbance and gave a statement condemning in strong terms the actions of the assassins, following which the opposition press in Rome attacked the Government for its failure to make a similar statement condemning such brazen lawlessness. The press has also reported extensively another incident in Milan during which a crowd was stated to have broken into an Allied Military Government courtroom where five other alleged Partisans were being tried for failure to turn in arms in violation of AMG orders and for other offenses. However, in this case order was quickly restored and the trial has continued without incident.

That, Gentleman, concludes my report.

As you will recall, Nenni, in addition to [his] post as Minister for Constituent Assembly, received the post of High Commissioner for the punishment of Fascist Crimes, and he has already been able to obtain the approval of the Council to a decree reorganizing and simplifying the administration of this office. Under the previous arrangement, it was directly under the President of the Council who appointed four Joint High Commissioners to serve under him, each one being charged with direction of one branch of the Commissariat's functions. Under the new arrangement the office will consist of only three branches - epuration, punishment of fascist crimes, and liquidation of fascist wrongs - and each branch will be under the supervision of a magistrate rather than under a political figure as was formerly the case. In commenting on this reorganization, Nenni remarked that it represented an effort to remove this office from the field of politics.

SU

Among the other more important political problems upon which the Government began action during the past two weeks was the status of certain areas the language minorities residing in Italy. Following a meeting of the Council of Ministers on July 11, a statement was made reaffirming the determination of the new Government to guarantee special rights for these groups including the use of their native language in business, in public meetings, in the press, in relations with the political and juridical authorities and in the schools. Insofar as the specific project submitted by the CLN of Val d'Aosta providing for wide administrative autonomy for that area is concerned, the Council of Ministers announced that it intended to discuss the plan on July 25.

0626

The President of the Council himself has also continued to play an exceedingly active role, and visited Naples on July 6 and 9 where he addressed the Chamber of Commerce and workers of the Alfa-Romeo plant. While the return to Rome he asked the Council of Ministers to make arrangements whereby the members of the Government might maintain closer touch with the different problems affecting all of the regions of Italy, and in this connection announced his own intention of visiting Sicily toward the end of this month, and Sardinia in August.

On July 10 the Italian Government also made a statement following a meeting of the Council of Ministers to the effect that the preparation of electoral lists would begin on July 15 in northern 85. Italy. This is being effected through the Italian Organization. At the same time it was stated that preparation of the lists was almost completed in southern and central Italy and that in Tuscany and Umbria where work on the lists had started fairly recently, they would be completed in September. Various statements have appeared recently in the press emphasizing the importance to Italy, in her national reorientation toward democracy, of holding elections at as early a date as possible. All of the political parties appear to be agreed that this is the most important single political question to be faced at the present time.

Disorders in various parts of the country have been a problem both for the Italian Government and for Allied Military Government. The disorders in Apulia which I mentioned during my last review have quieted down and no recurrence of trouble has occurred there recently. However, some dissatisfaction still exists with the situation in that area and not only the opposition but the Liberal and Christian Democrat newspapers as well have stressed the failure of the official campaign to collect arms from civilians who were in illegal possession of them. Officially the final word on this situation came in the report given on July 7 by the Minister of Finance Scoccimarro in which he stressed the system of large landholdings in Apulia as the basic cause of the economic plight of the area, which in turn resulted in civil disturbances. On July 9 another serious incident of violence was reported from Schio in the Province of Vicenza, where fifteen alleged Partisans were stated to have broken into the local prison and to have killed forty-seven political prisoners and wounded an additional twenty-six. The Regional Commissioner for Venetia proceeded to the scene of the disturbance and gave a statement concerning in strong terms the actions of the assassins, following which the opposition press in Rome attacked the Government for its failure to make a similar statement condemning such brazen lawlessness. The press has also reported extensively another incident in Milan during which a crowd was stated to have broken into an Allied Military Government courtroom where five other alleged Partisans were being tried for failure to turn in arms in violation of AFC orders and for other offenses. However, in this case order was quickly restored and the trial has continued without incident.

Declassified E.O. 12356 Section 3.3/NND No. 785015

That, Gentlemen, concludes my report.

Dear Captain Dike:

As I told the General, a C-47 has been laid on to arrive at Ciampino Airport, Tuesday 8:30 A.M. They are rather insistent on knowing where the plane will be tomorrow night, and realizing that your real desire was to arrive at Salzburg, I told them that you would go ahead to Salzburg. I assume that this is a satisfactory arrangement for you.

POLITICAL REVIEW BY REAR ADMIRAL ELLERY W. STONE
for presentation at the
39th MEETING OF THE ADVISORY COUNCIL FOR ITALY, 6th JULY 1945

Gentlemen,

1. At the last meeting of this Council, you will recall that I broke off my narrative of the Government crisis at the point when Signor Bonomi placed his resignation in the hands of the Lieutenant of the Realm on June 12th. As you are aware, since that date a new Government has been formed under the presidency of Signor Parruccio Parri and has begun its labours. You may perhaps be interested to hear a brief account of the final phase of the crisis before I deal with the composition of the new Government and its programme.

2. With Signor Bonomi's resignation the Government crisis was officially opened and the Lieutenant of the Realm summoned the President of the Senate and the President of the Chamber and leading politicians to the Quirinale for the formal consultations which are laid down by the constitution in such circumstances. It seems that the Prince's supporters and the Right Wing parties were at this stage in favour of a Government headed by the aged Senator Benedetto Croce supported by technical experts drawn from the parties and elsewhere. In the meantime, during the morning of the 13th June the Delegation of the CLNAI, which you will recall was in Rome at the time, passed a resolution calling for action on a three-point programme; namely, the designation of Signor Parri as President of the Council, the representation in the new Government of all the political forces in the Committee of National Liberation, including such leaders as Signori Nenni, Togliatti and de Gasperi and finally the appointment of five ministers without portfolio to be designated by Northern political parties. By the evening of the same day the Delegation had prevailed on on the central Committee of National Liberation to accept the first point of their programme and an invitation was immediately despatched to Signor Parri to come to Rome and accept the task of forming a Government. Nevertheless the are aware, since that date a new Government has been formed under the Presidency of Signor Ferruccio Parri and has begun its labours. You may perhaps be interested to hear a brief account of the final phase of the crisis before I deal with the composition of the new Government and its programme.

It seems that the Prince's supporters and the Right wing parties were at this stage in favour of a Government headed by the aged Senator Benadetto Croce supported by technical experts drawn from the parties and elsewhere. In the meantime, during the morning of the 19th June the Delegation of the CLNAI, which you will recall was in Rome at the time, passed a resolution calling for action on a three-point programme; namely, the designation of Signor Parri as President of the Council, the representation in the new Government of all the political forces in the Committee of National Liberation, including such leaders as Signori Nenni, Togliatti and de Gasperi and finally the appointment of five ministers without portfolio to be designated by Northern political parties. By the evening of the same day the Delegation had prevailed on on the central Committee of National Liberation to accept the first point of their programme and an invitation was immediately despatched to Signor Parri to come to Rome and accept the task of forming a Government. Nevertheless the prospects for Signor Parri's success in this did not at first look too good. For example, Signor Nenni, though professing great admiration for the new leader, stated flatly in the columns of the Socialist paper "Avanti" that he would not serve in Signor Parri's

Declassified E.O. 12356 Section 3.3/NND No. 778015

Government and it seems that Signori Togliatti and de Gasperi subsequently took the same line. In any event, when Signor Parri arrived in Rome on June 11th he refused to commit himself as regards accepting the invitation proffered to him and stated that he must first study the situation. On the following 2 days, Signor Parri held long conferences with the various political leaders and I am informed that he did not hesitate to deal firmly with the attempts of certain of the political leaders to indulge in petty partisan quibbles and so to prolong the crisis, presumably to their own advantage.

3. By the evening of June 16th, Signor Parri had decided to accept the designation of the 5 parties and on June 17th he was received by the Lieutenant of the Realm and officially charged with the formation of the new Government. However, although the principal party leaders had now agreed to serve under Signor Parri, there was still considerable difficulty about the allocation of the important portfolio of the Ministry of the Interior. As you know, the problem was eventually solved by Signor Parri's taking the Ministry himself while the hurt feelings of the Right and Left wing parties were mollified by the creation of two Vice-presidencies with special functions. The list of the new Cabinet was made known on June 20th and the new Ministers took the oath on the following day.

4. It is not necessary to repeat today the names of the new Ministers and the details of the composition of the new Government. You will doubtless have obtained this information already from other sources. But I may be permitted to make a few observations on the new Government. You will observe that there are three new ministries giving the relatively large total of 20 portfolios. However, it is fair to point out that the Ministry of Post-War Relief will absorb the work of various high commissions and other agencies set up to deal with returning refugees, prisoners of war and veterans. The previous Government had a High Commission for Food and this has now been raised to the rank of a

The previous Government had a High Commission for Food and this has now been raised to the rank of a Ministry which in the circumstances is logical enough. The Ministry of Reconstruction will presumably take over the work of another agency, the Interministerial Committee for Reconstruction. The short-lived Ministry for Occupied Italy has been eliminated. A separate Ministry for Labour has long been urged and its combination with Welfare will absorb a number of minor agencies.

The proportion of new blood is substantially higher than in the last Government. Counting Signor Parri himself, there are nine newcomers and some of them in important posts. As might be expected, the North has a preponderance of representation - 11 of the Ministers were born North of Rome. However, it is the most representative Cabinet on geographical lines that the new Italy has yet had. There are three members from Southern Italy, two from Sicily and one from Sardinia. Politically of course, the new Government is further to the Left than Signor Bonomi's last administration. For one thing, Signor Parri is a man of avowed republican sympathies and a member of the party which, although it is not Marxist and, indeed, is not even ideologically coherent, has none-the-less worked in harmony with the Socialists in the past and certainly belongs to the left wing of the political front. Then too, the fact that the Cabinet now contains Socialist and Action Representatives is enough in itself to warrant the statement that a move to the Left has been made. Lastly the powers given to Signor Nenni to take charge of the work of preparing for the convocation of the Constituent Assembly and of the Office of Sanctions against Fascism are of considerable political significance at this time. On the other hand, the Right has also had its triumphs. It has succeeded in blocking the drive for a Socialist President which a month ago seemed sure of success. Signor Parri although of Republican convictions does not share Socialist views on "social problems" - or so at least Signor Nenni himself has asserted. Further the Convocation of the Consultative Assembly and the Municipal Elections will precede the Constituent Assembly and will in all probability mould the pattern for that body, and a Liberal is in charge of the convocation of the Consultative Assembly. It is also noteworthy that generally speaking, the ministries that come in contact with the outside world have gone to the moderates - I refer to Foreign Affairs, the Treasury and Reconstruction as well as all further to the left than Signor Tonoldi's last administration. For one thing, Signor Terri is a man of avowed Republican sympathies and a member of the party which, although it is not Marxist and, indeed, is not even ideologically coherent, has none-the-less worked in harmony with the Socialists in the past and certainly belongs to the left wing of the political front. The "Internal Ministries" such as Justice, Labour and Post-War Relief, as well as the Interior itself have gone to the Left Wing Parties.

5. The list of the under-secretaries of state was approved by the Council of Ministers at its first meeting on June 26th. Again, I will not go into the details but will merely observe that each party has four under secretaries and that the usual system of "scrambling" the parties in the various ministries has been followed as in previous Governments.

5. On June 23rd Signor Parri made a broadcast appeal to the nation. After expressing gratitude to the Allies for the liberation of the country and the generous material support which they had given for its reconstruction, he reminded the Italian people that the country was still in a state of emergency and that only a united effort could see it safely through. The convocation of the Constituent Assembly would act of itself provide bread for people to eat and the Allied powers would be unwilling to give that material aid which was so essential for the reconstruction of the country unless they were satisfied that the Italians themselves were prepared to make an effort for their own redemption. The reaction to this sensible speech has been uniformly good.

7. On June 25th, the Cabinet Council held its first meeting under Signor Parri's chairmanship and prepared a nine-point draft programme for approval by the Council of Ministers at its first session on the following day. The nine points incorporated in the subsequent statement of the Council are as follows:

(1) preparation of the Constituent Assembly,

(2) appeal to the Allies to replace the armistice clauses by a peace treaty,

(3) direct negotiations with Yugoslavia on the Venezia Giulia question,

(4) reconstruction of the High Commission for Sanctions against Fascism,

(5) recognition of the advisory function of the Committees of National Liberation,

(6) administrative elections as early as possible,

(7) inclusion of representatives from the North in the Consultative Assembly,

(8) collaboration with the General Confederation of Italian Labour and other workers' groups on problems of labour and supplies, and finally,

(9) reconstruction.

As I have said, the draft was accepted by the Council at its first full meeting on June 26th. At the same meeting the list of under-secretaries was ap-

As I have said, the draft was accepted by the Council at its first full meeting on June 26th. At the same meeting the list of under-secretaries was approved and I think it worth mentioning that there had been some talk of giving one of the under-secretaryships to a woman. The plan fell through, however, because no party was prepared to yield to the others and the alternative, namely six women in the new Government would have been, as several newspapers did not fail to point out, a little too progressive even in these progressive times. The Council also approved a draft decree presented by Signor Nenni for the abolition of the title of "Excellenza". The scope of this new decree is not yet known. The Council further heard a report from Signor Soleri and approved a budget for the next two months. A few days later it was announced that the campaign for the new loan will now be extended to the North. Minister Soleri expects by this means to increase the present subscriptions from 91,000,000,000 lire to 200,000,000,000. A special Inter-ministerial Committee has set up for economic coordination of the North and the South. This Committee consists of Signori Pella, De Gasperi, Scelba, Scaglia, Scoccimarro and Barbareschi and its specific task is to study the questions of prices, wages and salaries. The Council also decided to postpone publication of the decree on rents which the Soviet government has approved but has not yet published in the official gazette.

8. Reaction to the settlement of the Venezia Giulia question has not been very favourable throughout the country. The Council of Ministers in the programme which I have already mentioned referred to the agreement as a "unsatisfactory arrangement". The newspapers have carried articles in the same sense during the past week. The "Tribuna del Popolo" asked the Allies if there was any special significance to be attached to the division of administrative spheres since "Italians did not quite understand what the line meant in the minds of those who drew it." The "Globo" pointed out that Italy had "lost" by the terms of the agreement "about half the national production of coal, almost all her bauxite and a good part of her mercury". In Venezia Giulia itself, however, the week has passed off without serious incident. A one-day general strike took place in Trieste on June 26th but there were no complications and Marshal Tito's latest speech on the possibility of Yugoslavia and Italy living in friendly relations "in an atmosphere of progressive democracy" should serve to clear the air.

9. There have been recently some disturbing incidents in Southern Italy which assume a greater measure of importance in view of Signor Parri's

9. There have been recently some disturbing incidents in Southern Italy which assume a greater measure of importance in view of Signor Parri's declaration that illegal activities must cease. The origins of the agitation are obscure but reports were received on the 27th and 28th June that the Carabinieri in the little town of Minervino Murge in the province of Bari had been set upon and subsequently besieged in their barracks by armed peasants. The infection spread to the nearby village of Andria where the gaol was stormed and some 40 prisoners released. Reinforcements of 500 carabinieri which were sent to the area to restore calm were virtually defeated in a pitched battle. By June 26th the situation was reported to be critical. The new Minister of Labour, Signor Barbareschi, was sent to investigate and settle the differences and on the following day reported that calm had been restored. This may well be premature, but the latest reports indicate that arms are at least being handed in by the peasants even if all the released criminals have not yet been rounded up.

10. Before concluding this report, I should perhaps make mention of economic developments. The main problems facing Italy and the Allied Commission are food and work. The wheat crop this year is expected to be 2,000,000 tons less than last year's, largely due to the prolonged drought which in turn has accentuated the fertiliser deficiency. The loss of the expected acreage reduces the food supply and raises other economic problems. The income of 47% of Italy's population, dependent on farming, will probably be cut by 220,000,000 dollars. Farming will not be able, moreover, to absorb the surplus labour from industries which have been obliged to close down for lack of coal and raw materials. Food shortages further raise the problems of public safety and even public health since the farms have not been producing enough for the needs of their owners let alone a surplus for export to deficient areas. The estimate of the wheat crop cannot be definite until the crop is threshed, but the dangers are clear enough to warrant calling attention to them in all fields of governmental activity, Italian as well as Allied, since the all important question of increased imports is sure to be raised again. For the purposes of record, you may be interested to know that the crop last year in all Italy was 6,390,661 tons compared with an expected 4,427,000 tons

For the purposes of record, you may be interested to know that the crop last year in all Italy was 8,390,661 tons compared with an expected 4,427,000 tons this season. Acreage planted showed an 8% decrease due largely to the non-cultivation of marginal strips in mountain areas. This year's acreage is estimated at 10,793,799 while last year's was 11,769,790. The drought has continued since March and is said to be the worst since 1922. The many small farms are harder hit than the large surplus-producing ones but the great bulk of farms in Italy are precisely these small farms. A low yield is anticipated for other reasons also, such as late sowing, frosts, hot winds, floods and war damage. The Ormai del Popolo reports for the season from July 1st 1944 to June 30th 1945 show that 11,123,472 quintals of grain or 95% of the target figure were amassed south of the Pisa-Rimini Line. In Sicily, recently liberated, during the past season another half million quintals have been collected making a grand total of 11,444,853 quintals.

That, Gentlemen, concludes my report.

REGIONAL COMMISSIONERS' MEETING
(Caserta While Chief Commissioner in Attendance

1. Future of Italy.

After brief welcoming remarks, the Chief Commissioner opened the meeting by reading to the Regional Commissioners his letter to the Supreme Allied Commander on the subject of the future policy toward Italy. Copies of this letter had been given to the Regional Commissioners immediately prior to the meeting. In connection with the dangers of Communism to Italy which were stressed in the letter as well as the dangers of succumbing to Russian influence, the Chief Commissioner told the Regional Commissioners that if they thought those dangers were overdrawn they should know the situation as it exists today east of the Morgan Line. In connection with the retention of control by Italy of her fleet, the Chief Commissioner pointed out that the announcement last year that Russia was to be given one third of the Italian fleet had disastrous effect on Italian morale, as is known by all the Regional Commissioners. The Italian fleet can play a very effective role in the Mediterranean, if our governments will permit it, by reason of its existence there, while if we humilitiate Italy by taking over her fleet, we will lose her assistance in this area.

There is no certainty that the views advanced in the paper are to be approved by either or both Governments. There are, however, hopeful indications that the views toward Italy are shifting somewhat as more is understood of the problems here. ~~The paper has not yet received reaction~~ Field Marshal Alexander's reactions to the paper were responsive and he is taking it with him to London.

Brigadier Dunlop raised the point that the Province of UDINE should be retained under AMG or under direct control of the Commission or Mission. He felt that there was certain to be repercussions there of the tension existing in Venezia-Giulia. The Chief Commissioner replied that the phrase in the letter ~~therein~~ regarding Yugoslav provinces that might not be turned over to the Italian Government included UDINE and any others in that area that could not be turned over to the Italian Government.

The Chief Commissioner went on to say, in connection with this, that the stories of Italians executed or thrown down mineshafts by the Yugoslavs in the area that we have occupied are so similar to what went on when the Nazis were here that we cannot feel easy. It takes a little time for the people at home to learn of what has gone on, but he is hopeful that the Governments will make appropriate decisions.

In connection with the furtherance of cultural relations between Italy and the United States and Great Britain, Colonel Poletti stated that we should immediately set to work on the introduction into Italy and the translation into Italian of the necessary books. As an example, he said that all of the copies of the Constitution of the U.S. that he had brought with him had been given to Italians. All bookstores in the north seem to be flooded with the literature of our Eastern Allies. The Chief Commissioner stated that when PWB is broken up into its component parts it will be the job of the U.S.I.S. and the U.K.I. to see that books are brought to Italy on the copyrights made available here for local publication. The Chief Commissioner requested the Executive Commissioner to follow this up with Mr. Brown. Mr. Broom stated that the two agencies mentioned were already engaged in translating a great number of books and arranging others for translation. There are more, of course, in the home area than there are in the North, due to transportation difficulties but efforts are being made to solve this problem. At the present time and until we turn over the Northern provinces to the Italian Government, the Regional Commissioners will act as agents of the U.S.I.S. and the U.K.I., but the minute the turnover is effected, those organizations will establish their own offices in the North. The Chief Commissioner requested that the Regional Commissioners work in the closest touch with these two offices so that we can assist in making their important job more effective. Mr. Halford mentioned that we should

As an example, he said that all of the copies of the Constitution of the U.S. that he had brought with him had been given to Italians. The Chief Commissioner stated that when PWB is broken up into its component parts it will be the job of the U.S.I.S. and the U.K.I. to see that books are brought to Italy or the copyrights made available here for local publication. The Chief Commissioner requested the Executive Commissioner to follow this up with Mr. Brown. Mr. Brown stated that the two agencies mentioned were already engaged in translating a great number of books and arranging others for translation. There are more, of course, in the Rome area than there are in the North, due to transportation difficulties but efforts are being made to solve this problem. At the present time and until we turn over the Northern provinces to the Italian Government, the Regional Commissioners will act as agents of the U.S.I.S. and the U.K.I., but the minute the turnover is effected, those organizations will establish their own offices in the North. The Chief Commissioner requested that the Regional Commissioners work in the closest touch with these two offices so that we can assist in making their important job more effective. Mr. Kelford mentioned that we should let the Italian people know what legislation is currently before Congress and the Parliament so that they may have an idea of the type of legislation we are now considering and also an idea of the workings of our democratic legislative machinery, ~~under~~ with which they are unfamiliar.

Colonel Poletti suggested that perhaps the paper placed too much emphasis on how we were to help the Italians by establishing missions, etc.,

and too little emphasis was placed on showing how we could let the Italians help themselves by permitting them free access to the United States and England and letting them establish their own missions to our countries.

In connection with retention of officers in the field in provinces where AMG has been terminated, Colonel Poletti stated that he was in opposition to this view, arguing that once AMG has turned over its authority to the Italians if they remain the officers are without power although they are still held responsible by many of the Italian people. Colonel Poletti thought the AC could and should operate centrally, withdrawing officers from field assignments, but sending officers to the field as necessary. Considerable discussion was held on this point. The consensus of opinion seemed to be that certain AC officers retained in the field as liaison officers could serve a very useful function, -- and in connection with the forthcoming elections, a very necessary function. The Chief Commissioner stressed this point in particular stating that it was an Allied obligation to ensure that the first Italian election would be free, or as free as possible, from coercion by any undemocratic elements. It was generally agreed that ~~re-construction of AMG~~ it would be not be practicable to train special election teams in the electoral laws in the supervision of the election and therefore the ex-AMG officers should be retained in their field positions. It should be made clear to the public that the officers who step on have relinquished their AMG authority and responsibility and are there to assist in a liaison capacity the responsible Italian officials.

The Chief Commissioner asked the Regional Commissioners for their views on the turnover of their provinces to the Italian Government. Colonel ~~Norman~~ Bowman stated that the date of 1 September would give plenty of time, that Emilia region could be closed 1 August if considered advisable. He didn't believe that the Prisoner-of-War situation would delay the turnover. Brigviole by many of the Italian people. Colonel Poletti thought the AC could and should operate neutrally, withdrawing officers from field assignments, but sending officers to the field as necessary. Considerable discussion was held on this point. The consensus of opinion seemed to be that ~~the~~ AC officers retained in the field as liaison officers could serve a very useful function, — and in connection with the forthcoming elections, a very necessary function. The Chief Commissioner stressed this point in particular stating that it was an Allied obligation to ensure that the first Italian election would be free, or as free as possible, from coercing by any undemocratic elements. It was generally agreed that ~~xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx~~ it would ~~be~~ not be practicable to train special ~~election~~ teams in the electoral laws in the supervision of the election and therefore the ex-AC officers should be retained in their field positions. It should be made clear to the public that the officers who stay on have relinquished their AC authority and responsibility and are there to assist in a liaison capacity the responsible Italian officials.

The Chief Commissioner asked the Regional Commissioners for their views on the turnover of their provinces to the Italian Government. Colonel ~~xxxxx~~ Dowman stated that the date of 1 September would give plenty of time, that Emilia Region could be closed 1 August if considered advisable. He didn't believe that the Prisoner-of-War situation would delay the turnover. Brigadier Carr stated that Liguria Region could be turned back 1 September, provided that the French situation is settled by that time. Colonel Poletti stated that Lombardia region could be turned back the end of July, although if control is retained for another month it will give opportunity to accomplish more. However, he felt that the turnover should not be delayed beyond 1 September. Brigadier Dunlop stated that Emilia Region could be turned back 1 September except for the three border provinces. Colonel Marshal gave as his estimate a date three weeks after opening of the seaports in his province and after the Italian people had been assured of immediate importation of critical~~sup~~ materials, no matter how little. Because of the difficulty in opening the port of Genoa, where we have located but one-sixth of the mines known to have been sown there, AFH has decided to open the port of Savona as the Allies are in possession of what is claimed to be an accurate chart of the mines laid there. General Hume stated that it was expected that the Fifth Army would be out long before 1 September, although they expected to have AMG representatives in any places where they kept offices.

It was brought up that it would be very difficult to turn back to the Italians control of transport movements in Italy. The Chief Commissioner stated that if the Commission is abolished, the only way to control movements would seem to be that AFH assumes control from a military standpoint.

2. Free Elections.

Brigadier Upjohn gave a brief review of the situation as regards the forthcoming elections. The first thing that must be done is to prepare the electoral lists, which takes an a minimum 110 days. Secondly, there is the actual holding of the elections. The Bonomi Government was extremely anxious to continue with the 1915 law, which we considered entirely unsatisfactory. The Chief Commissioner stated that he was going to take this up very strongly with the new Government advising them that the objections are voiced not only for the Commission itself but also on behalf of the British and American Governments. Brigadier Upjohn stated that the third point was the question of just what posts were to be filled by the election, ~~sup~~ which was not yet known, although the Bonomi Government wanted the posts as prescribed in the Law of 1915. Next was the question of supervising the elections, which was

2. Free Elections.

Brigadier Upjohn gave a brief review of the situation as regards the forthcoming elections. The first thing that must be done is to prepare the electoral lists, which takes at a minimum 120 days. Secondly, there is the actual holding of the elections. The Bonomi Government was extremely anxious to continue with the 1919 law, which he considered entirely unsatisfactory. The Chief Commissioner stated that he was going to take this up very strongly with the new Government advising them that the objections are voiced not only for the Commission itself but also on behalf of the British and American Governments. Brigadier Upjohn stated that the third point was the question of just what posts were to be filled by the election, ~~many~~ which was not yet known, although the Bonomi Government wanted the posts as prescribed in the law of 1919. Next was the question of supervising the elections, which was a real problem as ~~it would require~~ the Commission does not have sufficient personnel to adequately supervise the elections. The question of holding national elections has not yet been discussed with the Italian Government. Bonomi's Government had made no preparation for it. Nenni has now been charged with the preparation of the Constituents and he estimates that it will take six to eight months before national elections may be held. Brigadier Upjohn pointed out that by that time winter will be on us and, as no elections can be held in Italy in the winter; that will bring the elections up to next spring. Nenni estimates that it will take two months to prepare the decree to set up the Constituente, then it will go before the Consulta, which has not yet been formed, where it will be debated for some time, and then to the Italian Government. Brigadier Upjohn said that it would be unlikely that elections will be held before March, 1946. It is not known yet from what lists the Constituents will be drawn, although we are hopeful that our lists, when prepared, will be used for the national elections. At the moment, the Italian Government is only on the fringe of the problem.

Colonel Grigg's gave a brief talk on the holding of local elections, advising that the compilation of electoral lists could be started ten days after any "D-day" set by the Chief Commissioner. After some discussion the Chief Commissioner directed that 15 July 1945 be established as "D-day" for the compilation of the lists. Colonel Grigg stated that the main thing in compiling the lists was that a complete civil administration should be set up.

The Executive Commissioner asked the Regional Commissioners for suggestions on how we could ensure free elections. Colonel Bowman stated that without a doubt coercion would be employed, and as it is most important that we do everything in our power to insure that the first ~~some~~ real election is properly held, we should use Allied troops. Brigadier Carr stated that he was in agreement with Colonel Bowman, although he cautioned that it would be impossible to personally supervise all the polling booths. Colonel Poletti stated that he felt the employment of troops could not guarantee free elections. He felt that the Allied Governments should make it absolutely clear to the Italians that we considered it our responsibility to ensure free elections and that we intended to see that the elections were free. Colonel Marshal suggested two points: First, the removal of fear and ~~the~~ terror to convince them of the need for keeping Allied troops here for that purpose.

3. Liquidation of Ministries in North

Brigadier Upjohn informed the meeting that an Aide-Memoire had been presented to Prime Minister Bonomi on 5 June suggesting that a mission be sent North to investigate the continuance of former Fascist ministries, suggesting that they be dissolved immediately. This matter should be taken up with the new Government. Colonel Poletti, in this regard, stated that he had appointed certain Fascist officials to ex-positions for liquidation of these ministries and that these officials had absolutely no executive powers.

In connection with the return of archives, the big problem was said to be shorter their bulky. For example, the archives in the North of the Public Safety Ministry constitutes of 4,000 crates and four safes. At a meeting last night it was agreed that it was impossible to return the archives at once and that therefore only the currently desired archives would be returned now.

Colonel Poletti told the meeting that from time to time the Air Force in Rome had been issuing orders to the Ministries in the North, which procedure he had prohibited. The Chief Commissioner confirmed Colonel Poletti's position as being correct.

The Chief Commissioner told the meeting that at the time of the formation of the new Government, Professor Parri asked his reaction to the appointment of Bitrandt as Head of the CMAI and his deputy as under-secretary. The Chief Commissioner told Professor Parri purpose being to reward the CMAI for the job they did in the North. The Admiral suggested that rewarding them in this manner would be giving them an official status, which was in opposition to the agreement of the six parties. The Chief Commissioner asked the Regional Commissioners if the North should have special Ministry, such as the Ministry of the CMAI. The Regional Commissioner seemed to be in con-

In connection with the decree that authorized partisan groups to support themselves by voluntary contributions, Colonel Bowman raised an objection to this decree because he felt considerable coercion was being exercised in collecting these "contributions". Colonel Poletti likewise objected to this decree because he felt it gave a special status to the partisan groups. The Chief Commissioner observed that some means of revenue had to be established so that they could support themselves since we had stopped playing "Santa". Colonel Holmes informed the gathering that a law of 1931 prohibited any voluntary contributions to such organizations, and therefore a decree was necessary so that they could make collections. Brigadier Upjohn observed that the decree itself was not at fault but that the fault lies with the people who abused the privileges granted in the decree. The Chief Commissioner suggested that a memorandum be prepared and sent to the Regional Commissioners explaining the shortcomings features of the decree and the lack of need.

In order that the Regional Commissioners may have an opportunity to express themselves on any such future legislation affecting their work, the Chief Commissioner directed that any proposed decrees in connection with patriots be circularized to the Regional Commissioners, or if to the various sub-commissions, be given them an opportunity to be heard, suggesting that if objectionable features were found that they send a dispatch immediately and follow up with detailed letter, so that approval may be withheld.

5. Transportation of Northern Prefects to Rome.

Colonel Poletti suggested that Colonel Pike's plan for the transportation of Prefects to Rome for a day or two be adopted now. Colonel Poletti was opposed to this plan as he felt that as long as AMG remained the Prefects should look to the AMG instead of to Rome.

6. Swiss Border.

Colonel Poletti asked ~~some one~~ for information concerning the opening of the Swiss Border, which he considered a very necessary measure so that Italian and Swiss businessmen could travel between the two countries. It was reported that starting 25 June ~~there would~~ 1,000 refugees a day would pass through Como and that subsequently ~~there would~~ 5,000 refugees daily WOULD COME THROUGH ALL ROUTES.

It was expected that all refugees now in Switzerland would be moved back to Italy before the refugees now in Germany and other countries started to return through Switzerland.

6. Public security.

The Executive Commissioner asked the meeting for information on whether the public security situation was improving or not; the opinion of the commissioners was that individual crimes are on the decline, although such crimes and jail deliveries and recaptures are at the present time the most serious failures of security.

A cartoon of"Soffia-So'" requested by Admiral Stone.

The "ORBIS" news-agency was informed today about an intelligent gesture of Admiral - chief of the Allied Commission in Italy - which shows how he is provided with the classical American sense of humour.

In the first number of the new Weekly "Soffia-So'" there was a cartoon - baring the title "First night at the Viminale" - representing a woman - Italy - ~~whex~~ asking Ferruccio Parri : "Tell me, my dear, has Admiral Stone said anything to you ?".

The Admiral, having seen the cartoon, expressed his compliments to the author and asked for the original drawing to keep it as a souvenir.

We hope too to be able to keep as simple souvenir the advises and instructions which Admiral Stone gives to the young bride Italy.

Tito made a speech in Belgrad he invited the populations of Trieste, Gorizia and coast to use their moral right to resist and fight the tendency of re-establishing in the zone the old Italian authority and Fascist ordonnances which were legal before Italian capitulation. Tito went on stating that the Yugoslavs have fought strenuously to safeguard their rights ~~and that they had~~ to accep the great sacrifice of Allied control, but that they had finally

The French are gradually retreating from Val d'Aosta. ~~[illegible]~~ Bidault stated, France has no claims. (ORBIS and U.P.)

The claims of the Tyrolian "irredentisti" are considered unacceptable by the Alto Adige C.L.N. (ORBIS)

12 professors have been epurated from Bologn a University. (names given in Giornale del Mattino)

According to "Newsweek" it seems that Francis Biddle, at present Minister of Justice, has accepted the post of American Ambassador to Rome. (I.M.D.)

Parri's success in the composition of the new Govt is a good omen for the future of Italy stated Grew.

The Daily Telegraph writes that the Parri Govt is constructed on a much wider basis than the Bonomi one and hopes that it may represent a bridge between the south - traditionally conservative - and the north where the working masses have always had revolutionary traditions.

Justice continues its course in the north.

The "order of lawyers" has sent a message of congratulations to Parri and one to Togliatti

It seems that the Yugoslavs have demobilised numerous troops in Venezia Giulia ~~[illegible]~~ in order to increase the Slav populat ions in many centres they claim a communist administration. They have carried away all the money from the Banca d'Italia; they do not fraternise with Allied troops. (ORBIS)

According to LA CAPITALE two difficulties remain in forming the govt. 1. There is a struggle between the Communists and the C.D. s for Education and (2) Socialists and Liberals do not want their Vice-Presiden cies to count in the distribution of portfolios. Other parties oppose this attitude.

For the Education post the following have been mentioned: Silone (Soc.) Scelba, Colonetti or Tecini (all C.D.), Marchesi (Com.), Cattani (Lib.), Salvatorelli (Act.)

Finance is also in doubt; Pesenti Com. or an Action man. Likewise Transport (Cevelotto or another K.P. ?) Transportation (a com. or an L. D. ?), Industry and Commerce L.D. ?) (Mosrndi (Soc) or a C.D. ?)

However at the moment the main struggle seems over Education and Popolo has frankly said that if the C.D. s dont get it the ~~xxxxxx~~ cabinet may not be formed.

1. In compliance with letter, Office of the Executive Commission Ref. 67/21/EC, Subject, same as above, dated 29 April 45, the following instructions will apply to the Economic Section. Due to the liberation of the Northern Provinces, and the necessity to move personnel and equipment on a moment's notice, messages are arriving at all hours that require immediate decisions. Therefore, a Duty Officer for each section is to be designated to handle emergency situations or to contact the parties concerned.

a. One officer will be designated as Duty Officer for the Economic Section for each 24 hour period. These officers will be detailed by the Economic Section from staff of the Economic Section and Sub-Commissions thereof. In the event that an officer is not available for duty on the date on which he has been designated as Duty Officer, it will be the responsibility of the personnel officer or personnel director of the Sub-Commission concerned to furnish a substitute for that date. If a substitute is made, the Duty Officer, Allied Commission, Telephone 405, will be so notified.

b. Tours of duty will begin at 1500 hours and terminate at 1300 hours the following day. The officer beginning his tour of duty will go to mess early so as to relieve the officer going off duty in sufficient time for him to make lunch.

c. It will not be necessary for the Duty Officer to remain at the AC Building after 1800 hours. The office telephone number and the billet telephone number will be published and the officer must remain near the telephone of his billet or office during his tour of duty.

SUBJECT: Request for Special Flight.

TO : Headquarters, Allied Commission, APO 394.
(Attn: Major Stearns)

1. Your request for a VIP flight for Brig. G. R. Upjohn and party refers.

2. The flight (as already notified) was approved but the approval was accompanied by a strong admonition from the Secretary to SAC that it was not considered really justifiable. The note pointed out that there are courier planes available to Verona and Milan from Rome, and that this conference had been scheduled for over a week which permitted sufficient time to send motor transport ahead for travelling over the remaining distance to Bolzano.

3. In this connection, it should be noted that the Allied Commission has been granted a considerable number of special flights in recent weeks, including one ten - day trip for Mr. Foy and party which is longer than is usually authorized. Where other arrangements are impossible and the urgency of the mission justifies, these flights will continue to be granted. In order fairly to allocate the limited number of flights, such requests are carefully scrutinized by the Chief of Staff personally or by his representative, and it is essential if we are to meet with continued success, that all applications from the A.C. are closely screened at that end.

4. The arrangement requested whereby all A.C. applications come through your office is the only one which from my standpoint is workable. I realise it involves an extra burden on you and your cooperation is appreciated.

N. P. SEAGRAVE,
Major, G.S.C.,
Executive Officer.
