7 April 1945.

SUBJECT : Records of executions.

TO : AFHQ C-5.

In answer to C-5 385.4 of 4 April 45.

1. No German has been tried by an Allied Military Court either for a violation of the laws of war or for espionage.

2. It is noted that the information you require is to enable the HQ to answer questions from other Governments similar to the anticipated question from Germany.

Any request in this respect from the Italian Government would, of course, be addressed to this Commission and therefore no useful purpose would be served in supplying you with information in regard to Italians who have been executed. It is therefore suggested that the particulars you require be supplied only in respect of persons of nationality other than Italian.

3. To date no person of nationality other than Italian has been executed for either of the reasons above mentioned or for any other reason.

SUBJECT: Records of executions (Allied Military Courts).

TO : Headquarters, Allied Commission, APO 394

1. The Provost Marshal General at Washington has requested from this HQ copies of court orders for the execution of German personnel for violation of the laws of war, particularly for espionage. He anticipates requests for information of this nature by the German Government through the Protecting Power.

2. Although the PMG letter specifically refers to German personnel similar requests may be received from other Governments.

3. It is requested therefore that you submit to this HQ in quadruplicate a record of all death sentences which have been imposed by Allied Military Courts in ITALY and carried out up to date. A similar record of future cases is required as soon as the execution has been carried out.

4. It is suggested that the record should be in on a standard proforma and include

- a) Appropriate extracts from the court record including the nationality of the accused.
- b) Particulars of the confirmation.
- c) Date and place and method of the execution.

Four More Spies Shot By Allies

ADVANCED ALLIED HEAD-QUARTERS, May 8 — Four more Italian spies, convicted in an Allied Military Court of attempted espionage and conspiracy to sabotage, were executed by firing squad yesterday.

A veteran of the German espionage system at 19, Virgilio Scarpellini admitted that he had carried out more than one mission for the Germans and would have continued at his work if he hadn't been caught. His last assignment was to report of the movement of shipping in Naples harbor.

The other executed men, all in their 20s, had been selected to sabotage an Allied oil pipe-line. When trapped by soldiers, they attacked their captors with knives in a desperate bid to escape.

Strong German patrols succeeded in penetrating advanced Allied positions in the upper Garigliano valley Saturday night. Knifing into our lines in the Mt. Ornito area, 12 miles south of Cassino, the Nazis were driven out in two hours, after being taken under fire by artillerymen.

The 5th Army beachhead was described as being "extremely quiet," except for heavy German artillery fire directed at the Carano area in the center of that front.

Partisans Stop Nazi Offensive

LONDON, May 8 — Marshal Tito's Partisan forces have stopped the German offensive in eastern Bosnia and themselves launched a drive which has resulted in the capture of several localities in this sector, the Free Yugoslav Radio announced today.

1. Ref your ACC/4083/L, the death sentence was passed on Pastore, Giovanni, but on review he was sentenced on the second charge to 20 years' imprisonment. His age was stated to be 35.
2. The death sentence was also imposed on Di Landro, Filippo age 43, and on Fortunato, Andrea, age 39. These case took place in the Province of Salerno when that Province was incorporated in this Region. In the former case the sentence was confirmed, though it is not known whether it was carried out. In the latter case the sentence was commuted to 20 years' imprisonment.

Six Italian Spies shot

PICKED by the Germans from Fascist organizations in German-occupied Italy, six Italians crossed the lines into liberated Italy on various spying and sabotage missions. They were all caught and have now paid the extreme penalty before the firing squad.

The spies were: Giorgio Tapoli, Vincenzo Tedesco, Franco Aschieri, all 18; Idalo Palesse and Enrico Menicucci, both 20; and Marino Centina, 21.

Three were deputed to discover information concerning the movements of troops, the identity of units, and the location of headquarters, and other information for the German Intelligence Service.

Another was charged to bring back information about the political and economic situation in Allied-occupied Italy.

The other two carried delayed-action incendiary bombs to destroy petrol dumps in addition to seeking various military information — vehicle markings, gun positions, A.A. sites, etc.

All six confessed their missions. They were tried by an Allied Military Court, convicted of espionage, and condemned to death. Their sentences were confirmed by the Commander-in-Chief.

The arrival of the mission in London follows closely the announcement from Cairo that a Yugoslav air force contingent will be for to operate within the framework of the Royal Air Force, and that several hundred young Partisans are now being trained in the Middle East to handle tanks, armoured cars and lorries.

The Germans have opened a new offensive on the 60-mile front between Bihac and Knin, some 40 miles from the Yugoslav port of Split on the Adriatic.

Using tanks and infantry, the Germans tried to penetrate into liberated territory, but were repulsed.—Reuter.

CHURCHILL ON KNOX

In a telegram to President Roosevelt, Mr. Churchill has expressed sympathy at the death of Colonel Frank Knox of U.S. Navy Secretary.

He said: "No one could have been more forthcoming and helpful in our difficult times. Colours are being flown half-mast in all British and Canadian fleets and naval establishments until further orders."

Italian Spies Shot By Firing Squad

ALLIED ADVANCED HEAD-QUARTERS, April 30 — A firing squad has ended the careers of six youthful Italian spies who crossed the lines into Allied-occupied Italy on missions for the Germans, it was disclosed here today. Three of the espionage crew were 18 years old,
two were 20 and the other was 21.

Three of the confessed spies had been attempting to gain information concerning troop movements.
One was to bring back information on the political and economic situation in southern Italy and two were charged, among other things, with a sabotage mission to wipe

At a rifle range, British soldiers
