SUBJECT : Proclamation No. 1.
TO : VP, Admin Sec.

Confidential

1. The second paragraph of the preamble to Proclamation No. 1 reads as follows,

"Much of this territory has already been restored to the jurisdiction of the Italian Government and it is the intention that all territory freed from German domination shall be restored as soon as possible, to the jurisdiction of the Italian Government."

2. Exception has been taken to the use of the word "all" in the second line as possibly inferring an intention to restore all Italian territory recovered from the Germans, whereas more recent public statements have thrown some doubt on this as to some of the territory in the northeast.

3. This preamble was prepared by this sub-commission and approved by the Political Section before the proclamation was signed in the revised form.

4. I understand that Proclamation No. 1 has been printed--40,000 copies--but not distributed. These copies are ready for shipment now.

5. If the word "all" were blocked out entirely or if there were a complete reprinting and the word "additional" were substituted for "all", the question would be answered. Of course the Italian corresponding words would have to be dealt with in the same way.

6. Whether or not the posting of the proclamation with the word "all" contained would give rise to political repercussions, I could not say. Certainly it would have no legal force at all as the word is used in a clause expressing intention only, even if a proclamation could be considered as having any legal effect in a matter of this kind.

7. Please advise me if any change is to be made.

Subject: Case of MASIN LINO

To : Chief Commissioner, HQ, ACC

1. The above named accused was convicted of espionage and attempting to communicate with the enemy and was given a death sentence on each of these two charges. The Court was unanimous on conviction and sentence. Another charge of actually communicating with enemy was dismissed, there being no evidence to support it.
2. The accused long prior to our entry into Rome had been employed there by the Germans for training in espionage and radio transmission work. Later he went north for more training. About 11 or 12 July 1944 he was dropped by plane near Castelforte not far from Cassino. According to his confession which appears without question to have been freely and voluntarily given (Flag B) he hid his parachute and radio transmission set and then proceeded to Rome where he endeavored to get in touch with his confederate to whom he was to report, the latter being then reported as having gone to Bari. The accused stated that he had been instructed to join one of the liberal parties which might afford a screen for him. He was under instructions to secure and transmit military and political information. The accused did meet some Communists and did state to them what his mission was. He was arrested some days later. He said that through this party affiliation he intended later to report to the Allies having concluded to give up his mission. According to his confession he was paid very substantial sums by the Germans for his work.
3. Some days after his arrest he took allied security agents to the place where he claimed he had landed, but the parachute and radio were not found there. A piece of cotton endpiece of cotton were picked up there and he said these had been with the transmission set when he left it.
4. The accused did not testify in the case and on the conclusion of the prosecution's case his counsel moved to dismiss on the ground that no case had been made by the prosecution. This motion was denied as to two of the charges in which he was convicted. No appeal has been filed and the time for filing an appeal has now elapsed.
5. It is abundantly clear that the accused was carefully trained for his mission by the Germans for a long period of time and unless it could be said that his statement of his mission to the Communists who he approached without their requesting that he be taken forthwith to the Allied Authorities was to be taken as evidence of giving up his mission there is no evidence to show he ever did so. The disclosure he actually made is certainly open to other interpretation. His attempt to inform the party was in accordance with instructions given him and could well have served to disarm his new companions and at the same time account for his presence on our side of the fighting line.
6. I see no reason to reverse the conviction or the sentence and recommend

SUBJECT : PAPPALARDO Giovanna.

TO : D.C.S., C A Section.

1. Herewith are attached the documents in the case of the above alleged enemy agent. HQ AAF, HQ 2 District and HQ 3 District are anxious that she be tried by an Allied Court for espionage either in Naples or in Italian Government Territory.

2. The accused is alleged to have crossed the lines about 15 June 1944, to have moved to Rome, Naples and Taranto collecting information. She reached Taranto on 11 July and was arrested there on 22 July.

3. The accused made a complete confession which, if true, shows that she was an intelligent, determined and dangerous spy.

4. Various statements have been obtained from persons in Naples, Taranto which are entirely inconsistent with the confession but do not "corroborate" it in any incriminating particular. They show that the accused gave a false reason for her journey from Naples to Bari (to which she was going from Taranto when arrested).

5. When arrested the accused had in her possession a paper showing the designs of British uniforms and APOs. She gave, however, a perfectly true and reasonably harmless explanation of this, - that it was produced by an Italian Sgt in Naples to settle an argument. She added, which is probably true, that she retained it by inadvertence.

6. There is, unfortunately, no doubt that the statement was obtained by pressure. The interviewing officer relates that he, after 6 hours questioning, pointed out " that unless she confessed she would get her cousin and her parents arrested " and that "at this stage PAPPALARDO was in a state of collapse".

7. It is felt that in these circumstances the court should refuse to accept the confession. If the confession is rejected there is no evidence to convict. Even if it is accepted under the Consolidated Regulations it is doubtful whether technically there is any "corroboration" so that even under AIC rules the accused would have to be acquitted.

8. It is to be observed that the accused can always be tried in Naples by an AMG General Court for her activities there, though para 7 will still apply. It is felt in any event that, in spite of the desires of the military authorities, a court in Italian Government Territory should be denied.

9. A draft is attached for your signature if you concur.

MINUTES OF CONFERENCE HELD AT BRIGADIER VPO HQ'S OFFICE
3 OCTOBER 1944.

- PRESENT:
- Brig. G. R. Upjohn, K.C.
 - Colonel R. H. Wilmer
 - Colonel W. K. Behrens
 - Lt. Col. A. R. Thackrah
 - Mr. Frothingham
 - Mr. Hefland

Mr. Frothingham referred to a conference held with Mr. Antolini on 2nd October and said that he and Mr. Hefland had been disturbed by the statement made there by Colonel Wilmer to the effect that ACC did not regard the English and American oil interests in Italy as Allied interests to be protected by ACC. Colonel Wilmer stated that he had always given the advice which he had repeated to Mr. Antolini at the conference which was to the effect that the assets concerned had been nationalized by a valid Italian law and that in his opinion the property was now Italian owned. The Allied interests which required protection were confined to the bank accounts which could, if necessary, be blocked. Any question of other compensation must be determined through the peace treaty.

Brig. Upjohn stated that this had been the position adopted in Sicily. At that time, the Director of Property Control had taken oil properties in Sicily into custody, but on the footing that they were enemy state properties and not because they were Allied properties. When Italy became a belligerent the policy of taking custody of enemy state property as such had ceased. Later, on instructions by AFHQ, the property had been handed over to Petroleum Section and since that date the Property Controller had no interest therein. At a conference in February between himself as CIO and the Director of Property Control, and Messrs. Frothingham and Hefland, it had been agreed that the Director of Property Control would refrain from concerning himself in petrol companies.

Mr. Frothingham then stated that the petroleum companies had very considerable interests which the Allied governments required to be protected. In particular, their personnel was most important to them. AGIP, 80% of whose interest consisted in Allied interests nationalized as above, was in a position to do considerable harm to the interests of the Petroleum company. In fact, they had already dismissed several of their employees. It was essential that a commissario be appointed for AGIP, and the most satisfactory solution for this commissario appeared to him to be the appointment of the CIP committee.

PRESENT: Brig. G. R. Upjohn, K.C.
 Colonel R. H. Wilmer
 Colonel W. K. Behrens
 Lt. Col. A. R. Thackeray
 Mr. Frothingham
 Mr. McLeod

Mr. Frothingham referred to a conference held with Mr. Antolini on 2nd October and said that he and Mr. McLeod had been disturbed by the statement made there by Colonel Wilmer to the effect that ACC did not regard the English and American oil interests in Italy as Allied interests to be protected by ACC. Colonel Wilmer stated that he had always given the advice which he had repeated to Mr. Antolini at the conference which was to the effect that the assets concerned had been nationalized by a valid Italian law and that in his opinion the property was not Italian owned. The Allied interests which required protection were confined to the bank accounts which could, if necessary, be blocked. Any question of other compensation must be determined through the peace treaty.

Brig. Upjohn stated that this had been the position adopted in Sicily. At that time, the Director of Property Control had taken oil properties in Sicily into custody, but on the footing that they were enemy state properties and not because they were Allied properties. When Italy became a belligerent the policy of taking custody of enemy state property as such had ceased. Later, on instructions by ARHQ, the property had been handed over to Petroleum Section and since that date the Property Controller had no interest therein. At a conference in February between himself as CLO and the Director of Property Control, and Messrs. Frothingham and McLeod, it had been agreed that the Director of Property Control would refrain from concerning himself in petrol companies.

Mr. Frothingham then stated that the petroleum companies had very considerable interests which the Allied governments required to be protected. In fact, they had already dismissed several of their employees. It was essential that a commissario be appointed for AGIP, and the most satisfactory solution for this commissario appeared to him to be the appointment of the CIP committee.

Brig. Upjohn enquired, precisely what advice he was being asked to give and Mr. Frothingham then asked whether ACC concerned themselves with Allied interests. Brig. Upjohn answered that the question was too general. That the only direct protection of Allied property with which ACC was concerned was organized through the Director of Property Control, but the DPC, as stated, had agreed not to take custody of petrol companies, as the entire matter was being handled by Petroleum Section, AFHQ.

Mr. Frothingham referred to the position adopted by Mr. Antolini to the effect that his function was limited by the requirement of military necessity. Brig. Upjohn replied that as far as he knew, ACC had no directive on the point, but that the matter was for the decision by the Economic Section. If a directive was received from AFHQ, ACC would, of course, act on it.

Mr. Frothingham then asked whether ACC was not in a position to contact the Italian Government to enforce the appointment of the committee of CIP. Brig. Upjohn pointed out that the Legal Sub-Commission and the Civil Affairs (formerly Administrative) Section were only concerned with the purely legal aspect. They had advised and would stand by that advice, that under the Armistice terms there was a right to force this appointment on the government; the desirability of doing so was a matter of policy, which lay outside the sphere, in this particular case, of the Civil Affairs Section, ACC. Brig. Upjohn pointed out that Messrs. Frothingham and Medland were on the staff of AFHQ and they should consult that body with regard to the question of policy.

6 October 1944.

SUBJECT : Movement Control.

TO : Deputy Chief of Staff, Civil Affairs Section.

1. We have considered the questions raised by your
6/AB/C.A. of 5 Oct 1944.

2. We are of opinion that the rights of the Commander-in-Chief to control civilian movement between Italian Government territory and countries outside Italy are limited to the rights specifically conferred by the Short Terms of Armistice, the Long Terms of Armistice and the various Terms of Restoration; and that as no such additional right is conferred by or can be deduced from the Terms of Restoration, the rights, if any, must be limited to those conferred by the Long and Short Terms of Armistice.

3. The only clauses in these Terms which may be relevant to such rights are :-

(1) Long Terms clause 21.
"In addition to the rights in respect of occupied Italian territory described in Articles 18 to 20.

A. Members of the Land, Sea or Air Forces and officials of the United Nations will have the right of passage in or over non-occupied Italian territory and will be afforded all the necessary facilities and assistance in performing their functions.

B. The Italian authorities, will make available on non-occupied Italian territory all transport facilities required by the United Nations including free transit for their war material and supplies, and will comply with instructions issued by the Allied Commander-in Chief regarding the use and control of airfields, ports, shipping, inland transport systems and vehicles...

(ii) Long Terms clause 26.

"Italian subjects will pending further instructions be prevented from leaving Italian territory except as authorized by the Allied Commander-in Chief and will not in any event take service with any of the countries or in any of the territory of countries at war with any of the United Nations or occupied by any such country " nor will they proceed to any place for the purpose of undertaking work for any such country....."

(iii) Short Terms Clause 10.

"The Commander-in Chief of the Allied Forces reserves to himself the right to take any measure which in his opinion may be necessary for the protection of the interests of the Allied Forces for the prosecution of the war, and the Italian Government binds itself to take such administration or other action as the Commander-in-Chief may require....."

4. We are of opinion that while clause 21 appears to provide for the control of airfields and ports, such control is not intended to be so unrestricted as to extend to a power of complete denial of entry to persons wishing to use such airfields or ports. The purport of the clause is to grant to the Allied Forces an unrestricted use of transport facilities for the benefit of United Nations personnel, and war material and supplies unless the entry of persons into those ports or airfields is of such a nature as to interfere with the transport of the United Nations personnel or the war material or supplies, the clause does not in our opinion confer a right to control such entry.

5. We are of opinion that clause 26 does confer a right to prevent egress from Italian territory, but this right only applies against Italian citizens. We do not think that the restoration of territory to the Italian Government in any way operates as a further instruction nor as an authority by the Allied Commander-in Chief within the meaning of that clause. Nor do we think that the introduction of further prohibitions concerning enemy or enemy occupied territories in any way limits the express directive contained in the early part of the clause.

6. We are of opinion that under clause 20 of the Short Terms the Commander-in-Chief has the right to require the Italian Government to prohibit the movement of civilians; whether of Italian or other nationality, between countries outside Italy and Italian Government territory provided that he is of opinion that such action is necessary for the protection of the Allied Forces for the prosecution of the war; We feel therefore that before expressing a definite opinion upon the rights conferred by the clause in this case we must know whether or not the Commander-in-Chief does take the view that the continuance of the movement under consideration constitutes a hazard to the Allied Forces in the prosecution of the war against which protection is required. If he does take this view we are of opinion that the clause confers a right to require the Italian Government to prohibit this movement;

7. Save as above we are of opinion that the Commander-in-Chief has no right to interfere with the jurisdiction of the Italian Government in their control of such movement;

Subject: Case of LANCELOTTI Gino

To : Acting Chief Commissioner

1. Herewith the record of proceedings against LANCELOTTI Gino who was tried on 7 Sep 44 for espionage. He was convicted and sentenced to death; the papers are therefore submitted to you for confirmation or commutation.

2. The facts may be summarized as follows:-

- (a) on 7 Aug. 44 the accused arrived in the village of GENOVA. He stated that he had come across the lines, having crossed the Arno. He saw the Sindaco on the subject of getting a ration card and the Sindaco gave evidence that the accused could not give a good account of how he arrived. Accused said he wanted to go to Livorno to get a pass for same. He was interrogated by an American Sgt. LAMANCUSA. This interrogation was a matter of course, having crossed the Arno.
- (b) In this interrogation (Record p. 34 et seq) accused said he had come from Modena, hitch-hiking and on foot; that he had seen nothing of military interest en route; that he crossed the Arno 3 Km EAST of PISA. On account of various unsatisfactory answers and the unduly clean state of his clothing, LAMANCUSA turned over the accused to agent John MARINO C.I.D. on the same evening (7 Aug.)
- (c) On arrival at CID HQ accused was asked some preliminary questions and then put in custody, the agent saying to him he would be released "when he was willing to tell a truthful story." MARINO denied using any threat. MARINO gave evidence that the accused's clothes were in very good condition, that he was clean shaven, and that he carried no baggage or toilet articles.
- (d) On the morning of 9 Aug., accused asked to see MARINO, and immediately admitted that he had come over on a "mission" and suggested acting as double agent. As a result of questions, accused made a verbal statement to MARINO-see Record PP 9-10. In brief, he stated that on 4 Aug. 44 he was taken from prison in MODENA and was told he must go on an espionage mission or be shot for black market activity; that he left on 6 Aug and was driven via BOLOGNA to PISTOIA; that he there went to a German HQ where he was given an Alias a password and told that he was due back in German territory between 2000 and 2030 hours 9 Aug. and his mission was to spot vehicle and unit designations on route 67 (Florence-Livorno)

- (e) Later on 9 Aug. he was further interrogated by another agent MESSINA; on this interrogation he told his past history and repeated the story he had told to MARINO, but in more detail - see record pp 13 - 14.
- (f) In his defence the accused affirmed that he was strongly anti-fascist; that he left the Italian Army at the front; that he evaded recall; that he went into the tobacco black market, (Oct. 43-Aug. 44) in which he made 300,000 lire; that he became involved with a woman; that he was arrested for his black marketing activities; that when he was in prison this woman's husband came and visited him and told him to choose between death or accepting a mission; that he accepted the latter, but that he did not intend to carry out the mission but to go to ROME; (Record p. 22); that the husband showed him the signs on which he was to report; that he (accused) decided to report to General DI BLASE (Rome) with information; that he then left for ROME via LIVORNO; that failing to enter LIVORNO, he returned to GENOVA where he was detained.

2. As a result of the evidence, the Court held unanimously that the accused was guilty as charged and unanimously imposed the death sentence. The Court was abundantly justified in coming to such conclusion. The story for the defence was not convincing and in cross-examination the accused was caught in a serious lie; he said that he had met a "high level" agent called RAGNO ILIO on 5 Aug. at MODENA, whereas this agent was already in allied hands thereby showing he was not the ingenuous black marketer which he pretended to be (see pp. 40 - 41); moreover an offer to return to German territory as a "double-agent" is not compatible with his story of fleeing from the Germans to evade punishment.

3. Petition for Review is at Flag "B".

4. I have no hesitation in recommending affirmation of the conviction.

5. As to sentence: your attention is drawn to the observations of the members of the Court which are attached to the petition for review: see Flags B (1), B (2) and B (3). I am not impressed by the grounds put forward by one member of the Court see Flag B (3). That some member had joined in the imposition of the death sentence at the conclusion of the trial. I advise that the death sentence be confirmed.

6. Forms for confirmation and for commutation, Flags "C" and "D", are attached for your signature. I assume that the Delegation of power to you to confirm the death sentence transmitted to ANHQ(G-3) will be executed and returned forthwith. To commute the death sentence to one of life imprisonment will you please sign the appropriate slip (Flag D).

I understand that originals of other documents executed in connection with earlier restorations are held in your office and I think all should be kept together.

2. All arrangements have been made for the transportation and delivery and posting of the proclamations in the territory to be restored.

3. Sig. Sorrentino of the office of the President of the Council of Ministers who worked with me on these papers said that he wanted to have for future reference a copy of the documents. It is likely true that he has had difficulty in locating the Italians' copies of earlier documents. However, I think it better to transmit the conformed set to Sig. Bonomi. I have prepared and enclose a letter to carry that out and an extra set is enclosed for that purpose.

By letter of even date with this, subject "Ustica Case", you were requested to present to the proper Italian authorities, with a view to prosecution in the local courts, the various offences reflected in the record of the so-called Ustica Case. Accordingly, there is herewith transmitted the record and other papers in that case.

2. The record and papers referred to are those transmitted (without being itemized) by Colonel Pollock's letter ACC/4083/1/L of 5 March 1944, - less record of the "Ustica War Crimes Commission" marked "Colonel Pollock 2 copy", which was returned to you under cover of our letter HCS 010.2 of 30 April 1944. The itemized list is as follows:

Record: "Ustica Commission - Original"

Record: "Ustica Case (Copy No. 1)"

"Ustica Commission. Memorials presented on behalf of the defendants at the conclusion of the evidence."

(Attention: Chief Judicial Officer)

1. Receipt is acknowledged of the letters of 7 May and 16 May on the above subject - file ACC/4096/L. It appears that the Chief Legal Officer finds it practicable to carry out the recommendation of the Acting Theater Judge Advocate, transmitted under cover of our letter MGS: O10.2 of 30 April 1944. You are now requested to proceed accordingly, and to that end there is being transmitted, under separate cover, the record of testimony taken on commission by the Allied Control Commission, and related papers.

2. Attention is drawn to the Judge Advocate's request that the record be returned to his office after it has been made available to the Italian authorities in connection with their prosecution of the Ustica defendants.

3. The Chief Legal Officer's observations in paragraph 3 of the letter of 7 May, responding to paragraph 4c of the Judge Advocate's indorsement, have been brought to the attention of the Judge Advocate. He waives his request for complete transcripts, but does ask that he be furnished either a summary of each case or a copy of the Italian court's proces verbal of its proceedings.

Subject: Ustica Case

To : C L O, ACC

Naples, 14 May 1944.

1. In reference to the communication under the above subject matter HGS: 101.2 dated 30 April 1944 a study has been made of the Italian Penal Code and procedure.

2. The Italian penal statutes are sufficiently broad to cover the facts alleged; and ample punishment is provided in the event of a finding of guilt.

3. There is appended hereto, for convenience, a list of the pertinent provisions of the Italian Penal Code, translated into English.

4. The various acts of assault and torture charged against the accused who were state employees working at the Penal Colony of USTICA, are covered by Articles 606 and 582 as further defined by Articles 583 and 585 (with aggravated penalty as defined by Article 61, Sec. 9 and by Article 64).

26

5. Acts which constituted an abuse of authority by any of the public officials against the persons detained at the Penal Colony are covered by Article 608.

6. The diversion of food intended for the prisoners and internees, to various members of the prison administration and to the black-market and the alleged trafficking in prison commodities by the colony officials are covered by Articles 314, 317 and perhaps, by Article 315 of the Italian Penal Code.

... would provide
... event of his conviction.

7. The accused GARGANO and DI NAURO come within the purview of Articles 251 and 252 which provide criminal penalties for the violation of supply contracts with the government in time of war. Article 252 provides for a heavier penalty where fraud is committed.

It should be noted that Article 251 includes to include the case of non-fulfilment of Magazines, total or partial, due to culpable negligence.

8. If a causal connection can be established between a specific act of any of the accused and the death of any prisoner, a charge of murder, as it is defined by Article 575, might be sustained. The evidence already adduced, however, offers little hope of successful prosecution under this provision.

9. Article 112, Sec. I (as implemented by Article 64), increases the penalty by one third, where more than 5 persons participate in any offence. The definitions contained in these provisions are extremely broad, and presumably these articles will be applied if any five or more of the accused are convicted before an Italian Court.

10. The facts alleged against the accused FORESTA, the director of the Penal Colony of Ostia, are covered by the definition of aggravating circumstances, set forth in Sections II and III of Article 112, and would provide for heavier punishment in the event of his conviction.

A P P E N D I X

LIST OF APPLICABLE PROVISIONS OF THE ITALIAN PENAL CODE.

(In the order in which they are referred to in the accompanying memorandum)

ARTICLE 509.

(Abuse of Authority towards persons Arrested or Detained)

A public official who subjects to rigorous measures not allowed by the law a person arrested or detained, of whom he has the custody, even temporarily, or who is entrusted to him in execution of an order of the competent authorities, shall be punished with penal servitude up to 30 months.

The same punishment shall apply if the act is committed by another public official vested, by reason of his office, with any authority over the person in custody.

ARTICLE 582.

(Personal Injury)

Whoever causes a personal injury to another from which results a malady of body or mind shall be punished with penal servitude from 3 months to 3 years.

If the malady has a duration not exceeding 10 days, and there is no concurrence of any of the aggravating circumstances contemplated in Articles 583 and 585, the crime shall be punishable on action being initiated by the injured party.

ARTICLE 583.

(Aggravating Circumstances)

The personal injury is grave, and penal servitude from 3 to 7 years shall be inflicted -

- (1) If the act results in an illness which places in danger the life of the injured person, or an illness or incapacity to attend to ordinary occupations for a period exceeding 40 days.
- (2) If the act produces the permanent weakening of a sense or an organ.

- (3) If the injured party is a pregnant woman and the act results in acceleration of the birth.
The injury is very grave, and penal servitude from 6 to 12 years shall be inflicted, if the act results in-
- (1) An illness certainly or probably incurable.
 - (2) The loss of a sense.
 - (3) The loss of a limb, or a mutilation which renders the limb useless, or the loss of the use of an organ or of the capacity to procreate, or a permanent and serious difficulty in speech.
 - (4) Deformation, or the permanent disfigurement of the face.
 - (5) The miscarriage of the injured person.

ARTICLE 585.

(Aggravating Circumstances)

In the cases contemplated in Articles 582, 583 and 584, the penalty shall be increased by one-third to one-half if there is a concurrence of any of the aggravating circumstances contemplated in Article 576; and it shall be increased up to one-third if there is a concurrence of any of the aggravating circumstances contemplated in Article 577, or if the act is committed with weapons or with corrosive substances.

For the purposes of the penal law the following are understood by Arms:-

- (1) Those which discharge and all others the natural use of which is to inflict personal injury.
- (2) All instruments capable of injuring, the carrying of which is forbidden by law absolutely, or without a justified motive.

Explosive materials and asphyxiating or blinding gas are assimilated to arms.

ARTICLE 584. +

(Preterintentional Homicide)

Whoever, by acts directed to commit one of the crimes contemplated in Articles 581 and 582, causes the death of a human being, shall be punished with penal servitude from 10 to 15 years.

+ Quoted because of reference in Article 585.

ARTICLE 581 +

(Blows)

Whoever strikes another person, if a malady of body or mind does not result from the act, shall be punished, on action being initiated by the injured party, with penal servitude up to 6 months or with a fine up to 3,000 lire.

The above provision shall not apply when the law deems the violence to be a constitutive element or an aggravating circumstance of another offense.

ARTICLE 576 + +

(Aggravating Circumstances: Death Penalty)

The penalty of death shall apply if the act contemplated in the preceding Article is committed -

- (1) With the concurrence of any of the circumstances specified in No. (2) of Article 61.
- (2) Upon an ascendant or descendant, when there is a concurrence of any of the circumstances specified in Nos. (1) and (4) of Article 61, or when a method of poisoning or other insidious means is used or when there is premeditation.
- (3) By a person hiding from justice, in order to evade arrest, capture or imprisonment, or to procure means of subsistence during concealment.
- (4) By an associate in delinquency, in order to evade arrest, capture or imprisonment.
- (5) In the act of committing any of the crimes contemplated in Articles 519, 520 and 581.

For the purposes of the penal law an individual is considered to be hiding from justice when he fulfills the conditions specified in No. (6) of Article 61.

ARTICLE 577. + +

(Other Aggravating Circumstances: Penal Servitude for Life)

Penal Servitude for life shall be inflicted when the act contemplated in Article 575 is committed -

- + Quoted because of reference in Article 584.
- + + " " " " " " 585

- (1) Upon an ascendant or descendant.
- (2) By means of poisonous substances, or by other insidious means.
- (3) With premeditation.
- (4) With a concurrence of any of the circumstances specified in Nos. (1) and (4) of Article 61.

The punishment shall be penal servitude from 24 to 30 years if the act is committed upon a spouse, brother or sister, adoptive father, mother or child, or a relative by marriage in the direct line.

ARTICLE 575.
(Homicide)

Whoever causes the death of a human being shall be punished with penal servitude for not less than 21 years.

ARTICLE 519. +
(Carnal Violence)

Whoever, with violence or threats, compels anyone to have carnal intercourse shall be punished with penal servitude from 5 to 10 years.

A person is liable to the same penalty if he has carnal relations with anyone who, at the time of the act -

- (1) Had not attained the age of 14 years.
- (2) Had not attained the age of 16 years, when the guilty person is the ascendant or the guardian, or another person to whom the minor is entrusted for the purpose of treatment, education, instruction, supervision or custody.
- (3) Was mentally deranged, or was not able to resist by reason of conditions of mental or physical inferiority²¹ even though the latter is independent of the act of the guilty party.
- (4) Had been deceived, owing to the guilty party impersonating another individual.

+ Quoted because of reference in Art. 576, Sec. 5.

ARTICLE 520. +

(Carnal Intercourse committed with Abuse of the Capacity of Public Official)

A public official who, apart from the cases contemplated in the preceding Article, has carnal relations with an arrested or detained person of whom he has the custody by reason of his office, or with a person who is entrusted to him in execution of an order of the competent authority, shall be punished with penal servitude from 1 to 5 years.

The same penalty shall apply if the act is committed by another public official vested, by reason of his office, with any kind of authority over any of the aforesaid persons.

ARTICLE 521. +

(Violent Acts of Lust)

Whoever, employing the means or availing himself of the conditions specified in the two preceding Articles, commits upon anyone acts of lust other than carnal connexion, shall be liable to the punishments ^{prescribed} in the said articles, reduced by one-third.

Any person who, employing the means or availing himself of the conditions specified in the two preceding Articles, compels or induces anyone to commit the acts of lust on himself, on the body of the guilty person or on others, shall be liable to the same penalties.

ARTICLE 61.

(Ordinary Aggravating Circumstances)

The following circumstances aggravate the offence, when they are not constitutive elements thereof or special aggravating circumstances:-

+ Quoted because of reference in Article 576, Sec. 5.

20

- + (1) Having acted for base or futile motives.
- + (2) Having committed the offence in order to commit or conceal another offence, or to obtain or secure for one's self or others the product or the benefit or the price of or impunity from another offence.

- + (4) Having used inhuman means or having acted cruelly towards persons.

- + (6) When the guilty person has committed the offence during the time when he was wilfully evading the execution of a warrant or order of arrest or capture or imprisonment issued for a previous offence.

- (9) Having committed the act with abuse of the powers or with violation of the duties inherent in a public office or a public service, or in the capacity of minister of religion.

ARTICLE 64.

(Increase of Punishment in the Case of a Single Aggravating Circumstance)

When there occurs an aggravating circumstance, and the increase of punishment is not fixed by the law, the punishment which should be inflicted for the offence committed shall be increased up to one-third.

Nevertheless, the punishment of penal servitude to be applied by reason of the increase may not exceed 30 years.

+ Quoted because of reference in Article 576.

19

ARTICLE 314.

(Pecculation)

A public official or a person entrusted with a public service who, having by reason of his office or duty the possession of money or other movable article belonging to the public administration, appropriates it or diverts it to his own or to some other's profit, shall be punished with penal servitude from 3 to 10 years and with a fine of not less than 1,000 lirs.

The conviction entails perpetual interdiction from public offices. Nevertheless if, by reason of extenuating circumstances, penal servitude for a period of less than 3 years is inflicted, the sentence shall entail temporary interdiction.

ARTICLE 315.

(Malversation to the Prejudice of Private Individuals)

A public official or a person entrusted with a public service who appropriates, or in any manner diverts to his own profit, or to the profit of a third party, money or any movable article not belonging to the public administration, of which he has possession by reason of his office or duty, shall be punished with penal servitude from 3 to 8 years and with a fine of not less than 1,000 lirs.

The provisions of the second paragraph of the preceding Article shall apply.

ARTICLE 317.

(Extortion)

A public official who, abusing his capacity or his duties, compels or induces anyone to give or to promise wrongfully, to himself or to a third person, money or other benefit, shall be punished with imprisonment from 4 to 12 years and with a fine of not less than 3,000 lire.

The provisions of the second paragraph of Article 314 shall apply.

ARTICLE 251.

(Failure to Execute Contracts for Supplies in Time of War)

Whoever, in time of war, does not carry out, wholly or in part, the obligations arising from a contract for the supply of commodities or work concluded with the State or other public body or with an undertaking carrying on public services or services of public necessity, for the requirements of the armed forces of the State or of the population, shall be punished with penal servitude from 3 to 10 years and with a fine equal to three times the value of the article or the work which should have been supplied and, in any case, not less than 10,000 lire.

If the non-fulfilment, total or partial, of the contract is due to culpable negligence, the penalties shall be reduced to one-half.

The same provisions shall apply to sub-contractors, brokers and representatives of suppliers, whenever in breach of their contractual obligations, they have caused the failure of a supply contract.

ARTICLE 252.

(Fraud in Furnishing Supplies in Time of War)

Whoever, in time of war, commits a fraud in the execution of supply contracts or in the performance of the other contractual obligations indicated in the preceding Article, shall be punished with penal servitude for not less than 10 years and with a fine equal to five times the value of the article or the work which ought to have been supplied and, in any case, not less than 20,000 lire.

ARTICLE 112.

(Aggravating Circumstances)

The punishment to be inflicted for the offence committed shall be increased -

- (1) If the number of the persons co-operating in the offence is 5 or more, unless the law directs otherwise.
- (2) In the case of individuals who, even apart from the cases contemplated in the two following numbers, have promoted or organised co-operation in the offence, or have directed the action of the persons who co-operated in that offence.
- (3) In the case of individuals who, in the exercise of their authority, direction or supervision, have caused persons subject to them to commit the offence.
- + (4) In the case of individuals who, apart from the case contemplated in the preceding Article, have caused a person under 18 years of age, or one in a state of mental infirmity or deficiency, to commit the offence.

The increases of punishment prescribed in Nos. (1) to (3) of the present Article shall apply even if any one of the persons participating in the act is not chargeable or punishable.

+ Quoted because of reference in Article 112, Sec. 2.
