1. With reference to your G-5, 295.8 of 6 Feb 45, enclosing copy of Brig. McHair's letter of 18 Jan, the question of burials in Italy is regulated by the Acts No. 448 of 25 July 1892 and No. 1265 of 27 July 1934.

2. Under Italian law, isolated graves of soldiers or civilians may remain in situ by special permit.

3. Art. 340 of the "Legge Sanitaria" of 27 July 1934 sets out that it is forbidden to bury a corpse in another site than the cemetery. However, burial of bodies in private and family chapels not open to the public is allowed if the site is situated at least 200 meters from inhabited centers. Art. 341 of the same law reads as follows :

"The Minister of the Interior has the faculty of authorizing from time to time, by special order, the burial of corpses in other locations than the cemetery when reason of particular worship can be shown, provided always that the safeguards provided for by the "Legge Sanitaria" shall be respected.

4. It appears therefore that Italian legislation in this respect is more akin to the French than to the Belgian law. Considering that the issuing of a special order authorizing private burial in a place other than the cemetery rests entirely within the discretion of the Minister of Interior and considering further the general Italian outlook and tradition in this respect, there is a little doubt that such orders may from time to time be granted.

5. It may also be pointed out that up to May 1940, the question of British war graves in Italy had been the subject matter of a decree of 1918 and of an agreement between Britain and Italy dated 11 May 1922 (copies attached).

6. Lately the Italian Government has expressed its willingness to initiate legislation to give new life to the provisions of the decree and to renew the agreement. Correspondence to that effect was exchanged between Political Section, Hq AO and Lt. Col. McDougall of I.W.G. Commission.

7. Considering this helpful attitude, the I.W.G. Commission might be of opinion that it would be worth while requesting the Italian Government to put into effect its undertakings and furthermore to insert in the new decree such provisions as will meet the difficulties set out in Brig. McHair's letter.

From time to time we receive requests at this branch from the next-of-kin of a deceased officer or man that the body should be allowed to remain in its original grave and not, if it is an isolated grave, be moved to the nearest military cemetery.

Steps are usually taken to try and persuade the next-of-kin against this, but we have little legal right to stop it if the civil law of the country allows it.

So far as is known, the civil law in France only allows isolated graves to remain in cases where the next-of-kin owns the land, and then the consent of the local civil authorities has to be obtained. In Belgium the civil authorities will not permit isolated graves to remain, and we know of no case where it has been allowed. We are however ignorant as to the Italian law on the subject, and shall be grateful if you will ascertain what it is. If the Italian law permits it under any circumstances, the more difficult it can be made to get a permit the better. Alternatively, if complete prohibition can be enforced it would save a great deal of trouble, as it is obvious that apart from the permanent maintenance of the grave in such cases being difficult, it at once raises the question of preferential treatment for graves of those who can afford it, with all its political repercussions.

Would you please enquire into the matter, and let us know what the situation is, and your views.

As there are several such requests outstanding, we should be grateful for any early answer.

No. 13NOTE VERBALE

The British Embassy presents its compliments to the Ministry of Foreign Affairs and has the honour to request their kind assistance in the following matter.

2. As the Italian authorities are doubtless aware, the bodies of British soldiers who have fallen in combat in Italy or have died from wounds or of illness or disease contracted in Italy, are at the present time buried in temporary cemeteries at various points in the country. It is the policy of His Majesty's Government to provide, in due course, for permanent burial places for such British dead and the implementation of this policy is the responsibility of the Imperial War Graves Commission.
3. In the Great War of 1914-18 the same situation arose and by their Vice-Royal Decree No. 596 of July 11th 1918, the Italian Government authorized the requisition of property on behalf of the Allied authorities for the purpose of building cemeteries for the Allied forces. This Vice-Royal Decree was later amplified and confirmed so far as His Majesty's Government were concerned in the Anglo-Italian Agreement on War Graves which was signed on the 11th May 1922.
4. While the Imperial War Graves Commission would welcome the eventual negotiation of an agreement covering the agreement of 1922 and comprehending the British War Graves of both wars, they consider that their immediate object could most rapidly be achieved by the extension by the Italian Government to present war cemeteries of their Vice-Royal Decree above-mentioned.
5. The Imperial War Graves Commission regard their assumption of responsibility for the construction and maintenance of British War Graves in Italy as being a matter of urgency and the British military authorities would also welcome its early accomplishment. The Embassy would therefore be grateful if the Ministry would urge the appropriate Italian authorities to initiate the necessary legislation whereby the above-mentioned Vice-Royal Decree might be extended to cover the existing situation and thereafter to instruct the competent local authorities to give their assistance to the representatives of the Imperial War Graves Commission in the discharge of their duties.

1. Answering your queries in para 2 of your 483 dated 5 June 44.

(a) Yes, moreover any decree can be made applicable to Military Government Territory (less Army areas) forthwith on publication of the decree in the Official Gazette in accordance with the machinery I have set up.

(b) All decrees have to be submitted to the Assembly (when elected) for confirmation. Apart from this surely no one can make so bold as to prophesy how far a new Italian Government will honour the obligations of its predecessors? I hardly think however that Italy will be in a position for some time to repudiate its obligations entered into with a powerful co-belligerent but of course I may be quite wrong.

2. The decrees and agreement of 1922 suffer from the same defect as all Italian documents namely a looseness of drafting and lack of clear expression of intention which drives the British lawyer almost insane but the practical solution is this; if the old decrees and agreement have worked well in the past it is better to adopt them with such amendments as practice has shown desirable rather than to have something on entirely new lines. The I.W.G.C. will no doubt have many views on the subject and I suggest that at a very early stage of negotiations you should ask their opinion for they have to carry out any arrangements made.

Col. Upjohn.

Technically this is not an ACC matter. It is not concerned with government matters of the country. It is really a foreign office matter. The Army however insists on regarding us as liaison between it and the Government. ACC has of course the auxiliary duty of assisting the army whenever it can. It is stretching things a bit to ask us to do for it matters which it is specifically empowered to do; but they make a point of asking for our help. Perhaps you will assist. The matter is not Allied but solely B.

Agreement between the British Government and the Italian Government, on the subject of British Military Graves in Italy.

The British Government and the Italian Government, animated by a common desire to honour the memory of British soldiers who have fallen in the field of battle in Italian territory, have agreed as follows:

ARTICLE 1. The Imperial War Graves Commission, incorporated by Royal Charter of the 10th May 1917, is recognised by the Italian Government as the sole official organisation charged with the care of British military graves in Italy.

ARTICLE 2. Isolated graves of British soldiers as well as those situated in cemeteries which it is decided not to maintain in perpetuity shall be removed and transferred into other military cemeteries.

The Imperial War Graves Commission shall decide which cemeteries are to be maintained.

The Italian Government shall give the necessary instructions to the Prefectoral and Municipal authorities to ensure the grant of the necessary authorisations for the exhumation and transport of bodies to the military cemeteries.

If, with a view to assembling isolated graves, the Imperial War Graves Commission should consider it necessary to form new cemeteries, the Commission shall formulate its request to the Italian Government.

ARTICLE 3. The exhumation of the bodies of British soldiers for the purpose of being repatriated shall only take place after preliminary agreement between the two Governments concerned.

ARTICLE 4. At the request of the British Government, the Italian Government recognises the right of the Imperial War Graves Commission to ensure the maintenance of the British graves and cemeteries, in accordance with the provisions of the Vice-regal Decree No. 896 of the 23rd June 1918 and to provide at its own charges for the laying out of the said graves and cemeteries.

The Imperial War Graves Commission is accordingly authorised to close British military cemeteries, to lay them out on a system approved by itself, to erect in them sepulchral monuments, to make plantations in them, to enact regulations governing visits to the cemeteries and to select the persons to take charge of them.

If, with a view to assembling isolated British soldiers, the Commission should consider it necessary to form new cemeteries, the Commission shall formulate its request to the Italian Government.

ARTICLE 3. The exhumation of the bodies of British soldiers for the purpose of being repatriated shall only take place after preliminary agreement between the two Governments concerned.

ARTICLE 4. At the request of the British Government, the Italian Government recognises the right of the Imperial War Graves Commission to ensure the maintenance of the British graves and cemeteries, in accordance with the provisions of the Vice-regal Decree No. 896 of the 23rd June 1918 and to provide at its own charges for the laying out of the said graves and cemeteries.

The Imperial War Graves Commission is accordingly authorised to close British military cemeteries, to lay them out on a system approved by itself, to erect in them sepulchral monuments, to make plantations in them, to enact regulations governing visits to the cemeteries and to select the persons to take charge of them.

The Commission is further authorised to provide for the laying out of British military graves in cemeteries belonging to the Italian State which contain the graves of the British Army as well as graves of the soldiers of the Allied Armies. When the Imperial War Graves Commission considers it desirable that a common system of laying out should be adopted for a mixed cemetery, it shall submit its proposals to the competent Italian authority.

ARTICLE 5. Authority for the erection of a monument commemorative of a feat of arms of the British Army or of one of its units shall only be accorded with the concurrence of the Imperial Commission.

ARTICLE 6. The Imperial Commission shall be represented in Italy by a Committee charged with the duty of maintaining official relations with the Italian authorities, and authorised to exercise in the Commission's name the rights accorded to the latter by the present Agreement.

In reply to note recently submitted by your Legal Subcommittee, we beg to inform you as follows:

a) In regards to the land area offered gratuitously by the Catania Commune, and already planned for use as a military graveyard, a decision by the "Giunta Municipale" of Catania is required whereby said organ shall grant the donation of the land involved to the Imperial War Graves (Art. 131, no.4, of the Consolidated Text, dated 4 February 1915, no.148 and Art. 3 of R. Law-Decree, dated 4 April 1944. no.111)/

Said decision, shall afterwards be submitted to the "Giunta Provinciale Amministrativa" for approval, according to the provisions set forth in Articles 217, no.1, no.64 letter B, of the above mentioned Consolidated Text). No.2 Royal Decree dated 30 December 1923, no.2839 and, as the party involved is a judicial body, an authorisation by the Government is also required, according to the provisions set forth in Art. 17 of the Civil Code and Art. 22 of general provisions preceding it.

The authorisation is to be requested in accordance with Art.5 of provisions fixing the execution of Civil Laws (Royal Decree dated 30 March 1942, no.318), and our Government will be, of course, very glad to grant it, as a token of respect to the memory of the generous soldiers who fell for the cause of liberty.

After having obtained both the approval and the authorisation, the donation deed can be drawn up. In said deed the Imperial War Graves shall formally accept the donation. Thereafter the deed of donation shall be duly entered in the "Register of unmovable Property".

b) As regards to a land situated in Syracuse and offered as a donation by Mr. Inizi Carpinteri, it will be sufficient to re-

War Graves (Art. 131, no.4, of the Consolidated Text, dated 4 February 1915, no.148 and Art. 3 of R. Law-Decree, dated 4 April 1944, no.111)/

Said decision, shall afterwards be submitted to the "Giunta Provinciale Amministrativa" for approval, according to the provisions set forth in Articles 217, no.1, no.64 letter B, of the above mentioned Consolidated Text). No.2 Royal Decree dated 30 December 1923, no.2839 and, as the party involved is a judicial body, an authorisation by the Government is also required, according to the provisions set forth in Art. 17 of the Civil Code and Art. 22 of general provisions preceding it.

The authorisation is to be requested in accordance with Art.5 of provisions fixing the execution of Civil Laws (Royal Decree dated 30 March 1942, no.318), and our Government will be, of course, very glad to grant it, as a token of respect to the memory of the generous soldiers who fell for the cause of liberty.

After having obtained both the approval and the authorisation, the donation deed can be drawn up. In said deed the Imperial War Graves shall formally accept the donation. Thereafter the deed of donation shall be duly entered in the "Register of unmovable Property".

b) As regards to a land situated in Syracuse and offered as a donation by its owner Mr. Luigi Carpinteri, it will be sufficient to request and obtain the Government's authorisation, before drawing up the deed (according to the above mentioned Article 17 of the Civil Code and 22 of the General Provisions preceding it.).

Even in this case the donation deed shall be entered in the "Register of unmovable Property" and shall contain a statement whereby the recipient declares to accept the donation.

If a sale is arranged instead of a donation, the same regulations apply as above, to wit: Government authorisation, decision by the Communal organ and entering of the deed at the Register of unmovable property.

Further we think it advisable to suggest that for any eventual transfer of land property, not being used but intended to be used as military graveyards, the Imperial War Graves shall also observe the regulations concerning public sanitation. (Art.338 and sequence set forth in Consolidated Text dated 27 July 1934, no.1265) and police regulations set forth in "Regolamento" dated 25 July 1892 no.448 concerning deceased persons.

In further reference to my 3/6B/AS dated 17 March 44 you should note that the only persons who can expropriate property are the Italian Government, however temporary you may think their status, and it is not therefore entirely accurate to talk of "expropriation proceedings".

The proper procedure is for you to approach through A.C.C. the Italian Government and ask them to pass a decree providing for expropriation of certain sites whether in occupied or non-occupied territory and to arrange for compensation for dispossessed persons.
