1. The Italian Ministry would be interested in knowing the answer to the following query:

When an official of lower career grade was appointed by the ACC to an office which according to the establishment calls for an official of a higher career grade, does the appointee take a salary corresponding to his new appointment or does he still take the salary of his previous office?

An answer to this query as to the practice in your Region would be appreciated.

1. Ref your AGC/L/504 of 18 Dec the practice is that on appointment to a higher grade, the appointee takes the salary appropriate to his new appointment. This is, of course, subject to his having carried out his work satisfactorily, and having accordingly been confirmed in his appointment.

2. This does not apply to purely temporary appointments to a higher post arising from the illness or temporary absence of the actual holder of the higher appointment.

In accordance with your request I have raised the question with C.F.O. at this HQ as to whether Italian Judges appointed by A.M.G. are paid the salary of their own grade or of the grade of their appointment.

2. C.F.O. believes it to be the latter practice which prevails but he is communicating with Col. Menapace, who he states will know definitely.

3. As soon as an answer is received, I will let you know.
