1. As you may be aware 500 CC.RR to form a Mobile Battalion are standing by at Senigallia for transfer to and service in this Region.

2. A letter has been received from the Director, Public Safety Sub-Commission, HQ Allied Commission, intimating that this contingent is not billeted under satisfactory conditions at Senigallia and requesting that the transfer be effected as soon as possible. In consequence a Bid for the transport necessary has been submitted this day to Transportation Division, this HQ - the transport situation in our Region is difficult at the moment and so it is impossible as yet to determine the date upon which the movement will take place; however, the urgency of the matter has been pointed out to Transportation Division.

3. The question of accommodation of these CC.RR upon arrival in this area has been discussed with the Colonel Commanding the Padova Legion and the CC.RR and it has been decided that 300 can be accommodated at the Legion HQ, Padova, and the remaining 200 at the Domenici Barracks, Treviso, which is understood to be suitable for the reception and temporary billeting of such a contingent - this centralization will facilitate dispersal of the CC.RR forces throughout the Region at a later date.

Subject : CC.RR. in Northern Italy.

1. The situation in regard to the CC.RR. is causing some concern and may well be considered under the following headings:-

- (a) the effect of the order of the Combined Chiefs of Staff in regard to the 55,000 ceiling.
- (b) the relation of the 55,000 ceiling to actual prevailing conditions in Northern Italy.

2. Re (a). The unfortunate decision to limit CC.RR. to a 55,000 ceiling for the whole of Italy is producing difficulties as was anticipated.

The decision splits the CC.RR. into two camps and is causing much ill-feeling and jealousy between men from the South and those from the North.

Most of those found in the North either became patrioti or hid themselves, but they are acceptable to C.I.N. and public alike largely because they are known, whereas those from the South are poorer specimens, are unknown and consequently suspected of anything and everything by the Northern populace. Their comparative pampered treatment in regard to their brothers from the North annoys and irritates and this split comes at the very time when they should be in the strongest possible position.

In the case of rations alone, a scale is certainly laid which the men from the North should receive, but as all the items they are supposed to draw are not always available they become discontented and when the ration cart rolls up with full rations from the D.I.D. for those from the South their feelings can well be imagined.

It is very unfortunate the ceiling was reached or not 7090 envisaged before we reached the North.

With regard to the numbers taken in the North in this Region, it is hoped to have some definite figures available in the course of the next few days to enable H.Q. to deal with the strength in the South and this remedy.

2. Re (a). The unfortunate decision to limit CC.RR. to a 55,000 ceiling for the whole of Italy is producing difficulties as was anticipated.

The decision splits the CC.RR. into two camps and is causing much ill-feeling and jealousy between men from the South and those from the North.

Most of those found in the North either became patrioti or hid themselves, but they are acceptable to C.L.N. and public alike largely because they are known, whereas those from the South are poorer specimens, are unknown and consequently suspected of anything and everything by the Northern populace. Their comparative pampered treatment in regard to their brothers from the North annoys and irritates and this split comes at the very time when they should be in the strongest possible position.

With regard to the numbers taken in the North in this Region, it is hoped to have some definite figures available in the course of the next few days to enable H.Q. to deal with the strength in the South and thus remedy a most unsatisfactory state of affairs in the North.

In the meantime everything is being done to placate the CC.RR. by telling them it is only a temporary measure and that matters will soon be put right. I hope what we have told these men will be justified.

3. Re (b). In the first place public reaction to CC.RR. from the South is very mixed. The reaction of the patrioti in the North to the CC.RR. from the South is of steady suspicion and doubt. In other words they are not welcome as the patrioti have ideas of forming their own police and casting aside the relics of an outworn system.

How, they are not quite sure.

In some places the public have welcomed the appearance of the CC.RR., the reason being probably some of them have suffered at the hands of the lawless and irresponsible elements among the patrioti and now welcome the renewal of some semblance of law and order.

In other places, probably influenced by strong patriot elements, they are far from welcome and are even obstructed.

It is interesting to note in this connection, that the Legion Commander of Padua has expressed his opinion in no uncertain manner.

He much prefers to handle the men from the North who are generally a much <sup>new</sup> type, whilst those from the South he considers as indisciplined, badly clothed and shod, and in many cases disheartened because they were unwilling to leave their homes in the South.

He has through shortage of Officers and NCO's to use many who have come in from the North and who consider they are being treated as inferior beings.

The chief difficulty is experienced in the more Northern provinces such as Udine where steps are now being taken to infiltrate gradually the CC.RR. into outlying communes and take over from the patrioti their own Caserme. This is always done after consultation with the leaders of the local patriot bands and they are usually taken in by the P.P.S.O. himself.

As time passes, more and more CC.RR. will gradually be drafted in and with the eventual disappearance of the many armed Germans still at large there will be little or no justification for official recognition of bands of patrioti armed to the teeth, and their disbanding and disarming should proceed more rapidly than hitherto.

The situation is, however, still very delicate and CC.RR. not yet in sufficient strength or organised well enough to deal with everything, not as popular (unless they have been patrioti) as one would like to see.

This was very obvious at a recent meeting I had with some of senior patriot commanders together with the CC.RR. commanders in my office.

They agreed to working with the CC.RR. on the following conditions:-

- (i) their patrioti special police were agreeable to working under a Maresciallo or other NCO they knew had been a patriot in the North but not under an NCO from the South.

- (ii) they were prepared to accept the technical advice of the CC.RR. from the South but not work under the control of the NCO's.

Such is their attitude. It was necessary for me to inform them that Allied Military Government was not here to take part in

Such is their attitude. It was necessary for me to inform them that Allied Military Government was not here to take part in any re-organisation of the Italian Police system or to take orders as to how law and order was to be maintained.

I informed these gentlemen that we should be glad of their advice and all the assistance and co-operation they cared to afford us, but Allied Military Government had selected the CC.RR. as the primary agents of law and order, assisted by the Agenti P.S., and while we were here in Italy as such, that was the order of the day. Any proposed re-organisation of the Italian Police systems must inevitably await calmer and quieter times when Italy had a settled and more united Government.

They accepted my point of view as to the attitude of A.M.G. without further argument.

The situation is delicate as I have said before, but I feel sure that if we proceed quietly and firmly on the lines we are at the moment, now the first excitement is wearing off; the Jugo Slav situation about to be resolved; the inclusion of certain selected patrioti in various police agencies such as Questorini and GG.FF. continue; and gradual disarming and dispersal of the remainder, there should not be too much difficulty in restoring normal law and order at any rate for the time being whilst we are here.

Certain things must not be overlooked and that is (a) certain bands of patrioti are not recognised by the C.L.N. or C.V.I. and these squabble among themselves which give rise to breaches of the peace, and (b) and that however many firearms are handed in now there are four more hidden for every one handed in, apart from a lot of hidden explosives, etc. It is noticeable that very few small side arms are coming in.

4. STRENGTH.

I appreciate that the final strengths agreed upon for each province in the North are based on a apportionment of men dependent upon the 55,000 ceiling.

This, however, strikes me as a curious way of assessing the possible state of law and order months before, and the facts seem to have escaped attention. Take, for example, the Province of UDINE.

The present authorised strength is 523 CC.RR. i.e. less than it was in peace time when things were quiet and normal. Conditions now, however, are totally different, amongst other things there is a very acute Jugo-Slav problem; many irresponsible patrioti armed to the teeth and with nervous fingers; armed Germans and Fascists still roam the countryside. There is much political uncertainty and also some disorganisation consequent upon the passage of the war. Here it is considered satisfactory to have a strength of CC.RR. less than in peace time, surely there must be some misconception somewhere.

I have discussed the matter with the P.P.S.O. and CC.RR. in Udine and the barest minimum strength required under prevailing conditions is 800 men.

Similar conditions, but perhaps not so acute as in Udine, obtain in other provinces.

Submitted for information and consideration please.

L. 13637

Rome, 19 April 1945

Dear Admiral,

After having contacted the P.S. Sub-Commission to examine the question of the employment of the P.S. Guards in the provinces of North Italy after the liberation, the competent P.S. Authorities told me about the intention of employing at first only the RR.CC. and later on, of enlisting temporarily partisan elements as P.S. Guards.

I want to draw your personal attention on the very difficult situation which would be created in the P.S. offices by the sudden enlisting of elements which would not be prepared to the technical duties of the police, and above all, by the possible infiltration in the most delicate executive organ of the State of elements bent on causing trouble, and discrediting the representatives of order.

I feel certain that, in the places where it will at first be impossible to do without the collaboration of the partisans for P.S. services, you will kindly ask the competent Military Authorities to avoid a real recruiting of the said partisans, and in any case, to be most prudent and cautious in choosing the persons to whom such a grave and delicate task is to be entrusted, for I must tell you that I am convinced that a mistaken view of the problem could have most serious consequences for public safety and order.

Roma, 19 aprile 1945

Caro Ammiraglio,

le competenti Autorità di P.S. a seguito dei contatti avuti con la Sottocommissione di P.S. per esaminare la questione dell'impiego delle Guardie di P.S. nelle province dell'Italia Settentrionale dopo la liberazione, mi informano che sarebbe intendimento di impiegare in un primo tempo esclusivamente i CC.RR. e successivamente arruolare in via provvisoria come guardie di P.S. elementi tra i partigiani.

Ora io desidero attirare la Sua personale attenzione sulla delicatezza della situazione che si creerà negli uffici della Pubblica Sicurezza a seguito dell'arruolamento improvvisato di elementi preparati ai compiti tecnici della Polizia e soprattutto sulla possibilità di infiltrazione nel più delicato organismo esecutivo dello Stato di elementi intenzionati di provocare disordini e attirare discredito sui rappresentanti dell'ordine.

Sono sicuro che, ove sia proprio impossibile rinunciare in un primo tempo alla collaborazione di partigiani per i servizi di P.S., Lei non vorrà mancare di raccomandare alle Autorità Militari competenti di evitare un vero e proprio reclutamento dei predetti e, comunque, di usare la massima circospezione e cautela nella scelta delle persone cui affidare un sì delicato e grave compito, non potendole nascondere come sia mio convincimento che da una errata valutazione del problema potrebbero derivare le più gravi conseguenze per la sicurezza e la tutela dell'ordine pubblico.

Mi creda cordialmente Suo
