Ref : 54/I Div.3

Command F.S.S. Pesaro

Towards 18.30 hours of the 07 Jan 45; at Pesaro, in the locality Mirafiore, two individuals still unknown, took advantage of the darkness and suddenly attacked with pointed pistols the CCRB CELLINI Franco and POLENTI Armando of Pesaro Station; there on duty for movement control. As the CCRB promptly reacted the unknown persons fired several pistol shots very close and then ran away in opposed directions. Carab. POLENTI who was severely injured in the belly and right leg fell to the ground; Carab. CELLINI in spite of severe injuries in the belly and left groin, promptly fired two musket shots without hitting the culprits.

The CCRB have been hospitalized at the British Military Hospital 12 C.C.S. Pesaro in very serious condition. The prognosis is reserved. Police operations and services have been immediately effected, with negative result.

Enquiries are being continued with assistance of allied police.

NoteGen. Picchi seen on 3rd May 1944.

He favours a scheme of rewards, which should be very strictly limited. He thinks that a fund should be at his disposal.

He proposed a scheme on these lines some years ago but it was turned down by the Italian Government.

Gen. Picchi will write to us on the matter.

note2A

The reward system is not likely to check corruption. Bribes are more valuable than rewards.

The way to prevent corruption is:

- a) Adequate pay & pensions for police
- b) System of detecting corruption
- c) Severe punishment of offenders.

This does not at present exist in Italy.

The reward system would encourage more energetic action by those police engaged in dealing with introduced offences. It might cause some discontent among police engaged in other duties.

Rewards :- Police Agencies.

Chief. Public Safety Sub-Commission
A.C.C. Rear Headquarters A.P.O.394

Whilst discussing the various aspects and problems in connection with, supplies, Food Rationing, and Suppression of Black Market, with Colonel W.J. Legg, this day, I mentioned that I thought that the institution of a Reward Fund for Police Agencies might be considered in connection with confiscation of "Contrabbando".

Col. Legg suggested that I forward to you this suggestion.

I think that the fund, could be easily administered, that it should be dispensed to individual officers, or group of officers concerned in meritorious cases of confiscation or sequestration of contraband cargoes.

The fund could be supplied with its source of income through an allocation of a percentage of the value of the food stuffs, confiscated. The value being the agreed value by the Alimentation Office revealing the property on confiscation.

I instance as a case in Reggio Province, Police this month confiscated 17 tons of Olive Oil. I have no doubt, that it will be readily agreed, that if the men concerned in this confiscation, had chosen to be dishonest or corrupt they could have accepted a considerable bribe to overlook this case of contrabbando.

The question of the institution of a Reward Fund may raise the question of weakening morale of the Police System, but I would bring to notice that a system of Commendations and Rewards is still in force in the Metropolitan Police Force, London, and that the Revenue Office grants similar rewards in cash payments to Police Officers who have detected Revenue Offences.

Submitted for your information and consideration.
