SUBJECT: Cursio Malaparte Suckert.

TO : CG, AFHQ (for WGS)

1. With reference to letter MGS-583-1 dated 11 Jan 44, investigation has been made, with the following results:

2. CURSIO MALAPARTE SUCKERT started his journalistic career with the newspaper called "IL MURDO". In 1931 he was expelled from the Fascist Party because of his opposition to F. RINOCCHI's ideas. He was then arrested and condemned to the Confino, and was sent to the Island of Lipari.

3. He was arrested again by the C.I.G. sometime in November because they believed or rather were informed that Malaparte was the go-between between Count CIANO and the Greeks just before Italy started the invasion of Greece.

4. After a search was made in his home, but without results, he was released in December and he is now living in Capri.

5. The case against him is now closed, but he reports weekly to Lt. Col. R. CUSUMANO, AO of 8, G-2, P.B.S. every Friday.

TO : Col. P. G. Kirk, C.P.S.

CURZIO MALAPARTE SUCKERT started his journalistic career with the newspaper called "IL MONDO". In 1931 he was expelled from the Fascist Party because of his opposition to FARMACCI's ideas. He was then arrested and condemned to the Confino, and was sent to the Island of Lipari.

He was arrested again by the C.I.C. sometime in November because they believed or rather were informed that Malaparte was the go-between between Count CIANO and the Greeks just before Italy started the invasion of Greece.

After a search was made in his home, but without results, he was released in December and he is now living in Capri.

The case against him is now closed, but he reports weekly to Lt. Col. H. CUMMINGS, AC of S, C-2, P.B.S. every Friday.

MGS-383-1

SUBJECT: Curzio Malaparte Suckert

TO : Headquarters AMG (Public Safety Division)

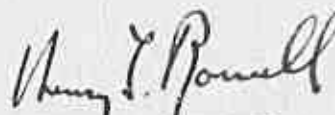

1. The arrest of Curzio Malaparte Suckert was reported by the New York Times.

2. In the event that he has been taken into custody by AMG, the following statement of Percy Winner is forwarded for your information. Winner, former International News Service Correspondent, is now employed by OWI in New York.

3. Winner states:

"He has been known to me intimately in France and Italy for the last 19 years. By giving valuable data through me to the American authorities, his anti-Fascism has been established, which I can testify under oath. This was especially so during period 1939 to late summer 1941. WILLIAM PHILLIPS, then American Ambassador in Rome can attest to the great importance of military and political data given by MALAPARTE through me to the Embassy."

For the Chief of Section:

HENRY T. ROWELL,
Major, C.M.P.
