the original writing, in another ink are visible even without a glass, and more clearly seen in every case with one. Despite the obviousness of this alteration, subject denies that it was done. The remaining personal facts and description on the left-hand inside page were very possibly written by subject himself. During his interrogation he was given a test passage to write which incorporated the capitals and letter-combinations occurring on the identity card and the two specimens seem identical. Subject denies that he rewrote the card's facts but cannot explain the fact that the two handwritings are so similar as to appear identical. Subject had in his possession when captured a brand new "Smiths" wristwatch. This has also been true of almost every agent taken by this detachment. For that reason it may have some importance in subject's case. Subject had in his possession when captured 1,850 lire of which there are three pairs of 50 lire notes in series.

Subject's story is that he worked for the MONTECATINI as a clerk in TORINO until two years ago and was then transferred to MILAN. On 31 Dec 44, hearing that he was liable to be sent to Germany to work, he escaped, wandered about NCT until 27 March 45 when he stole a rowboat at LERICI at dusk and rowed throughout the night, alone, arriving at TORINO, a fraziona of PIETRASANTA at dawn of 28 March 45, when he was apprehended and turned in to this office. This would mean that he rowed more than 20 miles across open sea in the dark, without a compass and without interference. His story of his activities in NCT and his reasons for leaving there are similar to the usual cover-story told by apprehended agents. He is very vague about his activities during the early part of this year, claiming not to know the dates of his movements, the places he stayed nor the names of the people he stayed with. It is considered probable that subject is an enemy agent, but he is being forwarded to HQ because present mobile battle conditions existing at this Division make further interrogation here impracticable.
AN envelope containing subject's identity card, wristwatch and money referred to in the paragraphs above, accompanies the original of the arrest to HQ.

Reason for A rent

Subject did not join the NF but joined the PNF in Oct 43 as a member of the Action Squad and took part in scuffles. As a fervent Republican Fascist his work was particularly on internment and shipment of young men who deserted from Republican ranks. After occupation of Forte del Pozzi subject never missed an opportunity of speaking ill of Allied troops and spoke in favour of the Nazi-Fascists and made propaganda for Russia. As Subjects house is near the front lines it is probable that many enquiries into NF have found reference at his house and signatures of the NF met there. Subject's presence in this area is a military security threat and therefore it is recommended that he be interned for the duration of the war in Italy.
