To the Allied Military Police

To the High Commissioner for Epuration.
ROME

For the measures which the competent authorities will think opportune to adopt regarding the young man FORMIGONI Aldo di Vincenzo, residing in via Madonna del Riposo in this Town, no24, left to become a voluntary for the pseudo republican government with the Brigata nera, during its Commination. We wish to inform you that he has returned from the North in these last days full of enthusiasm and with the same spirit as when he left for the service to serve the traitors of our unfortunate Italy. In this area it is said that he is in possession of a patriot's card, obtained certainly by cheating.

His eventual arrest and successive internment in a concentration camp would produce in this circle a good impression of the competent authorities.

A real Italian, who dares not sign his name for fear of being harmed.

Which Town?

R O M A

Per quelli provvedimenti che le autorità competenti crederanno opportuno adottare nei riguardi del giovane FORMICONI Aldo di Vincenzo, abitante in via Madonna del Riposo di questa città, al N°24, partito volontario durante la dominazione della pseudo repubblica fascista con le brigate nere, si comunica che egli é rientrato dal Nor in questi giorni tutto zelante e pieno ancora di uno spirito col quale partì al servizio dei traditori della nostra disgraziata Italia. In questa zona si dice che egli sia nientemeno in possesso di un tesserino da patriota, ottenuto sicuramente con imbrogli e raggiri.

Un suo eventuale fermo e successivo internamento nei campi di concentramento, produrrebbe e sicuramente in questo ambiente una buona impressione delle autorità competenti.

Un vero italiano che per ragioni di eventuali rappresaglie non può firmarsi.

1. It is understood that the "Comitato di Liberazione Aziendale" of the SMIA VINCOSA has proposed the following appointments for the SMIA VINCOSA:

Avv. Leonardo BALBONI - Via Cernaia 5, Milano
Commissioner

Dott. Giampaolo BORI DELVING (Pontremoli, Spezia)
Vice Commissioner

Ing. Ugo ROSAIA - Torino
Vice Commissioner

2. The following information is recorded:

a) BALBONI is a civil and commercial lawyer, former director of the SMIA. He is a temperate socialist and a good diplomat. He is considered to be a good administrator and acceptable to the employees and workmen.

b) BORI DELVING graduated in economic sciences and in chemistry, has a great technical knowledge and experience. When the German pressure on the SMIA became too heavy he preferred to leave rather than collaborate. He does not belong to any political party. By virtue of his technical ability his appointment would be in the interests of all.

c) ROSAIA is an engineer and a good technician. He does not belong to any political party but is reported to sympathize with the Christian Democrats. Although perhaps less qualified than his colleagues he is considered to be a good choice.

within the SNIA, they do not possess a complete overall knowledge of the major problems which the management and direction of this important firm will require.

4. Prof. Francesco Mario GUDARDO (Via dei Sanbini 4 ROMA) from both administrative and technical experience appears to be the most indicated. He is "Consigliere Delegato" of the CISL VISCOSSA and "Consigliere d'Amministrazione" of the SNIA VISCOSSA.

He has a great ability and experience and is trusted by his workmen. He is also closely linked with the Vatican circles.

5. Two suggestions:

a) Prof. GUDARDO to be appointed "Presidente Reggente"

Avv. BALBONI and Dott. DOSI, Direttori Generali.

b) Prof. GUDARDO to be appointed Commissario

MEMOTRANSLATION

Usually very reliable confidential source has informed that this morning, by the means of an American car or an Italian one requisitioned by the Allies, has left Rome towards North and probably Milan, a certain MAGINI Mario, living at Via Michelangelo Boggioli N°19, 23 old, son of MAGINI, member of the fascist Parliament, who joined the Social Republic in Milan, aiming to avenge his father, who was probably captured and executed by Patriots with other fascist leaders.

Magini Mario has left wearing American summer uniform, light caki, armed with two pistols and with L. 600.000 gained from the sale of a car two days ago.

Magini has his own identity cards, because he had no time to find new ones. He is 23, fair, light complexion, m. 1.60 tall, strong.

Magini belongs to a family of passionate fascists and it seems that he was a member of the last new fascist party recently discovered in Rome, and not arrested for the fellowship of the other arrested.

A seguito richiesta di codesto Ufficio si comunica che MASPRONE Raffaele di Giovanni e Dell'Oro Ernesta, nato a Verona il 23 agosto 1885, fa parte da circa 20 anni della Compagnia Italiana Grandi Alberghi, alle cui dipendenze ha retto, per 15 anni, la direzione del "Grand Hotel" di Napoli.

Nell'agosto 1943, avendo il predetto albergo subito gravissimi danni in seguito ad incursione aerea, il MASPRONE si trasferì in questa Capitale con tutta la famiglia, alloggiando al "Grande Albergo" di via delle Terme.

Fu iscritto al soppresso p.n.f., appartenne alla confederazione fascista alberghiera di Napoli, ostentando, in occasione delle rituali cerimonie del passato regime, la sua divisa fascista, più per vana gloria che per intima convinzione politica.

Accertamenti fatti presso il Ministero dell'Interno non hanno portato al rinvenimento di alcun elemento di fatto atto a confermare l'appartenenza del MASPRONE all'O.V.R.A.=

Da quando risiede a Roma non ha dato mai luogo a rilievi di sorta.=

CUSTODIAN ' ENEMY PROPERTY,
CIVIL AFFAIRS BRANCH,
H.Q. EAST AFRICA COMMAND,
P.O. Box 4000, NAIROBI.

A.F.H.Q.,
ITALY.

17th October, 1945.

I desire to be accorded permission to enter Italy for the purpose of visiting my wife's grave at Milan and satisfying myself as to the administration of her estate by the Italian authorities.

2. My wife (Frieda Schatzberger) died in Milan on the 23 Jan. '43 as the result of a fall from the eighth floor of the building where she was then living.

3. In the records of the police her death is entered, as I am informed, as one from suicide. I have strong reasons for doubting whether this was so, and for supposing that the Fascist authorities, having just previously received information of my own work for British Army Intelligence in Ethiopia and elsewhere in the East Africa Command, may have visited upon my wife their desire to injure myself.

4. The anxiety which I have felt has not been allayed but rather increased by the further details which I have received from the Public Safety Sub-Commission (Security Division) through Civil Affairs Branch, East Africa Command.

5. My health, both physical and psychical, has suffered greatly in consequence, and I feel that I cannot possibly continue to work here in a distant country with this weight of trouble over me: I am in fact at the end of my nervous resources and cannot face it any longer.

6. I am of course willing to submit to whatever conditions as to duration of my visit and otherwise which, either after seeing me or in advance, you may impose; all I want is to see my wife's grave and to satisfy myself about her death and what immediately preceded it so far as this may still be possible; so that I may put my mind at rest and try to re-establish my mental and bodily health.

7. After visiting Milan I should like to go on to my former home in Vienna where immediate work awaits me. I ask to be excused from putting details of this on paper and ~~97~~ be allowed to supply them verbally when I reach Italy.

8. I beg most earnestly that compassion may be shown me and my request granted, on humane grounds.

9. I add the following personal details on the instructions of Civil Affairs Branch, E.A.C.:-

- (a) My full name is Artur Schatzberger.
- (b) My nationality is, I believe, still technically Austrian.
- (c) I was born at Stanislavoff (then Austrian Poland) on 12 Nov. 1890.
- (d) I have an Austrian passport No.759570 dated 24 May '29 issued at Vienna, but this expired 10 May '39 and has not been renewed.
- (e) By occupation I am a Bank official.
- (f) (Movements since 1939) In Addis Abeba until 1941, in commercial employment (with C.I.A.A.O. as administrative secretary, and at same time working in Anti-fascist underground movement there). In April 1941, on the British occupation, joined I Branch E.A. Command; accompanied them to Nairobi end December 1942, and employed by E.A.C. in Nairobi thence till the present time (with Civil Affairs since Feb.'43).
- (g) My reason for wishing to enter Italy is as stated in the foregoing paragraphs of this letter.

PASQUALE CALIA, Via Preguglia, No. 10 Milan, who have handled the estate of the above named deceased subject. The firm is held in high esteem in this City, and there is no reason to doubt the information contained in the document. It would appear that the matter has been properly dealt with according to Italian standards.
2. The original Police records in the case which were in the archives of the Commissariato Duomo (Questura Station) were destroyed when the building was demolished as the result of Allied bombing, but from the legal records now in existence and general information received, it results that the subject died from the act of throwing herself from a window of her residence after having suffered bad health for some time previously.

3). By Decree of 11 January 1943 issued by the Intendente of Rome, SCIALOJA was ordered described the contents of the room and the inventory: Avv. Giuseppe Gambelli of 141 n. via Condottiero n. 20 was delegated to draw a inventory.

4). The inventory issued was made with successively material note by the A/M notary on the 22 January 1943 n. 5481 prot. and n. 537 rep. with a emission of 10.362 lire. = 12 March 1943 n. 5481 rep. with a emission of 20.10 lire, besides the goods delivered to "RIFORMAZIONE ITALIANA DI CARICHI" of ROMA OF RINGO OF MILAN to the Director of the "RIFORMAZIONE ITALIANA DI CARICHI" - 3 April 1943 n. 5481 rep. with a emission of 5.030 lire, = 20 April 1943 n. 5481 rep. with a emission of 5.030 lire, = 15 April 1943 n. 5481 rep. with a emission of 11.365, 30 (representing the 12.000 lire as A/M found by the Police on the day of the death: 23 January 43) with a passive at that time, if no further entrance arrived of 2.925.50 lire and finally the conclusive inventory on the 11 June 1943 n. 5337 prot. and 9355 rep. with a emission of 4.116 lire. = and another one dated 15 June 1943 n. 9363 rep. with a emission of 5.332 lire. =

Compared to the complete active of 12.808,50 lire is the privileged passive (arrows of Denominazioni) and "chirografario" of various creditors for 6.670.00 lire, already satisfied, besides the various expenses for denunciation and tax of succession, various appraisements, notary fees, etc., whose definitive account will be made at the end of the activity.

5). The activity of the first 5 inventory were realized by the Decree of Pretore, while the one of unappetitive verbale of the 11 and 15 June 1943 were unfortunately destroyed by the bombardments of the 7/13/15 August 1943 with the entire Office of the underigned in Corso di Porta Vittoria n. 4, by which the activities were into custody in the boxes; all according to not of the notary written before the Pretura of Milan the 13 March 1944.

6). These last activity, calculated for a complete value of 10.363 lire have been regularly denounced by the underigned to this "Intendenza di Finanze" the 31 July 1945 n. 58524 -B as from receipt which is sent to your examination together with the first denounce of census presented to "Vigilanza Urbana" of Milan - Zona Vittoria - via N. 5082 since 24 February 1944; denounce presented for indemnity of war damages. One points out that for the aim of indemnity of the damages the value of the destroyed things has been augmented compared to these of the inventory, declaring a damage of 147.040 lire as result from the A/M Denunciation.

7). The proceeds of the activities liquidated according to the prices of the first 5 verbale of inventory (32.540, 60, included the 11.965,30 in cash augmented of not less than 10% after Pretoral, Decree was regularly deposited on a check- book n. 1968 serie A, issued the 6 May 1943 on the name of Re your 82/14000-12 of 28 May 45, the enclosed 4 letters, addressed respectively to Signora Membrini-Palazzi (of Pano,); Dott. Benigni Alessandrino, Dott. Sacerdote Matteo, and Sig. Sallani Rocio (all of Milan) are transmitted to you with the request that each may, if possible, with its enclosures be delivered directly into the hands of the addressee by a British Officer of the Commission.

2. The writer of the letter in the envelope addressed to Signora Membrini-Palazzi is her husband who is a civil evadue now in Kenya and considered trustworthy. In that addressed to Dott. Benigni is a letter written by Dr. A. Schatzberger, a civilian employee of this Branch, and its enclosures are a letter from Sig. Membrini-Palazzi to the addressee, and form of questionnaire. In the envelope addressed to Dott. Sacerdote are a similar letter (from Dr. Schatzberger) and enclosures (letter from Sig. Membrini-Palazzi and questionnaire). In that addressed to Sig. Sallani there is a similar letter, its enclosures being a letter from Sig. Casanova Rocio to the addressee, and questionnaire. With each original (in Italian) is a translation into English which has been checked here and found substantially accurate.

3. Dr. Schatzberger is a Polish Jew of original Austrian nationality (by Nazi German law now stateless). He holds a Polish passport. He escaped from Vienna via Italy to Ethiopia at the time of the Anschluss in 1938, worked in an underground movement against the Fascists in Addis Ababa until the reoccupation by our forces in 1941, and then disclosed himself here to the British authorities. He was employed by Army Intelligence in Ethiopia till the end of 1942, then accompanied that branch to Kenya, and was subsequently (early in 1943) transferred to Civil Affairs where he has been working ever since, most efficiently in the investigation and classification of Italian civil claims except for brief periods when he has been re-lent to Intelligence, U.S. Command for special duties.

4. He has been found to be of high intelligence and wholly loyal to the Allied Cause; and it is desired to assist him in the object thereof with the letters, now in question, are concerned, namely to discover the truth about the death of his wife in Milan early in 1943.

5. Your a/q memo reports that Mrs. Schatzberger is considered to have committed suicide, but her husband believes that she would not have killed herself; on the contrary, he thinks that she may have been murdered by Fascist agents. The death took place very shortly after the departure of the reported repatriation ship from East Africa in

Photo (and on Milan) are transmitted to you with the request that each may, if possible, with its enclosures be delivered directly into the hands of the addressee by a British officer of the Commission.

2. The writer of this letter in the envelope addressed to Signora Membrini-Palazzi is her husband who is a civil employee now in Kenya and considered trustworthy. In that addressed to Signora Schiavi is a letter written by W. A. Schatzberger, a civilian employee of this branch, and the enclosures are a letter from Signora Membrini-Palazzi to the addressee, and form of questionnaire. In the envelope addressed to Signora Schiavi are a similar letter (from W. A. Schatzberger) and enclosures (letter from Signora Membrini-Palazzi and questionnaire). In that addressed to Signora Schiavi there is a similar letter, its enclosures being a letter from Signora Schiavi to the addressee, and questionnaire. With each original (in Italian) is a translation into English which has been checked here and found substantially accurate.

4. He has been found to be of high intelligence and wholly loyal to the Allied Cause; and it is desired to assist him in the object wherever the letters, now in question, are concerned, namely to discover the truth about the death of his wife in Milan early in 1943.

5. Your a/q memo reports that Mrs. Schatzberger is considered to have committed suicide, but her husband believes that she would not have killed herself; on the contrary, he thinks that she may have been murdered by Fascist agents. The death took place very shortly after the arrival of the second repatriation ship from East Africa Italy, on board of which were known Fascist Italian agents who he thinks would certainly have communicated their knowledge of his (Schatzberger's) anti-Fascist activities to the Italian authorities who would then have turned their attention to Mrs. Schatzberger.

6. Schatzberger is in precarious health in consequence of the mental suffering caused by the news of his wife's death, and it is considered important that whatever the truth is, he should know it and the means he proposes (as evidenced in the letters, which contain all necessary detail) seem in the circumstances the best available now, whereby to secure that object at all events he so believes and there is no reason for doubting his judgement in a matter which so intimately concerns him.

7. He is a most useful servant of this branch and also of R.M. Government and it is desired to give him all assistance possible hence this request for your co-operation.

8. When each result of the enquiries as may be forthcoming is in your hands, it is requested that it may be transmitted here as soon as possible.

9. Mr. Schatzberger also makes the following requests:

(a) I shall be grateful if you will inform the British Authorities, and ask them to take into custody my wife's belongings, if any. I am particularly interested in documents, letters and items of sentimental value left by her. Should these belongings be taken into custody I would like them to be kept at my disposal until I can collect them personally in Milan, which I hope will be soon.

(b) I humbly beg to suggest that in the event of a general file "FRIDA SCHATZBERGER" and a sub-file concerning her "suicide" exists somewhere should be sequestered by the British Authorities concerned. This because the Italian Authorities - whom I know well - might, if they got wind of the investigations, alter the entries in the files or destroy them.

(c) I am convinced that if my first supposition is correct, the Italian Authorities will pass the responsibility for what happened on to the Nazis. I moreover suggest that these files should be kept at my disposal until my arrival at Milan.

Translation

We inform you that Mr. Renato FERRAILOLO of Alfredo and of Pangrazi Angelina born in Siena 8/2/1895, at the moment resident in Albania at TIRANA as administrator-delegate of the Banco di Napoli, Albania in 1944, following an incident had with the Albanian authorities for the attempted homicide of a Minister, he insistently asked and obtained the PROTECTION of the Germans for the Italian personnel and insisted that as they were all FASCISTS they were to occupy all the first floor of the building where the personnel were living, over 20 rooms, making it be occupied by a German Command.

In this he was instigated by the Centurione della Milizia Fascista Mr. Vincenzo BRANDIMARTE di Emilio and di Corelli Clorinda born at Pescara the 14.12.1906, nephew of the consul Brandimarte who was recently arrested in Rome, is actually in Tirana acting as Head of the personnel of the Banco di Napoli.

Both of them had a profound hatred and contempt for the Albanians, they openly slandered them and dismissed many of the personnel after 1943 to vindicate the campaign the press had made against the Banco for the way they had speculated against the Albanians.

After the 25.7.1943 persisting in their opinion as Fascist Republicans they requested even though it was contrary to the wishes of the declining Luogotenenza, General FARIANI, the 30.8.1943 for a decree for the civilian mobilization of the personnel of the Banco di Napoli in Albania, this was to oblige them to be placed under slavery. It is to be noted that other Banks refused to make such a request and complained about it.

Mr. BRANDIMARTE has also cooperated with the Germans against the Albanians.

Investigate also on some reports sent by both of them to Lecce in November 1943 - October 1944 when in Albania there were the Germans and in Italy the Allies and even after..... which were the clandestine measures they used??

Perhaps they will try to get repatriated as soon as possible; investigate and you will see.

Si segnala che il Sig. Renato FERRAILO di Alfredo e di Pangrazi Angelina nato a Siena l'8/2/1895, attualmente residente ancora in Albania a TIRANA perché Amministratore Delegato del Banco di Napoli Albania nell'anno 1944, a seguito di un incidente avuto con le Autorità Albanesi per il tentato omicidio di un Ministro richiese insistentemente ed ottenne la PROTEZIONE dei Tedeschi per il personale italiano ed insistette perché essendo tutti FASCISTI perché prendessero possesso di tutto il primo piano del palazzo dove abitava il personale, oltre 20 vari, facendolo occupare da un Comandante Tedesco.

In ciò venne anche sobillato dal Centurione della Milizia Fascista Sig. Vincenzo BRANDIMARTE di Emilio e di Morelli Giordina nato a Pescara il 14.12.1906, nipote del Console Brandimarte di recente arrestato a Roma, ed attualmente a Tirana con le funzioni di Capo del Personale del Banco di Napoli.

Entrambi nutrivano profondo odio e disprezzo per gli Albanesi, ne hanno fatto sempre aperta diffamazione per il sentimento di indipendenza e licenziarono molti del personale, dopo il 1943 per vendicarsi della campagna che i giornali facevano contro il Banco per lo sfruttamento fatto agli Albanesi.

Dopo il 25.7.1943 perdurando in loro la mentalità Fascista Repubblica per imporre sempre la loro ingiusta volontà richiesero nonostante il pare contrario della decadente Intendenza, Generale PARIANI, il 30.8.1943 un decreto di mobilitazione Civile per il personale del Banco di Napoli in Albania e ciò per obbligarli allo schiavismo. Si noti che le altre Banche non vollero richiedere tale provvedimento e se neagnarono.

Il Sig. Brandimarte ha anche collaborato con i Tedeschi a danno degli Albanesi.

Indagare anche su dei rapporti inviati da entrambi a Lecce dal Novembre 1943 al 1° Ottobre 1944 quando in Albania vi erano i Tedeschi ed in Italia gli Alleati ed anche dopo di quali mezzi clandestini si servivano??

Forse cercheranno di rimpatriare appena possibile indagare e si vedrà.

There are times in history in which the destiny of a people seem to unite and take form in their leaders.

We doubt if in Italy's present tragedy our people has enough spiritual resources and material energy to be able to come out of this crisis without the subordination of all the national forces to the will of one leader.

We do not know if the Italian people are able to win the war and to reorganize themselves, being lifted by their great traditions; on their real autonomy; family, community, work, culture or a sense of organization.

We hope that this is the real condition of the Italian people, but if this were not so, it is our duty as men of action and as political leaders, to look sharply on the political platform of our country, and coldly, without sentimentalism, hesitation or reserve, judge the men who have presented themselves to the Italian people as qualified leaders.

We know that by our attitude we'll face "facts" and will break a tradition of the Italian political through struggle - a tradition which taught us to discuss our ideas in public, reserving to ourselves the judgement of men.

We dare do this, for our very civilization is now at stake.

We dare, because in the hour of general destruction one must know how to lift oneself above the traditions and customs of the times and take on the courage of the great innovators.

Acting in this way, we will know how to follow and to put into practice the great teachings of the artisans of civilization. And it would suffice here to recall the advice of Silone to Greece, the cradle of our civilization, that we must not stop for simple examinations of the constitutions, but to judge the morality of the men who desire these constitutions.

On the Italian political scene today we have two Parties; the Socialist and the Communist Party which hope to assume the totalitarian control of our country by means of action and words. Therefore we must judge the leaders attached to such Parties. We will examine here the political past of Palmiro Togliatti, secretary of the Italian Communist Party, of Pietro Menzi, secretary of the Italian Socialist Party, and director of the socialist paper "l'Avanti", of Velio Spano, publisher of the Communist newspaper "Unita" and of Eugenio Reale, head of Public Safety.

Therefore we must judge the leaders attached to such Parties. We will examine here the political past of Palmiro Togliatti, secretary of the Italian Socialist Party, of Pietro Nenni, secretary of the Italian Socialist Party, and director of the Socialist paper "Avanti!", of Melio Spano, publisher of the Communist newspaper "Unita" and of Eugenio Neale, Head of Public Safety.

PALMIRO TOGLIATTI initiated his political career at the very beginning of the European war 1914-1918, as member of the Socialist Party. Regardless of what may have been the real motives of Togliatti's adherence to the Socialist Party, there is one fact which tells us at once the real character of his political activities. In the days following Italy's entrance into the world war (I), Togliatti handed to the Torinese Section, secretary Carlo ROSSI, his resignation from the Socialist Party.

In this letter, Togliatti, after having branded his friends as traitors, he derided the Socialist ideas, making the "interventist" position of Benito Mussolini his own.

At the end of the war, when the majority of the discontented people were rallying behind the Socialist party's plan of action, when it seemed that the Socialist party would be victorious over its opposing parties and assuring for itself an official directive in a march towards a new order, Togliatti hurriedly requested for re-enlistment into the party. He met the stern opposition of the Torinese Section who declared that they did not wish to open their door to a young man who had already given proof of non-spiritual opportunism.

It was through the intervention of two young Socialists, Angelo TASCA and Antonio GRAMSCI, who later became the leaders of the Torinese workers and founders, with Amedeo BORDIGA, of the Italian Communist Party, that Togliatti's request was granted, it seems as if they wanted to give him a chance to cancel his youthful error. Togliatti then seemed to attach himself by a sincere friendship to Tasca and Gramsci, with whom he started the publication of the Turin newspaper "Ordine Nuovo" which led the revolutionary movement of the "comitati di fabbrica" and to the communist direction of the "proletariato torinese."

After the year 1920, when the "comitati di fabbrica" movement had met with no success, when after the failure of the plan of control of the manufactures, Fascism had initiated their own action and even the paper "Ordine Nuovo" was subjected to the violent attacks of the squadrista. It was during one of these attacks, the most decisive and destructive, that Togliatti showed for the second time his non too reliable character.

All of the editorial staff and personnel of the "Ordine Nuovo" were called upon in order to face the punishment committee. All the editors staff and personnel answered "present". With one exception: and that was Togliatti.

In the official communist newspaper of Italy, "il Comunista". The director of the paper and Head of the Party, Amedeo Bordiga, invited Togliatti, in one of his editorials, to return to his post in the offices of "Ordine Nuovo". Once, or he would be expelled from the Party as a traitor. Togliatti presented himself after the proceedings of the punishment committee had already taken place, stating that he had been absent because of poor health.

At some time between 1922 and 1925 Togliatti left the Gramsci-Tasca Duo, which remained with a very few members of Party's plan of action, when it seemed that the Communist Party would be victorious over its opposing parties and assuring for itself an official directive in a march towards a new order, Togliatti hurriedly requested for reenlistment into the party. He met the stern opposition of the Torinese Section who declared that they did not wish to open their door to a young man who had already given proof of non-spiritual opportunism.

When from Russia came the new movement which was directed to subordinate completely the Communist Party of Italy to the necessities of the Soviet State leaving Bordiga with a minority claiming the autonomy of the Italian section in the international order. Togliatti immediately joined the pro-Sovietic Section.

In 1925 when the leadership of the Communist Party of Italy was confined by police, Togliatti went abroad to France succeeding to escape the proceedings of the special Tribunal which sentenced the leaders of the Communist party to many years in jail.

In France, Togliatti began to organize the Italian emigrated workmen. These workmen as the Communists of Italy after exceptional laws, began to organize themselves on a revolutionary ground. In Russia the Soviet Government assumed moderate positions.

The ability of Togliatti consisted in acting in conformity with Soviet orders, without contradicting the radical of the Italian Communists. He succeeded by equivocation, this equivocal arrived at a comic epilogue when Togliatti together with Ignazio Silone was delegated at the International Congress in Moscow, as representatives of the Communist Party of Italy.

Silone relates that during the journey Togliatti used all his prowess as a lawyer to convince him that the imperative revolutionary mission of the Communist Party of Italy had to be subordinated to the tendency of Moscow.

Arriving in Moscow the Italian representatives were joined unconditionally to the Soviet politics which foresaw the expulsion of Leone TROTSKY from the international orders.

In his room at the Hotel, where Togliatti was insisting on taking his time on carrying out his mission, and was rather suggesting not to submit the statement on Italian Communists, a heavily armed Red guard entered the room and handed him a document from the group saying, "This is from Comrade TROTSKY to the Italian Section". Togliatti's exclamation was "were there still Trotsky Red Guards? so Trotsky has still followers in the Red Army. It is better to submit the statement".

Once again, Togliatti had to be in contradiction with his decisions. Upon entering the Congress the Italian representatives found themselves in front of a plot organized in its particulars which was mentioned in the statement of the Leader of the German Communist Party Thaelmer: "The majority of the international congress agrees with Stalin, and the votes against him is an enemy of the working class".

Called to give vote, the Italian representatives were in full accord and while Togliatti approved unconditionally to Stalin's politics, Silone stated "I have become an enemy of all dictatorships and if I have to accept one, I would have preferred the Italian to the Georgian one, at least I would un-

In 1929, when Trotsky was expelled, in all the Communist Internal Parties, an epuration was started. Togliatti was the sustainer of that epuration in the Communist Party of Italy and this gained him his leadership of the here-to-fore uncontrolled power of the Party. Here we want to recall only the actions which Togliatti adopted towards the leaders of the Trotzki and Gramsci factions.

BLASCO, FEROCI and SANTINI were expelled on accusations of having been employed by the O.V.R.A.

In Italy where it was unknown that Trazzo, Leonetti and Ravazzoli, each of undisputed morality were fighting under those names; the news that spies had joined the political office of the Communist Party of Italy created the greatest astonishment and disappointment. The Italian Internal Office asked in good faith for the death of these enemies of the proletariat.

Togliatti accused Blasco of having drawn from the Parties fund 50 million francs for himself. The enquiry showed undoubtedly that the 50 million francs had been drawn by Togliatti's wife. Togliatti in order to justify the theft stated that the 50 million francs had been taken by his wife to their apartment and were burnt by mistake by his son.

The Communist organisation abroad accepted the excuse without hesitation. The dictatorship of Palmiro Togliatti in the Communist Party was initiated. The fight against Antonio Gramsci, against the man who had allowed Togliatti to re-enter the Socialist Party in 1919 with his fraternal protection, became, a pure and simple criminal affair after his Mussolinian desertion.

For five years Antonio Gramsci suffered in the prison of Turin at Bari holding high his head as a fighter, while his body was deteriorating with tuberculosis. Every day at one o'clock he was fed a special diet ordered by the doctor of the jail. Two political prisoners, Tull and Lisa, faithful followers of Togliatti under his direct orders, succeeding in bringing the guard who used to bring Gramsci's food, to take it to him at irregular hours or as late as possible, rendering it un-edible. Not satisfied with this, they bribed another prisoner to throw cold water on the fragile back of Gramsci when he took his shower bath. Not being able to defend himself Gramsci appealed to the Commandant of the prison. For reprisal he was isolated from the communist group of Turin di Bari and with him were banished two other socialist workers whom he had converted to communism. Not contented by such measures, Tull and Lisa forbade Gramsci to go for walks. Not obeying such orders they had stones thrown at him.

While Gramsci was sent to the infirmary and while a legion of revolutionists detained in prisons learning of these persecutions protested, Palmiro Togliatti announced from Paris that he had joined the Stalin Party. He added, however, that

For five years Antonio Gramsci suffered in the prison of Turi at Bari holding high his head as a fighter, while his body was deteriorating with tuberculosis. Every day at one o'clock he was fed a special diet ordered by the doctor of the jail. Two political prisoners, Tuli and Lisa, faithful followers of Togliatti under his direct orders, succeeding in bringing the guard who used to bring Gramsci's food, to take it to him at irregular hours or as late as possible, rendering it un-edible. Not satisfied with this, they bribed another prisoner to throw cold water on the fragile back of Gramsci when he took his shower bath. While Gramsci was sent to the infirmary and while a million of revolutionists detained in prisons learning of these persecutions protested, Palmiro Togliatti announced from Paris that he had joined the Stalin Party. He added, however, that as Gramsci was now no longer in good health to be able to sustain the charge of Head of the Party, he, Togliatti would substitute him. He was determined not to relinquish his position until the conquest of power in Italy - until the restoration of the proletarian dictatorship in Italy.

During the Abyssinian war, Togliatti transferred himself from Paris to Moscow, where he was attached to the communist International, in the office which issued proclamations and where official resolutions were drafted.

When Badoglio was substituted in the Ethiopian war by De Bono, when the inefficiency of the sanctions was revealed, Togliatti made his famous declaration: "When from a burning Abyssinian hut a fire can be spread over the whole of Europe, one must isolate the fire leaving only the burning Abyssinian hut".

That his assumption of this position was a real and proper attempt to destroy the fascist aggression was completely clear when after the conquest of Ethiopia, Togliatti announced from the same pulpit, that Mussolini was now satisfied and that the Communist Parties had to fight so as to conduct him to the side of peace.

During the Spanish Civil War, Palmiro Togliatti began a vicious press campaign which tended to give light to the suspicions that Hitler and Mussolini had agents working with the Spanish Communists. This press campaign was only the beginning of the Soviet intervention in Spain, which openly manifested itself more in the military field than in the behind-the-scenes political spheres which were becoming more progressively dominated by the Russian Gheppau.

Togliatti can boast that it was he who gave the ideological justification for the torturing and massacring of thousands of Spanish and European revolutionists who were murdered because they did not accept the political policy of the Third International. During the fight between the united Nazi-Soviet armies and the betrayed, abandoned Poland, Togliatti, proposed from Moscow the idea of the Nazi-German, Fascist-Italy and Soviet-Russia alliance which would violently and totally smash the Anglo-Saxon Imperialism.

After the Nazi aggression against the Soviet State which changed the military political policy of the Soviet state, Togliatti disappeared and was unheard of until the day he appeared in Italy to continue the coronation, in his personal triumph of his political career.

Up to here is the political antecedents of Palmiro Togliatti, alias, Ercole Bricoli.

From here on, the vigilant observation, the words, the decision, is left to the Italian people.

Perhaps it is unjust to judge a political leader with reference to his inferiority complex.

Nevertheless, this complex for Menni is so characteristic of his psychology that it would be wrong not to speak of it.

To have a clear picture of the unlimited sophistication of the Secretary General of the Italian Socialist Party it would be better to explore the tragic youthful experiences of Pietro Menni. He was brought up in the most squalid misery, without a caress or advice, where to a young person, men and things seem enemies. An adolescence without a roof or affection. With this experience of privation and suffering in mind he dreamt of his emancipation. But at every attempt to elevate himself an obscure fact always presented itself shutting off all hope of success, pushing him once more back to the lowest class of society whence he had come. A person frightened at the idea of having been born weak. To come out of this darkness, to win by hunger even fear, Pietro Nenni placed all his faith in intellect. This known force has not been conceived as an achievement of his personality, but more as an arm of defence, of defence and not of offence, because Nenni had the intelligence to understand that the world was stronger than he. Nenni is fascinated by power; but trembles in front of it. His constant preoccupation is; neutralising power; rendering services for retribution, arousing sympathy in order not to be afraid.

The psychology of Nenni is not that of a plebeian outlaw, but that of an astute servant. Nenni initiated his political life in the republican party in Romagna.

Why did Nenni choose the republican party and not the socialist one which is the people's party? The answer is simple: the Republican Party is the party of the rich and from them one can always gain a lot, to the poor instead one must always give. And yet Nenni is not liked by the young republican leaders, the doors of their homes are always closed to him.

Nenni is attracted to a young verpalive revolutionist who knows how to live and subject people to his will. Nenni is attracted to Benito Mussolini.

His first steps in the dangerous field of politics, his first revolutionary experience was done at the side of Mussolini. Nenni does not love him, he admires him. This admiration accompanies Nenni right through his political life. In Paris he was accused of being an admirer of Mussolini, he did not deny it; perhaps if the same question was asked today, Nenni would reveal that this admiration still exists.

Writing an antifascist book abroad entitled "Six years of civilian war" he started his narration by a conversation held in Cannes with Benito Mussolini. It is a decisive hour for Benito Mussolini, it is the immediate eve of the fight for power.

The conversation reveals to us the intimate nature of these two men, who knowing each other, cannot hide anything from each other, neither in the past nor their future.

Nenni did not oppose Mussolini's decision to apply violent measures to gain power but simply said "the middle class will beat you because they are stronger than you are". The Nenni did not oppose Mussolini's decision to apply violent measures to gain power but simply said "the middle class will beat you because they are stronger than you are". The book continues as a sort of historical development of two plebeians one without any doubt of his own strength and the other convinced of their weakness.

The drama is without scruples of any kind, the real story does not follow this arbitrary personalization.

In the popular Remagnola fight in the first quarter of the 20th century, there are two important facts: The defeat in the Italian war and the "Red Week".

During the war of Libya, Mussolini was serving six months imprisonment for having incited the people against the war, and for having guided the Remagnola revolutionists to undertake sabotage. In the same cell with Mussolini was Nenni who had followed him during the sabotage, much to the disgust of the republican party.

This common destiny takes form of a sort of silent pact, when two prisoners cried together at the news of the birth of their first children: Ida Mussolini and Giuliana Nenni.

During the "Red Week" Nenni and Mussolini find the occasion to realize the acquisition of power which was outlined by him for the first time in the magazine "Utopia".

The movement which took place in Rome had to be enlarged in a general insurrection strike, a necessary and sufficient premise to the violent acquisition of power.

The conception of the general revolutionary strike failed in Italy, and the anger, the imprecations and the persecution of the whole order raised up against Mussolini. From the socialist leaders to the generals, from the capitalists to the police, from bureaucracy to the latifondo owners, from the church to the Syndicates, come out the conservative tendencies which banish Mussolini as a revolutionist against whom a front with "serious and concrete persons" is formed.

This experience is important for Pietro Nenni, his idol has been beaten and he has to face the evidence from which a real leader cannot escape.

It is the moment of isolation in which a leader must place his will power on the religious sentiment and on the most absolute morality. Mussolini is overcome by this evidence through his incorrigible atheism and for his natural morality. But it is not Mussolini's incapacity in overcoming this evidence that convinced Nenni to search different ways than those of his master, but it was the objective manifestation of solidarity of the conservative forces united in one front against the person who had dared.

Nenni is now convinced of what he has always felt, that is, that people of his sort cannot afford such things as the unsuccessful insurrection of Mussolini. He is now sure that the only way he can succeed is by compromising with the elected forces. He hates these forces, but he knows that he cannot overthrow it. If, at times, he opposes them, denouncing them to the people, it is not because of a profound desire to fight, but, because of a pure resentment against a force which will not allow him his place in the sun. It is a desperate protest against a force which neither accepts nor recognizes him.

While Mussolini hardens behind a false exterior of a hateful mask, an exterior which will expand only on the day when Luigi Camrolonghi, an agent of the Intelligence Bureau, brings him the French funds which shall assure him his own newspaper "Il Popolo d'Italia", and the means for a political action subversive to the interests of the Allies, even the officially considered independent, while Mussolini encloses himself, for the last time, in the ivory tower of revolutionary ideals which will later tumble down into the mire of paid politics. Pietro Nenni, turns with a benevolent smile towards the National-Socialistic forces, already in movement during the war, and offers without grudge his services.

During the war Pietro Nenni denounces the Socialistic, neutrals and defeatists, and without hesitation gives a list of socialist revolutionist to be confined, required by the Bologna Police.

Nenni became popular the day when the socialist Carrozzini accused him of being an agent of the Bologna Police.

After the war Nenni was expelled from political life and had no possibility for a return to his political career and what is more important, no possibility to earn a living.

He had no intention of finding an honest job as a workman or employee, he has no profession.

Nenni, obsessed by the spectrum of total failure, searches for some means of salvation, but he trembles, he trembles at the idea of renouncing his sophisticated methods for Mussolinian violence. Hour by hour, day by day, who becomes more and more identified with the most inhuman criminals, scrutinizes the evils of the turbulent Italian political life, hoping to land himself a solid position which would conform with its nature.

After long months of waiting he was finally made an offer by SERRATI. He disregarded Nenni's doubtful past and his recent failures and offered him the position of correspondent to France for the newspaper "Avanti".

His communiques were more of a colorful than political character, in which art, Nenni excels and is commended.

Serrati strives to organize an international feeling among the Socialists. He aims by such a force to bring the Socialists up to a similar level as the communists.

Nenni returns to Italy and takes part in the struggle, and he finds himself much at home in this fluid confused atmosphere. All actions are possible and Nenni succeeds. It's at this moment that he gains the nickname of "Ciriola".

But, he does not mind the nickname, for he knows that he is now on solid ground. He has the certainty of having something tangible.

During the fight which follows, Nenni is almost beaten by Serrati. But, watching the struggle from without is some one who intervenes at the right moment: Mussolini arrests Serrati and Nenni remains as the head man.

And with this title - the title of Italian Socialist ideologist Nenni went to France. For some years he maintained a single theme, keeping the Socialist party away from the concentration of foreign antifascist parties, The Socialist party is his kingdom and a means of existence for and his family.

If the Socialists should join this bulwark (of anti-fascist parties) Nenni would lose his salary.

However the time arrives when he must join this anti-fascist association. As the years pass the financial situation of the migrated Italian workers is gradually becoming worse. No financial help is coming from Italy anymore.

His personal reserves vanish.

The hope of a return to Italy vanishes because of the growing power of the Fascist Party. Many workers give the struggle up and try to find a job in France.

The few remaining members soon learn the first police persecutions which makes it difficult for them to work. The Socialist Party is no longer able to pay Nenni his salary. Some friends suggest that he finds himself a normal job in order to earn a living for he and his family. Nenni quickly left the party and joined the anti-fascist association. He was employed in the office of the secretary. In the anti-fascist Committees, Nenni, never appears as one of the component members. The scene is dominated by Turati, Treves, Chiessa, and Granca. However, after a while, the devil seems to come to Nenni's aid and he rises again.

Under the pressure of the Nazi forces striving to gain control of Germany the situation becomes critical for the anti-fascists. Fascism is no longer an Italian phenomenon but is extending itself over Germany and Europe. The prospect of Mussolini's capitulation becomes an illusion. One after another Chiessa-Treves-Turati, die of a broken heart as a result of the European reactionary march.

From Italy comes Rosselli, with his ideas on clandestine movements. He asks for the subordination of the association in these movements. The situation divides into two factions: on one side, Rosselli and his movement "Giustizia e Libertà" (Liberty and Justice) and on the other, Nenni clinging to the methods and tactics of the Association. But he is already beaten by international events and succumbs to Rosselli's offensive. The Association is broken up and the parties regain their freedom of action.

insurrection demanded, in a manifestation dated 12 February 1934, the unity of all proletarian forces.

This political manoeuvre is a good cover for the Soviet government which has already signed a French military alliance. This alliance was initiated immediately after the meeting between fascist Laval and Communist Stalin.

Menni is enthusiastic over such helping politics. This is the protective hand he has dreamed about since his childhood. He doesn't know yet that this soviet hand will crush him and reduce him to a secret agent of the soviet dictatorship. In July 1934 in Paris there is signed a unity of action between the Italian social-communists. The friendship with Blum is finished, and it is the beginning of the courtship with Stalin.

The first test of this unity of action is provoked by the Abyssinian war. While the proletarian revolutionary forces ask for sabotage inside Italy, and for a boycott abroad, the social communists approve the imperialistic plan of sanctions. Menni hurriedly tries to whitewash the doings of the failing League of Nations for the benefit of some stupid Italians. But the secret military agreement between the Soviet and the French States give him a nasty jolt. Laval renders the sanctions inefficacious putting at Mussolini's disposition a share of near-east petrol. The "Home Fleet" is taking a walk in the Mediterranean sea while Chamberlain is awaiting the end of the Ethiopian war in order to discuss the terms of a "gentlemen's agreement", that is, the terms of a concrete collaboration between the British and the Italian imperialism. Stalin, feeling that the politics of the sanctions is being supplanted by the Anglo-French imperialistic condescension, announces straight away, that the immediate purpose of the social-Communist unity of action is an alliance with Mussolini. After the end of the Ethiopian war, during a meeting held in Paris, the socialist Pietro Nenni and the communist Di Vittorio, alias Niccolotti, announce to the bewildered workers, that now Mussolini is satisfied, he must be cleverly lead into a political sphere of peace and status quo. The nazi-fascist intervention in Spain reveals the social-communist doublecross. Mussolini is not at all satisfied. The meeting is held in the first days of the spanish revolution.

For three months the social-communist unity tries to demonstrate the necessity of a non-intervention policy in Spain. Nenni is really inexhaustible in finding pacifist lies. This is a definite help to the insurrection of Franco. However, Nenni is again contradicted by his new master. Stalin, with a sudden about face, decides to intervene in Spain. The

The first test of this unity of action is provoked by the Abyssinian war. While the proletarian revolutionary forces ask for sabotage inside Italy, and for a boycott abroad, the social communists approve the imperialistic plan of sanctions. Menni hurriedly tries to whitewash the doings of the falling League of Nations for the benefit of some stupid italians. But the secret military agreement between the Soviet and the French States give him a nasty jolt. Laval renders the sanctions inefficacious putting at Mussolini's disposition a share of near-east petrol. The "Home Fleet" is taking a walk in the Mediterranean sea while Chamberlain is awaiting the end of the Ethiopian war in order to discuss the terms of a "gentlemen's agreement", that is, the terms of a concrete collaboration between the British and the Italian imperialism. After the end of the Ethiopian war, during a meeting held in Paris, the socialist Pietro Nenni and the communist M. Vittorio, alias Niccolotti, announce to the bewildered workers, that now Mussolini is satisfied, he must be cleverly lead into a political sphere of peace and status quo. The nazi-fascist intervention in Spain reveals the social-communist doublecross. Mussolini is not at all satisfied. The meeting is held in the first days of the spanish revolution.

For three months the social-communist unity tries to demonstrate the necessity of a non-intervention policy in Spain. Nenni is really inexhaustible in finding pacifist lies. This is a definite help to the insurrection of Franco. However, Nenni is again contradicted by his new master. Stalin, with a sudden about face, decides to intervene in Spain. The first reason of his intervention is the desperate resistance of the spanish people. Besides to remain out of the fight now would have brought about a complete cleavage for the communist international with the peoples proletariat movement which had already intervened with some of Europe and America's best in the Spanish Civil War on the side of the Spanish proletarian.

Stalin thinks, that if he succeeds in subduing Franco's insurrection and in saving the spanish feudal organization, the french middle-class might change its mind.

The imperialistic reason is, that if Communism could gain control of Spain, she would then have a base for future Russian political offensives on the Mediterranean - an offensive which is aimed at Constantinople, in order to gain a free hand in the Mediterranean. Nenni, who doesn't know his history, and doesn't understand the great international problems adheres to the intervention policy only because he is given the occasion to play the part of a political "Duce" of the international brigades.

In Paris there is signed an alliance between the socialist, communist and republican parties. Said alliance sanctions the political and military intervention in Spain of the official Italian anti-fascism. The military action is directed against France, while the political action against the Spanish and international revolutionists who wish to turn the Spanish civil war into a European revolution. In his capacity as "Political Commissioner of the International Brigades", Nenni signs the death warrant issued by the Communists against all the revolutionists. He is working under the direct orders of the Russian Chepu. The financial situation of Nenni's family is no longer dependent on his wages, as he now earns more than many fascist hierarchs. The plebeian Nenni receives as much soviet gold as he wishes.

With the end of the Spanish Civil War, Nenni returns to Paris, where, much to the surprise of the Socialists he starts a new campaign emphasizing the treachery of the degeneracies, however, he artfully fails to mention the Nazi-Fascist aggression directed at the conquest of Europe. The explanation of this campaign is the secret Nazi-Soviet pact for the division of Poland.

The outbreak of the present war finds Nenni the uncontested master of the Italian socialist party. After the last congress even the old and harmless Modigliani has been expelled from the board of directors. But the soviet aggression against Poland provokes a deep indignation even amongst the dying socialist party. Nenni is obliged to resign from the secretary's office of the party and from the position of publisher of the daily newspaper "Nuovo Avanti".

Stalin's return to the democratic field gives Nenni a small possibility to again get in touch with the socialist workers.

The fall of fascism brings him back to Italy. Those who would still call him "Ciricola" would be wrong. Nenni is now tied to the Soviet, and proletarian Italy will have more unequivocal proof of this with each passing day.

It is difficult to speak about the political past of men like SPANO and REALE who had to live in the shadow of Mussolini's dictatorship. However, it is interesting to learn their attitude towards Moggiatti.

- 13 -

VELIO SPANO began his political activity in the communist party when still a student. Little can be said about his first years of political life. He ostended faithfulness towards Gramsci's ideas, however, such faithfulness is due more to the fact that they are both from Sardinia, than to a real understanding of the communist ideals. Another rather alarming fact is, that he continually requests money from the "seccorso rosso". Spano broke off with his father and brothers who were all fascist officials, and asked the party to give him the necessary means for his living and his law studies.

In 1927 the Special Tribunal sentences him to six years of imprisonment. In jail Spano openly showed his admiration for Trotsky provoking measures of control and isolation on the part of the more zealous fascist party members.

In 1932 there is heard from the prison of Pesaro of the persecution of GRAMSCI. SPANO at that time joined the more radical faction of the Communist party. This faction had for its objective, the overthrowing of the leadership of the party and the institution of a new revolutionary leadership. Released from jail by an act of amnesty on the Fascist's 10th anniversary, the 28 October 1932, SPANO illegally expatriates himself to France. He, and other persons, began a fight against the Central Committee of the Communist Party. Tegliatti, now is not yet certain about his control over the party, decides to liquidate the opposition through expulsions, reprisals and corruption, avoiding in this way a quiet and serious discussion with the opposite thesis.

SPANO is expelled from the party for immorality. He is accused of illicit relations with a woman whose husband is working in Italy with the clandestine relations with a woman whose husband is working in Italy with the clandestine communist party. Owing to this fact, Spano's old lady friend, also prosecuted in 1927, left him soon after her release from jail.

In the eyes of the French state, Spano's situation in France is illegal. (He had entered illegally and is without identity or labor cards). He is helped by a Sardinian shoemaker and shares with him his meager earnings. He said that he would return to the party only if it would accept the Communist revolutionary ideas. After three months of leading such a miserable life Spano surrendered to Excoffier and wrote a letter to the party asking to be re-instated.

Back in the communist field, Spano, openly supports all communist activities. In a final explanation to his comrades, who in spite of being expelled from the Party never surrendered, he maintained that "only by living among the workers, learning of their oppressions and the misery in which they live, can one understand that the Communist Party party to give him the necessary means for his living and his law studies.

In a final explanation to his comrades, who in spite of being expelled from the party never surrendered, he maintained that "Only by living among the workers, learning of their oppressions and the misery in which they live, can one understand that the Communist Party is right." Our purpose is the same: the overthrowing of the leadership of the party. However, I have my own ideas concerning the methods. It is not a question of discussing thesis or of organizing sections, it is only necessary to discredit Togliatti in front of Stalin, and then put an end to his life. Afterwards we shall give him a third class funeral, and you must allow me to read his funeral oration.

- 14 -

The answer of the opposition was as follows: "yes, it is not a question of discussing political matters, but of stating that you are a very immoral person." Spino disappeared among the communists reappearing only during the Spanish revolution when he was entrusted with the repression of the Italian revolutionists who fought with the Spanish proletariat against the policy of Stalin. The tortures ordered by him in the premises of the Russian Chaper in Barcellona are worse than the Spanish Inquisition. Since that time he has been known in the European revolutionary circles under the name of Spino the Executioner.

After he left Spain he travelled throughout Europe as secret agent of the Soviet State.

At present he is the director of the communist newspaper "l'Unita" in Rome.

He has not yet suppressed Palmiro Togliatti, but has succeeded in making for himself an important position in the communist party. The Italian people will be able to judge him, and if necessary, recite his funeral oration.

A few words about Eugenio REALE.

This Neapolitan doctor joined the communist party in Italy in 1900. At that time he was famous for his boundless SATYR. Upon joining the communist party he required for it a print shop which was located on the premises of a famous Neapolitan brothel, in which brothel he held the honoured position of pimp.

REALE, who received a heavy sentence distinguishes himself in jail in his jealous defence of Togliatti and his policies.

Freed from jail by an act of amnesty he makes a short trip to Moscow. From here he is sent to France where he starts the famous communist epuration among the antifascists (at Togliatti's orders). The system is always the same; organisation of groups of scoundrels render life impossible for the honest proletarians.

But the financial backing being stronger, it makes for a journalistic campaign which expel some revolutionists from France under the accusation of being Fascist agents. Leading to the capture of certain revolutionary policy of Stalin. The torture ordered by him in the premises of the Russian Chepou in Barcellona are worse than the Spanish Inquisition. Since that time he has been known in the European revolutionary circles under the name of Spino the Executioner.

Leading to the capture of certain revolutionary elements during anti-fascist meetings and their exportation from France to Siberia, leading to the assassination of qualified members who opposed the Russian program.

At the outbreak of the present world war, Reale, is wanted by the French Government under suspicion of being a Nazi-Soviet agent.

- 15 -

Returning to Italy after the capitulation of Mussolini, Reale is today employed by the Undersecretariat of Foreign Affairs.

It is the duty of the Italian people to find out and to repress this group of international misfactors commanded by Eugenio Reale, Head of the security section of the communist party, whose intentions are to place upon the Italian people the responsibility of new and terrible crimes.

and for information to

The Secretary of the National Communist Party - ROME

I, the undersigned Capria Leopoldo fu Gaetano, son of an American Officer, pensioned by the Veteran Administration on account of the U.S.A. Government as I am a war orphan. I am inscribed to the American Legion - Rome, reference number R/3666, begs to expose the following.

There exists in this small hamlet a certain Mr. Francesco Raffa di Raffaele, who not being able to become a squadrista or Legionario fiumano as he was too young, he was legionary volunteer for Africa. Spain and in this war, was made prisoner by the Allies in Sicily, from whom he escaped and since that day is exploiting anti-allied propaganda.

He was against all those that used to listen to Radio London; was hit by a political confinee. Today he is only the secretary of a starving unemployed delinquent group; men who have committed many crimes. He is convincing all the young men called to arms not to go and fight with the delinquent Allied thieves.

Your Excellency, it is not just that this man who abused of us during fascism should continue to do so under another cloak. He who used to speak of his Duce as if he was a God, now he is trying to put hate in the heart of all those who should be fighting for their country. It is no use to complain about him to the R.R.C.C. because he boasts to be protected by them, especially by the maresciallo of Nicotera.

In the case that your Excellency wishes to take other information, it is better to request the Questura of Catanzaro because the local R.R.C.C. would give no satisfaction. I beg you that if an inquest is open up to please not give my name because these delinquents will do everything in their power to harm me.

Respectfully,

/s/ Leopoldo Capria (American subject)

To : Allied Office, Via Sicilia, Room 107, Rome.

In November last Major Heath from the Allied Commission made an enquiry in order to find out the reason why Comm. Stanzoni, who gave at first very good information about me, suddenly contradicted himself a few days later. Sergeant Crawford from the same office told me to write a memorandum explaining all my past, and I wrote it very willingly as there is nothing I can be ashamed of. I did it also because Sergeant Crawford promised to tell me the result of the inquiry, and especially the reason why Comm. Stanzoni said to Major Heath that I was not a good element.

I thought that my memorandum was clear enough as I stated in it that I was ready to give any further explanations if requested. However, I didn't hear anything more about the result of the above said enquiry. Being sure that the Allied Authorities would keep the promise they gave me on the 22 February last, I wrote to Major Heath asking him if he found out something new. With the letter ref. E/1455 dated 6th inst. Mr. Gene Caprio Asst. Regional Security and Intelligence Office, Headquarters Allied Military Government in Rome, communicated me the following.

"With reference to your letter dated 22 February last, I am sorry to tell you that we don't know anything about the question which interests you as it doesn't concern our office anymore. However, you can apply to our office at via Sicilia where they will certainly be able to give you an answer". I beg you therefore to inform me about the result of this enquiry, and would be very grateful to you if you could tell me to what Allied or Italian Authorities the above mentioned result has been communicated.

I would be also very pleased if you could read a statement sent by the National Liberation Committee to the Partisan's Office, Personnel Section of the Presidency of the Cabinet Council. I think that such statement is not in contrast with the declarations I made in November last.

I beg you to transmit my best greetings to Sergeant Crawford, and tell him that I shall be very pleased to see him if he will have the occasion to come to Livorno.

che nonostante corso il Maggiore Heath della Commissione Allato, dispone un'inchiesta per appurare come mai il Comm. Stangoni prima gli aveva dato più che ottime response a mio riguardo e poi, dopo qualche giorno, si era completamente ricambiato.

Il sergente Crawford di questo ufficio fu incaricato di chiedermi un memoriale in cui io dovevo narrare tutto il mio passato.

Io non avevo alcun obbligo di fare ciò; lo feci però molto volentieri perché in tutto il mio passato io non nulla di inaccettabile. Lo feci anche perché sia il sergente Crawford che l'ufficiale da cui egli dipendeva mi avevano avuto che certamente le autorità allato mi avrebbero comunicato i risultati della inchiesta.

Tali risultati dovevano consistere essenzialmente nella ripetizione dei motivi per cui il Comm. Stangoni si era permesso di dire al Maggiore Heath che io ero persona non menefreghista.

Credo che il mio memoriale che consegnai al sergente
Crawford, fosse completo ed esauriente. In tale occasione mi confermai il fatto che io ero io mi dichiarai pronto a fornire qualsiasi chiarimento che fosse richiesto o potrebbe e che nulla più mi fu chiesto.

Forse per il fatto che io lasciai Roma per tornare nella mia normale residenza di Livorno, nessuna comunicazione fin' a più stato fatto circa i risultati dell'inchiesta.

Convinto che la autorità all'ente avrebbe al riguardo mandando la promessa fatta, il 22 febbraio u.s. scris-tanze dell'inchiesta.

"In relazione alla sua lettera letta del 22 febbraio u.s.
sono grato di averla comunicata che, per quanto mi concerne, non ho possibilità di dare alcuna concezione in merito alla questione che la interessa in quanto essa è ora al di fuori della competenza di questo ufficio.

Ma, però, tuttavia, rivolgersi all'ufficio di cui si
cita dal quale è stato interrogato, che certamente sarà in grado di risolvere la sua richiesta."

Desidero perciò vivamente questo ufficio di volermi continuamente comunicare i precisi risultati dell'in-chiesta fatta. Sarei molto lieto se mi si volere dire se a quale autorità all'ente o l'Alleanza

Sarei molto lieto se questo ufficio volesse prendere lagnare non rita un disaccordo con quanto è stabilito nel novembre scorso.

Prego di voler comunicare al reagenti Bradford, re egli

Once more we ask you to please provide to rid us of the noted dangerous fascist, who takes part in the "Diretorio della Sezione" di Tor di Cenci a village in Castel Romano, where lives MICARELLI Filippo the mentioned fascist.

1. He allows no peace to any family with the same fascist sentiments.
2. He boasts that soon fascism will return and that once more he will wear the black shirt and thus frightens everyone.
3. During the period of evacuation he denounced several young men who had run away from the nazis, and many mothers cried for their sons, two of these families were the family BELLOTI and DE ANGELIS.
4. He boasts that no one will be able to harm him, in fact he was searched for by the Allied authorities but knew how to hide himself, where he lives there are several of his family, but when one asks where he is to be found, they answer that they do not know him.
5. He is protected by the Carabinieri Reali, because they eat well in his house as well as enjoying themselves, starting with the Commandant of the Station of Tor di Cenci).
6. We ask you to please call to your Command Engineer Ercole Antonio, who lives at Palazzo di Propaganda Fide in Piazzaignanelli, because he protects MICARELLI, as he as well is an ardent fascist, telling him to send away at once MICARELLI from that place in Castel Romano, otherwise other provisions will be taken, because it is not human to protect such a man.

Once more we pray you to free us from that poisonous serpent because we do not want to compromise ourselves.

I will not sign myself because I am afraid of being attacked by that man. Each family living there will be able to inform you.

Picigliano 12 March 1945

TO: Allied Commission

R O M E

I alone helped to clear the Comune of Picigliano from the fascists with the help of the Allies; and having promised the Allied Command of Eboli my cooperation..... I keep faithfully to my word. Now I ask for the good of the commune your intervention on a measure taken by the Prefect, which goes against me, who has struggled so much.

The fact is that we are still living under the same fascist mentality, and in conformity they are acting without thinking of the lawful aspiration of the population.

In fact as everywhere the so said Committee of liberation as sprung up here, its members are the ex-fascist directors. Turbulent elements dishonest and not worthy of the name of liberators.

Those that are taking part in this committee are:

Vito Indelli of Antonio, Head of the socialist section, in confidence he declared that he had found a way of playing with the government. So gaining a holiday three months by three months he goes about the piazza doing nothing.

Pasquale Malpede of Francesco Head of the liberal party, who up to last night, at a meeting in the presence of a propagandist of Salerno, affirmed that he had invoked Mussolini and the return of fascism on the 8 September 43.

Vito Serritella of the late Savino (alias molestino.) was the person who had arrested Muro Lucano, although the Lieutenant of the Carabinieri was openly contrary to the fascist movement. Suggested for confinement with the actual Mayor, PAGANO, at the discussion, he placed all the fault on Pagano making himself out to be innocent. Now in the Piazza he preaches honesty when he owes to Pagano the sum of 2600 Lire which he refuses to give him.

All the three are influenced by two ex-political secretaries Giovanni Indelli di Vito and Donato Pascente of Giovanni; also a certain Raffaele Mangone of the late Alfonso, who boasts to having caused himself injuries so as to avoid fighting in the last Great War, for this he was denounced by Comm. Pintozzi Vincenzo of the late Prospero, and was nearly placed under death conviction.

All these things put together are led by this Comm. Pintozzi who would like to return to the Commune to be master and to take advantage once more of the ill-treated people, under the mask of good advisor of the new elected Mayor Jacullo Cristofaro of Vito, a common shepherd, on the day he was to take his place, the people justly revolted. It is therefore asked that these persons who call themselves liberators will be got rid of, because if they really wanted to liberate the people they would go and fight to free the rest of Italy from the German invaders.

SUBJECT : Santirocco Ermanno, formerly "Podestà" of Capistrello.
TO : A.C. Public Safety S.C.

From investigations effected through the Prefettura of Aquila it results the following:

"The CC.RR. Corps detected that the a/m person was " really an active collaborator of Germans.

"He pointed out to German SS all local civilians
"who helped Allied prisoners escaped from concentration camps
"causing thus their arrest.

"He was liked much by Lttn Nbgén von Lindberg, A German
"lieutenant author of many crimes acted at Capistrello, and he "shared with him the goods despotically sequestrated to civil"ians.

"It is also ascertained that Santirocco has sequestrat-
"ed some shoes and sold them thro the black market.

"Besides it is also proved that the a/m person,
"availing himself of his charge, forwarded inciting cards
"to disbanded soldiers for them to represent to military "service and in case of no obedience to such solicitations
"he ordered they would be sought for and their rations
"taken away.

"He used such system also for civilians to be sent "to the German Labour Front.

"As the inhabitants of Capistrello showed to dis-
"like both Germans and Fascists, he urged from German "kidnapping during which Giordano Paolo, who tried to "escape, was hit by a German shot that permanently invalid-
"ed his left arm.

"A young native, responsible of having stolen
" a cigarette packet belonging to a German warrant
" officer, was shot. In such circumstance Santirocco
" said to Mrs. Emma Stinelli Oddi: "When thefts are " in question, Germans do not pardon, and here in " Italy, such system is necessary.

"De Antonis and Strivala were his fellow-comrades.

"Interested CC.RR. have been ordered to denounce "Santirocco to the judiciary authorities in accordance "with D.L.L. 27 July 1944 No. 159."

OGGETTO Sant'Uccò Emanuele, ex podestà di Capistrello

Con riferimento, da ultimo, alla nota di codesta On. Commissione N. 82.140GG-2 del 30 Maggio p.p., si comunica il risultato degli accertamenti disposti, a mezzo della Prefettura dell'Aquila, sul conto dello individuo nominato in oggetto:

" Da accertamenti eseguiti dall'Arma CC.PP. è risultato che il nome in oggetto fu effettivamente attivo collaboratore dei tedeschi.

Egli indicava alle SS tedesche i nominativi dei cittadini di Capistrello, che davano aiuto ai prigionieri alleati fuggiti dai campi di concentramento, provocando in tal modo il loro arresto.

Era molto ben visto dal tenente tedesco Leuth Nogen da Lindberg, autore di gravi misfatti compiuti in Capistrello e col quale divideva derrate e quanto altro veniva arbitrariamente sequestrato a privati.

Consta anche che il Sant'Uccò sequestrò delle carpe che poi vendette al mercato nero.

E' risultato, inoltre, che detto individuo nella sua qualifica di podestà curava l'invio di cartoline ai militari sbarcati invitandoli a ripresentarsi alle armi; agli indempienti faceva togliere le tessere annonarie e ne disponeva la ricerca.

Lo stesso sistema adottava per i civili, perché andassero a lavorare sul fronte del lavoro tedesco.

un rastrellamento di civili, durante il quale tale Giordano Paolo che aveva tentato di fuggire fu colpito da una pallottola di mitra tedesca che gli fracassò il braccio sinistro, rimanendo inabile permanentemente.

In occasione della fucilazione di un giovane di Capistrello, responsabile di aver rubato un pacchetto di sigarette ad un maresciallo tedesco, il Santirocco parlando con la signora Emma Stinellis Ved.Oddi, si esprimeva in questi termini: "quando si tratta di furti, i tedeschi non perdonano e qui in Italia ci vuole la legge ed il sistema tedesco".

Il De Antonis, poi, altro degno compagno del podestà, e con lo Stivala formava, un magnifico trio.

Sono state date disposizioni all'Arma interessata, perché proceda subito a denuncia del Santirocco all'Autorità Giudiziaria, in base al D.L.L. 27 luglio 1944 N.159."

A V E Z Z A N O

The undersigned Muzilli Francesco of the late Abramo denounces the following:

On the 23 Feb.44 five English prisoners were recaptured by the Germans who had escaped from a concentration camp on the 9 Sept.43, they had found refuge with some families of Capistrello.

Amongst these five prisoners were two officers who found hospitality in my home, I have since heard from the family of one of these officers that one of them has died in Germany.

On the 16 Feb.44, SONTIROCCO Ermanno was appointed Podesta of the fascist republic in Capistrello. The mentioned, distinguished himself as a strong collaborator of the Germans. Therefore the persons responsible for the capturing of the five Englishmen were: Sontirocco Ermanno of the late Enrico, Podesta of the Fascist republic in Capistrello - The Commandant of the CC.RR. Brigadier De Antonis Domenico, living in Monte S.Giovanni Campano (Prosinone) and the carabinieri Stivale Giovanni (sicilian).

They were seen with the Germans when they were searching for the prisoners, by Mrs. Emma Stinellis.

As I had bidden the two officers I had to run away in order not to be arrested, During the time I was absent my house was searched and several things were taken.

As nothing has been done so far I have taken the liberty of sending you the three names stated above.

Capistrello. 26 March 45
