Dear Sam:

My hearty congratulations on the Bronze Star, more than richly deserved. As you know, I recommended Legion of Merit for both you and Willis, but I guess we can settle on this. It is at least a partial recognition of your good work. Willis got it too. Simoni got a citation.

Where is your report on the Val d'Aosta and its French text books?

2021-Noe, Samuel V. (J)

SUBJECT: Recommendation for Award of the Legion of Merit.

TO : Commanding General, MACUSA, AFHQ 512, U. S. Army.

1. Under the provisions of paragraph 1c, AR 600-45, it is recommended that Samuel V. Noe, US21655, Captain, Specialist Reserve, 2675th Regiment, Allied Commission, be awarded the Legion of Merit for exceptionally meritorious conduct in the performance of outstanding services from 9 February 1944 to 8 May 1945.

2. As Regional Education Officer for Region III, Piemonte Region, and Venetia Region, Allied Military Government, Captain Noe has been faced with innumerable problems concerning the advancement of education in Italy. He has met with the obstacles of lack of material and transport, the destruction and requisition of school and university buildings, and the lack of sufficient books and educational material to carry out the program. The problems of reorganizing school systems of all regions with which he has been associated were manifold in nature. Classroom space was needed for the many school buildings which had been requisitioned by Army organizations. Text books either had to be expurgated of Fascist doctrines or in other instances new texts were required. It was necessary to screen all teachers prior to their employment. Others who had been banned by Fascist authority were reinstated. School supplies were unobtainable. The entire school system required revitalization with a new interest and new purpose.

3. Captain Noe set about to arrange the derquisitioning of as much classroom space, buildings and universities as possible so that educational programs already formulated by him could be carried out. Through his own personal efforts all text books needed in initial classes were expurgated of Fascist and Nazi indoctrination and he personally made arrangements and carried out the plans for printing of thousands of new text books eventually distributed for use in the reorganized school system. At a time when the lack of necessary facilities required for engineering courses made it impossible for such courses to be presented at the University of Pisa, Captain Noe introduced the American system of extension courses to relieve this problem. Under his guidance, damaged schools were repaired or classrooms were improvised. Through his efforts school supplies and educational material were furnished by organizations and private individuals throughout the entire Province. In every branch of this system, from the elementary schools to the universities, the program of revitalization was further energized by Captain Noe's dynamic spirit in a manner that produced manifest and marked results. His work was not only a benefit to civilization in the regions to which he had been assigned, but served as an example for other education officers in the field in establishing school and educational systems.

Ltr. Recommendation for Award of the Legion of Merit (Cont'd)

4. Through the work of Captain Noe, Italians are now attending school and college classes in which the doctrines of democratic and free government are presented on a wide basis. His efforts are placing before the eyes of the local civilians the system of free and unbiased education. Through his efforts Captain Noe has succeeded in securing agreements of high Army authority to prevent the requisitioning of school and university buildings. The program has expanded to such an extent and has been carried out with such a degree of marked success that the present school system in the areas in which Captain Noe has worked has returned to approximately the normal position of education prior to the war in Italy.

5. Captain Noe's initiative and ingenuity in setting up what could be considered an entirely new educational system, his unselfish attention to duty with complete disregard to personal health and his tireless efforts are in keeping with the finest traditions of the United States Army. The results of his work reflect greatest credit upon himself, his organization, and Allied Forces in Italy.

6. The Officer was a Captain at the time of his assignment to duty with Allied Military Government. He has performed duty in the assignments of Regional Educational Officer, Toscana Region, and Piemonte Region, Allied Military Government. The officer is presently a Captain and is assigned as Regional Educational Officer, Piemonte Region, Allied Military Government.

7. The commanding officer of this award has personal knowledge of the services rendered by Captain Noe.

8. All subsequent services of Captain Noe have been honorable.

9. The officer has received no previous awards.

PURPOSED CITATION

Captain Samuel V. Noe, 0521655, Specialist Reserve, 2d 75th Regiment, Allied Commission, for exceptionally meritorious achievement in the performance of outstanding services from 5 February 1944 to 6 May 1945. As Regional Education Officer, Region III, Piemonte Region, and Toscana Region, Allied Military Government, Captain Noe was faced with many obstacles in creating a new system of education in Italian schools and universities. Through his efforts educational material and transport were obtained, schools and universities which had been destroyed were rebuilt, such buildings requisitioned by Allied Military authorities were de-requisitioned for educational use and text books were either expurgated of Fascist doctrines or new books were printed. His duties also entailed the screening of teachers for employment under the new educational system, the reinstatement of others who had been banned by Fascist authority, and the entire school system was revitalized with a new interest in a free and democratic education. Through his personal efforts the universities of Siena, Pisa and Florence were reopened. In many cases improvised classrooms were used in promulgating the education programs. Captain Noe's resourcefulness, energy and efficiency and his unbounded devotion to duty are in keeping with the finest traditions of the United States Army and reflect greatest credit upon himself, his organization and the Allied forces in Italy. Entered the military service from Louisville, Kentucky.

Dear Colonel Washburne:

General McNarney has asked me to reply to your personal letter to him of 8 June.

It is regretted that it was necessary to suspend promotions, but this was essential to carry out a War Department directive. As soon as the redeployment schedule is firm and it becomes known what officers will be retained in the theater for a protracted period, promotions will be resumed on a limited basis. I hope that at that time it will be possible to promote the outstanding officers whom you mentioned in your letter.

Dear Colonel Washburne:

I am enclosing herewith a formal letter to the Chief Commissioner which I would be glad to have you deliver, either as coming through the sub-commission of which you are in charge, or it can be, if you prefer, sent direct. I am sending a copy to General Spofford with a note asking him to push the matter as best he can. Certainly both officers have deserved promotions and I would be glad if I could do anything in the way of helping to bring it about. It is manifestly unfair to withhold recognition to officers of the Education Subcommission when it is given to men in many other sub-commissions whose work is equally distinct from what is ordinarily considered military duty.

With cordial greetings, I am,

Sincerely yours,

SUBJET : Promotions of PRATT and MOE.

8 June, 1945

TO : Brig. Gen. HUNTER,
SCAO Fifth Army.

Dear General:

The failure of Captains PRATT and MOE to get promotions is causing me much concern. I need your help.

They have been recommended in strongest terms, repeatedly, by their Regional Commissioners and by this Subcommission. After great delay the AC promotions board recommended them. Then, just as their names were reached by AFHQ, AFHQ put out a new TO for AC according to which AC had something between 40 and 50 too many majors, and their promotions were rejected.

I am informed that prior to January AFHQ told the AC promotions board not to submit names of any education officers for promotion, on the ground that they were supposed to be "civilized". It was a false premise and not uniformly practiced since 2nd Lt. SIMONI was promoted in November. In January the ban was lifted, and in February the AC Promotions Board passed PRATT, MOE, and me. They sent our names in, however, on separate successive lists. My name was on the first list submitted. There were three lists, sent in two weeks apart, thereafter I urged that PRATT's and MOE's names go in ahead of mine, but was told that postponing my name would not help them since I was on the list for lieutenant colonels and their names were in one of the lists for majorities. My name, going in first, I was promoted. Incidentally, I think, the AC Promotions Board put PRATT and MOE on the last list. The two preceding lists of captains were both passed in their entirety. On the third, and last, list, the only Captain promoted was Harry HUNTER, an excellent man, but not senior to PRATT and MOE and with a less responsible position. There AFHQ stopped and two days later issued the edict on the TO.

I wrote the analoged letter to the Commanding General, submitting it through channels. The AC Promotions Board refused to forward it. I wrote personally to General SPOFFORD. He said he would write to Colonel FLAGG and would recommend that G-1, AFHQ loosen up on the TO. But there still appears to be no action.

Captain PRATT's health has broken and he will probably have to be relieved. An important factor in the break has been his worry and humiliation over the fact that despite his brilliant work he has to go home with the same rank as he had when he sacrificed his important work as a college president to respond to the Government's request that he join AFHQ. On his family, when he goes back, he will have men who have been promoted above him in the army, and this rankles greatly - his staff and constituency back Army Pennsylvania will not know that his failure to get recognition is not due to my lack of effort and efficiency on his part.

Captain NOE's health has not suffered, but he is embittered and chagrinned. When he gets a letter from his little boy back home saying, "Daddy, when are you going to be promoted?" you can imagine how he feels.

Of course there are countless men who have not been promoted and feel that they should be. But in the case of these two, there is an obvious and gross injustice - in the same organization man after man has been promoted with less time in grade, less responsibility, less service up in Army and Corps Areas, less efficient performance. By no criterion or group of criteria can it be shown that the majority of the captains in AC and AMG promoted since 15 December, 1944 outclass NOE and PRATT - the contrary is the case.

These two men have served under you. You know them and their ability and efficiency. I have great confidence in your being able to get what you go after for your men. Colonels KIRKWOOD and BOWMAN have done their damndest - and failed. Brigadier UPJOHN has done all a British Officer can do, and not success. General SPOTWOOD has done all he felt he could, with propriety, do - and no results have appeared to date. But I believe if you will really go to bat for these men, you can right the wrong that has been done them. Will you help?

Cordially,

CARLETON W. PARKER

Director of Education.

29. Capt. WOE has been Regional Education Officer successively in Region 5, Toscana, and Piemonte, and 5th Army Education Officer. In his efficient organization of his successive Regions, against obstacles of lack of material and transport and requisitions and destruction of schools, he has succeeded in re-establishing education in schools and universities. He has been especially successful in his dealings with both Italian educational authorities and Army officers, establishing good will and cooperation in all his activities. He showed initiative and ingenuity in establishing university classes in Pisa, Florence and Siena for students unable to reach their own universities, and in establishing classes in Italian universities for Allied personnel. He has proved loyal and highly efficient in all his work.
11. Capt. WOE has shown exceptional ability in re-establishing education in three Regions and in 5th Army areas, bringing about cooperation and goodwill among both Italian authorities and Allied officers. He has shown ingenuity in overcoming the obstacles of lack of transport and materials. He has shown great initiative in setting up branches of the university of Pisa in Florence and vice versa so that students unable to travel and took respective universities were able to carry their work forward, and in somewhat similar arrangements at the University of Siena. He has been effective in preventing requisitions and securing demobilizations of school and university buildings. He has command the liking and respect of all with whom he has dealt.

Dear Sam:

The Promotion Board met Wednesday and Thursday. Before the meeting I contacted one way or another every member of the Board refreshing their memories on the urgency of your promotion and Willi's.

Colonel CHAPMAN, in charge of promotions for the Civil Affairs Section, tells me that you were both recommended for promotion and that the recommendations are going forward to AFHQ.

Keep your fingers crossed. But if AFHQ turns it down I shall try to get permission to go down there myself and plead the cause unless FISKE will take an aggressive initiative - and I have no reason to suppose that he won't.

We may not get the thing immediately. But we'll get it.

1. Since recommendations for promotion of all regional officers originate, I believe, with the Regional Commissioner but since, also, the Directors of Sub-Commissions are allowed to add their impressions of Specialist Officers, I beg you when and as you care to recommend the promotion of Capt. S. V. Noe (his time in grade is up this month) to be good enough to attach my own recommendation of him, viz:

2. Capt. S. V. Noe has served the cause of Education well for some months in Region III. Having Headquarters at his seat of administration, I saw much of him and his work. He is cautious in approach, continuous in effort, and capable in judgment. With difficult problems of a great city disorganized, he was able to help the schools back toward normality, to effect the political purification of schools, and to initiate lunch feedings for thousands of otherwise lean children. I commend him highly for his services, and heartily second his recommendation for promotion.
