SUMMARY OF DISTRIBUTION
(Latest Reports dated 18 to 27 January)

Foreword

Text books for the elementary schools of liberated Italy are being published in Palermo, Naples, Rome and Florence. Materials for printing were requisitioned from the United States the end of March 1944. Arrangements for printing were begun late in June, 1944, but lack of materials in Palermo and Naples, and shortage of electricity in Rome and Florence, delayed production. The first books were completed in Rome, 25 Nov.; in Palermo, 28 Nov.; in Naples, 1 Dec.; and in Florence 22 Dec. But full rate production did not get under way until the latter half of December. By the end of December nearly a million books were printed, and the printing has been proceeding rapidly ever since.

Distribution has involved the problem of transport. With such a large volume of books and the well known shortage of transport facilities, books are coming off the press faster than they can be got into the communes.

The following sheets summarize the distribution from each of the centers as of latest reports (dated 18 to 27 January). These summaries show a little over half a million books distributed, mostly during the three or four weeks after full-scale operation got under way during the latter part of December. The reports are, of course, out of date before they are filed, as each day trucks and trains are being loaded.

Yet, extensive and rapid as the work has been, only enough books were distributed by the latter part of January for about one eighth of the elementary school children of liberated Italy. The other seven-eighths are being supplied as rapidly as the existing situation permits. Approximately 25,000 additional books are being distributed each day.

SUMMARY OF DISTRIBUTION
(Latest Reports dated 18 to 27 January)

Foreword

Text books for the elementary schools of liberated Italy are being published in Palermo, Naples, Rome and Florence. Materials for printing were requisitioned from the United States the end of March 1944. Arrangements for printing were begun late in June, 1944, but lack of materials in Palermo and Naples, and shortage of electricity in Rome and Florence, delayed production. The first books were completed in Rome, 25 Nov.; in Palermo, 28 Nov.; in Naples, 1 Dec.; and in Florence 22 Dec. But full rate production did not get under way until the latter half of December. By the end of December nearly a million books were printed, and the printing has been proceeding rapidly ever since.

Distribution has involved the problem of transport. With such a large volume of books and the well known shortage of transport facilities, books are coming off the press faster than they can be got into the communes.

The following sheets summarize the distribution from each of the centers as of latest reports (dated 18 to 27 January). These summaries show a little over half a million books distributed, mostly during the three or four weeks after full-scale operation got under way during the latter part of December. The reports are, of course, out of date before they are filed, as each day trucks and trains are being loaded.

Yet, extensive and rapid as the work has been, only enough books were distributed by the latter part of January for about one eighth of the elementary school children of liberated Italy. The other seven-eighths are being supplied as rapidly as the existing situation permits. Approximately 25,000 additional books are being distributed each day.

TO Capt. Beard,

1. For my report to the Vice President next week I need a detailed up-to-date list of the distribution of our text-books, book by book, and quantity of each, from the publishers to the booksellers, in substantially the following forms, for each of the four printing centers:

Please prepare similar tables to be in my hands
March 5 and April 5.

For arrival and distribution of materials please give me before the 5th of each month an up to date table like the last one you showed me. The next one due should be in my hand 5 February. 1910

Not as a monthly report but as a ready record for reference, keep up the ~~semi~~-weekly reports from printing centers, and have Regional Education Officers get them in, fully completed every two weeks. Report to me when they fail to come.

SUBJECT : Extra Programs

TO : Regional Education Officer,
Toscan Region

Reference your RVIII/2/10/1/40 of 22 Dec. 1944

1. The programs printed in Rome were divided equably among regions in accordance with the schedule sent to you. To send you more copies would shorten correspondingly the northern regions.
2. Publishers here find it commercially profitable to reprint the programs for sale. Permission to do this may be freely given under the conditions as to quality and price previously specified.
3. I suggest that you arrange to have a local publisher reprint for sale to the public and at the same time print for your Region the extra copies you desire.

SUBJECT : Programs of Study.

TO : Hq., AC. - Education Subcommittee -

1. Will you please send to us a small quantity of the new programs of study ?

2. Those programs already received were distributed all over the Region and, since no printing house is disposed to print them, we are in lack of them for further use in the future.

OGGETTO : Libri di testo per le scuole elementari.

AL : On. Ministero della
Pubblica Istruzione.

1. Riferendomi all'ultimo paragrafo della relazione No 2 del rappresentante per i libri di testo elementari in Sicilia indirizzata a codesto On. Ministero.
2. I libri attualmente giacenti presso la Messaggerie di Palermo, insieme con i libri della vecchia edizione di Napoli potrebbero essere spediti in Sardegna, dove a tutti i costi vogliono distribuire materiale scolastico a un prezzo conveniente.
3. Suggestirei che, mentre i libri provenienti da Napoli che fanno parte della serie già in vendita nell'isola di Sardegna verrebbero venduti normalmente, i libri in giacenza presso la Messaggerie della Sicilia vengano depositati presso i R.Provveditorati della Sardegna per la distribuzione e vendita attraverso i Patronati Scolastici (che stanno per costituirsi).
4. I Patronati dovrebbero essere autorizzati a vendere l'edizione siciliana allo stesso prezzo di quella napoletana, e la differenza dovrebbe andare a beneficio dei fondi degli stessi Patronati.
5. I rispettivi rappresentanti ministeriali dovrebbero controllare che i libri siano bene imballati secondo le norme già suggerite dalle autorità Sarde e trasmesse tramite il Cap. Wagstaff. Questo per evitare inconvenienti di controllo.

3906

6. Scrivero' ai Commissari Regionali per chiedere la loro cooperazione per il trasporto di questi libri, se questa soluzione riscuote l'approvazione di codesto On. Ministero.
