Captain Ino CAVANI commanded the Italian Cipher team attached to the Communications Sub-Commission, Allied Commission. This Section was an important part of Allied Commission Communications handling all traffic between Headquarters and the Regions. It operated 2 years under Capt. CAVANI without a complaint by an addressee or addressor, which is a most enviable record.

Capt. CAVANI is an excellent officer, and is an extremely competent communications man. The AC Signal Officer availed himself of many times of Capt. CAVANI's knowledge of power and electronics. The conduct of the Italian Section was such that A.C. Signal Officer never was called upon in any but a supply capacity. It has been a great pleasure to work with a capable man.

SUBJECT: Italian Teletype

THROUGH: Director, Communications Sub Commission

TO : Office of Executive Commissioner

1. It is recommended that the Italian teletype facilities of the Signal Section be discontinued.

2. One teletype line is maintained and operated to the Italian State Postal and Telegraph switchboard by nine Italian Military personnel attached to AC from the Italian General Staff. When financial responsibility for communications is assumed by the Allied Governments, there will certainly be some expense to AC for these facilities, if not for personnel, surely for the direct line to San Silvestro and the traffic charge of 2 lire per group. Present average daily traffic, incoming and outgoing, is 1800 groups.

3. If the Italian facilities are continued beyond 1 July 1946, each message dispatched by them must be checked thoroughly to determine whether it can be sent part or the whole of the way by military facilities, or what the most economical commercial routing will be. This is a function of Signal Office, AFHQ. The accounting and records necessary to satisfy finance officers certifying message charges will be out of proportion to the value of the Italian facilities to AC.

SUBJECT: Signal Traffic to and from Sardegna

TO : Communications- Sub-Commission

1. Reference the attached correspondence, para 3a, we have kept a constant check on such delays in this Signal Office since the event of receiving the correspondence originally, and do not find any cases of excess delay, in the paraphrasing and onward transmission from this office.

2. With the event of the closing of the Sardegna Regional Headquarters, Transportation Sub-Commission has arranged for the Italian Ministry of Marines to handle its outgoing and incoming traffic direct in Ministry of Marines Cipher. This has decreased the need for the ALCOM Italian Cipher team in Sardegna to practically nil, with only a total of two to four signals per day classified higher than RESTRICTED (both incoming and outgoing) being handled since 12 April 1945. Therefore, it is anticipated that on 20 April 1945, orders will be originated to return the Sardegna Italian Cipher team to its proper station.

3. Effective 20 April 1945, the signal Center, Allied Commission, will accept for electrical transmission to Sardegna only cables classified RESTRICTED or IN CLEAR. MMIA and Air Dispatch Letter Service will then be the only alternative routes for CONFIDENTIAL and SECRET traffic to and from Sardegna.

In reply
refer to: T.31. CS

Subject : Italian Cipher Team.

To : Headquarters Southern Region, Allied Commission.

Reference your R/4290 dated 1st December, 1944.

1. The object of establishing Italian cipher personnel at all Regional Headquarters is a long-term policy designed to provide the Allied Commission with a method of confidential communications over civil telegraphs with and between Regional Headquarters, independent of Allied Military communications and Allied cipher personnel.

2. It is true that communications to Palermo can still be effected over British naval circuits; it is also true that it has been necessary to restrict the classification of messages dealt with to Cagliari to high priority traffic. Both these situations are however temporary; there is no guarantee that Allied communications to Palermo will be indefinitely maintained; the restriction on the Cagliari route has been necessary for a number of coincidental reasons, all temporary. One of the submarine cables has broken, causing a severe drop in traffic capacity; the military have withdrawn their main signal equipment in Cagliari but a good deal of traffic is taking place in connection with the withdrawal of rear parties and the rear link wireless set broke down. The military traffic should soon cease and the cable be repaired when it will be possible to lift the restriction.

3. Practically all Allied Commission traffic sent over civilian routes should preferably be ciphered although of low security value, as internal Allied Commission matters of no military importance should not be open to Italian officials.

4. Will you please reconsider the matter in the light of the foregoing and particularly as a long-term policy to meet a probable situation when all military facilities including air mail services are withdrawn.

Attached noted.

The system appears to be working and the cipher arrangements look satisfactory, as far as Naples & Palermo are concerned.

Delays are very excessive - if course the Rome - Naples route is 'out' at the moment. There is no reason why military circuits should not be used to Naples, even though Italian cipher arrangements are utilized.

I should like to be informed of the Cagliari test messages as soon as possible.

25th September, 1944

Subject: A.C.C., Communications.

To: A.A.I., (for C.C.C.)

1. The communication required between HQ.A.C.C. and the proposed Regional HQs of PIEDMONTE Region (TURIN) presents a special problem, and your assistance is requested in this matter.

2. A.C.C. Communications are, of course, a military responsibility, and are normally provided through common-user military teletype circuits, Regional HQs being customarily established adjacent to major military Signal Offices.

3. In the case of the proposed Regional HQs in the TURIN area, however, it is understood that there is likely to be a very small military commitment in that area, and it would seem probable that communication to that area through military channels may be inadequate.

4. On the other hand it is anticipated that the Region may be of considerable importance to A.C.C., owing to its dense population, high manufacturing output and considerable political influence. Good communications are therefore considered of importance to the effective control of this area.

5. In view of these circumstances, it is requested that the temporary attachment of two wireless detachments to A.C.C. be considered, one for A.C.C. HQ., one for Piedmont Regional HQ. Similar arrangements to this have of course been made in earlier cases, such as the Naples - Brindisi and Rome - Salerno, links established at different times to cover periods before satisfactory line communications could be provided.

For the Acting Chief Commissioner:
