Motor Transportation
Sharp Reduction in Number of Vehicles over the War Years

1. Figures on transportation facilities in Occupied Italy (representing 40 provinces), consisting of motor vehicles for transportation of goods (excluding passenger vehicles), were prior to the war, the following:

- light vehicles	19,682
- medium vehicles	29,968
- heavy vehicles	5,950
Total	55,600

For the important Province of Turin, the figures (as of December 1938) were:

- light vehicles	1,754
- medium vehicles	2,671
- heavy vehicles	530
Total	4,955

2. The estimated shrinkage of these facilities in the war years to date reduces the figures for the Province of Turin alone, to the following:

- light vehicles	1,268
- medium vehicles	341
- heavy vehicles	290
Total	1,899

The estimated shrinkage for the Province over the war period is hence approximately 62%.

3. Allowing the same ratio of shrinkage for the 40 provinces, the facilities extant in the Occupied North are:

- light vehicles	11,000
- medium vehicles	3,000
- heavy vehicles	2,000
Total	16,000

4. The available motor transport facilities are entirely inadequate for transportation demands of essential commodities, the railway system and other means of transportation being sub normal. The situation is certain to deteriorate as the number of motor vehicles decreases daily with requisition, damage, destruction, and necessary scrapping.

5. The estimate of motor vehicles necessary for the transportation of essential commodities is:

- light vehicles	12,000
- medium vehicles	10,000
- heavy vehicles	6,000
Total	28,000

6. Passenger vehicles (exclusive of facilities described above) extant at the end of 1938 for the 40 provinces were:

- motor cars	170,000
- buses	3,000
Total	173,000

Facilities in this class by the end of 1944 were reduced to:

- motor cars	5,250
- buses	500
Total	5,750

7. Estimated requirements to service necessary communications in these forty provinces, equal three times this minimum figure, as follows:

- motor cars	16,000
- buses	1,500
Total	17,500
